Democrats' Control Of Congress Is Seriously Threatened

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

Signs Are Seen Of Growing Opposition To Administration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Administration leaders stood face to face tonight with the realization that for the first time since President Roosevelt took office their control of congress is seriously threatened.

Jolted by the sudden senate revolt on the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, the Democratic chieftains stopped to survey the situation. They found congress nearing the end of the second month of the session with hardly a single piece of major legislation out of the way and not much on the way.

This situation was nothing less than startling by comparison with the first sessions under President Roosevelt. Pennsylvania avenue was crowded then with messengers bearing grants of power to the White House.

An explanation of the change was quickly advanced by the chamber of commerce of the United States, which in its fortnightly review, said one of the chief causes was "growing resistance to the sweeping character of proposals advanced by the administration as well as to the determination of an important bloc to follow a more deliberate and independent course."

On Capitol Hill the conclusions varied. Democrats said there was little significance; that congress got started late, due to the lame duck amendment; and that the first issues presented were more than normally controversial.

Republicans agreed in part with the chamber of commerce, but contended also it was a sign of growing opposition to the administration.

The latter view was advanced by some Republicans who have supported President Roosevet. They said their mail indicated sentiment was turning against the chief executive, and that senators were no longer compelled to follow the administration because of an over-whelming "pro-Roosevelt" feeling.

One Republican, who did not wish to be quoted, said the administration's social security program had proved a boomerang, because the great masses of the poor had expected a more liberal plan.

Democrats denied there had been any change in the character of their mail. They said the administration's defeats on the world court and relief issues were due to campaign pledges and strong convictions on these particular questions and that the situation would soon be smooth again.

Even the Democrats could not deny, however, that the surface record in the senate so far is bad. The administration had lost both of the two major tests this session. In each case 20 or more Democrats were found opposing the president.

In the house the record was a little better, because of the machine-like disposition of the relief bill, but other major legislation was still bogged down in committees. And there were growing indications even at that end of the capitol of an undercover rebellion.

Secretly, dissatisfied Democrats were trying to organize a group of 100 to get through legislation opposed by the administration, on the bonus, silver and inflation.

NEW DEAL WORKS TO UPSET RULING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The administration's power experts today hastily drew plans aimed at having the supreme court review—at the earliesth possible moment—the adverse decision against the TVA in Alabama.

The comment from supporters of the TVA and other similar "yardstick" programs ranged from expressions of concern to consternation. There was no doubt that the new deal would use every effort at its command to remove the threatened obstruction of its plans. Among others, Henry T. Hunt, general counsel of the PWA, said he would join with attorneys for the Tennessee Valley authority in appealing the ruling by Justice W. I. Grubb.

Grubb, the same federal judge who recently held the NRA unconstitutional, ruled that TVA had no authority to dispose of surplus power generated at the hydro-electric plants on the Tennessee river.

ASSASSIN WOUNDS SIAMESE OFFICIAL

BANGKOK, Siam, Feb. 23.—An assassin fired two shots today at Siam's minister of defense, Luang Bipul Songgram, who was wounded. He was rushed to a hospital.

The assailant tried to escape but was arrested immediately. His identity was not disclosed.

The minister, who is expected to recover, was just entering his automobile after attending a football match when the assassin rushed up to him and fired.

Mr. Walker's Wisdom Who Understands Money? Flop Saves His Master Undaunted Wiley Post

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1935, by King Features Syndicate Inc., International Copyright and all other rights reserved.)

MR. JAMES J. WALKER, once mayor of New York, writing a column for the London Sunday Dispatch, supplies one paragraph that he probably meant. Others might remember it:

"After all, the counting of time is not so important, as making time count."

SENATOR CARTER GLASS, who takes money seriously, says "We are on a fiat money basis." Possibly, but we seem to be doing better than when we were on a gold basis.

Do you notice much difference, is money more plentiful? Are prices lower? Is not money scarce, is not everything dearer, on the contrary?

Who knows anything about money? Nobody.

Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, for instance, says the United States is still "on the gold basis." Former President Hoover wants to go back to the gold basis, even if we have to be content with a sixty-nine cent dollar, based on the new kind of "expensive gold."

JOHN HANS, 51, owner of an ordinary dog named "Flop" thought his friend Jones had caused his discharge from a factory. He killed Jones, and confessed. It was murder in the first degree, nothing left but the electric chair, apparently. But there was "Flop."

His lawyer could only say for Hans: "Once, with his money nearly gone, when he was hungry and about to buy some food, this dog crawled to his feet, half starved. Hans spent

POWER COMPANY PLANS EXPANSION

Survey Made To Give Electricity To Local Rural Districts

A survey looking toward a construction program that will exceed any that has been put into effect since 1930 has been launched by the Louisiana Power and Light company in 20 north Louisiana parishes, A. O. Evans, division manager of the company, said here Saturday. He expects that some of the actual construction work will be started within the next 30 days.

Representatives of the company are making a check-up of the possible needs of rural areas in the 20 parishes in this part of the state. In connection with the survey they are making maps of the different parishes, and charting on these maps the locations of residences, indicating in one color those which probably will want electrical service and in another color those they do not think are likely to want such service.

As soon as the survey showing the locations of houses has been completed, it is expected that representatives of the concern will make a canvass for the purpose of learning definitely which of the rural residents want power on their farms.

Mr. Evans said that the cost to the rural consumers would be only slightly more than to city consumers and that it would be exactly the same as the cost to consumers in small towns.

The work contemplated by the Louisiana Power and Light company is a part of a proposed plan to electrify rural sections of the country. Electrification of farm homes has been sponsored by the federal administration and recently Harvey Couch, head of the Louisiana Power and Light company, announced that his concern would undertake such a program.

If the program is carried out as fully as officials of the concern hope will be possible, the work will not only bring a great added convenience to farm homes, but will provide work for a large number of men as the construction is carried on

FILIPINO SLAYS GIRL AND THEN HANGS SELF

HONOLULU, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Police broke into a River street shack today and found the body of K. Okada, 39, hanging by the neck, and nearby the halfclad body of an 11-year-old girl, Toshiko Yamashiro.

Officers said the man apparently criminally attacked and killed the child and then committed suicide.

Okada's body was suspended by a kimona belt from the inside casing of the kitchen door. He had kicked a chair from beneath him after arranging the noose, police concluded. An unlighted cigaret hung from his pale lips.

The child apparently had been strangled, officers said, but there were no other signs of violence except abrasions on the side of her neck.

The girl left her home yesterday afternoon to attend a movie wearing a pink dress of flowered design, accompanying a girl playmate of the same age. As they passed Okada's house, Toshiko went in to see him. He had been quite friendly with her family. She never emerged.

IL DUCE PUSHES TROOPS TOWARD DARK CONTINENT

10,000 Soldiers Sail Saturday Aboard Fleet Of Seven Ships

SELASSIE ASKS PEACE

African King Says His Forces Trying To Set Up Neutral Zone

ROME, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Italy pushed more than 10,000 troops toward Africa tonight as assurances came from Ethiopia she has made every effort to meet Mussolini's demands for the creation of a neutral zone between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland.

The soldiers sailed aboard a fleet of seven ships toward the theater of the dispute.

The message was released to the press by Negradas Yesus, Ethiopian minister, and later it will be communicated to Italian authorities.

"It clearly demonstrates," Yesus said, "the emperor's wish for peace at virtually any cost."

His government, the minister added, has acceded to Rome's demands regarding the method of establishing the zone. He said he was more optimistic tonight over the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the dispute, although the continued sending of Italian troops to eastern Africa as "a precautionary measure" could not be considered a helpful circumstance.

The message said the Ethiopian commander at Gherlogubi established contact with the Italian commander at Wardair but was told Feb. 22 he must await a decision from Rome.

Aboard the Vulcania, which sailed from Messina as huge crowds cheered, were four generals, including General Rudolfo Graziani who is expected to take supreme command.

Five thousand soldiers are aboard the Vulcania, bound as are the other ships for Eritrea and Italian Somaliland.

Three ships will reach Naples tomorrow from northern Italy—the Nazario, Sauro and Leonardo Da Vinci, carrying workmen and material.

The Vulcania is a large transatlantic liner especially refitted for the transport of troops. This indicates it will be used until both the 29th and 30th divisions, comprising around 35,000 men, have been transported to East Africa.

IRVING WEITZMAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Bakery Head Given Life Term For Insurance Plot Murder

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Irving Weitzman, head of a bakery chain, was convicted by a criminal courts jury today of the $317,000 insurance plot murder last March 3 of Eli Daiches, wealthy advertising executive. His punishment was fixed by the jurors at life imprisonment.

The verdict was returned at 6:11 p. m. Central standard time, five hours and 11 minutes after the jurors retired to ponder the crime which prosecutors termed "the most cold blooded" in Cook county's criminal annals.

Weitzman, his wife, Marie, and their two children waited almost continuously in the courtroom for the verdict, the defendant strolling the corridors restlessly under the scrutiny of state's attorney's police.

Arguments on a motion for a new trial were set for March 1 and Weitzman, who had been free on bond, was remanded to the custody of police.

Weitzman accepted the verdict unflinchingly but with sober mein. At the last moment his wife and children, apparently anticipating an adverse decision, slipped from the courtroom.

Mrs. Belle Daiches, widow of the victim, was asked, "Are you satisfied with the verdict?" and replied: "I am highly gratified with the manner in which the prosecution handled the case."

RUSSIA'S HUGE RED ARMY CELEBRATES

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's Red army of 960,000 men celebrated today its seventeenth birthday in the midst of a torrent of defiance for world imperialism and a passing rebuke for the exiled Leon Trotzky.

A rarely used expression, "Soviet patriotism," made itself here among the toasts to Russia's military machine, built to protect Soviet civilization against what was described as greedy fascists who are rattling the sabre to the east and to the west.

Leaders all over the country addressed public messages of acclaim to the army. Izvestia, leading Soviet patriotism and at the same time the proletariat of internationalism.

STORMS DARKEN WEATHER CHART

Ten Deaths Counted In East As Result Of Snow And Ice

(By Associated Press)

Howling gales pounded distress calls out of seven vessels in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and battered an airplane under the waves. Inland storms swept over the east and southwestern parts of the United States, and through south and central France.

At least ten deaths were counted in the east during the 24 hours ending Saturday night as a result of snow, hail and sleet. The slick highways caused numerous fractures, sprains and other injuries.

Six persons were killed and five others injured when a windstorm swept through France, toppling chimneys, unroofing houses and disrupting communication.

Airplanes were grounded and other transportation slowed as the season's first dust storm swirled over western Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Most of the deaths in the east were attributed to highway accidents. There were three each in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, two in New York City and two in upstate New York.

Almost 100 automobiles and four buses were snowbound for a time in ten foot drifts on Pennview mountain, near Blairsville, Pa. They were freed by snowplows.

While heavy snows blanketed Buffalo and Binghampton, N. Y., the metropolitan area was covered with a slick coating of ice which hampered service on the Long Island railroad and elevated lines. Rising temperatures turned it to slush.

BETTY GOW BITTER TOWARD LAWYERS

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Embittered at what she termed "brutal and unjust" attacks upon her by the Hauptmann defense, Betty Gow, former Lindbergh nurse, was resting in London today before continuing to her home in Glasgow.

Accompanied by her mother, who met her at Southampton, she planned to remain here a few days. She looked pale, and said she had lost fifteen pounds in weight during the trial.

"We want to forget that terrible time," said Betty's mother. "I probably will send Betty away for a short holiday before deciding what she will do."

Betty, who attended ship's concerts and took part in the social activities en route across the Atlantic, said she could neither forget nor forgive the insinuations against her by Edward J. Reilly, Hauptmann's chief defense counsel.

"He went too far," she said. "To insinuate that I knew more about the tragedy than I made known to the court was most unjust. I am sure he would not have been allowed to do that in Britain. He should not be allowed to do it in America."

Honest Sandwich Man Suddenly Goes Insane, Says He Is God

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Science offered a matter-of-fact explanation today of the bizarre case of Frank Greges, the "honest sandwich man" who went insane in a Bowery lodging house and announced that he was God.

Psychiatrists at Bellevue hospital studied the 67-year-old man who two weeks ago was accorded fame and assured a more comfortable living because he returned to its owners a wallet containing $12,000 worth of bonds which he found in a snow pile. They reached this conclusion:

Greges' good fortune was responsible for his breakdown. He ate much rich food to which he was unaccustomed. The food generated more blood than his heart could care for properly. Result: Arteriosclerosis, impairment of the functioning of his brain and insanity.

That is the reason, the psychiatrists said, why Greges went berserk in the lodging house early this morning and loudly proclaimed to the startled inmates:

"I am God! Nothing is too good for me. That hat I wear is worth $15. I have on $10 shoes. Nothing is too good for me. I am God. I can kill anybody who looks at me!"

While police and a doctor were attempting to restrain the sign carrier, Michael J. Gryzwackz, 40, walked into the room and complained of feeling ill.

"I am God," Greges shouted again, glaring at the newcomer. "I can kill anybody."

Greges already had sent one man to a hospital with a push down a flight of stairs.

The man who had given Bowery bums their greatest inspiration of the winter was taken to a police station and there, with body of Gryzwackz lying only a few feet away, was held down by policemen until he could be removed to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital.

"People stare at me," he explained. "Ever since I found the money in Wall Street they stare at me all the time.

"That's why I killed him.

"I killed three today, but I had a

PARAGUAY MOVES TO QUIT LEAGUE

Note Cabled To Geneva Gives Notification Of Withdrawal

A note cabled to Geneva at 5 p.m., Chancellor Luis Riart announced, notified the league of the Asuncion government's withdrawal.

That was Paraguay's answer to the league's demand that she accept its proposal to end the two-and-one-half-year war in the Chaco, or incur the league's wrath and possibly punitive measures as an aggressor nation waging an illegal war.

The three months period for acceptance of the league's proposals expires tomorrow. Bolivia, Paraguay's adversary in the Chaco, has already accepted them without reservations.

Decision to quit the league came after the cabinet met to consider the matter, and after Chancellor Riart conferred with President Eusebio Ayala.

Under the league covenant, Paraguay's resignation cannot become immediately effective. She remains nominally subject to the league's jurisdiction for two years.

Because Paraguayan armies have been victorious in the Chaco of late, marching through the wastes of the disputed area to the Bolivian borders and menacing Bolivia's rich oil fields, this government's refusal to accept the league's conditions for peace had been expected.

Intense public indignation was aroused by the league's action in urging its members to lift the arms embargo imposed at the league's behest against Bolivia, while maintaining it against Paraguay.

ANOTHER CONVICTED OF BARRATRY CHARGE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Additional protests were added today to the Arkansas legislature's investigation of alleged communistic activities at Commonwealth college and passage of a proposed sedition law while the state prosecuted barratry charges against eight persons as an aftermath of labor strife.

While the legislative investigators awaited a senate committee hearing on the sedition bill before continuing their inquiry into Commonwealth's teachings, another conviction was added to the state's record in barratry cases resulting from recent economic difficulties in conservative Arkansas.

Only five minutes was needed by a Fort Smith jury in western Arkansas to convict Claude C. Williams, ousted Presbyterian minister of Paris, Ark., on barratry accusations resulting from agitation for a general strike on relief projects here last week. A sentence of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine was recommended.

BUREAU INMATE IS DECLARED TO BE HOLD-UP MAN

Tarver Says Prisoner May Be Man Who Terrorized South Side

Following a week in which police arrested a number of inmates of the Monroe transient bureau for offenses which included murder at Fort Worth, Cecil Williams, 20, inmate of the bureau, was arrested yesterday afternoon when he called at the bureau office to resume his work as a typist, police said, and was last night reputedly identified as the robber who Friday night staged a daring hold-up of the sandwich shop operated by J. I. Irwin at 2300 South Grand street.

L. V. Tarver, superintendent of police, was continuing his investigation of the case against Williams late last night and said the accused man possibly will be identified as the house burglar who has terrorized women in homes on the south side of the city.

Superintendent Tarver said Williams answers the description of this burglar, and that his investigation also will seek to ascertain whether Williams was involved in the hold-up and slugging of Miss Mildred Gobble, 2200 Gordon avenue, late last year as she was walking to her home from a street car about 9 o'clock.

Williams, last night in the parish jail in the presence of Superintendent Tarver, officers of his department, Jailer Curtis and a newspaperman, was identified by G. E. Redmond and J. W. Jones of Clarks, as the bandit who brandished a pistol and held up the sandwich shop Friday night about 9:50 o'clock. Five persons were robbed at the shop.

Four other persons are to be admitted to the jail today for further identification. They are Iva Redian, 305 Pargoud street, Millard Fisher, of Clarks, Lonnie Fletcher, of Monroe, and Irwin, the sandwich shop operator.

Fletcher left the establishment before the robbery took place, but told police he could identify the robber, who was there before Fletcher departed.

The robber was said to have loitered in the place for about half an hour

KIDNAP PLOT IS REPORTED UPSET

Newspaper Says 4 Men Planned To Abduct Head Of Steel Firm

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Inquirer says tonight four men, held at Bethlehem, Pa., in connection with two bank holdups upstate, made a statement to police concerning a reputed plot to kidnap Eugene V. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel company.

The plot, the Inquirer said, was foiled by the roundup of the four, who were captured in Detroit.

The conspiracy involved holding Grace for $250,000 ransom, the Inquirer states, adding that one of the prisoners told authorities the gang also planned to abduct Mayor Robert Pfeifel of Bethlehem.

Although Bethlehem police refused to comment on the reported plot, it was learned a member of the Bethlehem force had remarked on the statement.

The men held in connection with the bank holdups are Barlow Orlando, 20 of Detroit, Louis Kutzura, 38, of Hellertown; Angelo Bummarto, 21, of Detroit and Frank Repyneck, 26, of Bethlehem.

Orlando and Kutzura have been named in the investigation of the holdup of the Coopersburg National bank at nearby Coopersburg, on January 11, when $1,775 was stolen by a band of robbers.

Kutzura and Tony Orlando, now serving a prison term in Detroit, have been involved by state police in a holdup at the Wilbur Trust company here on November 21.

State and local police tracked down the four in Detroit.

At Grace's home at Bethlehem it was said the steel company president was not at home. Others at the house refused to talk of the reported conspiracy.

BRITONS TO BATTLE AMERICAN PRODUCERS

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The leading British movie producers have declared war on Hollywood competition, it was reliably indicated today, and are believed to be forging a powerful weapon to force equal distribution of pictures with America.

British International pictures and Gaumont are reported to have spent $17,000,000 during the last week in a frenzied buying up of movie houses in England—Gaumont $12,000,000 and the B. I. P. $5,000,000. Both companies already own several hundred houses.

It is believed they are preparing to join forces in an effort to bring Hollywood producers to terms.

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Was out at daylight to see Wiley Post take off. Was in the camera plane and we flew afong with him for about 30 miles. We left him at eight thousand feet right over the mountains. He soon after had to land. He brought her down on her stomach; that guy don't need wheels.

Lots of Washington news the senate overruled the president and say that the government must pay you as much for unemployed work as the regular wages of that business. How they come to disagree on it was the president was thinking where the money was coming from and that little detail never entered the senate's head.

WORK ON PUMPS WILL START SOON

Two Giant Machines To Be Installed As Flood Protection

Two giant pumps to be installed for pumping flood water from the Ouachita parish gravity and drainage district No. 1, which area embraces West Monroe, will serve a watershed of approximately 6,000 acres and will be capable of pumping approximately ten million gallons of water an hour over the levee and into the Ouachita river, it was stated yesterday by C. A. Peerman, engineer who is drawing working plans and specifications for the project.

Mr. Peerman, who revealed a number of interesting facts in connection with the flood protection project, said an idea of the volume of ten million gallons of water could be gained from a comparison with the number of storage tanks which would be required to hold that volume. Sixty storage tanks such as the West Monroe municipal tank located near the city hall would be required to hold ten million gallons of water, he said.

Among the interesting phases of the plans and specifications for the project are the permanence or durability to be required and the high type of workmanship which will be essential in carrying out the plans. Materials which will be used are to be selected with the idea of giving the project a minimum life of 30 years, and thorough tests of the workmanship will be made before the finished project is accepted from the contractor.

The plans and specifications anticipate in their mechanical requirements adverse conditions which might develop in the machinery, and which might be caused by an act of nature, such as any failure of the levee system.

Using an extreme hypothesis, if levees protecting West Monroe broke in time of high water and the city became virtually uninhabitable, operation of the pump station would be continued because the station will be built up to such a height that this would be possible.

The pumps and motor equipment,

PRESIDENT WORKS ON JOB PROBLEM

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt studied the problem of unemployment as he travelled northward today, receiving details from Mayor La Guardia of New York for a billion dollar program under the doubtful four billion dollar work relief bill cornered in the senate.

There was a feeling on the train that Mr. Roosevelt was convinced that the attack on unemployment should be by way of work relief rather than the so-called dole, although he again declined comment on legislation pending before congress.

The president travelled to Cambridge to attend the initiation tonight of his third son, Franklin Jr., into the Fly club of Harvard university, a dinner organization of which Mr. Roosevelt was a member when he was at Harvard.

The train was piloted to the yards in Cambridge from where the president motored to the club ceremony.

ROSE EXECUTED AT ARKANSAS PRISON

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Without any discernible trace of emotion, Robert L. Rose, today expiated the slaying of an Arkansas deputy sheriff to become the first white man to be electrocuted in the new death house at Tucker farm. He was pronounced dead at 7:08 a.m.

Rose was convicted of the January 2 slaying of Everette W. Wheeler, Independence county deputy sheriff. No appeal was filed to the Arkansas supreme court and Governor J. Marion Futrell had previously announced that he would not intervene.

The condemned man, walking manacled and without support from two guards at his side, came to the chair from his cell with a steady step. Electricity was turned on at 7:04 a.m. and four minutes later he was pronounced dead by Dr. A. W. Billingsley, prison physician.

PHIL KENNAMER GIVEN 25 YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

Convicted Youth Flays Opposing Lawyers After Hearing Lecture

PAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Twenty-five years in state penitentiary is the penalty 19-year-old Phil Kennamer must pay for the slaying of John F. Gorrell, Jr., 23, in Tulsa last Thanksgiving night.

The well-knit, dark-haired son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer stood up in district courtroom here today and accepted the long term, levied by Judge Thurman Hurst, without a change of expression. The state had asked 99 years.

The defense immediately announced intention to appeal. Judge Hurst granted four months for its preparation. Previously, he had denied an eloquent appeal for a new trial.

Bond for the youth, convicted of manslaughter last Thursday night by a jury of filling station operators and farmers, was set at $25,000. He was ordered held in the Sandstone county jail until bond is posted.

Young Kennamer said Gorrell—also of a socially-prominent Tulsa family—was shot with the victim's own pistol in a struggle started when Phil sought to thwart an alleged extortion plot directed at the oil-wealthy family of the girl he loves, blonde Virginia Wilcox.

"It appears to me that up to this time the innocent have suffered more than the guilty for your acts," the judge told the youth, whose trial was transferred here on a change of venue.

"By your act you have brought heartache and misery to two families.

"I have observed you through this entire trial and have observed that you were not much concerned, while your honored and respected father was hurt . . . bewildered."

The precocious Phil stood unmoved while Judge Hurst lectured him. He wore the same blue check suit in which he was clad the night Gorrell was shot to death.

Later, in the office of Sheriff C. M. Burkdoll, Kennamer issued a characteristic statement, denouncing the prosecution with bitter polysyllables and upholding his own actions.

"For the prosecutors, I have only the deepest contempt," he said. "Those gentlemen engaged in every low practice known to courts, from the intimidation of witnesses to the introduction of extraneous matters which were intended only to prejudice the minds of the jurors."

The jury itself was declared unfair because "into their subconscious minds had been poured such a stream of virus against me that they could not be partial."

He had high words of praise for his attorneys.

The crowd in the courtroom consisted largely of residents of Pawnee and farmers and Indians from the surrounding countryside.

There were none of the smartly-dressed Tulsans who followed with rapt interest much of the testimony in the trial started February 11. The blue-eyed Miss Wilcox was not present.

Inside the rail were Kennamer's sisters, Opal and Juanita, and his brother, Franklin, Jr., and brother-in-law, Russell Hayes, husband of Juanita.

OKLAHOMA MINISTER IS KILLED BY SON

CARTER, Okla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Jack Campbell, 14-year-old minister's son who had been threatened with exposure to his father for displaying obscene pictures, was arrested today after the father, the Rev. Earl Campbell, was killed by a shotgun blast.

Undersheriff Sam Montgomery said members of the Campbell family quoted the pastor of a Holiness church as moaning: "Jack, you've killed me," as he sank dying to the floor of a bedroom in his home.

County Attorney Ralph T. Hood said he expected to file charges against the boy.

Press Rogers, city marshal, said he reprimanded Jack earlier in the day for showing pictures to friends on the streets and warned him he planned to inform Mr. Campbell.

WARSHIPS USED TO HALT SUGAR STRIKE

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Passengers arriving by airplane today from the French island of Martinique said three warships were brought into play yesterday to control an island-wide strike among sugar workers.

Thousands of laborers, angered by general 20 per cent wage reductions, were marching on Fort de France when the warships sped into the capital city's harbor, according to the passengers.

Order was restored quickly as marines landed and spread through the city, they said.

Democrats' Control Of Congress Is Seriously Threatened

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

Signs Are Seen Of Growing Opposition To Administration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Administration leaders stood face to face tonight with the realization that for the first time since President Roosevelt took office their control of congress is seriously threatened.

Jolted by the sudden senate revolt on the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, the Democratic chieftains stopped to survey the situation. They found congress nearing the end of the second month of the session with hardly a single piece of major legislation out of the way and not much on the way.

This situation was nothing less than startling by comparison with the first sessions under President Roosevelt. Pennsylvania avenue was crowded then with messengers bearing grants of power to the White House.

An explanation of the change was quickly advanced by the chamber of commerce of the United States, which in its fortnightly review, said one of the chief causes was "growing resistance to the sweeping character of proposals advanced by the administration as well as to the determination of an important bloc to follow a more deliberate and independent course."

On Capitol Hill the conclusions varied. Democrats said there was little significance; that congress got started late, due to the lame duck amendment; and that the first issues presented were more than normally controversial.

Republicans agreed in part with the chamber of commerce, but contended also it was a sign of growing opposition to the administration.

The latter view was advanced by some Republicans who have supported President Roosevet. They said their mail indicated sentiment was turning against the chief executive, and that senators were no longer compelled to follow the administration because of an over-whelming "pro-Roosevelt" feeling.

One Republican, who did not wish to be quoted, said the administration's social security program had proved a boomerang, because the great masses of the poor had expected a more liberal plan.

Democrats denied there had been any change in the character of their mail. They said the administration's defeats on the world court and relief issues were due to campaign pledges and strong convictions on these particular questions and that the situation would soon be smooth again.

Even the Democrats could not deny, however, that the surface record in the senate so far is bad. The administration had lost both of the two major tests this session. In each case 20 or more Democrats were found opposing the president.

In the house the record was a little better, because of the machine-like disposition of the relief bill, but other major legislation was still bogged down in committees. And there were growing indications even at that end of the capitol of an undercover rebellion.

Secretly, dissatisfied Democrats were trying to organize a group of 100 to get through legislation opposed by the administration, on the bonus, 'siver and inflation.

NEW DEAL WORKS TO UPSET RULING

The comment from supporters of the TVA and other similar "yardstick" programs ranged from expressions of concern to consternation. There was no doubt that the new deal would use every effort at its command to remove the threatened obstruction of its plans. Among others, Henry T. Hunt, general counsel of the PWA, said he would join with attorneys for the Tennessee Valley authority in appealing the ruling by Justice W. I. Grubb.

Grubb, the same federal judge who recently held the NRA unconstitutional, ruled that TVA had no authority to dispose of surplus power generated at the hydro-electric plants on the Tennessee river.

ASSASSIN WOUNDS SIAMESE OFFICIAL

BANGKOK, Siam., Feb. 23.—An assassin fired two shots today at Siam's minister of defense, Luang Bipul Songgram, who was wounded. He was rushed to a hospital.

The assailant tried to escape but was arrested immediately. His identity was not disclosed.

The minister, who is expected to recover, was just entering his automobile after attending a football match when the assassin rushed up to him and fired.

Mr. Walker's Wisdom Who Understands Money? Flop Saves His Master Undaunted Wiley Post

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MR. JAMES J. WALKER, once mayor of New York, writing a column for the London Sunday Dispatch, supplies one paragraph that he probably meant. Others might remember it:

"After all, the counting of time is not so important, as making time count."

SENATOR CARTER GLASS, who takes money seriously, says "We are on a fiat money basis." Possibly, but we seem to be doing better than when we were on a gold basis.

Do you notice much difference, is money more plentiful? Are prices lower? Is not money scarce, is not everything dearer, on the contrary?

Who knows anything about money? Nobody.

Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, for instance, says the United States is still "on the gold basis." Former President Hoover wants to go back to the gold basis, even if we have to be content with a sixty-nine cent dollar, based on the new kind of "expensive gold."

JOHN HANS, 51, owner of an ordinary dog named "Flop" thought his friend Jones had caused his discharge from a factory. He killed Jones, and confessed. It was murder in the first degree, nothing left but the electric chair apparently. But there was "Flop."

His lawyer could only say for Hans: "Once, with his money nearly gone, when he was hungry and about to buy some food, this dog crawled to his feet, half starved. Hans spent

POWER COMPANY PLANS EXPANSION

Survey Made To Give Electricity To Local Rural Districts

A survey looking toward a construction program that will exceed any that has been put into effect since 1930 has been launched by the Louisiana Power and Light company in 20 north Louisiana parishes, A. O. Evans, division manager of the company, said here Saturday. He expects that some of the actual construction work will be started within the next 30 days.

Representatives of the company are making a check-up of the possible needs of rural areas in the 20 parishes in this part of the state. In connection with the survey they are making maps of the different parishes and charting on these maps the locations of residences, indicating in one color those which probably will want electrical service and in another color those they do not think are likely to want such service.

As soon as the survey showing the locations of houses has been completed, it is expected that representatives of the concern will make a canvass for the purpose of learning definitely which of the rural residents want power on their farms.

Mr. Evans said that the cost to the rural consumers would be only slightly more than to city consumers and that it would be exactly the same as the cost to consumers in small towns.

The work contemplated by the Louisiana Power and Light company is a part of a proposed plan to electrify rural sections of the country. Electrification of farm homes has been sponsored by the federal administration and recently Harvey Couch, head of the Louisiana Power and Light company, announced that his concern would undertake such a program.

If the program is carried out as fully as officials of the concern hope will be possible, the work will not only bring a great added convenience to farm homes, but will provide work for a large number of men as the construction is carried on

FILIPINO SLAYS GIRL AND THEN HANGS SELF

HONOLULU, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Police broke into a River street shack today and found the body of K. Okada, 39, hanging by the neck, and nearby the halfclad body of an 11-year-old girl, Toshiko Yamashiro.

Officers said the man apparently criminally attacked and killed the child and then committed suicide.

Okada's body was suspended by a kimona belt from the inside casing of the kitchen door. He had kicked a chair from beneath him after arranging the noose, police concluded. An unlighted cigaret hung from his pale lips.

The child apparently had been strangled, officers said, but there were no other signs of violence except abrasions on the side of her neck.

The girl left her home yesterday afternoon to attend a movie wearing a pink dress of flowered design, accompanying a girl playmate of the same age. As they passed Okada's house, Toshiko went in to see him. He had been quite friendly with her family. She never emerged.

IL DUCE PUSHES TROOPS TOWARD DARK CONTINENT

10,000 Soldiers Sail Saturday Aboard Fleet Of Seven Ships

African King Says His Forces Trying To Set Up Neutral Zone

ROME, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Italy pushed more than 10,000 troops toward Africa tonight as assurances came from Ethiopia she has made every effort to meet Mussolini's demands for the creation of a neutral zone between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland

The soldiers sailed aboard a fleet of seven ships toward the theater of the dispute.

The message was released to the press by Negradas Yesus, Ethiopian minister, and later it will be communicated to Italian authorities.

"It clearly demonstrates," Yesus said, "the emperor's wish for peace at virtually any cost."

His government, the minister added, has acceded to Rome's demands regarding the method of establishing the zone. He said he was more optimistic tonight over the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the dispute, although the continued sending of Italian troops to eastern Africa as "a precautionary measure" could not be considered a helpful circumstance.

The message said the Ethiopian commander at Gherlogubi established contact with the Italian commander at Wardair but was told Feb. 22 he must await a decision from Rome.

Aboard the Vulcania, which sailed from Messina as huge crowds cheered, were four generals, including General Rudolfo Graziani who is expected to take supreme command.

Five thousand soldiers are aboard the Vulcania, bound as are the other ships for Eritrea and Italian Somaliland.

Three ships will reach Naples tomorrow from northern Italy—the Nazario, Sauro and Leonardo Da Vinci, carrying workmen and material.

The Vulcania is a large transatlantic liner especially refitted for the transport of troops. This indicates it will be used until both the 29th and 19th divisions, comprising around 35,000 men, have been transported to East Africa.

IRVING WEITZMAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Bakery Head Given Life Term For Insurance Plot Murder

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Irving Weitzman, head of a bakery chain, was convicted by a criminal courts jury today of the $317,000 insurance plot murder last March 3 of Eli Daiches, wealthy advertising executive. His punishment was fixed by the jurors at life imprisonment.

The verdict was returned at 6:11 p. m. Central standard time, five hours and 11 minutes after the jurors retired to ponder the crime which prosecutors termed "the most cold blooded" in Cook county's criminal annals.

Weitzman, his wife, Marie, and their two children waited almost continuously in the courtroom for the verdict, the defendant strolling the corridors restlessly under the scrutiny of state's attorney's police.

Arguments on a motion for a new trial were set for March 1 and Weitzman, who had been free on bond, was remanded to the custody of police.

Weitzman accepted the verdict unflinchingly but with sober mein. At the last moment his wife and children, apparently anticipating an adverse decision, slipped from the courtroom.

Mrs. Belle Daiches, widow of the victim, was asked, "Are you satisfied with the verdict?" and replied: "I am highly gratified with the manner in which the prosecution handled the case."

RUSSIA'S HUGE RED ARMY CELEBRATES

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's Red army of 960,000 men celebrated today its seventeenth birthday in the midst of a torrent of defiance for world imperialism and a passing rebuke for the exiled Leon Trotzky.

A rarely used expression, "Soviet patriotism," made itself here among the toasts to Russia's military machine, built to protect Soviet civilization against what was described as greedy fascists who are rattling the sabre to the east and to the west.

Leaders all over the country addressed public messages of acclaim to the army. Izvestia, leading Soviet patriotism and at the same time the proletariat of internationalism.

Science Offers To Explain Actions Of Bowery's 'Hero'

PIONEER

Keenly hopeful of the outcome, medical science is watching a battle between the surgical skill of Dr. Claude S. Beck (above) of Cleveland and the deadly heart ailment known as angina pectoris. Pioneering in that form of surgery, Dr. Beck performed an amazing operation on an unidentified victim of the disease and a dispatch yesterday described the patient as improved. Honest Sandwich Man Suddenly Goes Insane, Says He Is God

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Science offered a matter-of-fact explanation today of the bizarre case of Frank Greges, the "honest sandwich man" who went insane in a Bowery lodging house and announced that he was God.

Psychiatrists at Bellevue hospital studied the 67-year-old man who two weeks ago was accorded fame and assured a more comfortable living because he returned to its owners a wallet containing $42,000 worth of bonds which he found in a snow pile. They reached this conclusion:

Greges' good fortune was responsible for his breakdown. He ate much rich food to which he was unaccustomed. The food generated more blood than his heart could care for properly. Result: Arteriosclerosis, impairment of the functioning of his brain and insanity.

That is the reason, the psychiatrists said, why Greges went berserk in the lodging house early this morning and loudly proclaimed to the startled inmates:

"I am God! Nothing is too good for me. That hat I wear is worth $15. I have on $10 shoes. Nothing is too good for me. I am God. I can kill anybody who looks at me!"

While police and a doctor were attempting to restrain the sign carrier, Michael J. Gryzwackz, 40, walked into the room and complained of feeling ill.

"I am God," Greges shouted again, glaring at the newcomer. "I can kill anybody."

Greges already had sent one man to a hospital with a push down a flight of stairs.

The man who had given Bowery bums their greatest inspiration of the winter was taken to a police station and there, with body of Gryzwackz lying only a few feet away, was held down by policemen until he could be removed to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital.

"People stare at me," he explained. "Ever since I found the money in Wall Street they stare at me all the time.

"That's why I killed him.

"I killed three today, but I had a

STORMS DARKEN WEATHER CHART

Ten Deaths Counted In East As Result Of Snow And Ice

(By Associated Press)

Howling gales pounded distress calls out of seven vessels in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and battered an airplane under the waves. Inland storms swept over the east and southwestern parts of the United States, and through south and central France.

At least ten deaths were counted in the east during the 24 hours ending Saturday night as a result of snow, hail and sleet. The slick highways caused numerous fractures, sprains and other injuries.

Six persons were killed and five others injured when a windstorm swept through France, toppling chimneys, unroofing houses and disrupting communication.

Airplanes were grounded and other transportation slowed as the season's first dust storm swirled over western Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Most of the deaths in the east were attributed to highway accidents. There were three each in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, two in New York City and two in upstate New York.

Almost 100 automobiles and four buses were snowbound for a time in ten foot drifts on Pennview mountain, near Blairsville, Pa. They were freed by snowplows.

While heavy snows blanketed Buffalo and Binghampton, N. Y., the metropolitan area was covered with a slick coating of ice which hampered service on the Long Island railroad and elevated lines. Rising temperatures turned it to slush.

BETTY GOW BITTER TOWARD LAWYERS

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Embittered at what she termed "brutal and unjust" attacks upon her by the Hauptmann defense, Betty Gow, former Lindbergh nurse, was resting in London today before continuing to her home in Glasgow.

Accompanied by her mother, who met her at Southampton, she planned to remain here a few days. She looked pale, and said she had lost fifteen pounds in weight during the trial.

"We want to forget that terrible time," said Betty's mother. "I probably will send Betty away for a short holiday before deciding what she will do."

Betty, who attended ship's concerts and took part in the social activities en route across the Atlantic, said she could neither forget nor forgive the insinuations against her by Edward J. Reilly, Hauptmann's chief defense counsel.

"He went too far," she said. "To insinuate that I knew more about the tragedy than I made known to the court was most unjust. I am sure he would not have been allowed to do that in Britain. He should not be allowed to do it in America."

PARAGUAY MOVES TO QUIT LEAGUE

Note Cabled To Geneva Gives Notification Of Withdrawal

A note cabled to Geneva at 5 p.m., Chancellor Luis Riart announced, notified the league of the Asuncion government's withdrawal.

That was Paraguay's answer to the league's demand that she accept its proposal to end the two-and-one-half-year war in the Chaco, or incur the league's wrath and possibly punitive measures as an aggressor nation waging an illegal war.

The three months period for acceptance of the league's proposals expires tomorrow. Bolivia, Paraguay's adversary in the Chaco, has already accepted them without reservations.

Decision to quit the league came after the cabinet met to consider the matter, and after Chancellor Riart conferred with President Eusebio Ayala.

Under the league covenant, Paraguay's resignation cannot become immediately effective. She remains nominally subject to the league's jurisdiction for two years.

Because Paraguayan armies have been victorious in the Chaco of late, marching through the wastes of the disputed area to the Bolivian borders and menacing Bolivia's rich oil fields, this government's refusal to accept the league's conditions for peace had been expected.

Intense public indignation was aroused by the league's action in urging its members to lift the arms embargo imposed at the league's behest against Bolivia, while maintaining it against Paraguay.

ANOTHER CONVICTED OF BARRATRY CHARGE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Additional protests were added today to the Arkansas legislature's investigation of alleged communistic activities at Commonwealth college and passage of a proposed sedition law while the state prosecuted barratry charges against eight persons as an aftermath of labor strife.

While the legislative investigators awaited a senate committee hearing on the sedition bill before continuing their inquiry into Commonwealth's teachings, another conviction was added to the state's record in barratry cases resulting from recent economic difficulties in conservative Arkansas.

Only five minutes was needed by a Fort Smith jury in western Arkansas to convict Claude C. Williams, ousted Presbyterian minister of Paris, Ark., on barratry accusations resulting from agitation for a general strike on relief projects here last week. A sentence of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine was recommended.

Tarver Says Prisoner May Be Man Who Terrorized South Side

Following a week in which police arrested a number of inmates of the Monroe transient bureau for offenses which included murder at Fort Worth, Cecil Williams, 20, inmate of the bureau, was arrested yesterday afternoon when he called at the bureau office to resume his work as a typist, police said, and was last night reputedly identified as the robber who Friday night staged a daring hold-up of the sandwich shop operated by J. L. Irwin at 2300 South Grand street.

L. V. Tarver, superintendent of police, was continuing his investigation of the case against Williams late last night and said the accused man possibly will be identified as the house burglar who has terrorized women in homes on the south side of the city.

Superintendent Tarver said Williams answers the description of this burglar, and that his investigation also will seek to ascertain whether Williams was involved in the hold-up and slugging of Miss Mildred Gobble, 2200 Gordon avenue, late last year as she was walking to her home from a street car about 9 o'clock.

Williams, last night in the parish jail in the presence of Superintendent Tarver, officers of his department, Jailer Curtis and a newspaperman, was identified by G. E. Redmond and J. W. Jones of Clarks, as the bandit who brandished a pistol and held up the sandwich shop Friday night about 9:50 o'clock. Five persons were robbed at the shop.

Four other persons are to be admitted to the jail today for further identification. They are Iva Redian, 305 Pargoud street, Millard Fisher, of Clarks, Lonnie Fletcher, of Monroe, and Irwin, the sandwich shop operator.

Fletcher left the establishment before the robbery took place, but told police he could identify the robber, who was there before Fletcher departed.

The robber was said to have loitered in the place for about half an hour

KIDNAP PLOT IS REPORTED UPSET

Newspaper Says 4 Men Planned To Abduct Head Of Steel Firm

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Inquirer says tonight four men, held at Bethlehem, Pa., in connection with two bank holdups upstate, made a statement to police concerning a reputed plot to kidnap Eugene V. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel company.

The plot, the Inquirer said, was foiled by the roundup of the four, who were captured in Detroit.

The conspiracy involved holding Grace for $250,000 ransom, the Inquirer states, adding that one of the prisoners told authorities the gang also planned to abduct Mayor Robert Pfeifel of Bethlehem.

Although Bethlehem police refused to comment on the reported plot, it was learned a member of the Bethlehem force had remarked on the statement.

The men held in connection with the bank holdups are Barlow Orlando, 20, of Detroit; Louis Kutzura, 38, of Hellertown; Angelo Bummarto, 21, of Detroit, and Frank Repyneck, 26, of Bethlehem.

Orlando and Kutzura have been named in the investigation of the holdup of the Coopersburg National bank at nearby Coopersburg, on January 11, when $1,775 was stolen by a band of robbers.

Kutzura and Tony Orlando, now serving a prison term in Detroit, have been involved by state police in a holdup at the Wilbur Trust company here on November 21.

State and local police tracked down the four in Detroit.

At Grace's home at Bethlehem it was said the steel company president was not at home. Others at the house refused to talk of the reported conspiracy.

BRITONS TO BATTLE AMERICAN PRODUCERS

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The leading British movie producers have declared war on Hollywood competition. it was reliably indicated today, and are believed to be forging a powerful weapon to force equal distribution of pictures with America.

British International pictures and Gaumont are reported to have spent $17,000,000 during the last week in a frenzied buying up of movie houses in England—Gaumont $12,000,000 and the B. I. P. $5,000,000. Both companies already own several hundred houses.

It is believed they are preparing to join forces in an effort to bring Hollywood producers to terms.

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Was out at daylight to see Wiley Post take off. Was in the camera plane and we flew afong with him for about 30 miles. We left him at eight thousand feet right over the mountains. He soon after had to land. He brought her down on her stomach; that guy don't need wheels.

Lots of Washington news the senate overruled the president and say that the government must pay you as much for unemployed work as the regular wages of that business. How they come to disagree on it was the president was thinking where the money was coming from and that little detail never entered the senate's head.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

WORK ON PUMPS WILL START SOON

Two Giant Machines To Be Installed As Flood Protection

Two giant pumps to be installed for pumping flood water from the Ouachita parish gravity and drainage district No. 1, which area embraces West Monroe, will serve a watershed of approximately 6,000 acres and will be capable of pumping approximately ten million gallons of water an hour over the levee and into the Ouachita river, it was stated yesterday by C. A. Peerman, engineer who is drawing working plans and specifications for the project.

Mr. Peerman, who revealed a number of interesting facts in connection with the flood protection project, said an idea of the volume of ten million gallons of water could be gained from a comparison with the number of storage tanks which would be required to hold that volume. Sixty storage tanks such as the West Monroe municipal tank located near the city hall would be required to hold ten million gallons of water, he said.

Among the interesting phases of the plans and specifications for the project are the permanence or durability to be required and the high type of workmanship which will be essential in carrying out the plans. Materials which will be used are to be selected with the idea of giving the project a minimum life of 30 years, and thorough tests of the workmanship will be made before the finished project is accepted from the contractor.

The plans and specifications anticipate in their mechanical requirements adverse conditions which might develop in the machinery, and which might be caused by an act of nature, such as any failure of the levee system.

Using an extreme hypothesis, if levees protecting West Monroe broke in time of high water and the city became virtually uninhabitable, operation of the pump station would be continued because the station will be built up to such a height that this would be possible.

The pumps and motor equipment,

PRESIDENT WORKS ON JOB PROBLEM

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt studied the problem of unemployment as he travelled northward today, receiving details from Mayor La Guardia of New York for a billion dollar program under the doubtful four billion dollar work relief bill cornered in the senate.

There was a feeling on the train that Mr. Roosevelt was convinced that the attack on unemployment should be by way of work relief rather than the so-called dole, although he again declined comment on legislation pending before congress.

The president travelled to Cambridge to attend the initiation tonight of his third son, Franklin Jr., into the Fly club of Harvard university, a dinner organization of which Mr. Roosevelt was a member when he was at Harvard.

The train was piloted to the yards in Cambridge from where the president motored to the club ceremony.

ROSE EXECUTED AT ARKANSAS PRISON

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Without any discernible trace of emotion, Robert L. Rose, today expiated the slaying of an Arkansas deputy sheriff to become the first white man to be electrocuted in the new death house at Tucker farm. He was pronounced dead at 7:08 a.m.

Rose was convicted of the January 2 slaying of Everette W. Wheeler, Independence county deputy sheriff. No appeal was filed to the Arkansas supreme court and Governor J. Marion Futrell had previously announced that he would not intervene.

The condemned man, walking manacled and without support from two guards at his side, came to the chair from his cell with a steady step. Electricity was turned on at 7:04 a.m. and four minutes later he was pronounced dead by Dr. A. W. Billingsley, prison physician.

PHIL KENNAMER GIVEN 25 YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

PAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Twenty-five years in state penitentiary is the penalty 19-year-old Phil Kennamer must pay for the slaying of John F. Gorrell, Jr., 23, in Tulsa last Thanksgiving night.

The well-knit, dark-haired son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer stood up in district courtroom here today and accepted the long term, levied by Judge Thurman Hurst, without a change of expression. The state had asked 99 years.

The defense immediately announced intention to appeal. Judge Hurst granted four months for its preparation. Previously, he had denied an eloquent appeal for a new trial.

Bond for the youth, convicted of manslaughter last Thursday night by a jury of filling station operators and farmers, was set at $25,000. He was ordered held in the Sandstone county jail until bond is posted.

Young Kennamer said Gorrell—also of a socially-prominent Tulsa family—was shot with the victim's own pistol in a struggle started when Phil sought to thwart an alleged extortion plot directed at the oil-wealthy family of the girl he loves, blonde Virginia Wilcox.

"It appears to me that up to this time the innocent have suffered more than the guilty for your acts," the judge told the youth, whose trial was transferred here on a change of venue.

"By your act you have brought heartache and misery to two families

"I have observed you through this entire trial and have observed that you were not much concerned, while your honored and respected father was hurt . . . bewildered."

The precocious Phil stood unmoved while Judge Hurst lectured him. He wore the same blue check suit in which he was clad the night Gorrell was shot to death.

Later, in the office of Sheriff C. M. Burkdoll, Kennamer issued a characteristic statement, denouncing the prosecution with bitter polysyllables and upholding his own actions.

"For the prosecutors, I have only the deepest contempt," he said. "Those gentlemen engaged in every low practice known to courts, from the intimidation of witnesses to the introduction of extraneous matters which were intended only to prejudice the minds of the jurors."

The jury itself was declared unfair because "into their subconscious minds had been poured such a stream of virus against me that they could not be partial."

He had high words of praise for his attorneys.

The crowd in the courtroom consisted largely of residents of Pawnee and farmers and Indians from the surrounding countryside.

There were none of the smartly-dressed Tulsans who followed with rapt interest much of the testimony in the trial started February 11. The blue-eyed Miss Wilcox was not present.

Inside the rail were Kennamer's sisters, Opal and Juanita, and his brother, Franklin, Jr., and brother-in-law, Russell Hayes, husband of Juanita.

OKLAHOMA MINISTER IS KILLED BY SON

CARTER, Okla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Jack Campbell, 14-year-old minister's son who had been threatened with exposure to his father for displaying obscene pictures, was arrested today after the father, the Rev. Earl Campbell, was killed by a shotgun blast.

Undersheriff Sam Montgomery said members of the Campbell family quoted the pastor of a Holiness church as moaning: "Jack, you've killed me," as he sank dying to the floor of a bedroom in his home.

County Attorney Ralph T. Hood said he expected to file charges against the boy.

Press Rogers, city marshal, said he reprimanded Jack earlier in the day for showing pictures to friends on the streets and warned him he planned to inform Mr. Campbell.

WARSHIPS USED TO HALT SUGAR STRIKE

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Passengers arriving by airplane today from the French island of Martinique said three warships were brought into play yesterday to control an island-wide strike among sugar workers.

Thousands of laborers, angered by general 20 per cent wage reductions, were marching on Fort de France when the warships sped into the capital city's harbor, according to the passengers.

Order was restored quickly as marines landed and spread through the city, they said.

which will weight about 45 tons, will be installed in a concrete and steel station to be constructed near Black Bayou, which receives the gravity drainage from the district. The weight of the equipment will be supported by piling.

When the construction project is completed, the rigid tests of the materials, workmanship and the performance of the machinery which will be required before the project will be accepted, will include the cutting out of "coupons" of the pipe, a process similar to cutting out samples of paved highways before they are accepted. The coupons will be tested for tensile strength and brittleness.

In connection with the statement that the pumps will pump ten million gallons of water an hour from West Monroe in time of overflows, Mr. Peerman stated that a one-inch "run-off" of water from the 6,000-acre drainage area would represent that volume of water.

Mr. Peerman is receiving the cooperation of army engineers, PWA engineers and state engineers in his work. He has been at work on the working plans and specifications for six weeks in his office, which is located on the second floor of the West Monroe city hall. He expects to complete this work in about two weeks. After that time, bids will be advertised and the contract let. About 150 working days will be required for completing the project.

Seventy-four thousand dollars to be used in construction of the flood protection project has been loaned the district by the federal government. Residents of the district voted a bond issue last year for the project.

To find out if the stoplight is working, step on the brake with the ignition and headlights off. If the ammeter flickers, the stoplight is working.

'Poker Face' Glavis Holds Power Over PWA Projects

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A heavy, still-faced investigator of 51, who never raises his voice, exercises almost a life and death power over public works projects and an untiring watch over all the other operations of one of the government's biggest departments.

Louis R. Glavis, head of a secret government investigative service almost as big in personnel as the justice department's famous division of investigation, directs 500 subordinates in a steady surveillance of the public works and oil production programs, as well as all the inner affairs of the interior department.

His 18 forces are scattered all over the nation. A dozen bureaus are under his eye—mines, education, parks, reclamation, public lands, Indian affairs, soil erosion and subsistence homesteads.

It isn't generally known, perhaps, but Glavis—discharged from a similar position in 1908 by order of President Taft and brought back to government service after a quarter of a century by Secretary Ickes and President Roosevelt—must approve every PWA contract before it reaches Ickes' desk. His men follow projects from inception to completion, attending all bid openings, making periodic inspections of all construction to see that it is up to standard and in some cases even investigating municipal bond elections in cases where the cities involved are applying for federal grants or loans.

All this is done quietly. Glavis' men are supposed to stay out of the headlines. Hundreds of "adjustments"—for instance requiring contractors found working the "kick back" racket to reimburse employes—are effected without public notice.

Meanwhile, Glavis' operatives keep check constantly against all forms of "chiseling," including that of political tincture, and possess themselves of full knowledge of the activities of lobbyists claiming to contact the interior department.

The leader took the job on two conditions—that he be given a free hand in selecting personnel and that politics be kept out of his administration.

"I don't know," he says, "the politics of the men I select as agents. My agents have instructions to proceed vigorously against grafters who happen to hold office, whether democrats or republicans."

The man himself, tall, robust, suave, avoids publicity and keeps his own counsel. Associates of many years say they never saw him excited, no matter how serious the situation, and never heard him raise his voice. In the past, his work as a private investigator carried him many times in the presence of danger, but in all his life, they say, he never carried a gun.

He has, they say, a "poker face" and a "mirror mind." He doesn't need to take notes in receiving a report, and is able hours later to put into writing every scrap of information supplied him.

Clues which led to the arrest were not divulged.

It was known, however, that police were given an excellent description of the hold-up man, the description including the statement that the robber had a prominent scar on his face. Williams has such a scar.

Superintendent Tarver said Williams' father and a brother are now serving a federal sentence for making counterfeit half-dollars. The father is Andy Williams and the brother is Arthur Williams. The Williams family formerly resided at 104 Mulberry street, it was stated.

Transients arrested here for the murder of Eugene Kling, inmate of the Fort Worth transient bureau, were Roy Purdue and William Robertson. Other offenses which police held against arrested inmates of the Monroe bureau during the week included theft of an automobile and lesser offenses. West Monroe police gave two inmates of the bureau into custody of East Baton Rouge authorities who wanted them for investigation of more serious charges than those held against them in West Monroe.

Activities of peace officers here yesterday involved the detention of three men, two of whom are known to have criminal records, for investigation. The men are Bill Byland, A. E. Logaw and Tommie Garner, all held in the parish jail under charges of possession of burglar tools. Texas authorities have been notified of their detention and possibly may want the men to answer charges in that state, where Byland and Logaw have criminal records, it was stated.

The men were arrested by members of the sheriff's department and Superintendent Tarver, Saturday, on the Nutland road, after Superintendent Tarver observed them parked in a lonely area of that wooded section.

Sheriff Milton Coverdale was conducting an investigation to determine whether the three men committed the robbery of the M. A. Mitchell store at Homer last Thursday night.

Burglary of two business establishments Friday night was listed on police reports Saturday. Mrs. Henry Richardson's store at Peach and Jackson streets was entered and robbed of five cartons of cigarettes. Massey's Service station, 520 Jackson street, was entered and robbed of five cartons of cigarettes and a small amount of candy. Police reported the latter burglary appeared to be the work of boys.

The sheriff's department arrested Mrs. Minnie Varner and Jewel Varner, the latter a man, and released them under peace bonds. H. W. Bramlett was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault with a knife. Thomas Boyd, negro, was arrested on a charge of non-support.

Sheriff Coverdale stated that an automobile bearing a Texas license and which was stolen here Monday night from near the Virginia hotel, according to the report of the owner, J. P. McLarren, guest of the hotel, has been found stripped and abandoned near Mansfield.

Another automobile, owned by Miss Charlotte Davis, 912 St. John street, stolen the same night, was recovered by Shreveport police, who arrested W. H. Morgan and J. R. Mueller with the car in their possession, it was stated. The radio of this car was sold at Crossett, Ark., and an extra tire was sold in a small town in Texas. Sheriff Coverdale is endeavoring to locate the radio and tire.

Streamlined Surfboard Follows Ancient Model

HONOLULU, Feb. 23.—King Kamehameha I, conqueror of Hawaii, had engineers and craftsmen 150 years ago who knew the streamline principle.

Ancient surfboards in the Bishop museum, which prove the king's engineers knew the mechanics of resistance, have been copied for modern use by Tom Blake, an enterprising surf rider.

Experts, who have tried Blake's board at Waikiki, say it is the most efficient they have used. It has a rounded prow and pointed tail, resembling in shape the fuselage of a racing plane.

Presbyterians Cancel Service For Afternoon

The regular 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon service at the Presbyterian church here will not be held today, due to the illness of the pastor, Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway who is suffering a slight attack of influenza, it was announced last night.

The church congregation will join other church memberships in attending the union Brotherhood service to be held at the First Methodist church tonight.

Union Church Service Will Be Held Tonight

The congregations of Temple B'nai Israel, the Presbyterian church, Grace Episcopal, First Christian and First Methodist churches will attend a union service in observance of National Brotherhood day, at the First Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock. Rabbi F. K. Hirsch, of Temple B'nai Israel, will deliver the sermon, and ministers of the participating churches will assist in the program.

WASHINGTON observes with interest that Senator Bilbo of Mississippi has a black eye, and Senator Huey Long of Louisiana has one hand bandaged. Both senators affirm that the Senator Long had had nothing to do with the Senator Bilbo eye, but it is a curious coincidence that two senators, expected to do some important arguing, not to say fighting, later should appear in the news as they do.

Washington believes that Senator Bilbo who resolved to say not a word during his first year in the senate, is studying and thinking while others talk.

Some predict that when he gets ready he will do to Senator Long what the lady bugs do to the scale, on fruit trees in California. The lady bug, traveling up and down the tree, bites through the hard shell on the back of each little scale, terminating its career.

Senator Long will tell you that no lady bug and no Bilbo will bite into him, but strange things often surprise us. The lady bug surprised the scale.

JESSE H. JONES, vigorous gentleman from Texas, who has distributed more than seven thousand million dollars for this administration, says the country is "through the emergency," and the question is "shall we profit by experience, or, when the danger is past, shall we go on as blindly as we did from '22 to '29?"

The probability is that when the emergency is really past, we shall go on just as "blindly." Men and nations do not change suddenly.

WILEY POST failed in his effort to fly the continent in eight hours, because of a mechanical accident. His plan was to travel 40,000 feet up in the stratosphere, where slight atmospheric resistance makes high speed possible. He will try it again. American fliers fortunately are not easily discouraged. If they were the flying machine would not have been invented here.

The crankcase drain plug should not be turned too tightly or the whole neck of the draining section is apt to come loose from the crankcase itself, starting a bad oil leak.

World's Fair Battery Is Frozen In Ice 8 Months

On his return from the Willard wholesalers' convention at Cleveland, Ohio, Tom Monk, Willard distributor for this vicinity, described an unusual battery demonstration which was a feature of the two-day convention staged in Cleveland's public auditorium.

At the world's fair in 1934, the Willard Storage Battery company had an exhibit in which an original equipment Willard battery, frozen in a block of ice, demonstrated its power for world's fair visitors by lifting a platform on which rested a 3,300 lb. automobile. For this demonstration Willard built a special refrigerator at the exhibit in which were kept the batteries used in the demonstration.

After lifting the car and platform, the battery was returned to the refrigerator in its block of ice and recharged. Thus each one of the batteries of the exhibit was used over and over again and several of them established outstanding records. Here is the record of one of these batteries as taken from Mr. Monk's convention notebook:

"The battery was frozen in ice on June 12 and put into service at the Willard exhibit on June 14. From then until the end of the fair on October 31, it was in constant use. During that time it lifted the car and platform 142 times, which means, of course, that it was recharged the same number of times. The total weight which the battery lifted was 497,000 pounds and the total distance which the car was lifted by this particular battery was 426 feet."

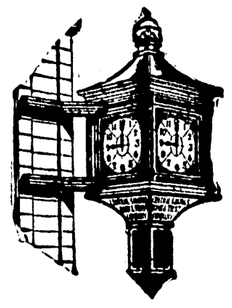

At the conclusion of the fair, Willard brought several of these batteries back to the Cleveland plant and had kept them in the original ice until convention time. Then before the eyes of the 750 Willard distributors and salesmen, these world's fair batteries were put into direct competition with batteries of other manufacturers in a severe lifting demonstration which gave a comparative test of the power of each battery.

In commenting on this demonstration, Mr. Monk said, "Despite their long service at the fair, and the many months in which they had been encased in ice, these Willard batteries out-performed other batteries included in the test. Their endurance was graphic proof of the inside quality built in every Willard. In my tour of the Willard factory in Cleveland, I was greatly impressed with the care taken in manufacture. Every Willard battery passed 74 inspections before it was permitted to leave the plant. I'm glad we are selling and distributing a product which we know is so well made and which we can be confident will give our customers satisfaction.

"At the convention Willard officials announced that we now have the largest dealer organization in Willard history, there being over 40,000 Willard dealers in the United States at the present time. I am proud of the part we have played in helping to achieve this record and am looking forward to an even better year in 1935."

which will weight about 45 tons, will be installed in a concrete and steel station to be constructed near Black bayou, which receives the gravity drainage from the district. The weight of the equipment will be supported by piling.

When the construction project is completed, the rigid tests of the materials, workmanship and the performance of the machinery which will be required before the project will be accepted, will include the cutting out of "coupons" of the pipe, a process similar to cutting out samples of paved highways before they are accepted. The coupons will be tested for tensile strength and brittleness.

In connection with the statement that the pumps will pump ten million gallons of water an hour from West Monroe in time of overflows, Mr. Peerman stated that a one-inch "run-off" of water from the 6,000-acre drainage area would represent that volume of water.

Mr. Peerman is receiving the cooperation of army engineers, PWA engineers and state engineers in his work. He has been at work on the working plans and specifications for six weeks in his office, which is located on the second floor of the West Monroe city hall. He expects to complete this work in about two weeks. After that time, bids will be advertised and the contract let. About 150 working days will be required for completing the project.

Seventy-four thousand dollars to be used in construction of the flood protection project has been loaned the district by the federal government. Residents of the district voted a bond issue last year for the project.

INVEST and CLEAN UP

This is not a wildcat scheme for making money. It's just a matter of housekeeping judgment. You can sit down with this newspaper . . . relax and make money.

Maybe you need a vacuum cleaner . . . or a washing machine . . . soap . . . cleaning brushes . . . kitchenware, china or pottery. How about your rugs and your draperies? Now is the time to invest.

You can trust the stores that advertise in The World and The News-Star. The plain fact that they advertise proves it. Only fly-by-night vendors dare not tell about themselves with written words bad day. I usually kill from ten to fifteen."

The advertisements in The World and The News-Star are here for your help and guidance. They are news--just as much as the front-page headlines are news!

SANDWICH MAN GOES INSANE

Greges was earning a dollar a day advertising a passport photo studio when he stooped from his sandwich boards and picked a wallet from the muddy gutter. In it were the bonds. He immediately notified police. That was on February 5.

Police expressed fear he would go unrewarded. Greges was unperturbed, but not so the public.

Belden and company, the brokerage firm which had lost the bonds, outfitted him in new clothes, gave him $100 and a better job. The surety company gave him a reward and a weekly bonus. Every mail increased his wealth with checks from admirers all over the nation.

A discouraged, shabby derelict became the Croesus of the Bowery. He got a dollar a minute—in contrast to a dollar a day—for telling of his good fortune over the radio.

But the transition was too great for Greges.

He was ascending the stairs while James Kelly, also 67, was descending. Greges sent Kelly plunging down the stairs, badly lacerating his scalp.

Greges next walked into the reading room and shouted his boast before 25 other guests. The first policeman to arrive found him rolling on the floor, still shouting, and called aid. Four officers and a doctor were trying to restrain him when Gryzwackz walked in, heard the threat hurled at him, opened wide his eyes, and crumpled to the floor.

The story of what had happened to Greges spread like wildfire throughout the Bowery flophouses. Men who had accepted his apparent good fortune as evidence that they might be down and yet not out, pondered over it.

A STAMPING CORNER

By W. J. KIRBY

Stamps to the right of us, stamps to the left of us;
Stamps for the youngsters and stamps for the old;
The lure of collecting has taken all ages;
The charm of a stamp book can scarcely be told.

From far away kingdoms, from little known countries,
From the oldest of nations, from those newly born,
Come fluttering in like the flakes of a snowstorm
Those magical bits that our letters adorn.

Some are as fresh and as clean as a sunbeam,
Others are valued because of their age.
Each one is tenderly handled and listed,
Each finds its own special place on the page.

The collecting of stamps grips a boy's active fancy,
And continues unquenched as the years roll away;
'Tis a broad education, a pastime unequaled,

The above poem by Ellen S. Kimble, published in Linn's Weekly Stamp News a few years ago, describes graphically the pleasure one gets from the collection of stamps. There is one thought that I should like to add to Mrs. Kimble's poem, however. One does not have to be a boy to have stamps "grip his active fancy," as a visit to a meeting of the Twin City Stamp club will reveal, for a number of young ladies attend every meeting, two of them holding office in the club. And many male collectors pass the age generally spoken of as boys before they succumb to the pleasure of the "hobby of kids and kings."

George Buckner, home from L. S. U. for a weekend visit, recently made a group of Monroe collectors green with envy by displaying a number of stamps from the Civil war period that had been given him by a fraternity brother at L. S. U. One of these covers, as collectors call the envelopes, was of the period prior to the general usage of postage stamps, and bore the penned notation, "Paid, 5c," where a stamp is found today. A portion of these were on the printed "patriotic envelopes" in use during the conflict between the States, and were withal an interesting addition to our friend's collection.

All of which leads us to wonder just how many of these repose in trunks and attics here in Monroe, just begging for a place in someone's album?

In connection with the above regarding old stamps, let it be said that the age of a stamp has little, if anything, to do with its value, but its scarcity, together with the demand for that particular item among collectors, controls its price. The "penny black" of Great Britain, generally thought to have been the first adhesive stamp issued, can be bought for less than a dollar, while other stamps of recent issue command fabulous prices.

The highest priced stamp issued in recent years is the 24c inverted airmail of the United States. This stamp, issued in 1918, was a bi-color—carmine rose and blue. In some manner, one sheet of these, after having had the frame printed, was fed into the press, upside down, causing the airplane to fly in an inverted position. This stamp is therefore a rarity, since only one hundred are known to exist, and is prices at more than $3,000 each.

A well known cereal manufacturer is offering a packet of stamps to users of his breakfast food, the offer being made over a nation-wide radio hookup this week. The offer will be repeated March 4 to 8, except that different stamps will be offered. Such offers as these usually result in hundreds of new collectors being added to the rapidly growing army of stamp collectors.

Tennessee is bounded by more states than any other, the border states being Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri.

Hodge

The Hodge-Jonesboro Parent-Teacher association held a joint meeting in the auditorium of the Hodge school to commemorate Founder's day. Sixty-five members of both organizations were present for the meeting, and Mrs. G. S. Wyatt, of the Jonesboro unit, presided. The following program was presented: The P.-T. A. song, by the group; introductory talk, by Mrs. Wyatt; origin and history of the Jonesboro P.-T. A., by Mrs. E. E. Ramsay, the first president; piano solo, by Mary Louise Statlander; national treasurer's message, Mrs. McBride; piano solo, Mrs. H. B. Hysell; origin and history of the Hodge P.-T. A., by Mrs. F. C. Stewart; and the candle lighting service, representing years of the organization, by 21 members of the Jonesboro unit.

After the program, the members were invited to a silver tea, served by the Hodge members of the organization. The table was decorated with a lovely bowl of yellow jonquils and buttercups, and pretty lace ferns. On each end of the tables were lighted candles.

An "old-fashioned sewing bee" was held at the home of Mrs. Jane Gagnon during the past week. Refreshments of popcorn, cookies and hot chocolate were served to the following guests; Mrs. Ralph Largay, Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mrs. David H. Bell, Mrs. Benton L. Kelley, Miss Audie Mae Greer and Miss Rose O'Brien.

The men's Tuesday evening contract bridge club met at the home of Mr. Ralph Largay with the following gentlemen participating; Clark C. Krankin, Phillip J. Hannan and Mrs. Norman Dickson substituting for Mr A. G. McKenzie.

Mr. A. J. Gagon entertained his one table bridge club at his home last Tuesday evening. Refreshments of pineapple salad, sandwiches, fruit cake and tea were served to Messrs. Tom Dennis, Charles J. Libbey and Douglass McLean.

A lovely bridal shower was given in honor of Miss A. Dee Johns this week in the home of Mrs. Manuel Dickerson. After an hour of gossip, jokes and funmaking the many lovely packages were presented to Miss Johns. After the lovely gifts were opened, Mrs. A. G. Koonce and Miss Ora Dee Watts and Misses Willie and Wilford Boyd, hostesses, served a delicious plate lunch, including fruit salad and cookies and tea. Those who attended the shower were: Miss Lizzie Gauthier, Mrs. Manuel Dickerson, Mrs. Carl Etter, Mrs. Neil Thomas and Miss A. Dee Johns. Those who sent gifts and were not present, were Miss Lucille Bayes, Miss Bonnie Tumlin, Miss Ray Watts and Mrs. Ralph Chapman.

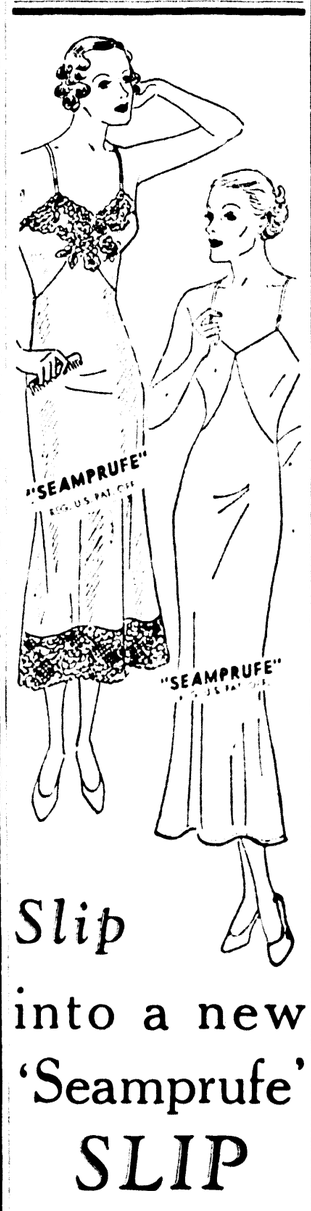

A wedding of much interest to the community during the week, was that of Miss A. Dee Johns to Mr. Dewey D. Harvey, both of Hodge, which occurred in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Manuel Dickerson, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was beautifully solemnized by Rev. J. L. Dodge, in the midst of a goodly number of friends. The bride wore a lovely navy blue dress of sheer crepe and taffeta, with matching accessories. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Ruston and points in Arkansas. Mrs. Harvey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Johns of Dodson, and Mr. Harvey is a son of Edward Harvey of Quitman. He is employed by the Fox Studio of Vicksburg, Miss.

The Young Women's auxiliary held its weekly meeting in the home of Mrs. John C. Michaud Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Chet Steadman read a paper on "Great Souls at Prayer." Delegates elected to attend the district zone meeting at Ruston were Mrs. Chet Steadman and Mrs. John C. Michaud. Mrs. Charles Palmer was a guest of the auxiliary.

Contrary to the belief of many motorists, it is not economical to shut off the ignition when coasting down a long hill. The unburned gas sucked into the cylinder dilutes the oil, impairing its efficiency as a lubricant. There is also danger that the gas may explode in the muffler when the ignition is turned on.

The Fight For Good Government

How far should a preacher go in impressing on his congregation the need of decent, righteous government? The question is a vital one that requires a sane, logical answer.

A courageous Sunday school teacher with spiritual vision said to her minister a few days ago: "If you preachers don't get busy for better government the nation is gone."

Her preacher countered with the suggestion that "the church has no business getting into politics, but should confine its effort to saving souls."

"It isn't politics I'm talking about," returned the woman stoutly. "It is civics; it is decency in government; it is the right kind of citizenship. It isn't going to do the church much good to save souls and keep them exposed to conditions so corrupt that they can't stay clean and keep straight."

Many preachers are seeing a bounden duty in this matter of better government. They realize that the right kind of surroundings are important in keeping people's morals right. That doesn't mean they feel impelled to engage in discussion of parties or partisans. Partisanship has nothing to do with the situation. These preachers know that graft and rottenness in politics taint the character of the citizenry of every community where such a situation prevails. They understand perfectly that it is impossible to develop and maintain an attitude of real integrity where there is winking at evil conditions and toleration with regard to rottenness in politics. It would be just as reasonable to expect a family to be healthy in a house permeated with foul sewer gas.

Every government move that is made calls for the scrutiny and the careful attention of the citizens. There are a hundred ways in which the ministers may serve to emphasize the need for higher standards of authority and awaken the conscience of their people to a clearer conception of their duty as citizens in order that the community, the state and the nation may be permitted to enjoy in richer measure "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

It is the duty of preachers, as well as church leaders, all of whom by virtue of their profession stand for the principles of good citizenship, to work for clean government, which means good citizenship. Don't you think that God is interested in clean government and good citizenship?

Political spoilsmen and machine politicians are exceedingly desirous of keeping the church from taking any part or any interest in governmental matters. It would not be healthy for the schemes of political racketeers if the churches should say: "We demand good government; we are going to have it." One of the first things that would happen under such a challenge would be the removal from high church posts of persons allied to political rascality who wear the cloak of heaven to do the work of the devil.

It is not necessary for the church to get into politics to demand that certain fundamental principles of governmental decency and of good citizenship be observed and preserved.

If the leaders in religion do not shuck off their coats and lead their congregations into the fight for a better and more patriotic citizenship, this nation, as the woman said, is gone. For we are now entering an era that must depend for its safety on good citizenship.

STRENGTHENING CRIME LAWS

New York city, where many conditions contribute to the prevalence of crime, is fortunate in having public-spirited laymen who are seriously and actively interested in an effort to strengthen the laws with a view to the more effective control of criminals.

One of the organizations which have aided in many ways the more effective functioning of the law is the Association of Grand Jurors of New York County. In cooperation with the attorney general of New York, John J. Bennett, Jr., the association has recommended to the legislature the passage of three amendments to the constitution and 15 other acts, all designed to aid the public in its fight against crime.

Some of the changes sought are these:

To provide for jury verdicts by a five-sixths vote, except in capital cases.

To permit the judge to comment on the evidence.

To permit the judge and the prosecutor to comment on the defendant's failure to testify in his own behalf.

To require advance notice on an alibi defense.

To simplify prosecutions for perjury.

To provide for the impeachment of one's own witnesses.

These recommendations, formulated after exhaustive study and on the basis of broad experience, are deserving of general consideration, especially in those states where the processes of justice are hampered by legal defects.

More Truth Than Poetry

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

KNIT SITTERS IN THE CAPITAL

An attendant in the Supreme Court in Washington has refused to permit knitting when the court sits.

Listen, Mauds, and Dots and Sadies;
Many a privilege you have won;
There's abundant work for ladies
Everywhere beneath the sun,
But beware of what is fitting,
Lest your shrift be rude and short;
You must never do your knitting
In the Supreme Court.

Where the Senate gathers daily
Not a soul will say you nay;
You may click your needles gaily
Through the legislative day,
But as I have firmly stated,
Do not dare to sit and knit,
For it isn't tolerated
Where the Judges sit.

In the House, no stern-eyed beadles,
Pacing sternly to and fro,
Will realize you of your needles
As upon their rounds they go,
But, though witting or unwitting,
It is best to be discreet;
To be knitting isn't fitting
In the law's high seat.

Those who serve the U. S. Judges,
To be kindly are inclined,
And they bear no spites or grudges
Against female human kind,
But their strong against permitting
Any folk of any sort
To be sitting at their knitting
In the Supreme Court.

Insurance Funds Problem

By BRUCE CATTON

Before we get through with the vexing issue of unemployment and social security insurance, we are likely to find that our education on the subject of money and the way it works has been considerably extended.

If the insurance and security measures pending in congress should be adopted in their present form, they would eventually roll up an enormous federal fund which would have some of the characteristics of a bit of radium.

That is, it would be continuously active, and unless insulated pretty carefully it might have effects not counted on by its possessors.

Congressmen Robert L. Doughton and Carl Vinson, of the house ways and means committee, estimated recently that by 1980 the security plan would have built up a reserve fund of no less than $50,000,000,000.

• • •

This, to begin with, would provide a fund with which the government could buy its own securities, thereby paying interest to itself and mixing up the ordinary debtor-creditor idea in a way to make a man dizzy.

In addition, the surplus could be used for investment in other types of securities, these securities to be sold when the money was needed.

But at this point a new complication arises.

David Cushman Coyle points out, in an article in the March issue of Scribner's Magazine, that to handle any big security fund in this way will be to accentuate the swings of the business cycle which a security fund is supposed to guard against.

One great cause of depression, Mr. Coyle remarks, is over-investment during boom periods. If the government's security fund is to be put into securities, this tendency will be tremendously accelerated.

• • •

Nor is that all. When the crash comes, things are made worse, because security holders hasten to unload for what they can get. It would be right at such moments that the government, needing cash money for its security payments, would be obliged to sell the securities it had bought.

Thus, says Mr. Coyle, the fund would be a means of aggravating the instability of business with one hand, while preparing to relieve the casualties with the other.

It is Mr. Coyle's idea that such a fund should be simply hoarded—kept in the sock, so to speak, drawing no interest, invested in nothing.

This may seem to defy all principles of sound finance; yet money, and the way it works in human society, are mysterious and sometimes illogical things.

If we are to get away from these disastrous swings of the business cycle, we may have to follow some such seemingly unsound course as Mr. Coyle has outlined.

New Deal In Washington

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—It wasn't until Democrats took over the senate restaurant that the ominous letters "U. S. S. R." appeared on the coats of the waiters. (Republicans take note.)

If it seemed worth while, one might polish up a pun to the effect that whereas a pie counter used to be part of the restaurant, the restaurant now is part of the pie counter.

Senator Matthew Neely of West Virginia started cutting pie when he found himself chairman of the rules committee this session. One of his chief functions in that job is to run the senate restaurant.

Senator Neely promptly made W. W. Arbuckle, a mathematics instructor, the restaurant manager, and Edward H. Nunnally, of the bureau of standards mechanical staff, the assistant manager.

Senator Neely has a hot 1936 renomination fight coming up. Thousands of West Virginians who live here, working in or out of the government, cast their votes back home. Candidates for congress in that state have been known to make campaign speeches here.

By what would be an exceptionally rare coincidence if you didn't know any better, Arbuckle was and is president of the capital's West Virginia Democratic club and Nunnally is president of the West Virginia State society.

The food, however, is no worse. It couldn't be.

Madame Spared Blushes

One of Secretary Perkins' chief lieutenants came along and inspected a portrait, made from a photograph, of the late Charles Steinmetz, the famous inventor, who was connected with General Electric.

"If we put that up, people will think it's Trotzky," he exclaimed. "Take it away!"

Another painting had as part of its background a very small picture of a nude female figure.

Hopkins on "Relief"

It was during the big snowstorm here and Mrs. Harry Baxter, daughter of Secretary of War and Mrs. Dern, bummed a ride home with the Harry Hopkinses from the Garners' dinner to the Roosevelts. Taxis were scarce that night.

The taxi got stuck in a snowdrift and it was a long time before another cab came to push it out. Just as Mrs. Baxter was finally emerging at her doorstep, Hopkins, who has doled out a couple of billions for relief, suddenly remembered something.

"Say," he asked, "can you lend me a dollar?"

• • •

Treadway Finds Out

Congressman Allen Treadway of Massachusetts is an old-fashioned Republican. At the house hearings on the economic security bill he sought to make it appear that the measure was an unsound concoction of "brain trusters."

Going caustically down the list of the president's security advisory committees, he came to "Actuarial Consultants," a committee whose chairman was Prof. James W. Glover of the University of Michigan.

"Would you mind telling me," he asked Executive Secretary Edwin E. Witte, "how a college professor qualifies as an actuarial expert?"

"Professor Glover," replied Witte, "probably has trained two-thirds of the actuaries now working for the insurance companies and himself commands large fees when those companies call him into consultation."

Mr. Treadway didn't ask any more questions like that.

• • •

A New One In Slang

A fellow was almost reminded of the Hauptmann trial when the senate munitions investigation, taking up a letter from a du Pont official to Irenee du Pont, bumped into what the official insisted was a typographical error.

Ruly Carpenter had written to suggest that the du Ponts keep a lobbyist here instead of lobbying from Wilmington and said the du Pont sales office "would be a good hiding place" for such a lobbyist if one were necessary.

"What would be a hiving place?" demanded Chairman Nye.

"A place where he could have an office, or hold out; just a slang expression," explained Carpenter.

French Song Composer Passes Through Monroe

Jean DeLettre of Paris, France, famous song composer, spent Friday night in Monroe, en route from Hollywood, Cal., to Miami, Fla. He left at 11:15 o'clock Saturday morning by plane for Atlanta and planned to continue from there to Miami. His stop in Monroe was unexpected, as his plans called for a through trip on the Delta Air lines, but he decided to spend the night here.

Mr. DeLettre said he planned to return to Hollywood in about two months to direct several original stories. He has had experience along this line in several French productions. When not engaged in making productions he serves in France as a representative of a well known American tobacco company.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE PLOW PARADOX—The so-called wood plow was not made of wood but of cast iron. It was named after Jethro Wood of Scipio, New York who, on Sept. 1, 1819, took out a patent for an improved cast iron plow in which the moldboard, share and landside were cast in three separate pieces which could be replaced by new parts when the old ones wore out. A few years later the Wood plow was improved by steel being substituted for cast iron. But Jethro Wood remained the father of the American type of plow, having given his entire life to advocate is use.

THE ANIMAL OF 50 STOMACHS—The paramecium is a slipper-shaped animalcule of the infusoria family. It is very common in pond water and in infusions of decaying vegetable matter. It is covered with a large number of cilia (lashes) which propel it through the water and drive food particles with water bubbles into the apertures serving as mouths. There are 50 digestive departments serving as stomachs where the food particles are either digested or eliminated. These multiply by division, until they grow so small that a conjunction of two specimens has to be resorted to.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

Lights Of New York

By Paul Harrison

NEW YORK.—Meanderings: I've just heard about the night at the Casino de Paree when a performer became desperately ill and waiters, pages and most of the officials spent an anxious half hour after 2 a. m. scouring the rialto for a physician. If somebody had asked: "Is there a doctor in the house?" there'd have been a riot—for 220 medical men, part of a convention, were occupying the ringside tables.

Sally Rand's dance may be original, Broadwaymen are reminding each other, but it's also a complete takeoff . . . Smart shops employing society girls to model their clothes often sell their blue-blooded employes gowns worth ten times the wages they've received. The other day Beatrice Lillie posed in a sable coat for an advertising photograph. Then she bought the coat.

Drinking Job

Prince Mike Romanoff has a new job. As good-will agent for a liquor concern, all he has to do is demand certain brands on his rounds of the night clubs and Mayfair saloons . . . Plans are afloat for the swankiest world cruise ever. A ship's to be chartered, and invitations sent to a couple of hundred socialites—congenial ones. Then those who wish to accept can buy tickets for about $5,000 each . . . Theda Bara's in town. Octavius Roy Cohen is up from the south. Moon-faced Phil Stong (Did you read his "Farmer in the Dell?") is hello-ing Broadway after harvesting a story crop in his Connecticut retreat.

How about plowing under a few censors? Boston banned Sean O'Casey's "Within the Gates," which is essentially a man's affirmation of faith in life. Hollywood is afraid to buy "The Petrified Forest" for fear it may glorify gangsters—when, as a matter of very obvious fact, the play is a plea for the return to the forthright and honest American virtues.

Intimate Letterheads

If you're a close friend of Alexander Woollcott, you'll get letters from him on green stationery labeled at the top, "Wit's End"—the name of his apartment overlooking the East river. His name and address are on the buff-colored paper bearing his messages to mere acquaintances. For total strangers—just his name on the letterhead, and the notepaper is yellow.

Edward J. Reilly had some special letterheads for his use during the Hauptmann trial. They identified him as chief counsel for the defense, and bore a picture of a ladder . . . Reilly, incidentally, used to be an inveterate night-clubber. Nils Granlund of the Paradise says Reilly used to haunt the Texas Guinan club. And when Ruby Keeler came on to do her buck dance the attorney always insisted on dancing an Irish reel with her for an encore.

Old Submerged Cannon Offers Excellent Rust

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 23. — (AP) — An old cannon, which rested at the bottom of the Baltic sea from 1717 to 1923, is offered by the newly established corrosion laboratory of the Nobel institute as showing the finest example of rust obtainable.

The cannon has a layer of excellent rust, fully a centimeter thick.

The laboratory also is using in its investigations a Viking sword which is more than 1,000 years old and which has not yet rusted through.

The Fight For Good Government

How far should a preacher go in impressing on his congregation the need of decent, righteous government? The question is a vital one that requires a sane, logical answer.

A courageous Sunday school teacher with spiritual vision said to her minister a few days ago: "If you preachers don't get busy for better government the nation is gone."

Her preacher countered with the suggestion that "the church has no business getting into politics, but should confine its effort to saving souls."

"It isn't politics I'm talking about," returned the woman stoutly. "It is civics; it is decency in government; it is the right kind of citizenship. It isn't going to do the church much good to save souls and keep them exposed to conditions so corrupt that they can't stay clean and keep straight."

Many preachers are seeing a bounden duty in this matter of better government. They realize that the right kind of surroundings are important in keeping people's morals right. That doesn't mean they feel impelled to engage in discussion of parties or partisans. Partisanship has nothing to do with the situation. These preachers know that graft and rottenness in politics taint the character of the citizenry of every community where such a situation prevails. They understand perfectly that it is impossible to develop and maintain an attitude of real integrity where there is winking at evil conditions and toleration with regard to rottenness in politics. It would be just as reasonable to expect a family to be healthy in a house permeated with foul sewer gas.

Every government move that is made calls for the scrutiny and the careful attention of the citizens. There are a hundred ways in which the ministers may serve to emphasize the need for higher standards of authority and awaken the conscience of their people to a clearer conception of their duty as citizens in order that the community, the state and the nation may be permitted to enjoy in richer measure "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

It is the duty of preachers, as well as church leaders, all of whom by virtue of their profession stand for the principles of good citizenship, to work for clean government, which means good citizenship. Don't you think that God is interested in clean government and good citizenship?

Political spoilsmen and machine politicians are exceedingly desirous of keeping the church from taking any part or any interest in governmental matters. It would not be healthy for the schemes of political racketeers if the churches should say: "We demand good government; we are going to have it." One of the first things that would happen under such a challenge would be the removal from high church posts of persons allied to political rascality who wear the cloak of heaven to do the work of the devil.

It is not necessary for the church to get into politics to demand that certain fundamental principles of governmental decency and of good citizenship be observed and preserved.

If the leaders in religion do not shuck off their coats and lead their congregations into the fight for a better and more patriotic citizenship, this nation, as the woman said, is gone. For we are now entering an era that must depend for its safety on good citizenship.

STRENGTHENING CRIME LAWS

New York city, where many conditions contribute to the prevalence of crime, is fortunate in having public-spirited laymen who are seriously and actively interested in an effort to strengthen the laws with a view to the more effective control of criminals.

One of the organizations which have aided in many ways the more effective functioning of the law is the Association of Grand Jurors of New York County. In cooperation with the attorney general of New York, John J. Bennett, Jr., the association has recommended to the legislature the passage of three amendments to the constitution and 15 other acts, all designed to aid the public in its fight against crime.

Some of the changes sought are these:

To provide for jury verdicts by a five-sixths vote, except in capital cases.

To permit the judge to comment on the evidence.

To permit the judge and the prosecutor to comment on the defendant's failure to testify in his own behalf.

To require advance notice on an alibi defense.

To simplify prosecutions for perjury.

To provide for the impeachment of one's own witnesses.

These recommendations, formulated after exhaustive study and on the basis of broad experience, are deserving of general consideration, especially in those states where the processes of justice are hampered by legal defects.

More Truth Than Poetry

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

KNIT SITTERS IN THE CAPITAL

An attendant in the Supreme Court in Washington has refused to permit knitting when the court sits.

Listen, Mauds, and Dots and Sadies;
Many a privilege you have won;
There's abundant work for ladies
Everywhere beneath the sun,
But beware of what is fitting,
Lest your shrift be rude and short;
You must never do your knitting
In the Supreme Court.

Where the Senate gathers daily
Not a soul will say you nay;
You may click your needles gaily
Through the legislative day,
But as I have firmly stated,
Do not dare to sit and knit,
For it isn't tolerated
Where the Judges sit.

In the House, no stern-eyed beadles,
Pacing sternly to and fro,
Will realize you of your needles
As upon their rounds they go,
But, though witting or unwitting,
It is best to be discreet;
To be knitting isn't fitting
In the law's high seat.

Those who serve the U. S. Judges,
To be kindly are inclined,
And they bear no spites or grudges
Against female human kind,
But their strong against permitting
Any folk of any sort
To be sitting at their knitting
In the Supreme Court.

By BRUCE CATTON

Before we get through with the vexing issue of unemployment and social security insurance, we are likely to find that our education on the subject of money and the way it works has been considerably extended.

If the insurance and security measures pending in congress should be adopted in their present form, they would eventually roll up an enormous federal fund which would have some of the characteristics of a bit of radium.

That is, it would be continuously active, and unless insulated pretty carefully it might have effects not counted on by its possessors.

Congressmen Robert L. Doughton and Carl Vinson, of the house ways and means committee, estimated recently that by 1980 the security plan would have built up a reserve fund of no less than $50,000,000,000.

• • •

This, to begin with, would provide a fund with which the government could buy its own securities, thereby paying interest to itself and mixing up the ordinary debtor-creditor idea in a way to make a man dizzy.

In addition, the surplus could be used for investment in other types of securities, these securities to be sold when the money was needed.

But at this point a new complication arises.

David Cushman Coyle points out, in an article in the March issue of Scribner's Magazine, that to handle any big security fund in this way will be to accentuate the swings of the business cycle which a security fund is supposed to guard against.

One great cause of depression, Mr. Coyle remarks, is over-investment during boom periods. If the government's security fund is to be put into securities, this tendency will be tremendously accelerated.

• • •

Nor is that all. When the crash comes, things are made worse, because security holders hasten to unload for what they can get. It would be right at such moments that the government, needing cash money for its security payments, would be obliged to sell the securities it had bought.

Thus, says Mr. Coyle, the fund would be a means of aggravating the instability of business with one hand, while preparing to relieve the casualties with the other.

It is Mr. Coyle's idea that such a fund should be simply hoarded—kept in the sock, so to speak, drawing no interest, invested in nothing.

This may seem to defy all principles of sound finance; yet money, and the way it works in human society, are mysterious and sometimes illogical things.

If we are to get away from these disastrous swings of the business cycle, we may have to follow some such seemingly unsound course as Mr. Coyle has outlined.

New Deal In Washington

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—It wasn't until Democrats took over the senate restaurant that the ominous letters "U. S. S. R." appeared on the coats of the waiters. (Republicans take note.)

If it seemed worth while, one might polish up a pun to the effect that whereas a pie counter used to be part of the restaurant, the restaurant now is part of the pie counter.

Senator Matthew Neely of West Virginia started cutting pie when he found himself chairman of the rules committee this session. One of his chief functions in that job is to run the senate restaurant.

Senator Neely promptly made W. W. Arbuckle, a mathematics instructor, the restaurant manager, and Edward H. Nunnally, of the bureau of standards mechanical staff, the assistant manager.

Senator Neely has a hot 1936 renomination fight coming up. Thousands of West Virginians who live here, working in or out of the government, cast their votes back home. Candidates for congress in that state have been known to make campaign speeches here.

By what would be an exceptionally rare coincidence if you didn't know any better, Arbuckle was and is president of the capital's West Virginia Democratic club and Nunnally is president of the West Virginia State society.

The food, however, is no worse. It couldn't be.

Madame Spared Blushes

One of Secretary Perkins' chief lieutenants came along and inspected a portrait, made from a photograph of the late Charles Steinmetz, the famous inventor, who was connected with General Electric.

"If we put that up, people will think it's Trotzky," he exclaimed. "Take it away!"

Another painting had as part of its background a very small picture of a nude female figure.

Hopkins on "Relief"

It was during the big snowstorm here and Mrs. Harry Baxter, daughter of Secretary of War and Mrs. Dern, bummed a ride home with the Harry Hopkinses from the Garners' dinner to the Roosevelts. Taxis were scarce that night.

The taxi got stuck in a snowdrift and it was a long time before another cab came to push it out. Just as Mrs. Baxter was finally emerging at her doorstep, Hopkins, who has doled out a couple of billions for relief, suddenly remembered something.

"Say," he asked, "can you lend me a dollar?"

Treadway Finds Out

Congressman Allen Treadway of Massachusetts is an old-fashioned Republican. At the house hearings on the economic security bill he sought to make it appear that the measure was an unsound concoction of "brain trusters."

Going caustically down the list of the president's security advisory committees, he came to "Actuarial Consultants," a committee whose chairman was Prof. James W. Glover of the University of Michigan.

"Would you mind telling me," he asked Executive Secretary Edwin E. Witte, "how a college professor qualifies as an actuarial expert?"

"Professor Glover," replied Witte, "probably has trained two-thirds of the actuaries now working for the insurance companies and himself commands large fees when those companies call him into consultation."

Mr. Treadway didn't ask any more questions like that.

• • •

A New One In Slang

A fellow was almost reminded of the Hauptmann trial when the senate munitions investigation, taking up a letter from a du Pont official to Irenee du Pont, bumped into what the official insisted was a typographical error.

Ruly Carpenter had written to suggest that the du Ponts keep a lobbyist here instead of lobbying from Wilmington and said the du Pont sales office "would be a good hiding place" for such a lobbyist if one were necessary.

"What would be a hiving place?" demanded Chairman Nye.

"A place where he could have an office, or hold out; just a slang expression," explained Carpenter.

French Song Composer Passes Through Monroe

Jean DeLettre of Paris, France, famous song composer, spent Friday night in Monroe, en route from Hollywood, Cal., to Miami, Fla. He left at 11:15 o'clock Saturday morning by plane for Atlanta and planned to continue from there to Miami. His stop in Monroe was unexpected, as his plans called for a through trip on the Delta Air lines, but he decided to spend the night here.

Mr. DeLettre said he planned to return to Hollywood in about two months to direct several original stories. He has had experience along this line in several French productions. When not engaged in making productions he serves in France as a representative of a well known American tobacco company.

THE PLOW PARADOX—The so-called wood plow was not made of wood but of cast iron. It was named after Jethro Wood of Scipio, New York who, on Sept. 1, 1819, took out a patent for an improved cast iron plow in which the moldboard, share and landside were cast in three separate pieces which could be replaced by new parts when the old ones wore out. A few years later the Wood plow was improved by steel being substituted for cast iron. But Jethro Wood remained the father of the American type of plow, having given his entire life to advocate is use.

THE ANIMAL OF 50 STOMACHS.—The paramecium is a slipper-shaped animalcule of the infusoria family. It is very common in pond water and in infusions of decaying vegetable matter. It is covered with a large number of cilia (lashes) which propel it through the water and drive food particules with water bubbles into the apertures serving as mouths. There are 50 digestive departments serving as stomachs where the food particles are either digested or eliminated. These multiply by division, until they grow so small that a conjunction of two specimens has to be resorted to.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

By Alley

Lights Of New York

By Paul Harrison

NEW YORK.—Meanderings: I've just heard about the night at the Casino de Paree when a performer became desperately ill and waiters, pages and most of the officials spent an anxious half hour after 2 a. m. scouring the rialto for a physician. If somebody had asked: "Is there a doctor in the house?" there'd have been a riot—for 220 medical men, part of a convention, were occupying the ringside tables.

Sally Rand's dance may be original, Broadwaymen are reminding each other, but it's also a complete takeoff . . . Smart shops employing society girls to model their clothes often sell their blue-blooded employes gowns worth ten times the wages they've received. The other day Beatrice Lillie posed in a sable coat for an advertising photograph. Then she bought the coat.

Drinking Job

Prince Mike Romanoff has a new job. As good-will agent for a liquor concern, all he has to do is demand certain brands on his rounds of the night clubs and Mayfair saloons . . . Plans are afloat for the swankiest world cruise ever. A ship's to be chartered, and invitations sent to a couple of hundred socialites—congenial ones. Then those who wish to accept can buy tickets for about $5,000 each . . . Theda Bara's in town. Octavius Roy Cohen is up from the south. Moon-faced Phil Stong (Did you read his "Farmer in the Dell?") is hello-ing Broadway after harvesting a story crop in his Connecticut retreat.

How about plowing under a few censors? Boston banned Sean O'Casey's "Within the Gates," which is essentially a man's affirmation of faith in life. Hollywood is afraid to buy "The Petrified Forest" for fear it may glorify gangsters—when, as a matter of very obvious fact, the play is a plea for the return to the forthright and honest American virtues.

Intimate Letterheads

If you're a close friend of Alexander Woollcott, you'll get letters from him on green stationery labeled at the top, "Wit's End"—the name of his apartment overlooking the East river. His name and address are on the buff-colored paper bearing his messages to mere acquaintances. For total strangers—just his name on the letterhead, and the notepaper is yellow.

Edward J. Reilly had some special letterheads for his use during the Hauptmann trial. They identified him as chief counsel for the defense, and bore a picture of a ladder . . . Reilly, incidentally, used to be an inveterate night-clubber. Nils Granlund of the Paradise says Reilly used to haunt the Texas Guinan club. And when Ruby Keeler came on to do her buck dance the attorney always insisted on dancing an Irish reel with her for an encore.

Old Submerged Cannon Offers Excellent Rust

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 23. — (AP) — An old cannon, which rested at the bottom of the Baltic sea from 1717 to 1923, is offered by the newly established corrosion laboratory of the Nobel institute as showing the finest example of rust obtainable.

The cannon has a layer of excellent rust, fully a centimeter thick.

The laboratory also is using in its investigations a Viking sword which is more than 1,000 years old and which has not yet rusted through.

A large part of the machinery to be used in constructing the overpass at the Missouri Pacific railroad crossing at Sicard has been placed on the grounds and it is expected that work will get under way either this week or early next week.

Meyer Greenwald of the Central Construction company, which was awarded the contract for constructing 1.78 miles of paving leading from the end of Natchitoches street in West Monroe to the Brown Paper mill, said his company had not yet received a work order and that it might be two or three weeks before work could begin.

No machinery has been moved in as yet for the project of widening and extending Louisville avenue to connect with the bridge, but it is expected that work on this job will begin within a short time.

Good progress is still being made on bridge construction work, which is also being done by Central Construction company. Mr. Greenwald said that with favorable weather his company probably would finish the contract, including construction of two blocks of paving to connect with Dixie-Overland highway, within three months. The work has progressed to such an extent that the high water is not interfering with it.

Concrete for the second span on the east side of the river is now being poured There will be a total of eight spans and about one a week will be poured Cold water should never be thrown on a brake drum that has become overheated as a result of being too tightly adjusted. Water will warp the drum, rendering it worthless.

Governor Conner Describes State's Sales Tax Success

(Note: In view of the current agitation for and against retail sales taxes in several states, the Associated Press requested Gov. Sennett Connor of Mississippi to tell of his state's experiences in being the first to adopt that form of levy on an elaborate scale.)

By Sennett Conner
(Governor of Mississippi)
(Copyright, 1935 by the Associated Press)

JACKSON, Miss.—After three years of trial, it must be conceded that the sales tax has been administered successfully in Mississippi, and that it is as popular as any tax can be with the people who pay it.

It does not follow necessarily that every state should resort to this tax or that it would work successfully everywhere. No given tax system will operate with equal results in different governments or under varying economic conditions.

Mississippi, with few large net incomes and no great industries, with 80 per cent of her population rural and with other sources of tax revenue exhausted, resorted to the sales tax in 1932 purely as an emergency measure. Four months were required to pass the measure through the legislature over the most aggressive opposition. A statewide anti-sales tax organization was formed and well financed.

It was freely predicted the sales tax would destroy business, and even that the people would openly revolt against it. The act of 1932 provided that the tax, a two per cent levy, should expire automatically at the end of two years. The legislature in 1934 re-enacted the sales tax without the automatic expiration clause and without serious opposition. The sales tax had not destroyed or driven business from the state. The people had not revolted, but to the contrary they had given that fine cooperation so essential to the efficient and equitable administration of any tax.

It was argued in 1932 that the sales tax could not be collected, the returns from it would be disappointing, and the cost of administering it would be excessive. Collections for the first year exceeded by 16 per cent the estimate suggested by the proponents of the tax, and each additional year of operation has shown an increase over the preceding year. The costs of administering and collecting the tax have mounted to only .05 1-2 cents on each dollar collected.

In only six of the 30 years immediately preceding 1932 did the current revenues of the Mississippi state government equal or exceed its operating expenses, and in 24 of those years operating deficits occurred. On January 1, 1932, more than seven million dollars of state warrants were in default, the general fund of the state treasury was empty, and the bonds of the state could not be sold. The state bonded debt increased 227 per cent from 1928 to 1931. Property was being confiscated by high taxation.

The sales tax was enacted in April of 1932. In each of the years 1932, 1933 and 1934, current revenue receipts exceeded current operating expenses, and each year was closed with a cash surplus in the state general fund. The state property tax has been reduced 60 per cent through a reduction of 37 1-2 per cent in the tax rate and a further reduction in valuations. Homesteads of limited value for the first time in the history of the state have been exempted from all state taxes. This four-year administration, ending next January, will pay off with current revenue funds more bonds than have been paid by the state in a combined period of one hundred years. Our state bonds are selling at a premium.

It must not be assumed that to the sales tax alone is due all credit for this improvement in our state finances. We have established budget control, practiced rigid economy, applied business methods, and installed efficiency. The sales tax is only one essential and material part of the program.

The chief danger of the sales tax is that it may lend itself to waste and extravagance because of the ease with which it is paid. Some of its commending characteristics are that it brings every person into the direct taxpaying class, establishes the widest possible tax base, supplies immediate returns to meet an emergency, does not produce tax sales or allow the citizen's tax burden to accumulate, and makes possible a reduction in high property tax rates, which confiscate property, discourage investments, penalize home owning, prevent development and contribute to unemployment.

Governmental costs in this country must be reduced further. Nowhere should the sales tax be levied simply to provide more money to spend, except where an emergency exists after every possible economy has been established. The sales tax may well be levied to permit a reduction of other taxes that have become confiscatory or unreasonably high.

The sales tax should never be levied in lieu of all other taxes, because as a single tax it does not distribute governmental burdens fairly.

In Mississippi about 15 per cent of the people directly pay property taxes and fewer than one per cent pay income and franchise taxes. Everybody pays a sales tax in small amounts when he is spending money. Many citizens, who are not otherwise taxed, are proud thus to make their contribution, and are more conscious of the responsibilities of citizenship.

Tallulah

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Phillips, whose marriage occurred the early part of this month were delightfully complimented on Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Myles Hopkins who entertained at their home in Johnson addition with a charming tea. Receiving with the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Pinney.

Presiding at the beautifully appointed tea table were Miss Mary Pinney Hopkins and Miss Louise Thompson, who poured tea and coffee. A handsome lace cloth covered the table which was centered with a silver basket vase filled with exquisite jonquils while on either side yellow tapers in silver holders shed a radiant gleam. Assisting in the dining room was Mrs. M. S. McCaffery. Sixty guests, members of the Tallulah high school faculty and school board members with their husbands and wives called during the afternoon to greet the bride and groom and to enjoy the hospitality of the Hopkins home.

The Wednesday night club met at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gilfoil at Omega who entertained with a lovely supper bridge. Winners of the high score awards were Mr. and Mrs. Gilfoil and second high Mrs. A. J. Sevier and Mr. Ralph Taylor. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sevier, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sevier, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Irving, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs W. M. Murphy.

Mrs. J. S. Agee was hostess to a group of friends when she entertained with four tables of bridge complimentary to Mrs. A. H. Becker, of Memphis. Mrs. L. J. Kathan was the recipient of the high scor award, a casserole, Mrs. Becker second, a box of powder and Mrs. B. P. Folk, consolation, a handkerchief. A delectable luncheon was attractively served to Mesdames A. H. Becker, D. C. Johnson, John Lathrum, L. J. Kathan, W. M. Murphy, A. J. Sevier, W. J. Ward, A. G Bray, N. T. Holt, W. D. Buford, B. P. Folk, D. H. Allen, L. M. Spencer, A. L. Sevier, J. N. Harvey and Mrs. J. D. Sevier of Gulfport.

The monthly meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held in the community club building south of town with Mrs. R. T. Campbell presiding. Mrs. Adrian Van Zelfden gave a talk on "National Defense" and Mrs. George Webb on "Americanism." Mrs. Herman Lancaster spoke on the life of George Washington and Mrs. Harry Anderson on Abraham Lincoln, and Mrs. R. K. Boney on Valentine customs. A group of the girl scouts contributed an interesting number on the program by singing four scout songs. An invitation was extended to the unit for a breakfast in Monroe March 3, honoring the national president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Van Zelfden and Mrs. L. X. Naylor served refreshments at the close of the session.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. D. H. Allen was a delightful bridge hostess when she entertained four tables of players. The first prize was won by Mrs. A. H. Becker, consolation, Mrs. B. P. Folk, and low Mrs. John Lathrum. A delicious salad course was enjoyed after the games by Mesdames L. J. Kathan, D. C. Johnson, A. H. Becker of Memphis, B. P. Folk, A. H. Hurd, J. A. Gilbert, John Lathrum, W. M. Murphy, J. S. Agee, A. G. Bray, W. D. Buford, A. L. Sevier, L. M. Spencer, Gus Irving, R. N. Ware and Miss Hazel Kathan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott were hosts to the Thursday night club entertaining on Tuesday evening at their home with a turkey dinner followed by bridge. Guests for the very enjoyable affair were Mr and Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sevier, Miss Rosalyn Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mr. R. C. Gaines, Mrs. Horace Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Todd.

Members of the Tallulah Parent-Teacher association celebrated "Founders Day" with a program and tea at the high school building on Thursday evening which was attended by a large number of parents, teachers and friends of the school. An interesting and impressive program under the direction of Mrs. R. N. Ware and Mrs. A. C. Sparling was well rendered and consisted of a candle lighting ceremony featured by the lighting of the thirty-eight candles on a birthday cake, representing the number of years the organization has functioned. As the candles were lighted Mrs. Ware and Mrs. Sparling told of the founders, phases of the work and of the national and state officers. A reading, "Prodigal Father" by Mrs. George M. Purvis, and piano solo by Georgia Rose Rountree were much appreciated numbers. Mrs. Albert Bunch presided at the short business session.

During the social hour the guests adjourned to the reception rooms of the home economics department where Mrs. Herman Lancaster and Mrs. L. A. Nettles presided at the lace draped tea table, beautiful in its appointments of silver and crystal in which a yellow color scheme predominated. A bowl of golden jonquils formed the centerpiece and yellow tapers in crystal holders added to the charm of the setting. Punch and delicious cake were served.

The Baptist Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. E. P. Eckles with Mrs. Lee Roy Simms as hostess. Mrs. J. V. McCorvey led a very interesting program. A social hour followed the session when the hostess served a delicious salad course. Those present were: Mesdames McCorvey, Edwards, Jordan, Clark, Andrews, Rives, McKelvey, Higginbotham, Lee, Eckles and Davidson.

Among those who motored to Monroe Friday for the district missionary institute at the Methodist church were: Rev. and Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. T. G. Gallagher, Mrs. L. G. Higginbotham and Mrs. D. E. Wilson. They reported a most interesting and inspirational meeting which was featured by addresses by Rev. Guy M. Hicks of Mansfield and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Lewis, missionaries to the Belgian Congo.

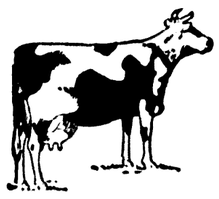

Mrs. Lee Roy Simms was a delightful hostess when she entertained on Wednesday afternoon with three tables of bridge, the guests being members of her club and several other friends. The prizes were won by Mrs. Calloway and Mrs. Dooley. A delicious salad course was served to the guests who were: Mesdames Tucker, Evans, Calloway, Clark, Parcell, Hersh, Givens, Oliver, Dooley and Misses Nigel Ruff and Gertrude Whipple.

GROTTO TO HONOR GRAND MONARCH

Committee Lays Plans To Entertain Miles S. Gregory Here

In honor of Miles S. Gregory, grand monarch of the supreme council, Mystic Order Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, who will visit Monroe Thursday, the entertainment committee of Teflis Grotto has planned visits to Brown Paper mill in West Monroe, the Louisiana Power and Light company's plant at Sterlington and the Arkansas Natural Gas company at Perryville.

Thursday evening, through arrangements made by the local committee, a banquet in honor of the grand monarch will be held in the Cameo room of Hotel Virginia, to be attended by members of Teflis Grotto and their wives.

Following the banquet the women will play bridge in the roof garden at Hotel Virginia, honoring Mrs. Gregory, who will accompany her husband here.

At the same time member of the grotto will assemble in the Crystal ball room for a meeting with the grand monarch. At that time he will deliver a message and offer suggestions to the local grotto for improvement of the mark here.

Mr. Gregory, who left his home in Los Angeles in August and who has been visiting grottos since that time, is now in Florida. From there he will continue his itinerary and will work northward. An itinerary carrying him as far north as Dubuque, Iowa, has already been mapped out.

Since he was 19 years old, Mr. Gregory has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business. He is a former member of the Los Angeles city council and is a life member of the Los Angeles Athletic club. He is a past monarch of the Jinnistan grotto of Los Angeles and a past patron of the Oriental Eastern Star of Los Angeles. He holds affiliations with many Mason organizations in his home city.

Clarks

An event of charming informality that brought a group of congenials together for a delightful afternoon aftnoon on Tuesday, was a surprise party arranged by friends, in commoration of the sixty-second birthday of Mrs. Richard Moss, who is convalescing from an operation at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Beasley. Handkerchiefs in attractive packages, and cut flowers were presented Mrs. Moss by each guest. In the mid-afternoon Mrs. W. E. Megison, a neighbor, arrived with a tray of cake and coffee and served the following present: Mrs. H. O. Cooksey, Mrs. A. L. Brantley, Mrs. W. L. McDermott, Mrs. J. W. McDonald, Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Anderson, Mrs. J. R Logan, Mrs Ralph Skinner, Mrs. W. W. Beasley, Mrs. Richard Moss and Mrs. W. E. Megeson.

The Baptist Women's Missionary union met at the church on Thursday afternoon with 13 members present. Mrs. S. H. Albritton presided over the Royal Service program presented on the subject, "Listing the Banner In Our Land." The meeting opened with a song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," by members. Mrs. P. B. Albritton read the devotional from Hebrew, eleventh chapter, first through the sixth verses. "Christian America and Enemies of the Cross," was the subject of the talk by Mrs. S. H. Allbritton. A prayer was offered by Mrs. Paul Jones. Mrs. T. E. Skirvin discussed, "Stories of the Cross." Mrs. Z. L. Buffington gave "Reserved By Love." A prayer by Mrs. J. W. McDonald, followed. A brief business session was conducted, after which a song "Bringing in the Sheaves," was sung by members. The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. W. B. Perkins.

The union will hold an all day meeting on Thursday, Feb. 28, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Jones. The program feature will be the mission study lesson on "Missions in the Bible." The Rev. Glenn Lee Greene, a young Baptist minister of Clarks, will have charge of the lesson.

Irish Woman's Fingers Set Needlework Record

CASTLE DAWSON, Northern Ireland, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Something in the way of a long-distance needlework record has been set here.

In the past 32 years, nearly 300 miles of thread have been spun under the tireless fingers of Mrs. R. Pickering, who boasts a collection of 2,024 empty spools. Each spool originally held more than 250 yards of thread.

She has kept each spool as she emptied it since 1903. Nearly 60, she does not use spectacles despite the strain of thousands of hours of sewing on intricate patterns.

COMEDY AT CAPITOL

AT LOCAL THEATERS

AT THE PARAMOUNT.—The soldiers of the king, not as Kipling sang of them, but as Francis Yeats-Brown described in his remarkable book "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer"—are the heroes of the stirring, remarkable and colorful picture of warfare and heroism in India which came to the Paramount theater yesterday. Produced by Paramount, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" features Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing in the leading roles.

It is a picture replete with the sounds and sights of the mysterious East, as authentic as the Himalayas themselves and equally thrilling. And, although it has more to offer in the pictorial sense than any recent Hollywood offering, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" is particularly remarkable for its fine, dramatic story of four great soldiers.

The plot of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" revolves about the conflict between Sir Guy Standing—hard-bitten, crusty colonel—and three of his subordinate officers, one of whom is his son.

Their differences come to a head when the son, Richard Cromwell, is carried away by a warring chieftain and Standing refuses to pursue because he cannot endanger his regiment. Disregarding his orders, Cooper and Tone follow in disguise, are captured and thrown into a dungeon with Cromwell. Tortured for information on the whereabouts of a tremendous convoy of ammunition, Cromwell finally breaks down and blurts out the regiment secret.

The chieftain captures the ammunition train and prepares to lead a revolution against the British. The Lancers ride to attack him, although they realize that they will be destroyed, because it is their duty to stem the revolution.

But Cooper, fully aware of the danger, goes the old colonel one better in his stern devotion to duty.

He and Tone plan to blow up the fortress. They draw lots for the job which means sure death to the man who performs it. Tone wins, but Cooper slugs him and, racing through a hail of fire, throws a burning brand into the arsenal. A terrific explosion follows and the Lancers are saved.

Cooper and Tone contribute the outstanding portrayals of courageous and romantic campaigners to "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer."

AT THE CAPITOL.—An exceptionally large and talented cast was selected to play in support of James Cagney in his latest starring vehicle for Warner Brothers, "The St. Louis Kid," which comes to the Capitol theater today.

Jimmy himself is said to have won new laurels in this picture which has been hailed as his most hilarious and most exciting up to date, notwithstanding the fact that he recently played with such success in "Here Comes the Navy," "He Was Her Man," "Jimmy, the Gent," "Lady Killer," and others.

Patricia Ellis has the leading feminine role opposite Jimmy and is the romantic interest in the picture. Although still in her teens she has had a long stage career and recently has made good in such pictures as "Big Hearted Herbert," "The Circus Clown," "Side Streets" and "Convention City."

Allen Jenkins, Hobart Cavanaugh, Spencer Charters, Dorothy Dare and Arthur Aylesworth form an excellent comedy team for the hilarious situations in the picture. All are among Hollywood's most famous comedians. Miss Dare, however, only recently made her bow in picture work in "Happiness Ahead," before that having been a comedienne and musical comedy star on Broadway.

Other well known players include Robert Barrat, Addison Richards, Charles Wilson, William Davidson, Harry Woods, Gertrude Short and Eddie Shubert.

The picture, based on a story by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, combines riotous comedy with melodramatic thrills and a novel romance. Ray Enright directed the production from the screen play by Warren Duff and Seton I. Miller.

MRS. NEWSOM IS NAMED DELEGATE

Will Represent Local Y. W. C. A. Organization At Program Meet

Announcement was made here Saturday of the selection of Mrs. Alyne Newsom as the Monroe delegate on the program planning committee which will meet this fall at Little Rock, Ark., to make arrangements for the 1936 conference of the Youngor Business and Professional Women of the Y. W. C. A. The 1936 conference will be held in Pine Bluff, Ark., some time next spring.

Three delegates from Monroe attended the recent annual week-end conference of this organization recently at El Dorado, when 56 delegates were entertained. Monroe delegates were Mrs. Alice Terry, Mrs. Newsom and Miss Louise Hundley.

The theme of the year, "On the Wing Toward Life's Fulfillment," was well carried out.

Miss Carrie Lou Ritchie of Hot Springs discussed "Better Movies," and Silas W. Rogers, El Dorado attorney, discussed "The Legal Status of Single and Married Women. Talks on "Social Education" by Mrs. Carl I. Miller, Helena, Ark., and on "All Association Participation" by Miss Janie Payne of Helena proved interesting and instructive.

Orchestra Is Organized By Boys At Spearsville

SPEARSVILLE, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—The Spearsville chapter of the Futures Farmers of America organized a 12-piece orchestra here recently and have already gained recognition in the surrounding locality for their ability.

The orchestra is composed of guitars by Brooks Hollis, Wesley Barron, Stanley Hollis, Graydon Smith, Chester Taylor, and Raymond Tilliman; mandolins by Dixon Risinger and Conway West; violins by Vergil Lockwood; piano by Oneal Mason; and harmonicas by Oneal Mason and Dixon Risinger.

The youths have already appeared at local boxing programs and social events.

COMES TO PARAMOUNT TUESDAY

Says Machine-Made Violins Equal Hand-Made Products

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Common and expert opinions notwithstanding, Walton E. Rife, fifth generation of a family of violin makers that antedates Stradivarius, believes a machine made violin the equal of the hand made instruments.

From a cluttered workship in a humble St. Louis neighborhood Rife's products are sent to the music markets of the world. His harps, sold internationally, are used in many of the leading symphonies, one class of his violins goes to mail order houses. Rife is 72 years old.

On machinery built by himself he can turn out 16 finished violins a day. With two helpers he can produce 556 violin tops, as many backs and 753 necks in an eight-hour day.

"I can make 1,000 violins exactly alike. They won't vary one thousandth of an inch. It would be an impossibility to make them that close by hand," he said.

"It takes a day and a half to carve the top of a violin by hand, the same time for the back and five and a half hours for the neck. It takes at least a month to complete and dry the three coats of varnish.

"In my opinion I can make just as good an instrument by machinery as by hand."

Varnish and age, he said, are the two vital factors to a violin's tone. On his finish instruments he uses fused amber varnish, manufacture of which is an art that violin historians have claimed is gone from the world.

"I fused amber when I was 12 years old," he explains. "The process has been known by my family since Stradivarius became a man of reputation. I will give the secret to any chemist who asks for it."

Four generations of Rife's family before him were violin makers, coming from the German Tyrol. The present representative is the second American generation of the family.

When mail was first transported through the air there was no such thing as an air mail plane design. Commercial manufacturers now build ships designed especially for carrying mail.

RARE OPERATION STILL SUCCESS

Patient Gains After Going Under Knife For Heart Disease

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The first human heart to undergo an operation for that deadly affliction, angina pectoris, is beating "satisfactorily" today, ten days after the operation.

The patient, whose identity and age are guarded closely by hospital authorities, is gaining strength. He submitted to the operation at the hands of Dr. Claude S. Beck, member of Lakeside hospital's staff, after physicians told him of the gravity of his ailment.

"The condition of the patient is satisfactory," the hospital supervisor of nurses said today. "The doctors permit me to say that he has evidently gained strength daily since the operation. The gain has been steady and encouraging."

Dr. Beck severed one end of the pectoral muscle on the man's chest and fastened it to the wall of the heart to encourage the flow of blood to that organ. Angina pectoris had reduced the flow to a dangerous point.

Physicians said the patient had suffered a number of heart attacks before the operation and his death was regarded as imminent. Dr. Beck had been experimenting on animals with the delicate operation since 1932.

He said he plans to discuss the surgical technique employed before the American College of Surgeons at Boston in June.

Newt V. Mills Will Speak Monday Night

Newt V. Mills, of Mer Rouge, will be the principal speaker of a meeting of the Monroe chapter of the Jamaica Ginger Paralysis association, to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Ouachita parish courthouse, it was announced yesterday afternoon by chairmen of the meeting.

It was also announced that persons attending the meeting from West Monroe will be allowed to cross the traffic bridge without paying toll.

Business of the meeting will be in connection with the forthcoming national convention of the organization, to be held next Thursday at Jackson, Miss. The convention has as one of its principal objects the furtherance of a bill to be introduced in congress requesting the payment of pensions to victims of the paralysis who are unable to work.

Modern System In City's Schools Develops Pupils

Fundamental Subjects, Considered As Tools, Are Also Taught

The progressive or modern system of instruction, through which the pupil is encouraged to study and think in his own way, was demonstrated this week to a reporter who visited the various rooms in one of the schools of the city system, which has adopted this method of instruction. Commenting upon the method of instruction, the principal of the school said it was a system through which the pupils' attitudes and habits are trained and directed and through which their personalities are developed.

Fundamental subjects, such as reading, writing and arithmetic, were described as tools placed in the hands of the pupils to be used in developing their talents in their own way.

This method of instruction begins with the kindergarten class and continues on through all grades taught in the schools.

In the kindergarten class the pupils are shown tools and how to use them and are given instruction in the care of plants and animals. They also have a library table on which are books suitable for children of this age. These children are given a great deal of freedom and are encouraged to think in their own way. At first they are trained as individuals, but later they are taught to act cooperatively, by being given some project on which all work jointly. Some members of the class, however, it was stated, never learn to act cooperatively and children of this nature grow into men and women who must always act independently, it was said.

The kindergarten in this school is open to all pupils of the proper age south of the Illinois Central railroad and a similar kindergarten on the north side of town is open to all pupils living north of the railroad. Not all of the schools conduct kindergarten classes, for the reason that a considerable proportion of the parents think instruction at this early age is useless and that the child develops just as well by playing at home in his own way.

Each grade in the school studies some special subject aside from the fundamental or "tool" subjects. In addition an effort is made to give pupils in all grades training in coordination of mind and muscles.

Members of the first grade class in this school have shown remarkable talent in making musical instruments, such as violins and banjoes. Although these instruments do not have the perfect tones of those that are machine-made or made by skilled artisans, they look almost like "the real thing." First grade pupils are making a special study of the Japanese.

Indian lore is a distinctive feature of the second grade class. Indian drawings and paintings and drawings of wigwams, thunder birds and Indian prayer sticks are to be seen. Pupils in this class are weaving an Indian rug. These pupils made their own library furniture, including a table, chairs and orange-wood settees.

Third grade pupils are now taking a trip around the world. Seen in the room were a traveling bag and a map of the world, on which the course around is being charted. The lower third grade is making a study of the Dutch and this room has a border showing Dutch scenes, including windmills and people wearing wooden shoes and Dutch costumes.

The fifth grade is studying trees and has made a good collection of specimens.

One of the sixth grade classes is collecting, studying and classifying specimens of rock. Another class is studying butterflies and has a collection of cocoons, some of which will hatch silk worms when the mulberry leaves come out.

All classes of the school united in making panels of mural drawings in the cafeteria. The walls of this room were rather drab and it was decided their appearance could be improved by the drawings. Drawings made by representatives of different classes were similar to the work that is being done in the different rooms. Among drawings that were exceptionally good were Robin Hood and Alice in Wonderland scenes by sixth grade pupils. The fifth grade gave a study of trees. A prehistoric man scene was given by the fourth grade. The third grade did a Viking ship and a fourth grade drawing showed "The First Steamboat." A drawing by pupils of the first grade was also exceptionally good.

The school has purchased a large number of masterpieces and some of these have been copied by the pupils. The auditorium contains a number of copies of the masterpieces. Although the windows of the auditorium are of plain glass, some of them have been covered with imitation stained glass that is so perfect that it can hardly be distinguished from genuine stained glass.

This school has a live Parent-Teacher association and many of the parents are enthusiastic over the method of teaching that has been installed.

SECOND DAY OF INSTITUTE HELD

Play Is Presented Last Night By Methodist Young People

The presentation of a play entitled "Epworth Highroad" and a social hour brought to a close last night activities of the second day of a three-day Christian culture institute being held at the Monroe First Methodist church for young people of the Monroe district.

Activities of the evening began with a weiner roast, sponsored by the Gordon Avenue Methodist church at Mayor Bernstein's country home. Returning to the church, the young people resumed their institute schedule with a worship program in charge of Elizabeth Cudd, of Monroe.

At noon, a fellowship luncheon was held in the church annex. During the morning and afternoon classes of the institute were held.

This morning at 9:20 o'clock a communion service will be held at the church with the following in charge: Rev. R. M. Bentley, pastor of the Gordon Avenue Methodist church; Rev. Martin Hebert, pastor of the West Monroe First Methodist church; Rev. W. C. Scott, pastor of the Monroe First Methodist church; Rev. D. B. Boddie, pastor of the Lake Providence Methodist church; A. K. McLellan, of Alexandria, conference educational director.

At 9:45 a. m., a communion service, in charge of Elizabeth Benton, of Monroe, will be held. The lesson will be taught by R. W. Germany of Monroe.

The institute sermon will be delivered by Rev. V. D. Morris, of Columbia.

At the close of the sermon hour certificates will be awarded to 85 young people who will have earned sufficient credits for the awards. Thirty-three other young people will have earned sufficient credits but will not be awarded certificates because they are under 16 years of age.

Miss Mildred Dennis is dean of the institute, Miss Elizabeth Langford is business manager, and Miss Juanita Funderburk is district director.

Japan plans an air line connecting her mandated islands in the Pacific. This service will carry her about one-third of the way across the ocean.

RESIDENTS SLOW ON MAIL PROJECT

Few Prospective Patrons Of New Service Meet Requirements

Only a few prospective patrons of new city mail delivery routes authorized recently on certain sections of streets in Monroe and West Monroe have met with requirements necessary before the service can be started, J. R. Wooten, postmaster, said Saturday. These requirements must be met before the service can begin.

Persons on these routes must put numbers on their houses, must put up mail boxes or receptacles and must furnish a list of names of persons receiving mail at that address.

"Please write below the names of all persons (including servants, receiving mail at the above address and return this form promptly to the postmaster, who should be informed of all changes of address as they occur. Write names in full, and, in case of married women, write their own given names in full, not their husbands'. Use the prefixes Miss and Mrs. whenever applicable."

Mr. Wooten worked for a number of months to secure approval of the extensions, which have already been outlined and which will prove a great convenience to persons living along the routes. Mail delivery, including parcel post, will be made twice daily. To prevent the possibility of the project's failure to go through, all prospective patrons are asked to comply with the requirements at once.

Fist Fight Ends In Shooting Of Foreman

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—A fist fight following a quarrel led to the fatal shooting of W. D. Bass, 25, lumber company foreman at Fannin in nearby Rankin county late today. C. W. Aldridge, Fannin Merchant, surrendered after the shooting and claimed self defense. He was held on a charge of manslaughter and will be given a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

The shooting occurred a short time after the two men had been separated while engaged in a fist fight. Bass was shot as he entered the back gate leading to his sister's home.

YOUNG SCHOLAR

"Billy," 10 years and seven months old, graduated from Barkdull Faulk school February 1 and is now in the seventh grade at the high school. He has earned a reputation as one of the brightest schoolboys of Monroe, and was chosen as valedictorian of his class at the graduation exercises. His theme, "My Five Years in Grammar School," was a review of his school life, which began February 1, 1930, in the kindergarten at Barkdull Faulk. He has consistently maintained a high scholastic rating throughout his school experience.

Despite his studious proclivities "Billy" is entirely a normal boy. He plays as hard as he studies, and is taking on athletic activities at Neville.

Heavy Water To Be Sought In Depths Of Pacific Ocean

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. — Heavy water will be sought at the bottom of an eight mile "deep" in the Pacific ocean off Siberia next summer by Soviet scientists.

Their announcement means an excursion into fields of science that may completely remake industrial chemistry.

They have two reasons for believing that the heavy stuff will be found at the bottom of this great sink-hole in the ocean, one is that heavy particles of water tend to sink to the bottom.

The other is that they found appreciable quantities of heavy water last summer at the bottom of Lake Baikal, the deepest fresh water lake in the world.

They expect to find the heavy oxygen as part of the heavy water. The only difference between heavy and ordinary water is in weight of the individual atoms making the water. All water, heavy or ordinary, is made of particles containing two atoms of hydrogen for every one atom of oxygen.

If either the hydrogen or the oxygen atoms are abnormally heavy, the resulting water particle will be heavy. The fact is that a small portion of hydrogen is actually heavy and a small amount of oxygen is also heavy.

So when a water particle is made of these extra-weight atoms, it tends to sink like lead.

These heavy particles exist in countless billions. Yet they are rarely compared with ordinary water particles.

Heavy water averages about ten per cent more weight than ordinary, hence if found anywhere it is likely to be at the bottom of a hole as immense as a Pacific ocean deep.

It is not the water the Russians really want but the heavy, bullet-like particles they can extract from it—heavy hydrogen and heavy oxygen, hydrogen atoms weights are 1 and 2-oxygen atoms weights 16, 17 and 18.

Hydrogen 2 and oxygen 17 and 18 are rare. These three the Russians hope to get from the ocean bottom, out of the heavy water there.

No one has ever had enough heavy oxygen to make experiments. Heavy hydrogen they have, with results so stunning that it is reasonable to expect equal wonders from heavy oxygen.

If the Russians get the heavy oxygen it will mean the beginning of the test of a new dream of science—the dream of a new kind of chemistry.

This dream was described by Dr. Harold C. Urey, of Columbia university, discoverer of heavy hydrogen, in his farewell speech the night recently when he sailed for Stockholm to get the $50,000 Nobel prize for his discoveries.

"We shall study," he said, "the effects of mass on matter."

This "mass" is the extra weight of heavy atoms. This weight alone gives them chemical effects that ordinary atoms do not possess.

The fact that this "mass" made a chemical difference was one of the surprising discoveries resulting from Urey's finding heavy hydrogen. The chemical differences are practical. They probably will in time translate into new medicines, new sources of energy and new industrial products.

If heavy oxygen too can now be obtained in quantity, and it shows chemical differences anything like heavy hydrogen, the great push of new chemical discovery will open up.

If the oxygen heavyweights will act differently, so presumably will those of gold, iron and all the other host of heavy atoms recently discovered in scientific laboratories but nowhere yet separated for use in trying new experiments.

Molecules Differ Greatly In Size, New Findings Show

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—If engineers were asked to build skyscrapers as tall as Mount Everest, they would face the problem given to chemists in the last two weeks.

The problem is new evidence that molecules, the structures which chemists build, differ as much in size as the Empire State building and the world's tallest mountain. The proof of this comes both from the X-ray of Dr. George L. Clark of the University of Illinois and from the centrifuge of Dr. Elmer O. Kraemer of the Du Pont company.

The findings of both give the chemists a clearer idea of the task involved in producing artificial rubber and artificial fibers for clothing. They probably will be useful ultimately for solving problems ranging all the way from medicine to permanent waves.

Dr. Clark was able to photograph individual molecules of cellulose, the plant stuff from which cotton, paper, silk and artificial dress goods is made. These molecules were gigantic. They were half again the length of a long red wave length of light. This means well over a twenty-five thousands of an inch. And that Dr. Clark's photographs were made with visibe light. In other words that these molecules have been within plain sight of microscopes for years, but unseen, because scientists did not know what to look for.

The big cellulose molecules were egg-shaped. They merely appeared as oval, whit masses, without details on their surfaces. Not very exciting for man's first clear view of a molecule, after believing it was an object so small as to be forever beyond the reach of the microscope.

But decidedly exciting for those who know the significance of these photographs. The sight of the big objects comes as a verification of a new picture of the structure of the living world and of the uses man can get out of it.

Dr. Clark was not the first to get evidence of the existence of giant molecules. His X-ray studies confirmed other workers and finally enabled him to focus his camera definitely upon them. They went unrecognized for so long partly because of the jelly-like substance, called cytoplasm, which surrounds living cells.

These giant molecules belong to the proteins, substances sometimes called the building stones of the human body. Proteins are more important than that—they are one of three great classes of structural material produced by living things.

Chemists synthesize proteins to manufacture all sorts of industrial products. They do this by tearing down some of nature's products, as when they extract the cellulose of the wood of a tree, and put it back together in a different and more marketable form.

As one result of the Illinois photographs of giant molecules they have a better idea of the raw material nature furnishes and of their problem in either imitating her, or in trying to produce something more useful than even nature's products.

Dr. Kraemer has been getting at the same problem in a different manner, by weighing the giant molecules. His scales, a Svedberg centrifuge, the only one in the United States, showed clearly that many substances have giant molecules.

Dr. Clark concluded from his studies of the cellulose molecules that rubber is also a giant. No one has yet seen a rubber molecule, but Dr. Kraemer's scales showed that rubber molecules are every bit as heavy as the giant cellulose.

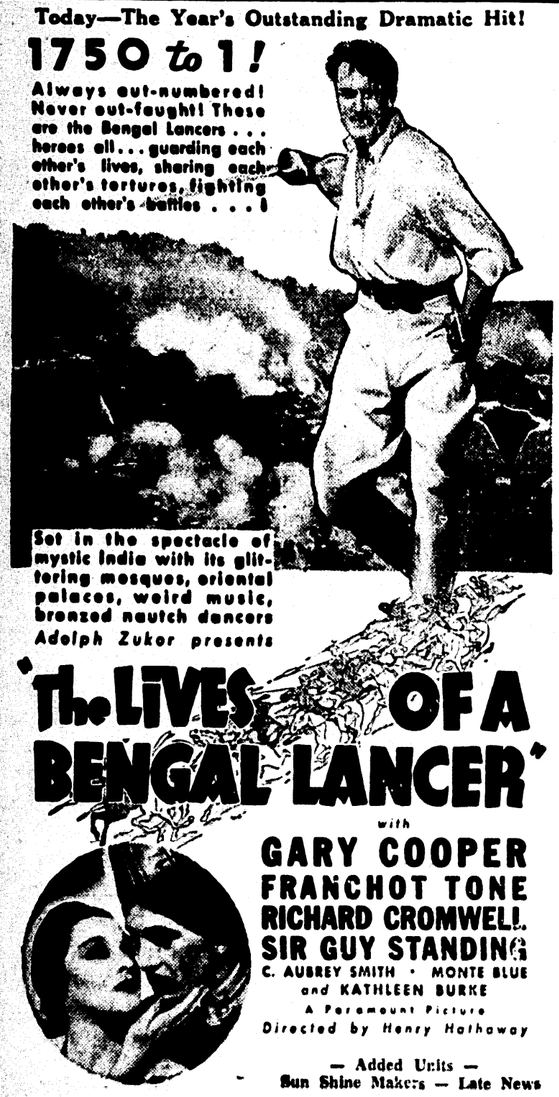

This weight for rubber is 500,000 atomic units. It means that rubber is very nearly the size of the cellulose molecules, and that it must be about equally complex.

As a result chemists now know apparently the size of the field in which they must work in order to produce artificial rubber. They can plan artificial substances to meet conditions in which natural rubber fails.

They know this is possible because it already has been done with artificial rubber. Finding the sizes of the giant rubber molecules shows them that so far they have only scratched the surface of possibilities.

Picked Up Around Town
—By Irene—

HELLO, everybody! . . . I had a most exciting day yesterday. I wish you could have traveled in and out of the stores with me . . . Monroe is just a grand place to shop!

• • •

SATURDAY morning usually calls for many things to be done . . . I simply had to send a suit to the laundry. I quickly called the Monroe Steam Laundry (Phone 103), and before I had time to dress, the service man was there . . . pronto! . . . You know that institution keeps its chin up for quality . . . always so dependable . . . They are GERM FREE CLEANERS. Don't tell me you don't understand what this important Germ-Free business is! . . . Well, I'll explain it . . . Germ-Free cleaning is to clothes what sunshine is to the body! Doctors advise the health benefits derived from the penetrating rays of Old Sol. It vitalizes the body and kills germs. So do doctors agree that Germ-Free Cleaning is an advancement over old methods of cleaning, because the heated controlled air in this process destroys deadly germs found in clothes. Try it next time you have clothes to clean, you'll like it . . . and listen . . . it costs you not a penny more.

• • •

MY! . . . a terrible thing happened to me yesterday when I jumped into my bath . . . I forgot to take my watch off! . . . An expensive watch, too! . . . Ruined, was my first thought. I remembered Ray's Jewelry company had a most dependable reputation for watch repairing, so I lost no time in getting it to them. The skill of those watch makers! . . . Now, my watch runs as if nothing ever happened to it. You know, a bad repair job would have practically ruined it forever and ever . . Listen here! . . . They have those new Cleopatra ear snaps that can also be used for dress clips. Are they the "swank!" . . . The men folks will be pleased to death to hear that this shop now carries a stock of genuine washable calf watch straps for $1.00. A full line of Bulova and Elgin watches, diamonds and silver also. They are located at 213 DeSiard street.

• • •

FROM the way things look around Sally's Shoe Shop, located in the New Grand Leader . . . shoes will be "Air-Conditioned" for spring wear . . . Those funny little cut outs and perforations make them "air-conditioned" and all the trimming is styled to give a streamline silhouette, which is both smart and flattering . . . I was fitted perfectly in a pair at only $2.95, that I know would have cost twice that elsewhere . . . And say, that new manager, Mr. Ben Wilson, have you met him? . . . He is a connoisseur on shoes This store is gaining favor with the feminine shoppers daily and a visit there will prove to you that quality, style and service is their feature in this business.

• • •

YES, girls, it's sad but true . . . The new spring styles accentuate slimness, and believe me, the New Grand Leader has that situation under perfect control! . . . The most talked of garment of today in the corset family is the "Stay-Slim" . . . It meets all figure-control problems . . . actually moulding the figure for a perfect fitting garment. Smart, comfortable and ordinarily you would think it a regular $10.50 garment (it has all the features) but . . . only $1.95 to $4.50. Guaranteed to fit you perfectly too! There are all types. . . corsets, girdles and brassieres. Drop in at The New Grand Leader and see for yourself . . . I would almost bet you'll walk out in one. You know, we used to pay $10.50 for one garment and now . . . we can buy 3 for that price and what a joy to have plenty of corsets, hose and handkerchiefs!

• • •

FUNNY, how I always head for Morgan & Lindsey's store when I come to town . . . but my nickels go so much further there . . . The new spring materials are wonderfully reasonable and novelty buttons, well, most everything it takes to sew a dress. I also replenished my stock of handkerchiefs. Pure linen ones, every shade . . . By the way, I bought a lot of electric gadgets that you are forever needing around the home . . Oh, yes, that wonderful eating fountain there . . . You can get a delicious breakfast, a well balanced meal for only 15c and 20c. Malted milks for 5c and a delicious shrimp cocktail for 15c. Your favorite sandwich at 10c. . . . I also noticed Easter and St. Patrick's party favors are on display.

ARE you forever finding yourself torn between the desire for food . . . and a desire for a shampoo and wave? . . . with just one hour at your disposal? . . . Quite often your appetite wins, to the detriment of your beauty. Try being an efficient woman and make this hurried appointment with the Frances Beauty School (phone 3202). You will find them ready and waiting to whisk you out in jig time . . . but—with one of the best shampoos and finger waves you could ask for . . . Listen, only 25c . . . This is one of Monroe's largest schools . . . Mrs. J. L. Frances, owner, who, by the way, is a most efficient person . . . Listen, girls, a new class is forming now that will finish around June. I understand there is a special price until March 10. This school is located 206 Jackson street.

OH! by the way . . . Here's news worth breaking into print! Think of dining and dancing at Cherokee Terrace on Saturdays at noon from 12 to 2 P. M., with Pete Heslip and his Club Belvedere dance orchestra furnishing their divine music! . . . Only 60 cents! . . . Yes, siree! . . . it's the regular coffee shop lunch. I don't recall ever enjoying anything quite so much as I did this lunch yesterday. The food was delicious, the music grand . . . I was actually sorry that my luncheon time had passed so quickly. You bet your life I will be there every Saturday from now on. Come on, let's D. & D (dine and dance) every Saturday 12 to 2 P. M., at the Frances. Let's get there early for a good table . . . you know you don't make reservations . . . the crowds are immense!

THE willows, honeysuckle and plum trees around my house are in full bud . . . I noticed the lawn is also putting on a new green coat, which all means . . . it won't be long now before you'll have plenty use for garden equipment! . . . I figured now was as good a time as any to attend to that problem, and to kill two birds with one stone, I went to E. R. Kiper Hardware company . . . I found every conceivable item for the yard and garden that I needed, including lawn mowers and garden hose . . . I purchased the entire outfit, and the total price wasn't near so much as I had figured . . . In this big store I found cooking utensils, glassware, china, paints, heaters, cooking stoves . . . bath room fixtures, fishing equipment, etc., in fact . . . there is almost everything you can name . . . including a well trained organization bubbling over with friendliness.

I SAW a smart combination outfit at Bella-Scherck-Davidson's yesterday for $18.85. It will be such a delightfully sound investment! . . . Yes, so interesting too! Listen, here is an explanation of the tricks it will perform . . . "The jacket comes off" . . . and you're ready for lunch or bridge or whatever the afternoon offers. And, with the jacket on . . . you have a perfect street costume. It's one of those adorable soft silk suits that are so important this year! . . . Double dealing charm like this is one of Bella Scherck Davidson's specialties. You'll find many of those Regency, Princess Marina and Lettye Lee Fashions there also . . . Don't overlook those new spring prints at $7.95 up . . . They're as reviving as a spring tonic. Exclusive with Bella Scherck Davidson are Printzess and Rothmoor Coats. Snyder Bros. Knits and Lettye Lee fashions.

PLANNING a special "particular" luncheon or party? Say . . . You can get yourself a reputation as the perfect hostess by visiting The Faulk Bros. Grocery store and going in for appetizers, biscuits, savories and cheeses that are "different." It's sort of an international affair . . . There are delicacies from the four corners of the earth, and all points between! . . . They're always popping up with some new "find." So . . . you'll never run out of ideas and surprises. At this store, you'll find only quality foods . . . and choicest meats . . . in fact the best of everything. Be kind to your stomach, buy it at Faulk's . . . then you know it's good! They'll deliver promptly to your door. Call them for your next order. Phones 896 and 897.

OH! here is a cute joke I heard yesterday. It goes like this: "Shopper: Mr. Smith, how do you account for the fact that I found a piece of rubber tire in one of the sausages I bought here last week? Butcher: My dear madam, that only goes to prove further that the new motor cars are replacing the horse everywhere!" . . . Huh! Huh! didja think that was funny? . . . Well, anyway . . . to my way of thinking, that new 1935 Lafayette has replaced them all! . . . Have you seen it? . . . Have you ridden in it? . . . Do you know anything about it? . . . Oh! dear, it is a car in the low price field that has all the high price features. Drive one, see for yourself how far ahead of time it is in all the finer points of performance. It's a correctly balanced car for power. Benoit-Nash Motor company will gladly demonstrate this automobile marvel of the age at your convenience. Phone 2359.

HAVE you noticed those smart new manikins (with real eye lashes) in Johnnie Smith Elbert's window? She purchased them in Chicago last week . . . One is a beautiful blonde that has lots of Jean Harlow's features . . . But, on the inside, Gee! I mean right up the stairs to the balcony! . . . There is an array of popular priced dresses that this shop hasn't had before . . . One that particularly appealed to me was the triple sheer check acquarmarine trimmed in black taffeta . . . at $13.50. Another was beige and brown trimmed in smart buttons in that new matalasse crepe at only $9.50 . . . The new white linen swagger suits at only $5.50 . . . think of that . . . and Oh! those adorable knits, guaranteed not to stretch or shrink . . . in the shades of grape green, gold, peacock blue, and dawn blue. 2-pc. affairs at a mere $7.50. . . I could rave about this department all day . . . but go down there, by all means, see these new things . . . They are honeys!

REALLY, I am so thrilled with the beautiful Garland Range I purchased from the Monroe Hardware company last week which only cost me $59.00, with my old stove . . . Gee! the things that stove won't do . . . But, just as I expected, my kitchen is calling for a new refrigerator . . . Now then, what could match the quality of a Garland range more than the new 1935 streamline Westinghouse refrigerator? . . . Honestly and no foolin' . . . this Westinghouse is the seventh wonder of the world! For instance . . . the shelves revolve, giving you access from any angle . . . Another thing that appeals to me is that Eject-o-cube ice tray . . . Listen, this is a brand new feature which easily lifts the ice cubes out without any bother. And, say! . . . You can buy it on easy terms and with an unconditional five-year guarantee! Expensive? . . . Why certainly not. There is every size for every family . . . and by the way, there is one added convenience which I did not mention. The Hydrator dairy basket and fruit basket are built in.

HERE'S something! . . . Go to the Electric Maid Bake Shop this week . . . Mr. Gus Primos has a valuable gift for you! When I say valuable, I mean just that. No, I can't tell you what it is, but it's FREE . . . for the asking, even though these gifts did cost Mr. Primos lots of money . . . You know better restaurants are identified by the fact that they do their own baking! In this restaurant they operate their own bakery, where they feature that good "Mrs. Primos Pride Breads." It is good! . . . There are wonderful Danish pastries at 30c per dozen. Fresh glazed doughnuts at 20c dozen. Chocolate eclairs 5c eacn or 6 for 25c. Pecan rolls, 30c per dozen, and such delicious pies . . . Made with fresh yard eggs and meringue with pure fresh egg white, sells for 35c. They take special orders for all sorts of cakes and party needs . . . . All next week they will feature assorted rolls at 10c per dozen. The Electric Maid Shop is located 404 DeSiard street.

LISTEN, Monroe housekeepers! . . . Mr. Lindsey tells me that the February furniture sale at Home Furniture company has far surpassed his expectations and I'll tell you I was not surprised when I shopped in this interesting furniture store . . . Did you get in on that four-room outfit for $290.00? . . . A whole house full of brand new furniture for less than $300.00 . . . bargains like these don't present themselves every day, and if you are in need of new furniture, I would not let this opportunity slip by. Exceptional buys I found there were Colonial solid maple bridge lamps as low as $2.50. There were odd shaped mirrors for every room at $1.35 . . . Coffee tables with tray at $3.25 . . . Here is a knockout buy . . . a new processed bridge table that a burning match or beverages won't hurt. On sale for $1.00 . . . Here is another bargain! Ventilated metal clothes hampers, solid white, $2.50 . . . Metal bath cabinets, $4.50 . . . Metal under sink cabinets for $4.50 . . . Medicine corner cabinets $1.50. Wilson throw rugs, size 27x54 for $5.00. You can buy anything in this store with only a small payment down.

GEE! . . . I just discovered something . . . After taking an accounting of my finances . . . I am running astonishingly low! . . . The Monroe shops are showing so many beautiful wares for the new season that . . . resist them, I could not! . . . So I have neglected some of my obligations that must be attended to before this month is gone . . . What'll I do? . . . The White System! . . . is the answer to this vital problem. Funny when one needs financial assistance, their first thoughts run in the direction of the White System! . . . But you really can't blame one, because they will lend money on endorsement . . . up to $300.00. . . You know, they're located just across the street from the News-Star office.

HEAR ye! boy friends! . . . Does she AD you ever noticed that some- . . . Here is a smart tip. At Hunt & Whitaker's store there is a beautiful diamond ring at only $65. Think of it! . . . You know, it's one of the many unredeemed diamonds that you'll find in this store. The manager was telling me that very soon Hunt & Whitaker will be "Fishermen's Headquarters" for Ouachita parish, as they are expecting one of the largest shipments of fishing equipment ever assembled in any one store in Monroe . . . I know this will be welcome news for those who like fishing. And say, men! . . . have you seen those fashionable streamlined suits with knee-action pants? . . . Honestly, the man has all the freedom and comfort he is looking for in these smart new spring suits that sell from $9.90 to $16.50 . . . Sizes for big, little, styles for old and young. . . . Now then, about those undies . . . They should be Haynes, you know, and at this store they sell for 58c per suit, or 29c per garment. Do you need a watch, girls? . . . I saw lots of them for men and women (unredeemed and new) selling at a fraction of their actual worth, since they were nationally known makes. Really, a visit to this store will prove both beneficial and interesting for the man or woman.

• • •

HAD you ever noticed that sometimes you get tired for no reason at all? . . . Well, before I had walked a block yesterday morning, I was suffering from F. A. (Foot Ache) . . . As quickly as I could I breezed into Bruno Electric Shoe Shop . . . and almost as quickly Mr. Bruno corrected my F. A. (Foot Ache). With a simple little trick of straightening out my run over heels, adjusting the buttons and padding the inside . . . I had lots of shopping to do . . . and I am afraid my feet would have reneged . . . One thing I notice, at this shop is the great number of men who are forever having shoe adjustments and repairs made . . . Which accounts for so few men suffering from F. A. Phone 4155. They will call for and deliver your shoes.

Listen, Monroe housewives, how about accompanying me on my next week's tour

Sincerely,
Irene.

RESIDENTS SLOW ON MAIL PROJECT

Few Prospective Patrons Of New Service Meet Requirements

Only a few prospective patrons of new city mail delivery routes authorized recently on certain sections of streets in Monroe and West Monroe have met with requirements necessary before the service can be started, J. R. Wooten, postmaster, said Saturday. These requirements must be met before the service can begin.

Persons on these routes must put numbers on their houses, must put up mail boxes or receptacles and must furnish a list of names of persons receiving mail at that address.

"Please write below the names of all persons (including servants, receiving mail at the above address and return this form promptly to the postmaster, who should be informed of all changes of address as they occur. Write names in full, and, in case of married women, write their own given names in full, not their husbands'. Use the prefixes Miss and Mrs. whenever applicable."

Mr. Wooten worked for a number of months to secure approval of the extensions, which have already been outlined and which will prove a great convenience to persons living along the routes. Mail delivery, including parcel post, will be made twice daily. To prevent the possibility of the project's failure to go through, all prospective patrons are asked to comply with the requirements at once.

YOUNG SCHOLAR

William Hamilton Armstrong, III, known as "Billy" to his friends, is one of the youngest students at Neville high school.

"Billy," 10 years and seven months old, graduated from Barkdull Faulk school February 1 and is now in the seventh grade at the high school. He has earned a reputation as one of the brightest schoolboys of Monroe, and was chosen as valedictorian of his class at the graduation exercises. His theme, "My Five Years in Grammar School," was a review of his school life, which began February 1, 1930, in the kindergarten at Barkdull Faulk. He has consistently maintained a high scholastic rating throughout his school experience.

Despite his studious proclivities "Billy" is entirely a normal boy. He plays as hard as he studies, and is taking on athletic activities at Neville.

Fist Fight Ends In Shooting Of Foreman

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—A fist fight following a quarrel led to the fatal shooting of W. D. Bass, 25, lumber company foreman at Fannin in nearby Rankin county late today. C. W. Aldridge, Fannin Merchant, surrendered after the shooting and claimed self defense. He was held on a charge of manslaughter and will be given a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

The shooting occurred a short time after the two men had been separated while engaged in a fist fight. Bass was shot as he entered the back gate leading to his sister's home.

Heavy Water To Be Sought In Depths Of Pacific Ocean

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. — Heavy water will be sought at the bottom of an eight mile "deep" in the Pacific ocean off Siberia next summer by Soviet scientists.

Their announcement means an excursion into fields of science that may completely remake industrial chemistry.

For the Russians expect to find also heavy oxygen at the bottom of the Pacific. Not only to find it, but to get it in quantities enough for chemical experiments.

They have two reasons for believing that the heavy stuff will be found at the bottom of this great sink-hole in the ocean, one is that heavy particles of water tend to sink to the bottom.

The other is that they found appreciable quantities of heavy water last summer at the bottom of Lake Baikal, the deepest fresh water lake in the world.

They expect to find the heavy oxygen as part of the heavy water. The only difference between heavy and ordinary water is in weight of the individual atoms making the water. All water, heavy or ordinary, is made of particles containing two atoms of hydrogen for every one atom of oxygen.

If either the hydrogen or the oxygen atoms are abnormally heavy, the resulting water particle will be heavy. The fact is that a small portion of hydrogen is actually heavy and a small amount of oxygen is also heavy.

So when a water particle is made of these extra-weight atoms, it tends to sink like lead.

These heavy particles exist in countless billions. Yet they are rarely compared with ordinary water particles.

Heavy water averages about ten per cent more weight than ordinary, hence if found anywhere it is likely to be at the bottom of a hole as immense as a Pacific ocean deep.

It is not the water the Russians really want but the heavy, bullet-like particles they can extract from it—heavy hydrogen and heavy oxygen, hydrogen atoms weights are 1 and 2-oxygen atoms weights 16, 17 and 18.

Hydrogen 2 and oxygen 17 and 18 are rare. These three the Russians hope to get from the ocean bottom, out of the heavy water there.

No one has ever had enough heavy oxygen to make experiments. Heavy hydrogen they have, with results so stunning that it is reasonable to expect equal wonders from heavy oxygen.

If the Russians get the heavy oxygen it will mean the beginning of the test of a new dream of science—the dream of a new kind of chemistry.

This dream was described by Dr. Harold C. Urey, of Columbia university, discoverer of heavy hydrogen, in his farewell speech the night recently when he sailed for Stockholm to get the $50,000 Nobel prize for his discoveries.

"We shall study," he said, "the effects of mass on matter."

This "mass" is the extra weight of heavy atoms. This weight alone gives them chemical effects that ordinary atoms do not possess.

The fact that this "mass" made a chemical difference was one of the surprising discoveries resulting from Urey's finding heavy hydrogen. The chemical differences are practical. They probably will in time translate into new medicines, new sources of energy and new industrial products.

If heavy oxygen too can now be obtained in quantity, and it shows chemical differences anything like heavy hydrogen, the great push of new chemical discovery will open up.

If the oxygen heavyweights will act differently, so presumably will those of gold, iron and all the other host of heavy atoms recently discovered in scientific laboratories but nowhere yet separated for use in trying new experiments.

Molecules Differ Greatly In Size, New Findings Show

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—If engineers were asked to build skyscrapers as tall as Mount Everest, they would face the problem given to chemists in the last two weeks.

The problem is new evidence that molecules, the structures which chemists build, differ as much in size as the Empire State building and the world's tallest mountain. The proof of this comes both from the X-ray of Dr. George L. Clark of the University of Illinois and from the centrifuge of Dr. Elmer O. Kraemer of the Du Pont company.

The findings of both give the chemists a clearer idea of the task involved in producing artificial rubber and artificial fibers for clothing. They probably will be useful ultimately for solving problems ranging all the way from medicine to permanent waves.

Dr. Clark was able to photograph individual molecules of cellulose, the plant stuff from which cotton, paper, silk and artificial dress goods is made. These molecules were gigantic. They were half again the length of a long red wave length of light.

This means well over a twenty-five thousands of an inch. And that Dr. Clark's photographs were made with visibe light. In other words that these molecules have been within plain sight of microscopes for years, but unseen, because scientists did not know what to look for.

The big cellulose molecules were egg-shaped. They merely appeared as oval, whit masses, without details on their surfaces. Not very exciting for man's first clear view of a molecule, after believing it was an object so small as to be forever beyond the reach of the microscope.

But decidedly exciting for those who know the significance of these photographs. The sight of the big objects comes as a verification of a new picture of the structure of the living world and of the uses man can get out of it.

Dr. Clark was not the first to get evidence of the existence of giant molecules. His X-ray studies confirmed other workers and finally enabled him to focus his camera definitely upon them. They went unrecognized for so long partly because of the jelly-like substance, called cytoplasm, which surrounds living cells.

These giant molecules belong to the proteins, substances sometimes called the building stones of the human body. Proteins are more important than that—they are one of three great classes of structural material produced by living things.

Chemists synthesize proteins to manufacture all sorts of industrial products. They do this by tearing down some of nature's products, as when they extract the cellulose of the wood of a tree, and put it back together in a different and more marketable form.

As one result of the Illinois photographs of giant molecules they have a better idea of the raw material nature furnishes and of their problem in either imitating her, or in trying to produce something more useful than even nature's products.

Dr. Kraemer has been getting at the same problem in a different manner, by weighing the giant molecules. His scales, a Svedberg centrifuge, the only one in the United States, showed clearly that many substances have giant molecules.

Dr. Clark concluded from his studies of the cellulose molecules that rubber is also a giant. No one has yet seen a rubber molecule, but Dr. Kraemer's scales showed that rubber molecules are every bit as heavy as the giant cellulose.

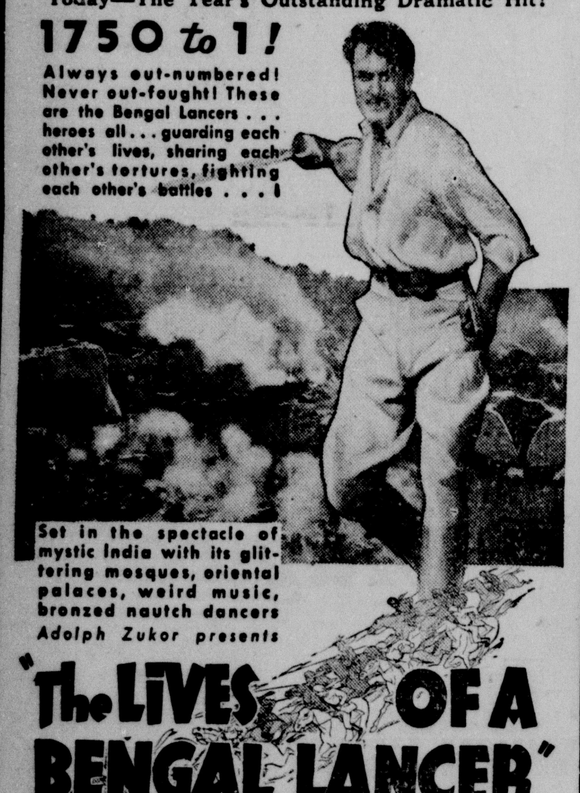

This weight for rubber is 500,000 atomic units. It means that rubber is very nearly the size of the cellulose molecules, and that it must be about equally complex.

As a result chemists now know apparently the size of the field in which they must work in order to produce artificial rubber. They can plan artificial substances to meet conditions in which natural rubber fails.

They know this is possible because it already has been done with artificial rubber. Finding the sizes of the giant rubber molecules shows them that so far they have only scratched the surface of possibilities.

Picked Up Around Town
—By Irene—

HELLO, everybody! . . . I had a most exciting day yesterday. I wish you could have traveled in and out of the stores with me . . . Monroe is just a grand place to shop!

• • •

SATURDAY morning usually calls for many things to be done . . . I simply had to send a suit to the laundry. I quickly called the Monroe Steam Laundry (Phone 103), and before I had time to dress, the service man was there . . . pronto! . . . You know that institution keeps its chin up for quality . . . always so dependable . . . They are GERM FREE CLEANERS. Don't tell me you don't understand what this important Germ-Free business is! . . . Well, I'll explain it . . . Germ-Free cleaning is to clothes what sunshine is to the body! Doctors advise the health benefits derived from the penetrating rays of Old Sol. It vitalizes the body and kills germs. So do doctors agree that Germ-Free Cleaning is an advancement over old methods of cleaning, because the heated controlled air in this process destroys deadly germs found in clothes. Try it next time you have clothes to clean, you'll like it . . . and listen . . . it costs you not a penny more.

• • •

MY! . . . a terrible thing happened to me yesterday when I jumped into my bath . . . I forgot to take my watch off! . . . An expensive watch, too! . . . Ruined, was my first thought. I remembered Ray's Jewelry company had a most dependable reputation for watch repairing, so I lost no time in getting it to them. The skill of those watch makers! . . . Now, my watch runs as if nothing ever happened to it. You know, a bad repair job would have practically ruined it forever and ever . . Listen here! . . . They have those new Cleopatra ear snaps that can also be used for dress clips. Are they the "swank!" . . . The men folks will be pleased to death to hear that this shop now carries a stock of genuine washable calf watch straps for $1.00. A full line of Bulova and Elgin watches, diamonds and silver also. They are located at 213 DeSiard street.

• • •

FROM the way things look around Sally's Shoe Shop, located in the New Grand Leader . . . shoes will be "Air-Conditioned" for spring wear . . . Those funny little cut outs and perforations make them "air-conditioned" and all the trimming is styled to give a streamline silhouette, which is both smart and flattering . . . I was fitted perfectly in a pair at only $2.95, that I know would have cost twice that elsewhere . . . And say, that new manager, Mr. Ben Wilson, have you met him? . . . He is a connoisseur on shoes. This store is gaining favor with the feminine shoppers daily and a visit there will prove to you that quality, style and service is their feature in this business.

• • •

YES, girls, it's sad but true . . . The new spring styles accentuate slimness, and believe me, the New Grand Leader has that situation under perfect control! . . . The most talked of garment of today in the corset family is the "Stay-Slim" . . . It meets all figure-control problems, . . actually moulding the figure for a perfect fitting garment. Smart, comfortable and ordinarily you would think it a regular $10.50 garment (it has all the features) but . . . only $1.95 to $4.50. Guaranteed to fit you perfectly too! There are all types. . . corsets, girdles and brassieres. Drop in at The New Grand Leader and see for yourself . . . I would almost bet you'll walk out in one. You know, we used to pay $10.50 for one garment and now . . . we can buy 3 for that price and what a joy to have plenty of corsets, hose and handkerchiefs!

• • •

FUNNY, how I always head for Morgan & Lindsey's store when I come to town . . . but my nickels go so much further there . . . The new spring materials are wonderfully reasonable and novelty buttons, well, most everything it takes to sew a dress. I also replenished my stock of handkerchiefs. Pure linen ones, every shade . . . By the way, I bought a lot of electric gadgets that you are forever needing around the home . . Oh, yes, that wonderful eating fountain there . . . You can get a delicious breakfast, a well balanced meal for only 15c and 20c. Malted milks for 5c and a delicious shrimp cocktail for 15c. Your favorite sandwich at 10c, . . . I also noticed Easter and St. Patrick's party favors are on display.

ARE you forever finding yourself torn between the desire for food . . . and a desire for a shampoo and wave? . . . with just one hour at your disposal? . . . Quite often your appetite wins, to the detriment of your beauty. Try being an efficient woman and make this hurried appointment with the Frances Beauty School (phone 3202). You will find them ready and waiting to whisk you out in jig time . . . but—with one of the best shampoos and finger waves you could ask for . . . Listen, only 25c . . . This is one of Monroe's largest schools . . . Mrs. J. L. Frances, owner, who, by the way, is a most efficient person . . . Listen, girls, a new class is forming now that will finish around June. I understand there is a special price until March 10. This school is located 206 Jackson street.

OH! by the way . . . Here's news worth breaking into print! Think of dining and dancing at Cherokee Terrace on Saturdays at noon from 12 to 2 P. M., with Pete Heslip and his Club Belvedere dance orchestra furnishing their divine music! . . . Only 60 cents! . . . Yes, siree! . . . it's the regular coffee shop lunch. I don't recall ever enjoying anything quite so much as I did this lunch yesterday. The food was delicious, the music grand . . . I was actually sorry that my luncheon time had passed so quickly. You bet your life I will be there every Saturday from now on. Come on, let's D. & D (dine and dance) every Saturday 12 to 2 P. M., at the Frances. Let's get there early for a good table . . . you know you don't make reservations . . . the crowds are immense!

• • •

THE willows, honeysuckle and plum trees around my house are in full bud . . . I noticed the lawn is also putting on a new green coat, which all means . . . it won't be long now before you'll have plenty use for garden equipment! . . . I figured now was as good a time as any to attend to that problem, and to kill two birds with one stone, I went to E. R. Kiper Hardware company . . . I found every conceivable item for the yard and garden that I needed, including lawn mowers and garden hose . . . I purchased the entire outfit, and the total price wasn't near so much as I had figured . . . In this big store I found cooking utensils, glassware, china, paints, heaters, cooking stoves . . . bath room fixtures, fishing equipment, etc., in fact . . . there is almost everything you can name . . . including a well trained organization bubbling over with friendliness.

I SAW a smart combination outfit at Bella-Scherck-Davidson's yesterday for $18.85. It will be such a delightfully sound investment! . . . Yes, so interesting too! Listen, here is an explanation of the tricks it will perform . . . "The jacket comes off" . . . and you're ready for lunch or bridge or whatever the afternoon offers. And, with the jacket on . . . you have a perfect street costume. It's one of those adorable soft silk suits that are so important this year! . . . Double dealing charm like this is one of Bella Scherck Davidson's specialties. You'll find many of those Regency, Princess Marina and Lettye Lee Fashions there also . . . Don't overlook those new spring prints at $7.95 up . . . They're as reviving as a spring tonic. Exclusive with Bella Scherck Davidson are Printzess and Rothmoor Coats. Snyder Bros. Knits and Lettye Lee fashions.

PLANNING a special "particular" luncheon or party? Say . . . You can get yourself a reputation as the perfect hostess by visiting The Faulk Bros. Grocery store and going in for appetizers, biscuits, savories and cheeses that are "different." It's sort of an international affair . . . There are delicacies from the four corners of the earth, and all points between! . . . They're always popping up with some new "find." So . . . you'll never run out of ideas and surprises. At this store, you'll find only quality foods . . . and choicest meats . . . in fact the best of everything. Be kind to your stomach, buy it at Faulk's . . . then you know it's good! They'll deliver promptly to your door. Call them for your next order. Phones 896 and 897.

OH! here is a cute joke I heard yesterday. It goes like this: "Shopper: Mr. Smith, how do you account for the fact that I found a piece of rubber tire in one of the sausages I bought here last week? Butcher: My dear madam, that only goes to prove further that the new motor cars are replacing the horse everywhere!" . . . Huh! Huh! didja think that was funny? . . . Well, anyway . . . to my way of thinking, that new 1935 Lafayette has replaced them all! . . . Have you seen it? . . . Have you ridden in it? . . . Do you know anything about it? . . . Oh! dear, it is a car in the low price field that has all the high price features. Drive one, see for yourself how far ahead of time it is in all the finer points of performance. It's a correctly balanced car for power. Benoit-Nash Motor company will gladly demonstrate this automobile marvel of the age at your convenience. Phone 2359.

HAVE you noticed those smart new manikins (with real eye lashes) in Johnnie Smith Elbert's window? She purchased them in Chicago last week . . . One is a beautiful blonde that has lots of Jean Harlow's features . . . But, on the inside, Gee! I mean right up the stairs to the balcony! . . . There is an array of popular priced dresses that this shop hasn't had before . . . One that particularly appealed to me was the triple sheer check acquarmarine trimmed in black taffeta . . . at $13.50. Another was beige and brown trimmed in smart buttons in that new matalasse crepe at only $9.50 . . . The new white linen swagger suits at only $5.50 . . . think of that . . . and Oh! those adorable knits, guaranteed not to stretch or shrink . . . in the shades of grape green, gold, peacock blue, and dawn blue. 2-pc. affairs at a mere $7.50. . . I could rave about this department all day . . . but go down there, by all means, see these new things . . . They are honeys!

REALLY, I am so thrilled with the beautiful Garland Range I purchased from the Monroe Hardware company last week which only cost me $59.00, with my old stove . . . Gee! the things that stove won't do . . . But, just as I expected, my kitchen is calling for a new refrigerator . . . Now then, what could match the quality of a Garland range more than the new 1935 streamline Westinghouse refrigerator? . . . Honestly and no foolin' . . . this Westinghouse is the seventh wonder of the world! For instance . . . the shelves revolve, giving you access from any angle . . . Another thing that appeals to me is that Eject-o-cube ice tray . . . Listen, this is a brand new feature which easily lifts the ice cubes out without any bother. And, say! . . . You can buy it on easy terms and with an unconditional five-year guarantee! Expensive? . . . Why certainly not. There is every size for every family . . . and by the way, there is one added convenience which I did not mention. The Hydrator dairy basket and fruit basket are built in.

HERE'S something! . . . Go to the Electric Maid Bake Shop this week . . . Mr. Gus Primos has a valuable gift for you! When I say valuable, I mean just that. No, I can't tell you what it is, but it's FREE . . . for the asking, even though these gifts did cost Mr. Primos lots of money . . . . . You know better restaurants are identified by the fact that they do their own baking! In this restaurant they operate their own bakery, where they feature that good "Mrs. Primos Pride Breads." It is good! . . . There are wonderful Danish pastries at 30c per dozen. Fresh glazed doughnuts at 20c dozen. Chocolate eclairs 5c eacn or 6 for 25c. Pecan rolls, 30c per dozen, and such delicious pies . . . Made with fresh yard eggs and meringue with pure fresh egg white, sells for 35c. They take special orders for all sorts of cakes and party needs . . . . All next week they will feature assorted rolls at 10c per dozen. The Electric Maid Shop is located 404 DeSiard street.

LISTEN, Monroe housekeepers! . . . Mr. Lindsey tells me that the February furniture sale at Home Furniture company has far surpassed his expectations and I'll tell you I was not surprised when I shopped in this interesting furniture store . . . Did you get in on that four-room outfit for $290.00? . . . A whole house full of brand new furniture for less than $300.00 . . . bargains like these don't present themselves every day, and if you are in need of new furniture, I would not let this opportunity slip by. Exceptional buys I found there were Colonial solid maple bridge lamps as low as $2.50. There were odd shaped mirrors for every room at $1.35 . . . Coffee tables with tray at $3.25 . . . Here is a knockout buy . . . a new processed bridge table that a burning match or beverages won't hurt. On sale for $1.00 . . . Here is another bargain! Ventilated metal clothes hampers, solid white, $2.50 . . . Metal bath cabinets, $4.50 . . . Metal under sink cabinets for $4.50 . . . Medicine corner cabinets $1.50. Wilson throw rugs, size 27x54 for $5.00. You can buy anything in this store with only a small payment down.

GEE! . . . I just discovered something . . . After taking an accounting of my finances . . . I am running astonishingly low! . . . The Monroe shops are showing so many beautiful wares for the new season that . . . resist them, I could not! . . . So I have neglected some of my obligations that must be attended to before this month is gone . . . What'll I do? . . . The White System! . . . is the answer to this vital problem. Funny when one needs financial assistance, their first thoughts run in the direction of the White System! . . . But you really can't blame one, because they will lend money on endorsement . . . up to $300.00. . . You know, they're located just across the street from the News-Star office.

• • •

HEAR ye! boy friends! . . . Does she AD you ever noticed that some- . . . Here is a smart tip. At Hunt & Whitaker's store there is a beautiful diamond ring at only $65. Think of it! . . . You know, it's one of the many unredeemed diamonds that you'll find in this store. The manager was telling me that very soon Hunt & Whitaker will be "Fishermen's Headquarters" for Ouachita parish, as they are expecting one of the largest shipments of fishing equipment ever assembled in any one store in Monroe . . . I know this will be welcome news for those who like fishing. And say, men! . . . have you seen those fashionable streamlined suits with knee-action pants? . . . Honestly, the man has all the freedom and comfort he is looking for in these smart new spring suits that sell from $9.90 to $16.50 . . . Sizes for big, little, styles for old and young. . . . Now then, about those undies . . . They should be Haynes, you know, and at this store they sell for 58c per suit, or 29c per garment. Do you need a watch, girls? . . . I saw lots of them for men and women (unredeemed and new) selling at a fraction of their actual worth, since they were nationally known makes. Really, a visit to this store will prove both beneficial and interesting for the man or woman.

• • •

HAD you ever noticed that sometimes you get tired for no reason at all? . . . Well, before I had walked a block yesterday morning, I was suffering from F. A. (Foot Ache) . . . As quickly as I could I breezed into Bruno Electric Shoe Shop . . . and almost as quickly Mr. Bruno corrected my F. A. (Foot Ache). With a simple little trick of straightening out my run over heels, adjusting the buttons and padding the inside . . . I had lots of shopping to do . . . and I am afraid my feet would have reneged . . . One thing I notice, at this shop is the great number of men who are forever having shoe adjustments and repairs made . . . Which accounts for so few men suffering from F. A. Phone 4155. They will call for and deliver your shoes.

Listen, Monroe housewives, how about accompanying me on my next week's tour.

Sincerely,
Irene.

SOCIETY

BY EVE BRADFORD

GOOD MORNING! The passing of the shortest month on the calendar reminds us that now is the high-tide of the year . . . Joy comes, grief goes, and 'tis easy now for the heart to be true as for grass to be green and skies to be blue . . . wherever we look we hear life murmur and see it glisten . . . Nature has most certainly reserved a mild and healing sympathy for those who list to her teachings and hold communion with her visible forms . . . Restless souls grow nomadic when spring days come and fortunate indeed are those mortals who can satisfy their longings . . . Louise Kellogg and Violet Meyer must have been born under a lucky star as their nomadic tendencies will find an outlet next Saturday when they put out to sea, and seek exotic thrills in radiant Havana and view the starry firmament from the deck of a steamer sailing down the glamorous Caribbean . . . some people get all the breaks, but just the same we are glad that the gods have selected Louise and Violet for their choicest gifts . . . they are both decorative and will brighten life on ship board. . . . This past week to our knowledge did not boast a single high social moment . . . the children, however, helped to banish complete boredom with an occasional birthday party . . . then of course we had George Washington's birthday to think about and that reminded us that we have been lighting candles on birthday cakes for 145 years . . . it is from the baby's first birthday cake with momentous pink candles to great grandmother's with eighty flickering tapers this token of the year is firmly established in American family life. . . . We expected to see people hanging from the chandeliers on the Terrace at the Frances hotel Saturday so great is the interest manifested in the inauguration of this new feature. . . . We were glad that there was ample room, however, as a crush always slows up the service . . . so many, many strangers bearing the earmarks of Saturday shoppers were in evidence . . . they were enjoying luncheon to the accompaniment of some mighty good music. . . . Saw Melba Liner dancing around, the spirit of springtime in a flower sprinkled print model. . . . Virginia Hammond of Memphis was also having a good time in a dotted print with wide leather belt of bright red . . . Ruth Barrett of New York City brought a whiff of Fifth avenue . . . she is a most delectable blonde and was wearing one of the smartest black straw sailors we have seen in many a day . . . we hope she pardoned our close scrutiny, but we were simply fascinated with her finger nails bronzed from cuticle to nail tip. . . . An invitation to come to Natchez, where the old south lives, is a pleasant reminder of a happy day in store for us next month when time literally turns backward and the days of the old south are recreated . . . we will walk again down the box bordered paths fringed with fragrant magnolia, fuscata, sweet olive, giant moss covered oaks and treelike camellia japonicas. . . . Again we ask why Monroe has done nothing to attract visitors each year. . . . Washington has its Japanese cherry blooming season, Mobile its Azalea Trail, the Shenandoah valley the fruit blooming season, New Orleans its Mardi Gras, Michigan its apple festival, Los Angeles its rose festival, so why not Monroe its dogwood and red bud blooming time? . . . the red bud with its rose pink color mingling with white dogwood is simply divine . . . then, too, we have the most beautiful magnolia trees in all the world but not great enough in number to attract visitors . . . On realms of music we have the Musical Coterie concert to look forward to Tuesday night at the college auditorium . . . Frances Leavell singing a group of Chinese songs will be a distinct drawing card. . . . Visitors in New Orleans came home with news of Gertrude Stein, who lectured there last week . . . they say she was slightly repetitious . . . anyone who has a mission to smash long paragraphs to smithereens has our hearty endorsement. . . . Was glad to see Ellen Kent Millsaps swinging down the aisle at the Little Theater play Thursday night . . . and glad her injured ankle will not prevent her from glorifying India Stubbs' bridal party in April. . . . Marion Learned must have glowed inwardly when she heard that hand clapping when the curtain parted on the stage setting for "Whistling in the Dark" . . . it was a distinct tribute to her artistry. . . . Blanche Oliver, backstage, fretting and fuming as all directors do before the curtain rises, wended her homeward way with another star in her already much bejeweled crown . . . No effort is too great when crowned with success. . . . We never quite appreciated the homely phrase "the best things come in small packages" until we saw petite Mary Bonita Allen treading the boards of the stage in her initial appearance in Little Theater circles . . . she was most certainly everything to be desired. . . . The Alden Shotwells were seen hurrying down the river bank to their house boat last week laden with baskets that smacked strongly of a beach supper somewhere up the river in the shining moonlight. . . . Time turned backward in its flight last night when a hay ride along the country lanes at Sterlington claimed that gallant company of young men, members of Delta Sigma fraternity and their "dates" . . . By the way of comparison we have C. E. Woolman's flight to Detroit, Mich., to reckon with . . . leaving Selman field at eight a.m., he dropped down on the Michigan field at exactly two p.m. . . . taking advantage of the early hour he immediately hopped into another plane and visited friends in Cleveland, Ohio, arriving back in Detroit to make a trip through the Stinson factory. . . . He was back in Monroe the next day having annihilated time in regular 1935 fashion.

Mrs. Mylin Tobin, lovely bride of last week, who is affectionately remembered as Miss Elizabeth Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clarke. (Center). Home portrait by Nina Webb.

Mrs. W. C. Scott, one of Monroe's most beloved characters, and a great favorite in social and church circles. Mrs. Scott is a constant inspiration to the Methodist church congregation, of which Rev. Scott is pastor. (Lower center). Home portrait by Nina Webb.

Luncheon At Club House

Luncheon was enjoyed by members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical society at the Business and Professional Women's club house, with the birthday anniversary of George Washington the inspiration for a colorful patriotic theme.

Mrs. J. Q. Graves presided with characteristic grace and Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell proved a most delightful hostess.

A distinct feature of this meeting was Mrs. Clifford Johnson's article, "Friendly Fever." Plans for the future were discussed at this time, with the election of officers for the ensuing year climaxing the program. They are: President, Mrs. J. Q. Graves; first vice president, Mrs. C. P. Gray; second vice president, Mrs. W. L. Bendel; recording secretary, Mrs. Shlenker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. I. Wolff; publicity, Mrs. D. T. Milam; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale; historian, Mrs. H. C. Hill; parliamentarian, Mrs. P. L. Perot.

The delicious luncheon was served to: Mrs. C. P. Gray, Mrs. C. H Hill, Mrs C. U. Johnson, Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. John Procher, Mrs. L. L. Shlenker, Mrs. John Snellings, Mrs. J. B. Vaughan, Mrs. W. L. Bendel, Mrs. Sam Bendel, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. A. E. Fisher, Mrs. I. J. Wolff, Mrs. Hinson Coon, Mrs. D. T. Milam.

Will Enjoy Sea Cruise

Mrs. Robert L. Kellogg and Miss Violet Meyer will leave next Friday for New Orleans and will sail on Saturday for a Caribbean sea cruise visiting Havana and Panama and many other points of interest en route.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Swayze announce the marriage of their daughter, Mable Desha, to Mr. Paul Swift in this city on the tenth of November, 1934.

Mrs. C. A. Braun of Sedalia, Mo., is enjoying a visit in the home of her son, Mr. C. A. Braun and Mrs. Braun.

Interest Centered In Plan To Create Bird Sanctuary In Section Of Bernstein Park

Skimming the surface never brings to light the real gold hidden from the sight of those who never get down to bed rock. Most of us live and move in such a narrow groove that we are quite unaware of the hopes, ambitions, desires and activities of the men and women of this city we meet casually and, like ships that pass in the night, merely salute each other in passing.

Just pricking the surface of things, here in Monroe, often uncovers a rich yield. For instance we just discovered that Mr. R. D. Swayze, commissioner of parks and streets, stepped aside from the prosaic, every-day existance and is working on a plan to preserve bird life in this city by transforming several acres of low marsh land at Bernstein park into a bird sanctuary.

This wooded section of the park with its deep lagoon and dense shade is a veritable paradise for birds of every variety. Mr. Swayze on a recent tour of inspection of the park watched his feathered friends flitting from tree to tree in this quiet haven and resolved then and there to make every effort to protect the birds and to make life happier, freer and lovelier for them.

Realizing that two heads are better than one he immediately got in touch with friends whose study of bird life is a hobby with them—Mr. and Mrs George Lowery and Mrs. Elmer Richards. With the aid of these well-known bird lovers, Mr. Swayze dreams of making the bird sanctuary in Bernstein park a shady rendezvous where those who live close to nature can ramble, listen to the warbling of the birds and watch their peculiar habits of life.

We all know that the beautiful melody of the birds brightens the heart and makes life happier for us all. Dull indeed is the mind and finer sensibilities of the person who can consider the birds without appreciating them or who will wantonly destroy these heavenly warblers that God has placed here as companions for us to lead our thoughts to the Creator. Birds ascend with so little apparent effort from the sordid affairs of earth to revel in the freedom of the blue above.

Mr. Swayze tells us that he has on many occasions noticed grown men and women shoot down our songsters and set traps for our wild life. With a sanctuary close at hand every bird that wings its way in the blue above will find a haven where it will be protected through the year. Unable to restrain their joy they will repay their benefactors with wild bursts of song.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery are familiar with every bird that flies. They know their habits, from whence they come and where they go. They know the time of nesting and of mating. All their rambles in the quiet out-of-the-way places near Monroe have been rendered more pleasant by the songs of the birds and finding their nests in unexpected places. They have examined the workmanship and know how skilfully these master

Prominent Nuptial Event Claims Interest Of Society In This Section Of State

A romance dating from grammar school and continuing through high school, college and following graduation, culminated in the marriage of Miss Margaret Rainwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hudson Rainwater of Ruston, La., and Mr. Robert Lane Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Fuller of Dubach, Saturday at the elegant new home of the bride's parents on North Vienna street, at five-thirty o'clock in the evening.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Eloise Fuller, sister of the groom, who wore blue chiffon with pleated organdie ruffles and a corsage of yellow roses, lighted the candles. Mrs. S. L. White played "Traumerie" and Miss Helen Sullivan sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." "I Love You Truly" was rendered by Kendall Hearne, class mate of the bride. The bridal party entered the spacious and beautifully decorated reception room to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." During the ceremony Mrs. White played "To A Wild Rose."

The bride, wearing an exquisite afternoon model of Madelon blue triple sheer and carrying a handsome arm bouquet of pink bride's roses and valley lilies, was given in marriage by her father. A rose pointe lace handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day added a sentimental touch.

Dr. W. S. Lacy of Batesville, Ark., officiated and employed in the ceremony the same words spoken by him when he officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents.

BY EVE BRADFORD

GOOD MORNING! The passing of the shortest month on the calendar reminds us that now is the high-tide of the year . . . Joy comes, grief goes, and 'tis easy now for the heart to be true as for grass to be green and skies to be blue . . . wherever we look we hear life murmur and see it glisten . . . Nature has most certainly reserved a mild and healing sympathy for those who list to her teachings and hold communion with her visible forms . . . Restless souls grow nomadic when spring days come and fortunate indeed are those mortals who can satisfy their longings . . . Louise Kellogg and Violet Meyer must have been born under a lucky star as their nomadic tendencies will find an outlet next Saturday when they put out to sea, and seek exotic thrills in radiant Havana and view the starry firmament from the deck of a steamer sailing down the glamorous Caribbean . . . some people get all the breaks, but just the same we are glad that the gods have selected Louise and Violet for their choicest gifts . . . they are both decorative and will brighten life on ship board. . . . This past week to our knowledge did not boast a single high social moment . . . the children, however, helped to banish complete boredom with an occasional birthday party . . . then of course we had George Washington's birthday to think about and that reminded us that we have been lighting candles on birthday cakes for 145 years . . . it is from the baby's first birthday cake with momentous pink candles to great grandmother's with eighty flickering tapers this token of the year is firmly established in American family life. . . . We expected to see people hanging from the chandeliers on the Terrace at the Frances hotel Saturday so great is the interest manifested in the inauguration of this new feature. . . . We were glad that there was ample room, however, as a crush always slows up the service . . . so many, many strangers bearing the earmarks of Saturday shoppers were in evidence . . . they were enjoying luncheon to the accompaniment of some mighty good music. . . . Saw Melba Liner dancing around, the spirit of springtime in a flower sprinkled print model. . . . Virginia Hammond of Memphis was also having a good time in a dotted print with wide leather belt of bright red. . . . Ruth Barrett of New York City brought a whiff of Fifth avenue . . . she is a most delectable blonde and was wearing one of the smartest black straw sailors we have seen in many a day . . . we hope she pardoned our close scrutiny, but we were simply fascinated with her finger nails bronzed from cuticle to nail tip. . . . An invitation to come to Natchez, where the old south lives, is a pleasant reminder of a happy day in store for us next month when time literally turns backward and the days of the old south are recreated . . . we will walk again down the box bordered paths fringed with fragrant magnolia, fuscata, sweet olive, giant moss covered oaks and treelike camellia japonicas. . . . Again we ask why Monroe has done nothing to attract visitors each year. . . . Washington has its Japanese cherry blooming season, Mobile its Azalea Trail, the Shenandoah valley the fruit blooming season, New Orleans its Mardi Gras, Michigan its apple festival, Los Angeles its rose festival, so why not Monroe its dogwood and red bud blooming time? . . . the red bud with its rose pink color mingling with white dogwood is simply divine . . . then, too, we have the most beautiful magnolia trees in all the world but not great enough in number to attract visitors . . . On realms of music we have the Musical Coterie concert to look forward to Tuesday night at the college auditorium . . . Frances Leavell singing a group of Chinese songs will be a distinct drawing card. . . . Visitors in New Orleans came home with news of Gertrude Stein, who lectured there last week . . . they say she was slightly repetitious . . . anyone who has a mission to smash long paragraphs to smithereens has our hearty endorsement. . . . Was glad to see Ellen Kent Millsaps swinging down the aisle at the Little Theater play Thursday night . . . and glad her injured ankle will not prevent her from glorifying India Stubbs' bridal party in April. . . . Marion Learned must have glowed inwardly when she heard that hand clapping when the curtain parted on the stage setting for "Whistling in the Dark" . . . it was a distinct tribute to her artistry. . . . Blanche Oliver, backstage, fretting and fuming as all directors do before the curtain rises, wended her homeward way with another star in her already much bejeweled crown . . . No effort is too great when crowned with success. . . . We never quite appreciated the homely phrase "the best things come in small packages" until we saw petite Mary Bonita Allen treading the boards of the stage in her initial appearance in Little Theater circles . . . she was most certainly everything to be desired. . . . The Alden Shotwells were seen hurrying down the river bank to their house boat last week laden with baskets that smacked strongly of a beach supper somewhere up the river in the shining moonlight. . . . Time turned backward in its flight last night when a hay ride along the country lanes at Sterlington claimed that gallant company of young men, members of Delta Sigma fraternity and their "dates" . . . By the way of comparison we have C. E. Woolman's flight to Detroit, Mich., to reckon with . . . leaving Selman field at eight a.m., he dropped down on the Michigan field at exactly two p.m. . . . taking advantage of the early hour he immediately hopped into another plane and visited friends in Cleveland, Ohio, arriving back in Detroit to make a trip through the Stinson factory. . . . He was back in Monroe the next day having annihilated time in regular 1935 fashion.

Mrs. Mylin Tobin, lovely bride of last week, who is affectionately remembered as Miss Elizabeth Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clarke. (Center). Home portrait by Nina Webb.

Mrs. W. C. Scott, one of Monroe's most beloved characters, and a great favorite in social and church circles. Mrs. Scott is a constant inspiration to the Methodist church congregation, of which Rev. Scott is pastor. (Lower center). Home portrait by Nina Webb.

Skimming the surface never brings to light the real gold hidden from the sight of those who never get down to bed rock. Most of us live and move in such a narrow groove that we are quite unaware of the hopes, ambitions, desires and activities of the men and women of this city we meet casually and, like ships that pass in the night, merely salute each other in passing.

Just pricking the surface of things, here in Monroe, often uncovers a rich yield. For instance we just discovered that Mr. R. D. Swayze, commissioner of parks and streets, stepped aside from the prosaic, every-day existance and is working on a plan to preserve bird life in this city by transforming several acres of low marsh land at Bernstein park into a bird sanctuary.

This wooded section of the park with its deep lagoon and dense shade is a veritable paradise for birds of every variety. Mr. Swayze on a recent tour of inspection of the park watched his feathered friends flitting from tree to tree in this quiet haven and resolved then and there to make every effort to protect the birds and to make life happier, freer and lovelier for them.

Realizing that two heads are better than one he immediately got in touch with friends whose study of bird life is a hobby with them—Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery and Mrs. Elmer Richards. With the aid of these well-known bird lovers, Mr. Swayze dreams of making the bird sanctuary in Bernstein park a shady rendezvous where those who live close to nature can ramble, listen to the warbling of the birds and watch their peculiar habits of life.

We all know that the beautiful melody of the birds brightens the heart and makes life happier for us all. Dull indeed is the mind and finer sensibilities of the person who can consider the birds without appreciating them or who will wantonly destroy these heavenly warblers that God has placed here as companions for us to lead our thoughts to the Creator. Birds ascend with so little apparent effort from the sordid affairs of earth to revel in the freedom of the blue above.

Mr. Swayze tells us that he has on many occasions noticed grown men and women shoot down our songsters and set traps for our wild life. With a sanctuary close at hand every bird that wings its way in the blue above will find a haven where it will be protected through the year. Unable to restrain their joy they will repay their benefactors with wild bursts of song.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery are familiar with every bird that flies. They know their habits, from whence they come and where they go. They know the time of nesting and of mating. All their rambles in the quiet out-of-the-way places near Monroe have been rendered more pleasant by the songs of the birds and finding their nests in unexpected places. They have examined the workmanship and know how skilfully these master

Luncheon At Club House

Luncheon was enjoyed by members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical society at the Business and Professional Women's club house, with the birthday anniversary of George Washington the inspiration for a colorful patriotic theme.

Mrs. J. Q. Graves presided with characteristic grace and Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell proved a most delightful hostess.

A distinct feature of this meeting was Mrs. Clifford Johnson's article, "Friendly Fever." Plans for the future were discussed at this time, with the election of officers for the ensuing year climaxing the program. They are: President, Mrs. J. Q. Graves; first vice president, Mrs. C. P. Gray; second vice president, Mrs. W. L. Bendel; recording secretary, Mrs. Shlenker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. I. Wolff; publicity, Mrs. D. T. Milam; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale; historian, Mrs. H. C. Hill; parliamentarian, Mrs. P. L. Perot.

The delicious luncheon was served to: Mrs. C. P. Gray, Mrs. C. H Hill, Mrs C. U. Johnson, Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. John Procher, Mrs. L. L. Shlenker, Mrs. John Snellings, Mrs. J. B. Vaughan, Mrs. W. L. Bendel, Mrs. Sam Bendel, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. A. E. Fisher, Mrs. I. J. Wolff, Mrs. Hinson Coon, Mrs. D. T. Milam.

Will Enjoy Sea Cruise

Mrs. Robert L. Kellogg and Miss Violet Meyer will leave next Friday for New Orleans and will sail on Saturday for a Caribbean sea cruise visiting Havana and Panama and many other points of interest en route.

Of cordial and sincere interest to many friends is the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Swayze announce the marriage of their daughter, Mable Desha, to Mr. Paul Swift in this city on the tenth of November, 1934.

Mrs. C. A. Braun of Sedalia, Mo., is enjoying a visit in the home of her son, Mr. C. A. Braun and Mrs. Braun.

A romance dating from grammar school and continuing through high school, college and following graduation, culminated in the marriage of Miss Margaret Rainwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hudson Rainwater of Ruston, La., and Mr. Robert Lane Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Fuller of Dubach, Saturday at the elegant new home of the bride's parents on North Vienna street, at five-thirty o'clock in the evening.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Eloise Fuller, sister of the groom, who wore blue chiffon with pleated organdie ruffles and a corsage of yellow roses, lighted the candles. Mrs. S. L. White played "Traumerie" and Miss Helen Sullivan sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." "I Love You Truly" was rendered by Kendall Hearne, class mate of the bride. The bridal party entered the spacious and beautifully decorated reception room to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." During the ceremony Mrs. White played "To A Wild Rose."

The bride, wearing an exquisite afternoon model of Madelon blue triple sheer and carrying a handsome arm bouquet of pink bride's roses and valley lilies, was given in marriage by her father. A rose pointe lace handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day added a sentimental touch.

Dr. W. S. Lacy of Batesville, Ark., officiated and employed in the ceremony the same words spoken by him when he officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Joseph Renwick Gives Interesting Review Of The D. A. R. Monthly Magazine

Mrs. Joseph Renwick is responsible for a most interesting article on the D. A. R. magazine. Mrs. Renwick, former regent of Fort Miro chapter D. A. R., addressed members at a recent meeting as follows:

The D. A. R. magazine is the official organ of our society. We should, as daughters of the American Revolution, know our magazine better. It would give us broader views and we would become more familiar with D. A. R. activities. As month follows month, subjects treated would become better known and understood. The articles in every issue reveal the fact that human nature is very much the same. Our great-great-grandfathers had, and we see recorded, the same ambitions that we have today, following the established customs of art, literature, society and business. And also we learn with much interest what our sister chapters are doing. The magazine is preserving for us, our children and grand children the landmarks of early America, and the accomplishments of these regged men, their visions of a country carved from the wilderness, seemingly impossible things were numerous, done by these, our people, from time to time. Washington and Lafayette going into battle; Paul Revere on that memorable night of 1775; the elsborate marriage festivities of Nellie Custis; the adopted daughter of George Washington, and with her brother were known as the children of Mt. Vernon.

In the 1929 magazine I found the Unveiling of the Madonna Trail. Our regent, Mrs. Slade's wonderful report will be remembered by all of us, I am sure. When she told of this beautiful work of the Daughters of the American Revolution on her return from the national congress of that year. A trail running from Maryland, extending through state after state until it reaches California—a great national shrine from Ocean to ocean. Again, history forever told and preserved by the magazine.

On the beautifully glossed pages of our magazine are seen photographs of some of our leading Daughters of the American Revolution, past and present, and when we study with pride the intelligent faces of those who have borne our banner, the historic past becomes a stepping stone to the living present.

In July magazine of 1928 is a record of the Daughters of the American Revolution's fiscal achievements of the year. We also see the picture of our national treasurer, Mrs. Wyants, triumphantly signing the one million sixty thousand dollar check that redeemed a bond issue, while Mrs. Eli Helmick, registrar-general, Mrs. Herbert M. Lord, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Sherman Walker, vice president general were looking on. This bond was issued two years before and the money was raised by public subscription, thus leaving the property unencumbered, ready to build Constitution hall. In the same magazine Mrs. Wyants said Leslie Shaw, former secretary of state, told her of the time he had signed a check for forty million dollars for the building of the Panama canal. He considered this as much an achievement for the Daughters of the American Revolution as the canal was for the nation.

As I laid aside my review numbers I experienced a joy of membership in a society whose ideals are elevating, whose objects are progressive, whose founders were women of sterling integrity, whose successors are women of Christian and patriotic character, that are perpetuating the memory and the spirit of the people who achieved America's independence; the great national love for those pioneers whose memory shall live rorever, like a thing divine, and should the great ones of the past visit us, they would say, "Well done, good and faithful children."

Miss Gimler Is Lovely Bride Of Mr. Heslep

The sincere and affectionate interest of many friends is centered in the marriage of Miss Beverly Louise Gimler, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gimler, Jr., of this city and Mr. Adam P. Monceaux Heslep, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Heslep of Corpus Christi, Texas, Thursday afternoon, February the twenty-first at four o'clock at the St. Matthews' Catholic church with Father N. F. Vandegaer officiating.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Don Brasfield of Omaha, Neb. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. George Evans of Memphis, Tenn.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite early spring model of poudre blue with blue accessories. A lovely color theme was created by a corsage of pale pink Bride's roses and valley lilies. For sentiment, she carried an imported lace handkerchief, carried by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days.

Mrs. Heslep is a great favorite in this city where she was born and reared and attended school.

She is identified with two of Monroe's oldest families, Mr. F. C. Breese, her maternal grandfather, and Mrs. L. J. Gimler, Sr., her paternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Heslep are making their home for the time being at the Frances hotel where Mr. Heslep and company of musicians are filling an engagement. Mr. Heslep is director of the Belvedere club orchestra.

Miss Long Will Attend Spring Club Meeting

Miss Lillie Mae Long, president of the fifth district, Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs announces the annual spring meeting of the Fifth District in Ferriday on the twenty-seventh of April. Miss Long was present at the meeting of the Ferriday Woman's club last Tuesday and was favorably impressed with the plans being made for the entertainment of the delegates. The Ferriday Garden club and the Woman's club will be joint hostesses. Mrs. R. H. Agate, the state president, has announced that she will be present, and Mrs. Edward Pilsbury, the general federation director will also be present. The program will be announced later.

Annual Y. W. C. A. Campaign To Be Held

Enthusiastic plans are being formulated and whipped into shape by members of the Y. W. C. A. board for the annual drive to be held during the week beginning March fourth.

Mrs. J. C. Sadler, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. W. B. Clark, chairman of the initial gifts committee and Mrs. S. A. Moss, chairman of the teams.

Mrs. Clark, with her committee, Mrs. Alden Shotwell, Mrs. Malcolm Biedenharn, Mrs. J. C. Sadler, Mrs. C. K. Dickard, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. Frank Stubbs and Mrs. C. P. Gray, is already at work and announces that several generous donations have been made.

Mrs. S. A. Moss, captain of the teams that will participate in the drive, announces that a meeting of all the team captains and their coworkers will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian church, when a discussion of the procedure of the drive will be held.

Business Women Meet

A patriotic color theme, red white and blue, was reflected in the appointments and in the flowers adorning the luncheon table at the Business and Professional Women's club house last Thursday when emblem members enjoyed their first social affair with their new hostess, Mrs. Charles McCord.

Home From New Orleans

Miss Sue Graves and her charming house guest, Miss Ella Jesse of Washington, D. C., have returned home from New Orleans, where they have been enjoying the social festivities in connection with the Mardi Gras season.

Boating Party Enjoyed By A Few Friends

Spring in the air lured Mrs. D. C. Metcalf and a few intimates to the river aboard the "Brown Kraft" last week with Mrs. B. Beasley, hostess, in honor of an attractive visitor in the city, Mrs. Frank Knack of Chicago, the guest of honor, and Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, hostess.

Although the bridge was introduced the beauty of the river was enjoyed to the fullest as the tables were grouped near the wide windows in the cabin. A picturesque spot in the river was selected for the serving of delicious refreshments to Mrs. Knack, Mrs. B. Beasley, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, Mrs. W. C. Scott, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Jordon, Mrs. Art Sullivan, Mrs. J. E. Whitfield, Mrs. Jack Carpenter, Mrs. J. M. Hilton, Mrs. Ralph Halcomb, Mrs. F. V. Allison, and the hostess, Mrs. Metcalf.

Parties for visitors in Shreveport last week included a series in honor of Mrs. Smith W. Colvin of Monroe, who arrived to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fair Colvin, and Mrs. James Dows Blake of Cedar Rapides, Iowa, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Waller.

On Wednesday they were honor guests at a breakfast given by Mrs. Roy W. Ford, who also honored Miss Maggie Miller of Delton, Texas, the guest of Mrs. Ray D. Lee; at a luncheon for the Junior League style revue with Mrs. M. S. Sharpe and Mrs. M. E. Montrose as hostesses; and in the afternoon at a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock in Mrs. Waller's home on Elmwood avenue.

Thursday morning Mrs. Colvin was entertained with a breakfast at her home on Linden avenue; at noon Mrs. Guy Kendrick and Mrs. Hermon Meadows entertained with a luncheon in the home of the former; Mrs. R. C. Basinger and Mrs. Dewey Sandifer was hostesses for afternoon bridge in the Basinger home on Thora boulevard; Thursday evening Mrs. William H. Cook gave a dinner bridge in honor of the visitors.

On Friday Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Colvin were complimented at a bridge breakfast given by Mrs. A. W. Trusty and Mrs. John Sheffield on Albany avenue and at a bridge luncheon in the home of Mrs. M. B. Hannah entertaining with Mrs. Richard Brettell.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Slagle returned home last week from a visit with Mrs. Slagle's sister, Mrs. Melville Vaughan and Mr. Vaughan of Laurenceville, Illinois. Mrs. Vaughan, affectionately remembered as Miss Maria Wooten, accompanied them home and will be the guest this week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wooten.

A special program and silver tea has been planned for the Central Grammar school P.-T. A. Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. All members and others interested are urged to be present. A brief business session will be followed by the impressive candle lighting ceremony.

Mrs. Rainwater and Mrs. Fuller, mothers of the bride and bridegroom, were prominent figures. Mrs. Rainwater wore a handsome blue crepe and blue lace model and Mrs. Fuller wore a lovely pink Alencon lace model. Both wore corsages of pink sweet peas.

For a traveling costume, the bride wore a suit of navy diagonal wool, Madelon blue blouse, with accessories to match, and a corsage of sweetheart roses. On their return from a wedding trip in south Louisiana, the couple will be at home, 509 South Vienna street, Ruston.

Mrs. Fuller graduated from Louisiana Tech and studied at S. M. U., Dallas. She taught four years in Morehouse parish public schools and is now engaged in kindergarten work in Ruston. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

The groom was graduated from Louisiana Tech in 1931 and attended Tulane. He received his L. L. B. degree from L. S. U. in 1934. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Phi, Pi Gammon Mu and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities.

For the past year, Mr. Fuller has been practicing law in Ruston, being a member of the firm of Fuller and Fuller, with offices in the James building.

Members of the Monroe carpenters' union have issued an invitation to all laboring men to attend an open meeting to be held at the Labor temple Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

It was pointed out that carpenters, both union and non-union, were especially urged to attend. The prime purpose of the meeting, it was said, is to get new members for the carpenters' union.

Interest Centered In Bird Sanctuary

weavers have manufactured their nests. In fact Mr. and Mrs. Lowery are considered authority on bird life and are in a position to offer Mr. Swayze invaluable information in creating a bird sanctuary.

Mrs. Richards, one of Monroe's outstanding civic leaders will bend every effort in making this dream come true and has agreed to assist Mr. Swayze in interesting the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls in beautifying this secluded spot in Bernstein park.

So you see, all about us are men and women who are striving daily toward the accomplishment of a high resolve, the fulfillment of which will benefit us all. If in our own small way we can assist those who are doing worthwhile constructive things, then our daily task is indeed a pleasure. If we can assist Mr. Swayze in creating greater appreciation of the public for God's most beautiful creations, the birds, we shall be satisfied.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Joseph Renwick Gives Interesting Review Of The D. A. R. Monthly Magazine

Mrs. Joseph Renwick is responsible for a most interesting article on the D. A. R. magazine. Mrs. Renwick, former regent of Fort Miro chapter D. A. R., addressed members at a recent meeting as follows:

The D. A. R. magazine is the official organ of our society. We should, as daughters of the American Revolution, know our magazine better. It would give us broader views and we would become more familiar with D. A. R. activities. As month follows month, subjects treated would become better known and understood. The articles in every issue reveal the fact that human nature is very much the same. Our great-great-grandfathers had, and we see recorded, the same ambitions that we have today, following the established customs of art, literature, society and business. And also we learn with much interest what our sister chapters are doing. The magazine is preserving for us, our children and grand children the landmarks of early America, and the accomplishments of these regged men, their visions of a country carved from the wilderness, seemingly impossible things were numerous, done by these, our people, from time to time. Washington and Lafayette going into battle; Paul Revere on that memorable night of 1775; the elaborate marriage festivities of Nellie Custis; the adopted daughter of George Washington, and with her brother were known as the chlidren of Mt. Vernon.

In the 1929 magazine I found the Unveiling of the Madonna Trail. Our regent, Mrs. Slade's wonderful report will be remembered by all of us, I am sure. When she told of this beautiful work of the Daughters of the American Revolution on her return from the national congress of that year. A trail running from Maryland, extending through state after state until it reaches California—a great national shrine from Ocean to ocean. Again, history forever told and preserved by the magazine.

On the beautifully glossed pages of our magazine are seen photographs ot some of our leading Daughters of the American Revolution, past and present, and when we study with pride the intelligent faces of those who have borne our banner, the historic past becomes a stepping stone to the living present.

In July magazine of 1928 is a record of the Daughters of the American Revolution's fiscal achievements of the year. We also see the picture of our national treasurer, Mrs. Wyants, triumphantly signing the one million sixty thousand dollar check that redeemed a bond issue, while Mrs. Eli Helmick, registrar-general, Mrs. Herbert M. Lord, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Sherman Walker, vice president general were looking on. This bond was issued two years before and the money was raised by public subscription, thus leaving the property unencumbered, ready to build Constitution hall. In the same magazine Mrs. Wyants said Leslie Shaw, former secretary of state, told her of the time he had signed a check for forty million dollars for the building of the Panama canal. He considered this as much an achievement for the Daughters of the American Revolution as the canal was for the nation.

As I laid aside my review numbers I experienced a joy of membership in a society whose ideals are elevating, whose objects are progressive, whose founders were women of sterling integrity, whose successors are women of Christian and patriotic character, that are perpetuating the memory and the spirit of the people who achieved America's independence; the great national love for those pioneers whose memory shall live rorever, like a thing divine, and should the great ones of the past visit us, they would say, "Well done, good and faithful children."

Miss GimlerIs Lovely Bride Of Mr. Heslep

The sincere and affectionate interest of many friends is centered in the marriage of Miss Beverly Louise Gimler, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gimler, Jr., of this city and Mr. Adam P. Monceaux Heslep, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Heslep of Corpus Christi, Texas, Thursday afternoon, February the twenty-first at four o'clock at the St. Matthews' Catholic church with Father N. F. Vandegaer officiating.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Don Brasfield of Omaha, Neb. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. George Evans of Memphis, Tenn.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite early spring model of poudre blue with blue accessories. A lovely color theme was created by a corsage of pale pink Bride's roses and valley lilies. For sentiment, she carried an imported lace handkerchief, carried by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days.

Mrs. Heslep is a great favorite in this city where she was born and reared and attended school.

She is identified with two of Monroe's oldest families, Mr. F. C. Breese, her maternal grandfather, and Mrs. L. J. Gimler, Sr., her paternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Heslep are making their home for the time being at the Frances hotel where Mr. Heslep and company of musicians are filling an engagement. Mr. Heslep is director of the Belvedere club orchestra.

Miss Long Will Attend Spring Club Meeting

Miss Lillie Mae Long, president of the fifth district, Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs announces the annual spring meeting of the Fifth District in Ferriday on the twenty-seventh of April. Miss Long was present at the meeting of the Ferriday Woman's club last Tuesday and was favorably impressed with the plans being made for the entertainment of the delegates. The Ferriday Garden club and the Woman's club will be joint hostesses. Mrs. R. H. Agate, the state president, has announced that she will be present, and Mrs. Edward Pilsbury, the general federation director will also be present. The program will be announced later.

Annual Y. W. C. A. Campaign To Be Held

Enthusiastic plans are being formulated and whipped into shape by members of the Y. W. C. A. board for the annual drive to be held during the week beginning March fourth.

Mrs. J. C. Sadler, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. W. B. Clark, chairman of the initial gifts committee and Mrs. S. A. Moss, chairman of the teams.

Mrs. Clark, with her committee, Mrs. Alden Shotwell, Mrs. Malcolm Biedenharn, Mrs. J. C. Sadler, Mrs. C. K. Dickard, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. Frank Stubbs and Mrs. C. P. Gray, is already at work and announces that several generous donations have been made.

Mrs. S. A. Moss, captain of the teams that will participate in the drive, announces that a meeting of all the team captains and their coworkers will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian church, when a discussion of the procedure of the drive will be held.

Business Women Meet

A patriotic color theme, red white and blue, was reflected in the appointments and in the flowers adorning the luncheon table at the Business and Professional Women's club house last Thursday when emblem members enjoyed their first social affair with their new hostess, Mrs. Charles McCord.

Home From New Orleans

Miss Sue Graves and her charming house guest, Miss Ella Jesse of Washington, D. C., have returned home from New Orleans, where they have been enjoying the social festivities in connection with the Mardi Gras season.

Boating Party Enjoyed By A Few Friends

Spring in the air lured Mrs. D. C. Metcalf and a few intimates to the river aboard the "Brown Kraft" last week with Mrs. B. Beasley, hostess, in honor of an attractive visitor in the city, Mrs. Frank Knack of Chicago, the guest of honor, and Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, hostess.

Although the bridge was introduced the beauty of the river was enjoyed to the fullest as the tables were grouped near the wide windows in the cabin. A picturesque spot in the river was selected for the serving of delicious refreshments to Mrs. Knack, Mrs. B. Beasley, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, Mrs. W. C. Scott, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Jordon, Mrs. Art Sullivan, Mrs. J. E. Whitfield, Mrs. Jack Carpenter, Mrs. J. M. Hilton, Mrs. Ralph Halcomb, Mrs. F. V. Allison, and the hostess, Mrs. Metcalf.

Parties for visitors in Shreveport last week included a series in honor of Mrs. Smith W. Colvin of Monroe, who arrived to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fair Colvin, and Mrs. James Dows Blake of Cedar Rapides, Iowa, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Waller.

On Wednesday they were honor guests at a breakfast given by Mrs. Roy W. Ford, who also honored Miss Maggie Miller of Delton, Texas, the guest of Mrs. Ray D. Lee; at a luncheon for the Junior League style revue with Mrs. M. S. Sharpe and Mrs. M. E. Montrose as hostesses; and in the afternoon at a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock in Mrs. Waller's home on Elmwood avenue.

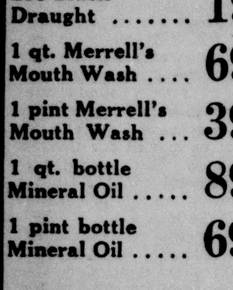

Thursday morning Mrs. Colvin was entertained with a breakfast at her home on Linden avenue; at noon Mrs. Guy Kendrick and Mrs. Hermon Meadows entertained with a luncheon in the home of the former; Mrs. R. C. Basinger and Mrs. Dewey Sandifer was hostesses for afternoon bridge in the Basinger home on Thora boulevard; Thursday evening Mrs. William H. Cook gave a dinner bridge in honor of the visitors.

On Friday Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Colvin were complimented at a bridge breakfast given by Mrs. A. W. Trusty and Mrs. John Sheffield on Albany avenue and at a bridge luncheon in the home of Mrs. M. B. Hannah entertaining with Mrs. Richard Brettell.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Slagle returned home last week from a visit with Mrs. Slagle's sister, Mrs. Melville Vaughan and Mr. Vaughan of Laurenceville, Illinois. Mrs. Vaughan, affectionately remembered as Miss Maria Wooten, accompanied them home and will be the guest this week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wooten.

A special program and silver tea has been planned for the Central Grammar school P.-T. A. Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. All members and others interested are urged to be present. A brief business session will be followed by the impressive candle lighting ceremony.

Prominent Naptial Event Claims Interest

Mrs. Rainwater and Mrs. Fuller, mothers of the bride and bridegroom, were prominent figures. Mrs. Rainwater wore a handsome blue crepe and blue lace model and Mrs. Fuller wore a lovely pink Alencon lace model. Both wore corsages of pink sweet peas.

For a traveling costume, the bride wore a suit of navy diagonal wool, Madelon blue blouse, with accessories to match, and a corsage of sweetheart roses. On their return from a wedding trip in south Louisiana, the couple will be at home, 509 South Vienna street, Ruston.

Mrs. Fuller graduated from Louisiana Tech and studied at S. M. U., Dallas. She taught four years in Morehouse parish public schools and is now engaged in kindergarten work in Ruston. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

The groom was graduated from Louisiana Tech in 1931 and attended Tulane. He received his L. L. B. degree from L. S. U. in 1934. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Phi, Pi Gammon Mu and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities.

For the past year, Mr. Fuller has been practicing law in Ruston, being a member of the firm of Fuller and Fuller, with offices in the James building.

Members of the Monroe carpenters' union have issued an invitation to all laboring men to attend an open meeting to be held at the Labor temple Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

It was pointed out that carpenters, both union and non-union, were especially urged to attend. The prime purpose of the meeting, it was said, is to get new members for the carpenters' union.

Interest Centered In Bird Sanctuary

weavers have manufactured their nests. In fact Mr. and Mrs. Lowery are considered authority on bird life and are in a position to offer Mr. Swayze invaluable information in creating a bird sanctuary.

Mrs. Richards, one of Monroe's outstanding civic leaders will bend every effort in making this dream come true and has agreed to assist Mr. Swayze in interesting the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls in beautifying this secluded spot in Bernstein park.

So you see, all about us are men and women who are striving daily toward the accomplishment of a high resolve, the fulfillment of which will benefit us all. If in our own small way we can assist those who are doing worthwhile constructive things, then our daily task is indeed a pleasure. If we can assist Mr. Swayze in creating greater appreciation of the public for God's most beautiful creations, the birds, we shall be satisfied.

Deafness Headnoises, Earache Catarrh—QUICKLY RELIEVED
These dreaded afflictions quickly respond to the Ourine method of treatment. Over one-half million people have enjoyed prompt relief. You may be a chronic long time sufferer, you may have tried many things without relief, but do not give up hope before you know what Ourine can do for you.
Dr. Edward Kolar, M. D., said, "Ourine helped cases I had given up as hopeless. A truly remarkable scientific remedy."
Joseph Meredith of Ontario, writes, "I suffered for over 50 years, some times I was stone deaf. I used only a half a bottle of Ourine, the headnoises disappeared and I could hear people talking clearly. I heard the choir in our church and the organ play for the first time in 2 years. I am recommending Ourine to every one."
No matter how stubborn your deafness, headnoises, earache or catarrh trouble are, you should try Ourine. No risk, no chance, no doubt. Ourine must do the work or cost you nothing.

New Books At Public Library You Will Enjoy

Just before the overwhelming number of new spring and summer titles reach the public is a good time to look back and see what we might have skipped during the past year. The following list is taken from statistics compiled by the Publisher's Weekly—10 books of fiction—10 of non-fiction.

The fiction—"Anthony Adverse," by Hervey Allen; "Lamb in His Bosom," by Caroline Miller; "So Red the Rose," by Stark Young; "Good-bye Mr. Chips," by James Hilton; "Within this Present," by Margaret Ayre Barnes; "Work of Art," Sinclair Lewis; "Private Worlds," by Phyllis Bottoms; "Mary Peters," by Mary Ellen Chase; "Oil for the Lamps of Chine," by Alice Tisdale Hobart, and "Seven Gothic Tales," by Isak Dinesen.

In non-fiction—"While Rome Burns," by Alexander Woollcott; "Life Begins at Forty," by Walter B. Pitkin; "100,000,000 Guinea Pigs," by Kallett and Schlink; "Nijinsky," by Romola Nijinsky; "Stars Fell on Alabama," by Carl Carmer; "The Native's Return," by Louis Adamic; "Brazilian Adventure," by Peter Fleming; "Forty-two Years in the White House," by Ike Hoover; "You Must Relax," by Edmund Jacobson, and "The Life of Our Lord," by Charles Dickens.

rival of a daughter, Mary Lou, born Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at St. Francis sanitarium.

Bonita

The sixteen members present brought materials for different types of handwork and the time was profitably spent in making crocheted spreads, dresses, scarfs and rugs under the supervision of Miss Irene Lord, home demonstration agent.

The next meeting of the club will be held in March at the home of Mrs. R. T. Robertson and the making of curtains and draperies will be discussed and demonstrated.

News-Star--World Pattern

CHOOSE A NEW SILHOUETTE FOR SPRING
PATTERNS 2136 AND 2137
By Anne Adams

Peplums and capes define two of the smartest silhouettes for Spring. Pattern 2136 gives that very fresh, crisp look for which everyone strives at this time of year. Not only does its peplum point the way to chic, but it is accented by a border of barred taffeta (or any contrast you prefer) matching the lining of the scarf which forms that gay bow effect. The lovely cape frock, pattern 2137, achieves a marvelous fit by means of its V skirt lines, which further enhances the smartness of the cape. And do notice how cleverly the scarf holds the cape in place through slits at the sides. Contrast the dress top in darker or lighter tone.

Pattern 2136 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 7-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1-8 yards contrasting.

Pattern 2137 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 16 takes 3 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1-4 yards contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

GET THE ANNE ADAMS SPRING PATTERN BOOK! Make for yourself the clothes that are smart, practical and becoming. Choose them from the forty pages of this beautifully illustrated book which includes also exclusive fashions for tots and children, especially designed dresses for the mature figure, lingerie, and hosts of other interesting features. Each garment illustrated is easy to make with an Anne Adam's pattern. SEND FOR YOUR COPY TODAY! PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Farmerville

On Friday afternoon a lovely miscellaneous shower was given at the residence of Mrs. S. B. Smith with Mrs. E. N. Killpatrick and Mrs. Lott Jones as co-hostesses, honoring Mrs. O. E. Glover of Bernice, La., who before her recent marriage on January 7, was Miss Ruth Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griffin of this city.

During the afternoon over seventy-five guests called and were greeted by Mrs. Glover, who delightfully expressed her appreciation of the many handsome and useful gifts. These were displayed on lace-covered tables centered by bowls of fragrant white hyacinths.

The Valentine motif was effectively carried out in the serving of delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, hot chocolate, cookies and mints. Assisting in extending courtesies was a group of lovely young girls including Misses Jessie Mae Taylor, Minnie Bob Wilson, Annie Laurie Booth, Waurine Edwards, Jean Calhoun and Ruth Henderson.

Mrs Harvey Fields received a handsome manicure set for high score. After several spirited games, delightful refreshments were served on wicker trays to the following: Mrs. A. C. Dykes, Mrs. Duke Selig, Mrs. Lester Hartman, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Harvey Fields, Mrs. John W. Taylor, Mrs. Metz Tugwell, Mrs. Hall Terry, Miss Hilda Fuller, Miss Lillian Edwards, Miss Stella Davis and Miss Joye Fields.

The mellow glow of myriads of red and green tapers cast a soft radiance over the handsome entertaining suite in the home of Mrs. A. C. Dykes, when she entertained on Wednesday night with a charming bridge affair. A most delectable dinner was served on wicker trays at the card tables and the Valentine motif was attractively reflected in all the appointments. After the removal of the trays, contract bridge was enjoyed and following the exciting games a beautiful red Venetian fruit basket was awarded to Miss Olivia Barr for high score. Mrs. Wallace A. Abat of Shreveport was presented with a unique ash tray of the same ware. Miss Faye Baughman, who assisted in the courtesies was given a Dresdan tray.

Other guests enjoying the delightful hospitality were Mrs. Duke Selig, Mrs. H. G. Fields, Mrs. J. Y. Green, Mrs. Brodie Green, Mrs. W. B. Miller, Mrs. J. W. Stancil, Jr., Mrs. V. C. Tucker, Mrs. Mike Smith, Mrs. S. L. Hartman, Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Metz Tugwell, Miss Hilda Fuller, Miss Reita Hartman, Miss Mariette Nelson, Miss Irine Clark and Miss Gussie Fenton.

Mrs. Omah Muckleroy entertained Monday afternoon with a party at her home honoring her son's, John Miller, ninth birthday.

The attractive home was lovely with spring flowers. Various games were enjoyed until five o'clock, when the guests were invited in the dining room, where the table was centered with a beautifully decorated cake. The delicious refreshments were served and enjoyed with zest that only youngsters have. The many varied gifts were displayed on a table in the living room. Mrs. Muckleroy was assisted in caring for the little guests by her mother, Mrs. J. D. Miller. Those present were Alva Ann Cobb, Mildred Hammons, Evelyn Hammons, Carolyn Tucker, Billie Jean Taylor, Lita Grey Baker, George Neal Murphy, George Ramsey, Harvey Farley, Jr., Bobby Gale Miller, Jimmie Wainwright, Jimmie Futch, Rowland Dykes, Rabun Smith, Billie Webb Dawkins and Ann Miller.

Mrs. Ben M. Lee and Mrs. Hall Terry introduced their attractive house guest, Miss Myrtle V. Morgan of Gibsland, on Saturday afternoon, featuring games of bridge and hearts in the lovely home of Mrs. Lee. The George Washington theme was reflected in all the decorations and favors.

The honoree was presented with a box of beautiful linen handkerchiefs of different colors and prize for high score in bridge, a box of dusting powder was won by Miss Reita Hartman, while Mrs. J. R. Dawkins captured a nest of china ash trays for high score in hearts.

Refreshments served on tables, centered with tiny red pots of geraniums, consisted of luscious frozen salad, potato chips, sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Those enjoying the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. Lester Hartman, Mrs. P. L. Read, Mrs. J. R. Watkins, Mrs. Doyle Smith, Mrs. Dewey L. Barr, Mrs. Mike Smith, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr., Mrs. W. J. Turnage, Jr., Mrs. John W. Taylor, Mrs. C. C. Murphy, Miss Faye Baughman, Miss Lillian Edwards, Miss Stella Davis, Miss Reita Hartman, Miss Dorothy Terral and the honoree.

A delectable supper was served before the games were started. Adoring the trays were lovely white potted hyacinths which were awarded to the players who cut high cards.

Mrs. H. G. Fields won a beautiful red Venetian fruit bowl which was high score for the ladies. Mr. J. David Baughman was awarded a novelty ash tray as high score for men. Miss Butterfly Wallace received a very pretty sport handkerchief for second prize. Mrs. A. C. Dykes was given a set of iced tea coasters for low score.

Enjoying the games were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Abat of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Turnage, Mr. and Mrs. Onah Muckleroy, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hartman, Miss Butterfly Wallace, Miss Gussie Fenton, Mrs. Brodie Green, Mrs. Olla Porter, Mr. Lazarus Baughman, Mr. J. David Baughman, Mr. Charlie Robinson and Dr. C. C. Francis.

Claiborne Schools To Join In Celebration

HOMER, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Schools throughout Claiborne parish will join in the nation-wide celebration of the 300th anniversary of the first high schools of America, according to plans announced here by the parish school system.

The progress and development of the various schools of Claiborne parish, from their earliest history, will be given at each of the parish schools March 15.

Old residents, newspaper files, records obtained, as well as many old pictures of the schools in earlier days will be a source of material for this occasion

The Claiborne schools now have an enrollment of 3,490 white students and six high schools with a total of 3,227 students. The high schools have developed from one-room buildings to many consolidated schools with brick structures and the most up-to-date facilities.

The six high schools are approved and accredited with the high schools of the south. John S. Patton is superintendent of the parish schools.

CHAPTER XLIII

Elinor could not see Barrett's eyes as he spoke. "I thought," he said wearily, "that it might be better for me to go away for a while. I thought perhaps you'd rather not see me often."

"This trip to South America—," she said hesitatingly, "is it work that interests you?"

"It would have—once," he replied.

Elinor rose then and started toward the door but he halted her.

"Elinor!" Barrett said brokenly.

She paused without answering.

"Don't hate me more than you have to, will you? I'm sorry I can't explain it all to you. I'm only trying to do the right thing—"

"I don't hate you, Barrett," she assured him, "but I just can't—talk about it. I'm trying to see your side. Perhaps with time I'll be more reasonable. I hope so. I'll try to be! Just now—"

"Oh, I know!" he said darkly.

He was beside her and for a moment, with a harsh little murmur, he caught her in his arms, holding her close. She did not try to draw away, wanting to feel his arms about her, yet unable to yield, to let him know the emotion she felt.

When his arms dropped she said, "Barrett—"

"Yes, Elinor?"

"How long will you be gone?" There was fright in her voice and loneliness.

• • •

"Four or five months, I suppose," he answered. "Unless you should send word for me to come back and I don't suppose there's any hope of that."

"I don't know. I don't think I even understand myself. I don't know what is the matter with me or why I feel the way I do. Of course I've always known there was this sort of thing in the world. All my life I've seen deceit—"

"And it has made you hate it even more than you would normally," he said. "I understand that. Well," he made an unsuccessful attempt at cheerfulness, "we'll see about a place in the country. What sort of place do you think you would like?"

"I don't care. Whatever you think best—"

So he was going, Elinor realized. He really was going away to leave her for months and months. The thing was settled, a certainty.

"Do you suppose," she faltered, flushing, "that the little boy will like me?"

Barrett smiled his first genuine smile. "I think he may!" he said with a rising inflection that made her know he was teasing. Quickly he stooped and kissed her hair. He said almost harshly, "Now run along!"

She was gone then. Alone Barrett paced the room. Back and forth. Back and forth. He tried to get it all straight in his own mind, thinking about Elinor, about Marcia, about the trip to South America and the miles and miles of land and water there would be between Elinor and him once he was on his way. How dreary and uninteresting the whole trip seemed!

• • •

It was Bessie Thrope who discovered the country house for Elinor. Bessie declared as soon as she had heard their plans that she knew "just the place." The dwelling she had in mind was not far from the Thropes' new home. It stood on a hillside, well back from the road. Bessie pointed out that she and Elinor would be able to spend long afternoons together and that Sexton and the little boy could share play hours.

"I'd love to be near you, Aunt Bessie," Elinor said. Her aunt saw that the girl was fighting to keep back her tears.

"There's something very odd about all this," Bessie reported to Jim that evening as they sat alone on the porch. It was still light and the boys were playing tennis. Now and again a shout floated to them from the court.

"Um—!" said Jim. He twisted the cigar in his mouth and frowned.

"You see, Jim, I don't for a moment believe that things are—well, the way they seem. But Elinor does and that's the pitiable part of it. Barrett came in before I left this afternoon and he looks dreadful. I'm sure that seeing Elinor so unhappy hurts him worse than anything else about the affair. Her misery is more to him than his own."

"Well, you and I can understand that," Jim said slowly.

"Yes, we can. I almost hope he will go away soon and let her reason it all through."

"Maybe he will."

"Of course he may go. I'm not just sure."

"Do you remember," Bessie asked suddenly, "that talk about Marcia years ago? The time she went off to Europe in a great hurry. Remember? She took Annie, that Scotch maid who had served her mother for years—"

"Now that you speak of it I do remember," Jim conceded.

"How long ago was that, Jim?"

"Well, I'm not sure. Let's see—" Her husband paused, musing. "Must be close to 10 years, isn't it?" he questioned in turn.

"Yes, it is!" Bessie agreed grimly. "Oh, Jim—don't you see it all?" she went on eagerly.

Jim didn't. Excitedly she explained. "Oh, I know I'm right about it! I know I am!" Bessie exclaimed. "I knew all along Barrett wasn't that sort—!"

• • •

Two days later Barrett and Elinor drove out to see the house Bessie had described. It was a low, cozily-built dwelling set on the side of a hill and overlooking the sound. The house was larger than it seemed at first glance and everything about it appeared to be satisfactory.

"I do like it!" Elinor assured him in almost the old, warmly confiding way. Such moments always hurt Barrett. They were invariably brief and always followed by a return to even more adamant frigidity.

It was odd, he thought, that a girl who seemed so gentle, so constantly thoughtful of others, could be so stern. He had come to know this sternness and how it could bruise them both. Elinor was changed in other ways too and this worried him. She seemed listless and did not look at all well. He saw that she had lost weight. At meals she was never hungry. Higgins had noticed this, noticed also that Mr. Barrett seemed equally strained and had scarcely any appetite.

Now Barrett said dully, "It is a nice house." Without meaning to, he moved toward her. He became aware of this when Elinor casually and, as if accidentally, moved to widen the space between them. The lines of his face hardened.

"You couldn't be so cruel," he thought, "if you knew how it hurts me."

Aloud he said, "Do you think you want to live here?"

"It will do very well," Elinor answered.

"Then I'll see about the lease tomorrow," he promised. "You'll be able to move in whenever you like."

"I'd like to come soon. I think with Bessie's help I can get everything that's necessary ordered within a week."

He realized that would mean that if he made the trip to South America he would have a few weeks alone in the New York house. A few weeks during which he, in his room would seem to hear her moving in hers.

"Don't you think after all," he said abruptly (for it was not easy to speak of Gerald), "that I'd best pack the youngster off to some summer camp?"

"Don't you think," she asked hotly in turn, "that it's only decent—not to hide him?"

Postoffice Landscaping Bids Mailed To Capital

Bids for beautifying the grounds at the Monroe postoffice, received Thursday, have been mailed to the postoffice department at Washington for approval, J. R. Wooten, postmaster, said here Saturday. It is considered likely that a contract will be awarded and that work may begin within the next few weeks.

Names of the bidders and the amount bid by each were not disclosed by Mr. Wooten. He said he merely received the bids and sent them on to Washington. A list of the bidders is expected to be made public at the time a contract is awarded.

Most of the bids were submitted by nurserymen, as the work of beautifying the grounds will consist chiefly of landscaping and placing shrubs.

Bonita

The sixteen members present brought materials for different types of handwork and the time was profitably spent in making crocheted spreads, dresses, scarfs and rugs under the supervision of Miss Irene Lord, home demonstration agent.

The next meeting of the club will be held in March at the home of Mrs. R. T. Robertson and the making of curtains and draperies will be discussed and demonstrated.

CHOOSE A NEW SILHOUETTE FOR SPRING
By Anne Adams

Peplums and capes define two of the smartest silhouettes for Spring. Pattern 2136 gives that very fresh, crisp look for which everyone strives at this time of year. Not only does its peplum point the way to chic, but it is accented by a border of barred taffeta (or any contrast you prefer) matching the lining of the scarf which forms that gay bow effect. The lovely cape frock, pattern 2137, achieves a marvelous fit by means of its V skirt lines, which further enhances the smartness of the cape. And do notice how cleverly the scarf holds the cape in place through slits at the sides. Contrast the dress top in darker or lighter tone.

Pattern 2136 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 7-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1-8 yards contrasting.

Pattern 2137 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 16 takes 3 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1-4 yards contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

Farmerville

On Friday afternoon a lovely miscellaneous shower was given at the residence of Mrs. S. B. Smith with Mrs. E. N. Killpatrick and Mrs. Lott Jones as co-hostesses, honoring Mrs. O. E. Glover of Bernice, La., who before her recent marriage on January 7, was Miss Ruth Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griffin of this city.

During the afternoon over seventy-five guests called and were greeted by Mrs. Glover, who delightfully expressed her appreciation of the many handsome and useful gifts. These were displayed on lace-covered tables centered by bowls of fragrant white hyacinths.

The Valentine motif was effectively carried out in the serving of delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, hot chocolate, cookies and mints. Assisting in extending courtesies was a group of lovely young girls including Misses Jessie Mae Taylor, Minnie Bob Wilson, Annie Laurie Booth, Waurine Edwards, Jean Calhoun and Ruth Henderson.

Mrs. Harvey Fields received a handsome manicure set for high score. After several spirited games, delightful refreshments were served on wicker trays to the following: Mrs. A. C. Dykes, Mrs. Duke Selig, Mrs. Lester Hartman, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Harvey Fields, Mrs. John W. Taylor, Mrs. Metz Tugwell, Mrs. Hall Terry, Miss Hilda Fuller, Miss Lillian Edwards, Miss Stella Davis and Miss Joye Fields.

The mellow glow of myriads of red and green tapers cast a soft radiance over the handsome entertaining suite in the home of Mrs. A. C. Dykes, when she entertained on Wednesday night with a charming bridge affair. A most delectable dinner was served on wicker trays at the card tables and the Valentine motif was attractively reflected in all the appointments. After the removal of the trays, contract bridge was enjoyed and following the exciting games a beautiful red Venetian fruit basket was awarded to Miss Olivia Barr for high score. Mrs. Wallace A. Abat of Shreveport was presented with a unique ash tray of the same ware. Miss Faye Baughman, who assisted in the courtesies was given a Dresdan tray.

Other guests enjoying the delightful hospitality were Mrs. Duke Selig, Mrs. H. G. Fields, Mrs. J. Y. Green, Mrs. Brodie Green, Mrs. W. B. Miller, Mrs. J. W. Stancil, Jr., Mrs. V. C. Tucker, Mrs. Mike Smith, Mrs. S. L. Hartman, Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Metz Tugwell, Miss Hilda Fuller, Miss Reita Hartman, Miss Mariette Nelson, Miss Irine Clark and Miss Gussie Fenton.

Mrs. Omah Muckleroy entertained Monday afternoon with a party at her home honoring her son's, John Miller, ninth birthday.

The attractive home was lovely with spring flowers. Various games were enjoyed until five o'clock, when the guests were invited in the dining room, where the table was centered with a beautifully decorated cake. The delicious refreshments were served and enjoyed with zest that only youngsters have. The many varied gifts were displayed on a table in the living room. Mrs. Muckleroy was assisted in caring for the little guests by her mother, Mrs. J. D. Miller. Those present were Alva Ann Cobb, Mildred Hammons, Evelyn Hammons, Carolyn Tucker, Billie Jean Taylor, Lita Grey Baker, George Neal Murphy, George Ramsey, Harvey Farley, Jr., Bobby Gale Miller, Jimmie Wainwright, Jimmie Futch, Rowland Dykes, Rabun Smith, Billie Webb Dawkins and Ann Miller.

Mrs. Ben M. Lee and Mrs. Hall Terry introduced their attractive house guest, Miss Myrtle V. Morgan of Gibsland, on Saturday afternoon, featuring games of bridge and hearts in the lovely home of Mrs. Lee. The George Washington theme was reflected in all the decorations and favors.

The honoree was presented with a box of beautiful linen handkerchiefs of different colors and prize for high score in bridge, a box of dusting powder was won by Miss Reita Hartman, while Mrs. J. R. Dawkins captured a nest of china ash trays for high score in hearts.

Refreshments served on tables, centered with tiny red pots of geraniums, consisted of luscious frozen salad, potato chips, sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Those enjoying the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. Lester Hartman, Mrs. P. L. Read, Mrs. J. R. Watkins, Mrs. Doyle Smith, Mrs. Dewey L. Barr, Mrs. Mike Smith, Mrs. Fred Petty, Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr., Mrs. W. J. Turnage, Jr., Mrs. John W. Taylor, Mrs. C. C. Murphy, Miss Faye Baughman, Miss Lillian Edwards, Miss Stella Davis, Miss Reita Hartman, Miss Dorothy Terral and the honoree.

A delectable supper was served before the games were started. Adoring the trays were lovely white potted hyacinths which were awarded to the players who cut high cards.

Mrs. H. G. Fields won a beautiful red Venetian fruit bowl which was high score for the ladies. Mr. J. David Baughman was awarded a novelty ash tray as high score for men. Miss Butterfly Wallace received a very pretty sport handkerchief for second prize. Mrs. A. C. Dykes was given a set of iced tea coasters for low score.

Enjoying the games were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Abat of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Turnage, Mr. and Mrs. Onah Muckleroy, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hartman, Miss Butterfly Wallace, Miss Gussie Fenton, Mrs. Brodie Green, Mrs. Olla Porter, Mr. Lazarus Baughman, Mr. J. David Baughman, Mr. Charlie Robinson and Dr. C. C. Francis.

Claiborne Schools To Join In Celebration

HOMER, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Schools throughout Claiborne parish will join in the nation-wide celebration of the 300th anniversary of the first high schools of America, according to plans announced here by the parish school system.

The progress and development of the various schools of Claiborne parish, from their earliest history, will be given at each of the parish schools March 15.

Old residents, newspaper files, records obtained, as well as many old pictures of the schools in earlier days will be a source of material for this occasion.

The Claiborne schools now have an enrollment of 3,490 white students and six high schools with a total of 3,227 students. The high schools have developed from one-room buildings to many consolidated schools with brick structures and the most up-to-date facilities.

The six high schools are approved and accredited with the high schools of the south. John S. Patton is superintendent of the parish schools.

CHAPTER XLIII

Elinor could not see Barrett's eyes as he spoke. "I thought," he said wearily, "that it might be better for me to go away for a while. I thought perhaps you'd rather not see me often."

"This trip to South America—," she said hesitatingly, "is it work that interests you?"

"It would have—once," he replied.

Elinor rose then and started toward the door but he halted her.

"Elinor!" Barrett said brokenly.

She paused without answering.

"Don't hate me more than you have to, will you? I'm sorry I can't explain it all to you. I'm only trying to do the right thing—"

"I don't hate you, Barrett," she assured him, "but I just can't—talk about it. I'm trying to see your side. Perhaps with time I'll be more reasonable. I hope so. I'll try to be! Just now—"

"Oh, I know!" he said darkly.

He was beside her and for a moment, with a harsh little murmur, he caught her in his arms, holding her close. She did not try to draw away, wanting to feel his arms about her, yet unable to yield, to let him know the emotion she felt.

When his arms dropped she said, "Barrett—"

"Yes, Elinor?"

"How long will you be gone?" There was fright in her voice and loneliness.

• • •

"Four or five months, I suppose," he answered. "Unless you should send word for me to come back and I don't suppose there's any hope of that."

"I don't know. I don't think I even understand myself. I don't know what is the matter with me or why I feel the way I do. Of course I've always known there was this sort of thing in the world. All my life I've seen deceit—"

"And it has made you hate it even more than you would normally," he said. "I understand that. Well," he made an unsuccessful attempt at cheerfulness, "we'll see about a place in the country. What sort of place do you think you would like?"

"I don't care. Whatever you think best—"

So he was going, Elinor realized. He really was going away to leave her for months and months. The thing was settled, a certainty.

"Do you suppose," she faltered, flushing, "that the little boy will like me?"

Barrett smiled his first genuine smile. "I think he may!" he said with a rising inflection that made her know he was teasing. Quickly he stooped and kissed her hair. He said almost harshly, "Now run along!"

She was gone then. Alone Barrett paced the room. Back and forth. Back and forth. He tried to get it all straight in his own mind, thinking about Elinor, about Marcia, about the trip to South America and the miles and miles of land and water there would be between Elinor and him once he was on his way. How dreary and uninteresting the whole trip seemed!

• • •

It was Bessie Thrope who discovered the country house for Elinor. Bessie declared as soon as she had heard their plans that she knew "just the place." The dwelling she had in mind was not far from the Thropes' new home. It stood on a hillside, well back from the road. Bessie pointed out that she and Elinor would be able to spend long afternoons together and that Sexton and the little boy could share play hours.

"I'd love to be near you, Aunt Bessie," Elinor said. Her aunt saw that the girl was fighting to keep back her tears.

"There's something very odd about all this," Bessie reported to Jim that evening as they sat alone on the porch. It was still light and the boys were playing tennis. Now and again a shout floated to them from the court.

"Um—!" said Jim. He twisted the cigar in his mouth and frowned.

"You see, Jim, I don't for a moment believe that things are—well, the way they seem. But Elinor does and that's the pitiable part of it. Barrett came in before I left this afternoon and he looks dreadful. I'm sure that seeing Elinor so unhappy hurts him worse than anything else about the affair. Her misery is more to him than his own."

"Well, you and I can understand that," Jim said slowly.

"Yes, we can. I almost hope he will go away soon and let her reason it all through."

"Maybe he will."

"Of course he may go. I'm not just sure."

"Do you remember," Bessie asked suddenly, "that talk about Marcia years ago? The time she went off to Europe in a great hurry. Remember? She took Annie, that Scotch maid who had served her mother for years—"

"Now that you speak of it I do remember," Jim conceded.

"How long ago was that, Jim?"

"Well, I'm not sure. Let's see—" Her husband paused, musing. "Must be close to 10 years, isn't it?" he questioned in turn.

"Yes, it is!" Bessie agreed grimly. "Oh, Jim—don't you see it all?" she went on eagerly.

Jim didn't. Excitedly she explained. "Oh, I know I'm right about it! I know I am!" Bessie exclaimed. "I knew all along Barrett wasn't that sort—!"

• • •

Two days later Barrett and Elinor drove out to see the house Bessie had described. It was a low, cozily-built dwelling set on the side of a hill and overlooking the sound. The house was larger than it seemed at first glance and everything about it appeared to be satisfactory.

"I do like it!" Elinor assured him in almost the old, warmly confiding way. Such moments always hurt Barrett. They were invariably brief and always followed by a return to even more adamant frigidity.

It was odd, he thought, that a girl who seemed so gentle, so constantly thoughtful of others, could be so stern. He had come to know this sternness and how it could bruise them both. Elinor was changed in other ways too and this worried him. She seemed listless and did not look at all well. He saw that she had lost weight. At meals she was never hungry. Higgins had noticed this, noticed also that Mr. Barrett seemed equally strained and had scarcely any appetite.

Now Barrett said dully, "It is a nice house." Without meaning to, he moved toward her. He became aware of this when Elinor casually and, as if accidentally, moved to widen the space between them. The lines of his face hardened.

"You couldn't be so cruel," he thought, "if you knew how it hurts me."

Aloud he said, "Do you think you want to live here?"

"It will do very well," Elinor answered.

"Then I'll see about the lease tomorrow," he promised. "You'll be able to move in whenever you like."

"I'd like to come soon. I think with Bessie's help I can get everything that's necessary ordered within a week."

He realized that would mean that if he made the trip to South America he would have a few weeks alone in the New York house. A few weeks during which he, in his room would seem to hear her moving in hers.

"Don't you think after all," he said abruptly (for it was not easy to speak of Gerald), "that I'd best pack the youngster off to some summer camp?"

"Don't you think," she asked hotly in turn, "that it's only decent—not to hide him?"

Postoffice Landscaping Bids Mailed To Capital

Bids for beautifying the grounds at the Monroe postoffice, received Thursday, have been mailed to the postoffice department at Washington for approval, J. R. Wooten, postmaster, said here Saturday. It is considered likely that a contract will be awarded and that work may begin within the next few weeks.

Names of the bidders and the amount bid by each were not disclosed by Mr. Wooten. He said he merely received the bids and sent them on to Washington. A list of the bidders is expected to be made public at the time a contract is awarded.

Most of the bids were submitted by nurserymen, as the work of beautifying the grounds will consist chiefly of landscaping and placing shrubs.

AZUCAR, OUTSIDER, WINS SANTA ANITA HANDICAP

EQUIPOISE MAKES POOR SHOWING TO FINISH SEVENTH

Azucar Beats Ladysman And Time Supply With Stretch Drive

By Paul Zimmerman
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

SANTA ANITA PARK, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Azucar, a converted steeplechaser, cleared a $108,400 hurdle in a great stretch drive today, winning the Santa Anita handicap from a field of twenty of the turf's blueboods.

On the wings of a chill north wind came this 7-year-old gelded son of Lilesius out of Clarice, to fly home in front of Ladysman by two lengths. Time Supply was third, three lengths back of the victor, with Top Row fourth.

Forty-five thousand persons who had wagered $239,335 on the event, howled themselves hoarse as the 12 to 1 shot moved in to where Equipoise had been favored to appear.

The great C. V. Whitney thoroughbred, seeking the title of leading money winner of track history, an 8 to 5 choice, never was in a threatening position and wound up seventh, deep in the ruck.

Azucar, finely rated by Jockey George Woolf, made his move at the rail off the last turn, going out from fourth to take the lead in the last furlong. He tired at the end, but it was too late for Ladysman and Time Supply to make the grade.

The net earnings of the race for the stable of F. M. Alger, Jr., of Detroit, set a new world's record, shattering the mark of $105,730 set up in 1929 when Whichone captured the Belmont futurity. The gross stakes of $127,000 here, however, fell short of the mark of $130,260 set up in that race.

Azucar turned in the amazing time of 2 minutes 2 1-5 seconds, a new track record, for the mile and a quarter. It was two and one-fifth seconds faster than the previous mark set up earlier in the day in a field half as large, with War the victor.

Betting on the event also set a California record when the customers pushed $239,335 through the parimutuel windows, more than twice as much as had ever been bet on a single event here before. Of this money, more than $30,000 alone was down on Equipoise to win.

Azucar paid $26.80 to win, $9 to place, and $6.60 to show on $2 tickets, while Ladysman was worth $5.20 and $4.60 and Time Supply $8.40.

A slow starter, Azucar, who was switched to flat racing a year ago, went away from the gates in fourteenth position, after the start had been delayed more than ten minutes while first Head Play and then Equipoise became unruly.

He gained gradually under the expert riding of Woolf to move into eleventh at the quarter post. Picking up his spots with precision, Woolf piloted the victor through the big field into fourth place through the back stretch and brought the thoroughbred to the rail as the field moved into the turn in a mad scramble.

William R. Coe's Ladysman also was smartly ridden. Harry Richards booted the five-year-old son of Pompey along in great fashion, saving all ground close to the pace. He went into seventh position at the quarter post, slipped to eighth after half a mile and then piloted him into third at the three quarters, always close up.

Time Supply, winner of the Bay Meadows and Narragansett handicaps in recent months, was among the leaders from the time the barrier went up until the end. Ridden by Tommy Luther, Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's four-year-old bay colt of Time Maker, was first away from the gate.

He slipped back to third as Ted Clark and High Glee burned up the track through the early stages and held this position until the stirring stretch run. Up into second he moved once but couldn't stay with the pace and dropped off to third again at the end, two lengths in front of Top Row.

Second place money was worth $8,900 net ,third $3,900 and fourth $1,400.

Equipoise was nowhere from start to finish. The seven-year-old son of Pennant got away from an outside position twelfth and was still there as he passed the quarter mark. He ran into much trouble on the back stretch after moving up to seventh and was forced back to twelfth again around the last turn.

The king of the turf tried gamely to make up ground at the end, but was out of the money by that time. The best he could do, in his bid for the title of leading money winner, held by Sun Beau, was to wind up seventh.

Mate, which also had a chance at the Sun Beau crown, wound up just in front of Old Ekky, a head to the good, but two lengths behind valiant Ted Clark, the pace setter, which was fifth.

Time Supply was a length back of Ladysman and two lengths to the good over Top Row. The others finished as follows: Ted Clark, Mate, Equipoise, Gusto, Frank Ormont, Twenty Grand, Sweeping Light, Riskulus, Fleam, Sarada, Mad Frump, Precursor, High Glee, Good Goods, Head Play and Faireno last.

Azucar became excited as he was brought to the charmed circle before the grinding cameras and broke away, dragging one of the grooms with him for 20 yards before he broke clear and raced down the track.

CENTER GRIDDERS END THIRD WEEK OF SPRING WORK

White Team Trounces Gold Shirts In Regulation Contest

Splitting the squad into two groups, Coach Jim Malone sent his Northeast Center Indians through a regulation football game, ending the third week of their spring grid practice yesterday.

The "white team," composed mostly of varsity men of last year's team, ran roughshod over a lighter and less experienced team wearing gold jersies. Behind the powerful running of Mickey Jeffries, white-shirted halfback, the whites scored six touchdowns and added four points to their score to run it up to 34 with place kicks after four of their markers, while holding the other team scoreless.

The entire white backfield composed of Frankie Bono at quarter, Mickey Jeffries and Ed Cashion, halfbacks, and Boly Lemak at fullback, gained almost at will over the gold shirts and showed flashes of midseason form.

Jeffries looked exceptionally good on sweeps around end and appeared to have more speed and drive in his running than he showed last season. Bono and Cashion took care of the blocking duties of their backs and it was their fine work that paved the way for the six touchdowns. Bono, besides his blocking duty, turned in some neat signal calling for his first attempt as a field general and he seemed to have an uncanny ability at calling the right play at the proper time. With a little more experience gained in the spring work, Bono will probably have an inside track for the signal calling position when the Indians open their season in September.

Coach Jim Malone has changed positions for some of his varsity gridders from last year's squad and has Boyd Arnold, starting end last season, shifted to center along with Lloyd Woodell, who has been moved over from guard to the pivot position. Cashion, a reserve guard last year, is back in a halfback position and his work shows that he will give one of last year's starters a fight for one of the wing berths.

Coach Malone said after the practice tilt last night that the Center gridmen would have an even better season than last year, when they lost only three games on what was termed a "suicide" schedule.

There are at least two candidates for every position and some real battles are being waged during the drills.

The schedule for the Indians' 1935 season is rated even tougher than last year's. Coach Malone said that several Arkansas college elevens have been added to it.

With at least three more weeks of spring practice to go, the railbirds are eagerly gathering each Saturday for the squad game to get a first hand view of how the Indians will line up in the coming grid season.

The winning white team had Tinsley and Mays, ends; Williamson and Sanderford, tackles; Young and James, guards; Woodell, center; Bono, quarterback; Jeffries and Cashion, halfbacks, and Lemak, fullback.

The gold eleven started the game with Cagle and French, ends; Wroten and Manning, tackles; Spillar and Fields, guards; Arnold, center; Day, fullback; Rachel and Scarbough, halfbacks, and Mosley, quarterback.

Nusslein And Kozeluh Meet In Pro Net Final

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Hans Nusslein, the amiable mechanical marvel from Berlin, and Karel Kozeluh, a determined Czechoslovakian from Norwood, Ill., will match their precise European games again tomorrow in the final round of the Miami Beach professional tennis tourney.

It will be their first meeting since Nusslein took the national professional title from the veteran Kozeluh in Chicago last summer.

The last American-born players were eliminated today when Nusslein defeated Vincent Richards, once a Davis cup star, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2, and Kozeluh staved off young Bruce Barnes, of Austin, Texas, 6-2, 6-1, 5-7, 6-2.

In the doubles final, the German and Czech again will be on opposite sides of the net, Nusslein with Arthur Dudolph of Hartford, Conn., and Kozeluh with Barnes.

Ferriday Independents Lose To Natchez Quint

FERRIDAY, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Ferriday's newly organized independents, sponsored by the Louisiana Power and Light company, were defeated in Natchez Thursday night by the Natchez Independents by a score of 23 to 11 in a close, hard fought contest.

Morris Dought with nine points led for the winners. Roy Cloy was next with six. McKenzie with six was high scorer for Ferriday while Drane, Allred and Willard Schuchs each contributed two each. A return game will be played here at an early date.

Browns Give Fay Thomas Fourth Crack At Majors

(By NEA Service)

He couldn't make the grade with the Giants, Yankees, and Indians, so Fay Thomas, at the age of 29, again is attempting to crack the majors, this time with the St. Louis Browns.

The big right-hander, from his performance with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast loop in 1934, now has the best prospects of sticking in any of his attempts. His record with the Angels was 28 victories and only 4 defeats, which was rated sensational by coast observers and major league scouts.

The former University of Southern California student was the leading strikeout artist of the league, whiffing 202 batters.

HAGEN LEADS IN GASPARILLA OPEN

Veteran Pro Astounds Gallery With Remarkable Card Of 64

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Walter Hagen, the forgotten man of golf, pulled out of the past the golden touch that once enabled him to rule the world's fairways, clipped six strokes from par and captured a two-stroke lead in the first 18 holes of the $3,000 72-hole medal play Gasparilla open at Palma Ceia here today.

His card read 31-33—64.

The last professional to tee off in a colorful field of 115, "The Hague" caught up on the first nine with the youngsters who have been giving him all manner of lacings in recent years, then passed them on the home nine with a rush that left them tottering in his wake.

It was less than a month ago that Hagen paid the $5 entrance fee in a California tournament, then won the sum of $6.25 as the McSpadens, the Picards, the Revoltas, etc., carried off the big prize money. Today those golfing youngsters knew what it was to look helplessly at the flying heels of "The Hague," the old master.

A little luck with his putter and he might have posted a score that would have made golf history. As it was, a record gallery gasped time and again as he dropped magnificent approaches within three feet of the pins. His mashie niblick shot on No. 18 fell less than two feet from the cup for a four and his seventh birdie of the round.

Two strokes behind trailed Gene Kunes, of Hollywood, with 35-31—66, while bracketed in third place were Bob Stupple, of Glencoe, Ill., with 36-32—68, and Billie Burke of Belleair, Fla., former United States open champion, with 33-35—68.

Johnny Farrell, of Hollywood, Fla., another former United States open champion with 34-35—69, and Clarence Clark, the towering pro from Bloomfield, N. J., with 36-33—69, tied for fourth place.

Denny Shute, of Philadelphia, former British open champion and winner of the last two Gasparilla opens, turned in the only par score of the day, a 34-36—70, for fifth place.

One-fifth of the people accidentally killed in the United States die in mishaps caused by poor sight.

5 RECORDS FALL IN A. A. U. TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Cunningham Again Demonstrates Superiority In Mile Event

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Five world record shattering performances, including two by Ohio State's brilliant negro sprinter, Jesse Owens, and another by the all-conquering Glenn Cunningham marked an exciting battle for the national senior A. A. U. indoor track and field championships tonight before a near capacity crowd of 15,000 in Madison Square Garden.

Two other indoor marks were equalled, with new championship meet records set up in seven events as the New York Athletic club easily retained the team championship. Wearers of the winged foot compiled the victorious total of 36 points.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)—Capping the climax of a wholesale attack upon world indoor records tonight in the national senior A. A. U. track and field championships, Glenn Cunningham continued his all conquering sweep with a spectacular 1,500 meter triumph over Bill Bonthron of the New York A. C., in the new record time of 3 minutes, 50.5 seconds.

Cunningham, taking the lead from Erik Ny of Sweden after two laps and setting a sizzling pace all the way, roared down the stretch to break the tape 40 yards in front of Bonthron, who snapped out of his slump to the extent of outfooting Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania in a spirited fight for second place. Ny was fourth.

The former University of Kansas star clipped nearly two full seconds off his own former world indoor record of 3:52.2, set last year in the same meet in which he got an eyelash decision over Bonthron.

Cunningham, in keeping his slate clean for the indoor season and demonstrating once again that he is in a class by himself among American milers, hung up the fifth world indoor record of the meet.

Two of the record performances were credited to Ohio State's Jesse Owens, negro star, who retained the broad jump title with 25 feet 9 inches and lowered the 60 meter sprint mark to 6.6 seconds, although yielding in the final dash to Ben Johnson, Columbia negro, in record equalling time.

The Holy Cross relay team, anchored by Timothy Ring, lost a stirring duel with the New York Curb Exchange A. A., in the 600 meter championship. The winners' time of 3:20.7 set a new championship meet record.

John W. (Bill) Follows of Washingto, D. C., competing for the New York A. C., led his club mate, Paul Rekers, by 20 yards in successfully defending the 5,000 meter run title. Follows opened up with his characteristic spring, two laps from home, and pulled away to win as he pleased in the slow time of 15:18.8. Last in the field of seven was Indiana's Don Lash, national A. A. U. cross country champion.

Milton Sandler of the German American A. C., New York, retained the 600 meter championship by running a front race all the way to beat Jim Elliott of Villa Nova by three yards in 1.21.9, only a half second short of his own record time.

Jack Torrance, giant Louisiana State athlete and holder of the world outdoor shotput record of 57 feet, 1 inch, failed for the second straight week to surpass the indoor standard of 52 meet, 8 3-8 inches, held by Leo Sexton. Torrance won easily from mediocre competition, but his best toss measured only 49 feet, 7 inches.

Joe McCluskey, reinstated after a brief brush with the A. A. U., celebrated by galloping to an easy triumph in defense of the 3,000 meter steeplechase championship for the

OUACHITA GIRLS WIN THIRD PLACE

Monroe Girls Beat Poland; Jena And Dry Prong Win Titles

ALEXANDRIA, La., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Last year's winners in the central Louisiana high school basketball tournament were toppled from their thrones in the final games of the fourteenth annual meet at Louisiana college tonight.

The Poland boys, 1934 champions, lost to Jena Giants, 29 to 27, while the Castor girls bowed to Dry Prong, 33 to 16.

Poland led the boys final until the last five minutes when Jena tied the score and nosed out the Rapides parish team.

LeCompte placed third by beating Bolton (Alexandria) 32 to 12 while the Ouachita (Monroe) girls captured third honors by defeating Poland, 38 to 30.

The sportsmanship award for boys was presented to Lester Chisholm of West Lake. The girls trophy went to Edna Blanche Corbett of Poland. All central squad selections by officials: Nicholson, Frances, Dosher, Jena; Hathorn, Herrin, Tillman, Poland; Welch, Jackson, LeCompte; Williamson, Bolton; Chisholm, West Lake.

BILLIARD EXHIBITION SLATED WEDNESDAY

George Spears, veteran billiard instructor, will devote one hour to teaching the fundamentals of the billiard game, free of charge, to those attending his exhibition which is scheduled at the Buckhorn Billiard parlor, 125 DeSiard street, at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, it was announced yesterday. This invitation is extended to the women as well as the men. The exhibition is being held under the direction of the National Billiard association of America.

Spears needs no introduction to billiard fans throughout the country. He has been playing regularly for 45 years, during which time he has traveled many times throughout the United States with such veterans as Jake Schaefer, Albert Cutler and others.

Spears was born in Shelby, Mich., in 1871. At the age of 16 he won the pocket billiard championship of Michigan but he has never entered a national or world's championship, having specialized on matched games and exhibitions of all styles of billiards.

At an exhibition game of straight rail he ran 5,041 without a miss. This occurred at Jackson, Mich., in 1895. In Sioux City, Iowa, in 1915, he scored a thousand point game in spot. In 1921 in Boston, Mass., playing against Yamada and Sutton, Spears, playing 100 or no count, ran 8 straight games in spot. He has a high run of 198 in 18.1 balkline and 332 in 18.2.

From 1887 to 1888 he was a pitcher in the Tri-State baseball league. He has devoted some of his life to boxing. Spears is of a genial disposition and willing at all times to help those interested in the game.

CHOUDRANT AND ATHENS WIN IN RUSTON FINALS

Coushatta And Collinston Nosed Out In Battles For Cage Titles

RUSTON, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Choudrant and Athens high schools won basketball championships in the boys' and girls' divisions, respectively, in the finals of the annual north Louisiana rally here tonight. Choudrant defeated Coushatta, 32 to 28, in the boys' game and Athens nosed out Collinston, 29 to 28, in the girls' bracket.

Both finals were hard fought throughout and produced plenty of thrills for the big crowd which packed Louisiana Tech's gym to witness the battles. The Choudrant team played impressively to down Coushatta for the title, but the Lincoln parish boys had to put out, for Coushatta also put up a stirring scrap.

The Collinston-Athens scrap also was a thriller. The two teams waged a similar duel at Athens several weeks ago, only Collinston came out ahead by a single point. Today, however, Athens was able to turn the tables on the defending state champions.

In the battles for third place, Harris defeated Manifest, 34 to 17, in the boys' division, and Pleasant Hill trimmed Bastrop, 38 to 22, in the girls' tourney.

Three teams in each division will be allowed to enter the state tournament at Baton Rouge and thus Choudrant, Coushatta and Harris will compete in the boys' division and Athens, Collinston and Pleasant Hill will represent north Louisiana in the girls' tournament. Thus Collinston and Athens may hook up again in one of their spectacular battles.

In the semi-finals played at Tech gym this morning, Choudrant shaded Harris, 36 to 34, and Coushatta won from Manifest, 27 to 19. In the girls' division, Collinston eliminated Pleasant Hill, 24 to 11, and Athens disposed of Bastrop, 31 to 15.

The strongest teams in years competed in the annual two-day tournament here and large crowds were treated to some excellent basketball.

BULLDOGS INVITED TO S. I. A. A. MEET

Louisiana Tech Meets Wofford In First Game Next Saturday

Millsaps college will meet Stetson university of Deland, Fla., next Friday night while Western Kentucky Teachers meet Charleston in the other first-round game.

Other Saturday games will pit Wofford against Louisiana Tech, Union university against the Millsaps-Stetson winner and Centenary against Murray.

Sheriff Knight and Henry Jackson of Murfreesboro, Tenn., will be the officials.

The ten teams with the best records for each district of the southern states into which the association is divided, including Mississippi college and Millsaps, will be entered in the tournament.

OLE MISS BEATS SEWANEE

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Ole Miss again emerged the victors over Sewanee by the one-sided score of 42 to 13, in the last game of a series here. Williams, speedy ole Miss forward, led the scoring with a total of 15 points, Curtis was next with 9 points. For the Sewanee quintet Pearson was the outstanding performer with a total of 5 points to his credit.

RUTH TAKES TO GYM TO REDUCE FIGURE

Whether it was to get in shape for another season with the Yankees, or merely for the general good of the Ruthian figure, the great man waddled into the gymnasium of Artie McGovern, his trainer and huffed and puffed through an hour of snappy drilling.

He went through all the floor exercises, including muscle bending, and then topped off the work-out with a brisk game of squash.

"He's in good shape," McGovern said afterwards, "and I don't see why he couldn't play another year if he wanted to. His condition is as good as it has been for the last five years."

Ruth weighed 237 today against the 256 he scaled when he began his spring gym drills in 1931.

The Babe will leave tonight or tomorrow for a short hunting trip in up-state New York. He will resume his gymnasium visits on his return n xt week.

STAPLES VOTED BEST ATHLETE

Ouachita Star Gets 2,785 Votes And Receives Suit Of Clothes

Truman Staples, Ouachita parish high school's football, basketball and track star, was adjudged Monroe's most valuable high school athlete by popular vote here last week and will be awarded a suit of clothes by Fink the Tailor. Staples received 2,785 votes.

Seven athletes received votes in the annual contest but Staples easily outdistanced the field. He apparently was given the entire support of Ouachita fans, as he was the only Lion to receive a nomination. Six Neville high school athletes received votes.

Staples formerly held down a tackle berth on the Ouachita football team but last year Coach Ben Rush made him a regular in the Lion backfield and he was a sensation. He barely missed out on the first team of the annual all-state selection and local fans believe he is one of the best halfbacks ever produced in high school circles hereabouts. Staples also is a star guard on the Ouachita basketball team. Coach Joe Aillet, of Haynesville, recently declared that the Lion husky is one of the best players in the state. Staples also is a point winner in track. His specialties are the shot and discus in the field events and the quarter mile in the track division.

The balloting opened last Monday and continued until Friday night. The committee composed of Dr. W. L. Bendel, Dr. Joe Brown and George Lofton counted the votes last night. There were 3,790 votes cast.

Truman Staples, Ouachita, 2,785.
Tommy Nicholson, Neville, 566.
Isaac Luffey, Neville, 294.
James Summerall, Neville, 68.
Richard Basco, Neville, 41.
Darius Crews, Neville, 21.
Milo Mattinson, Neville, 15.

Hazuda Establishes His Residence At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Mickey Hazuda, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., has established headquarters in Ferriday and in the future the popular 165-pound fighter, who meets "Baby" Childers, 167, of Luarel, Miss., in the main event on the American Legion's program here February 27, will call Ferriday his place of residence.

Mickey has been stationed here for several weeks now and is training for his bout with Childers and for other scraps in Alexandria, Shreveport and other cities. He said he wishes to notify fight managers and promoters interested in him to get in touch with him through Promoter Jimmy Skinner of the local Legion post.

MORELAND, EATON REACH FINALS IN HOUSTON TOURNEY

Southwest Stars Rally To Beat Dawson And Odom In Semi-Finals

HOUSTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Staging remarkable comebacks during the afternoon round, Gus Moreland, Walker Cup team member from Dallas, and Zell Eaton, Oklahoma City's western amateur champion, marched into the finals of the 21st annual Houston Country club championship today.

A sensational round of sub par golf that left Moreland five under for 17 holes placed him in the finals of the invitation event for the fifth straight year. Johnny Dawson, defending champion from Chicago, was a victim of Moreland's assault on par and a 3 and 1 loser.

Today's victory gave Moreland the edge over his Chicago rival and avenged the 5 and 3 defeat Moreland suffered last year in the finals. Dawson's win over the Dallas star last February ruined Moreland's chance of establishing a new tournament record for consecutive victories.

Liwe Moreland, Eaton had to turn in below par figures to dust Fred Odom, New Orleans star, 4 up and 3 to play. Two down at the end of the first 18 holes, the western amateur champion chipped a couple into the cup on the outbound nine and then went on to take the match.

Eaton, after winning medal honors with a fine 770-71, slipped through a couple of mediocre rounds but his play today indicates he is ready for a great bid for the title tomorrow when he fights it out with Moreland. The morning 18 holes will get under way at 9:30. The pair will tee off at 2 p. m. for the second trip over the course.

One down at luncheon, the result of a 75, Moreland grabbed five straight birdies and for a time it appeared that he would score a top-heavy victory over the defending champion.

But Dawson came back when Moreland missed par at the 25th and regained another hole with a birdie three at the 26th. Moreland's bogy at the 27th gave Dawson another role and the match was all square.

Moreland was out in 33 for the afternoon, but was able to gain but one hole on Dawson, whose medal totaled 35.

At the 28th Moreland rapped a 30-foot side hill putt for his sixth birdie in 10 holes and stepped back into the lead. But Dawson came right back with a birdie three at the 29th, to square the count.

Moreland made it two up with a par three at the 237-yard 34th hole.

At the 35th Dawson caught the trap with his second and Moreland played safely, using an iron that finished short of the green on the par five. Dawson exploded 15 feet past the pin with Moreland chipping six feet beyond. Dawson missed his try for a four and conceded Moreland's putt for the birdie, making the count 3 and 1.

Odom, who had played some sensational golf through preliminary rounds, continued to push par in the morning when he was around in 72, to gain a two up advantage over Zell Eaton.

With his work cut out for him the western amateur champion slipped into his best form in the afternoon and his outward nine of 34, two under, gave him a two-up lead.

Winning the 20th with a par three, Eaton squared the match when he chipped into the cup from about 50 feet off the green at the 21st. The chip shot gave him a birdie. Eaton went one up with a par five at the 23rd and he chipped in against the 24th for a birdie two.

Eaton was par at the 28th to return three up and another par at the 29th placed the Oklahoma City golfer four up. Odom's herd won the 30th hole and then Eaton picked up the 31st with a par. Eaton was over at the next hole but closed out with a bird at the 33rd.

The western champion's exhibition this afternoon found him hitting the ball in the same manner as when the tournament started. He was having a bit of trouble in early rounds of match play, but with his game back on edge the finals should produce some of the greatest golf in the history of the championship.

Conference Boxing Meet To Be Held At Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Tulane university will sponsor the Southeastern conference championship boxing tournament here on March 8-9, Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, Wave athletic director, announced today.

Eight institutions in the conference that carry on intercollegiate boxing have already assured Tulane that they would compete. The last boxing tournament in the conference was held at Tulane two years ago when the Greenies won the team championship.

University of Mississippi, University of Georgia, University of Florida, Mississippi State, Louisiana State, University of Alabama, University of Tennessee and Tulane are the teams which will compete, with the possibility that one or more intsitutions among the other five conference members may send teams.

Rickey Starts With The Cardinals $175,000 In Debt

By Harry Grayson
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

After five years with the Browns, which saw him ousted as manager in the peace settlement with the Federal league, the spirited Branch Rickey organized a group of St. Louisians that purchased the Cardinals from Mrs. Helene Robinson Britton in 1917.

Replaced as boss of the Browns by Fielder Jones when Philip de Catesby Ball bought the club at the conclusion of the 1915 season, Rickey had held on as vice president and business manager on the strength of an expired contract.

Ban Johnson appreciated Rickey's capabilities. The leader of the American league wanted to keep him in the circuit. Ball didn't relish B. R.'s going over to the opposition. The league took the case to court, but Rickey won the suit and the right to the presidency of the National league club.

Rickey, ably assisted by James C. Jones, a prominent attorney, had civic leaders make a house-to-house canvass, selling stock at $25 a share.

Sam Breadon, an automobile distributor, invested $2,000. He is president of the vast Cardinal system today, and this winter only a last-minute htich prevented him from selling his holding to Lew Wentz, Oklahoma oil multi-millionaire, for more than a million.

• • •

Rickey Leaves New Venture Flat to Fight in France

The Cardinals were a poor club, on the field and off, when Rickey assumed command, however. About the only things the organization had plenty of were debts, hopes, and energy, with the indefatigable Rickey supplying practically all of the latter.

Miller Huggins was manager, and the American League retaliated for the loss of Rickey by snatching Huggins for the affluent New York Yankees after the first year.

Things went from bad to worse, with Rickey himself capping the climax by resigning the presidency in June, 1918, to serve as a major with the A. E. F. in the chemical warfare service.

A third-place club drifted to a tail-ender under Jack Hendricks while Rickey was away, and Hendricks was fired.

The Cardinals were $175,000 in debt when Rickey returned from the war. The situation appeared hopeless, but the resourceful Rickey had Rogers Hornsby and an idea. In the interest of economy, he decided to manage the Red Birds himself.

Rickey's legal business at Boise, Idaho, was as poor as his health when physicians advised him to get out into the open air in 1912.

The man destined to introduce mass production ivory farming as head of the Cardinals didn't even have railroad fare when Col. Robert Lee Hedges, owner of the Browns, asked him to meet him at Salt Lake for a conference in regard to a baseball position. Colonel Hedges provided the necessary funds.

• • •

B. R. Succeeds Stovall; Managed Against Will

Colonel Hedges contemplated purchasing the Kansas City Blues from George Tebeau, and sought Rickey as head of the club. The deal fell through, and B. R. wound up as business manager of the Browns. He also acted as a scout.

"I believe it was a letter I wrote for Mr. Hedges to a holdout that impressed my employer," says Rickey.

"Gradually, I assumed responsibilities for Mr. Hedges and one day, in 1913, I learned that George Stovall, because of an incident on the field, was to be released as manager. Mr. Hedges told me he wanted me to take charge of the club. I had no previous experience, had been away from the playing side of the game for four years, and did not want the position.

"It was not by personal choice that I managed either the Browns or the Cardinals. I took these places as a matter of expediency, and, in the case of the Cardinals, economy. Whether I was a success or failure does not make much difference. I did not care to manage, but knowing that it was to fall to my lot, I put a great deal of study into the thing."

AZUCAR, OUTSIDER, WINS SANTA ANITA HANDICAP

Torrance Again Fails To Set Record; Hardin Eliminated

EQUIPOISE MAKES POOR SHOWING TO FINISH SEVENTH

Azucar Beats Ladysman And Time Supply With Stretch Drive

By Paul Zimmerman
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

SANTA ANITA PARK, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Azucar, a converted steeplechaser, cleared a $108,400 hurdle in a great stretch drive today, winning the Santa Anita handicap from a field of twenty of the turf's bluebloods.

On the wings of a chill north wind came this 7-year-old gelded son of Lilesius out of Clarice, to fly home in front of Ladysman by two lengths. Time Supply was third, three lengths back of the victor, with Top Row fourth.

Forty-five thousand persons who had wagered $239,335 on the event, howled themselves hoarse as the 12 to 1 shot moved in to where Equipoise had been favored to appear.

The great C. V. Whitney thoroughbred, seeking the title of leading money winner of track history, an 8 to 5 choice, never was in a threatening position and wound up seventh, deep in the ruck.

Azucar, finely rated by Jockey George Woolf, made his move at the rail off the last turn, going out from fourth to take the lead in the last furlong. He tired at the end, but it was too late for Ladysman and Time Supply to make the grade.

The net earnings of the race for the stable of F. M. Alger, Jr., of Detroit, set a new world's record, shattering the mark of $105,730 set up in 1929 when Whichone captured the Belmont futurity. The gross stakes of $127,000 here, however, fell short of the mark of $130,260 set up in that race.

Azucar turned in the amazing time of 2 minutes 2 1-5 seconds, a new track record, for the mile and a quarter. It was two and one-fifth seconds faster than the previous mark set up earlier in the day in a field half as large, with War the victor.

Betting on the event also set a California record when the customers pushed $239,335 through the parimutuel windows, more than twice as much as had ever been bet on a single event here before. Of this money, more than $30,000 alone was down on Equipoise to win.

Azucar paid $26.80 to win, $9 to place, and $6.60 to show on $2 tickets, while Ladysman was worth $5.20 and $4.60 and Time Supply $8.40.

A slow starter, Azucar, who was switched to flat racing a year ago, went away from the gates in fourteenth position, after the start had been delayed more than ten minutes while first Head Play and then Equipoise became unruly.

He gained gradually under the expert riding of Woolf to move into eleventh at the quarter post. Picking up his spots with precision, Woolf piloted the victor through the big field into fourth place through the back stretch and brought the thoroughbred to the rail as the field moved into the turn in a mad scramble.

William R. Coe's Ladysman also was smartly ridden. Harry Richards booted the five-year-old son of Pompey along in great fashion, saving all ground close to the pace. He went into seventh position at the quarter post, slipped to eighth after half a mile and then piloted him into third at the three quarters, always close up.

Time Supply, winner of the Bay Meadows and Narragansett handicaps in recent months, was among the leaders from the time the barrier went up until the end. Ridden by Tommy Luther, Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's four-year-old bay colt of Time Maker, was first away from the gate.

He slipped back to third as Ted Clark and High Glee burned up the track through the early stages and held this position until the stirring stretch run. Up into second he moved once but couldn't stay with the pace and dropped off to third again at the end, two lengths in front of Top Row.

Second place money was worth $8,900 net ,third $3,900 and fourth $1,400.

Equipoise was nowhere from start to finish. The seven-year-old son of Pennant got away from an outside position twelfth and was still there as he passed the quarter mark. He ran into much trouble on the back stretch after moving up to seventh and was forced back to twelfth again around the last turn.

The king of the turf tried gamely to make up ground at the end, but was out of the money by that time. The best he could do, in his bid for the title of leading money winner, held by Sun Beau, was to wind up seventh.

Mate, which also had a chance at the Sun Beau crown, wound up just in front of Old Ekky, a head to the good, but two lengths behind valiant Ted Clark, the pace setter, which was fifth.

Time Supply was a length back of Ladysman and two lengths to the good over Top Row. The others finished as follows: Ted Clark, Mate, Equipoise, Gusto, Frank Ormont, Twenty Grand, Sweeping Light, Riskulus, Fleam, Sarada, Mad Frump, Precursor, High Glee, Good Goods, Head Play and Faireno last.

Azucar became excited as he was brought to the charmed circle before the grinding cameras and broke away, dragging one of the grooms with him for 20 yards before he broke clear and raced down the track.

White Team Trounces Gold Shirts In Regulation Contest

Splitting the squad into two groups, Coach Jim Malone sent his Northeast Center Indians through a regulation football game, ending the third week of their spring grid practice yesterday.

The "white team," composed mostly of varsity men of last year's team, ran roughshod over a lighter and less experienced team wearing gold jersies. Behind the powerful running of Mickey Jeffries, white-shirted halfback, the whites scored six touchdowns and added four points to their score to run it up to 34 with place kicks after four of their markers, while holding the other team scoreless.

The entire white backfield composed of Frankie Bono at quarter, Mickey Jeffries and Ed Cashion, halfbacks, and Boly Lemak at fullback, gained almost at will over the gold shirts and showed flashes of midseason form.

Jeffries looked exceptionally good on sweeps around end and appeared to have more speed and drive in his running than he showed last season. Bono and Cashion took care of the blocking duties of their backs and it was their fine work that paved the way for the six touchdowns. Bono, besides his blocking duty, turned in some neat signal calling for his first attempt as a field general and he seemed to have an uncanny ability at calling the right play at the proper time. With a little more experience gained in the spring work, Bono will probably have an inside track for the signal calling position when the Indians open their season in September.

Coach Jim Malone has changed positions for some of his varsity gridders from last year's squad and has Boyd Arnold, starting end last season, shifted to center along with Lloyd Woodell, who has been moved over from guard to the pivot position. Cashion, a reserve guard last year, is back in a halfback position and his work shows that he will give one of last year's starters a fight for one of the wing berths.

Coach Malone said after the practice tilt last night that the Center gridmen would have an even better season than last year, when they lost only three games on what was termed a "suicide" schedule.

There are at least two candidates for every position and some real battles are being waged during the drills.

The schedule for the Indians' 1935 season is rated even tougher than last year's. Coach Malone said that several Arkansas college elevens have been added to it.

With at least three more weeks of spring practice to go, the railbirds are eagerly gathering each Saturday for the squad game to get a first hand view of how the Indians will line up in the coming grid season.

The winning white team had Tinsley and Mays, ends; Williamson and Sanderford, tackles; Young and James, guards; Woodell, center; Bono, quarterback; Jeffries and Cashion, halfbacks, and Lemak, fullback.

The gold eleven started the game with Cagle and French, ends; Wroten and Manning, tackles; Spillar and Fields, guards; Arnold, center; Day, fullback; Rachel and Scarbough, halfbacks, and Mosley, quarterback.

Nusslein And Kozeluh Meet In Pro Net Final

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Hans Nusslein, the amiable mechanical marvel from Berlin, and Karel Kozeluh, a determined Czechoslovakian from Norwood, Ill., will match their precise European games again tomorrow in the final round of the Miami Beach professional tennis tourney.

It will be their first meeting since Nusslein took the national professional title from the veteran Kozeluh in Chicago last summer.

The last American-born players were eliminated today when Nusslein defeated Vincent Richards, once a Davis cup star, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2, and Kozeluh staved off young Bruce Barnes, of Austin, Texas, 6-2, 6-1, 5-7, 6-2.

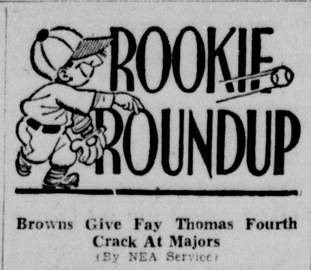

In the doubles final, the German and Czech again will be on opposite sides of the net, Nusslein with Arthur Dudolph of Hartford, Conn., and Kozeluh with Barnes.

Ferriday Independents Lose To Natchez Quint

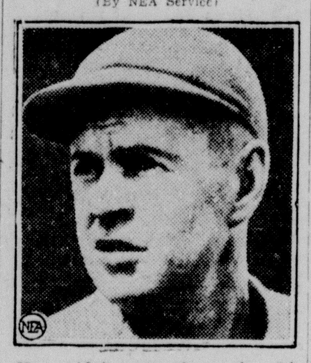

FERRIDAY, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Ferriday's newly organized independents, sponsored by the Louisiana Power and Light company, were defeated in Natchez Thursday night by the Natchez Independents by a score of 23 to 11 in a close, hard fought contest.

Morris Dought with nine points led for the winners. Roy Cloy was next with six. McKenzie with six was high scorer for Ferriday while Drane, Allred and Willard Schuchs each contributed two each. A return game will be played here at an early date.

ROOKIE ROUNDUP

Browns Give Fay Thomas Fourth Crack At Majors
(By NEA Service)

He couldn't make the grade with the Giants, Yankees, and Indians, so Fay Thomas, at the age of 29, again is attempting to crack the majors, this time with the St. Louis Browns.

The big right-hander, from his performance with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast loop in 1934, now has the best prospects of sticking in any of his attempts. His record with the Angels was 28 victories and only 4 defeats, which was rated sensational by coast observers and major league scouts.

The former University of Southern California student was the leading strikeout artist of the league, whiffing 202 batters.

HAGEN LEADS IN GASPARILLA OPEN

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Walter Hagen, the forgotten man of golf, pulled out of the past the golden touch that once enabled him to rule the world's fairways, clipped six strokes from par and captured a two-stroke lead in the first 18 holes of the $3,000 72-hole medal play Gasparilla open at Palma Ceia here today.

His card read 31-33—64.

The last professional to tee off in a colorful field of 115, "The Hague" caught up on the first nine with the youngsters who have been giving him all manner of lacings in recent years, then passed them on the home nine with a rush that left them tottering in his wake.

It was less than a month ago that Hagen paid the $5 entrance fee in a California tournament, then won the sum of $6.25 as the McSpadens, the Picards, the Revoltas, etc., carried off the big prize money. Today those golfing youngsters knew what it was to look helplessly at the flying heels of "The Hague," the old master.

A little luck with his putter and he might have posted a score that would have made golf history. As it was, a record gallery gasped time and again as he dropped magnificent approaches within three feet of the pins. His mashie niblick shot on No. 18 fell less than two feet from the cup for a four and his seventh birdie of the round.

Two strokes behind trailed Gene Kunes, of Hollywood, with 35-31—66, while bracketed in third place were Bob Stupple, of Glencoe, Ill., with 36-32—68, and Billie Burke of Belleair, Fla., former United States open champion, with 33-35—68.

Johnny Farrell, of Hollywood, Fla., another former United States open champion with 34-35—69, and Clarence Clark, the towering pro from Bloomfield, N. J., with 36-33—69, tied for fourth place.

Denny Shute, of Philadelphia, former British open champion and winner of the last two Gasparilla opens, turned in the only par score of the day, a 34-36—70, for fifth place.

5 RECORDS FALL IN A. A. U. TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Cunningham Again Demonstrates Superiority In Mile Event

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Five world record shattering performances, including two by Ohio State's brilliant negro sprinter, Jesse Owens, and another by the all-conquering Glenn Cunningham marked an exciting battle for the national senior A. A. U. indoor track and field championships tonight before a near capacity crowd of 15,000 in Madison Square Garden.

Two other indoor marks were equalled, with new championship meet records set up in seven events as the New York Athletic club easily retained the team championship. Wearers of the winged foot compiled the victorious total of 36 points.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)—Capping the climax of a wholesale attack upon world indoor records tonight in the national senior A. A. U. track and field championships, Glenn Cunningham continued his all conquering sweep with a spectacular 1,500 meter triumph over Bill Bonthron of the New York A. C., in the new record time of 3 minutes, 50.5 seconds.

Cunningham, taking the lead from Erik Ny of Sweden after two laps and setting a sizzling pace all the way, roared down the stretch to break the tape 40 yards in front of Bonthron, who snapped out of his slump to the extent of outfooting Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania in a spirited fight for second place. Ny was fourth.

The former University of Kansas star clipped nearly two full seconds off his own former world indoor record of 3:52.2, set last year in the same meet in which he got an eyelash decision over Bonthron.

Cunningham, in keeping his slate clean for the indoor season and demonstrating once again that he is in a class by himself among American milers, hung up the fifth world indoor record of the meet.

Two of the record performances were credited to Ohio State's Jesse Owens, negro star, who retained the broad jump title with 25 feet 9 inches and lowered the 60 meter sprint mark to 6.6 seconds, although yielding in the final dash to Ben Johnson, Columbia negro, in record equalling time.

The Holy Cross relay team, anchored by Timothy Ring, lost a stirring duel with the New York Curb Exchange A. A., in the 600 meter championship. The winners' time of 3:20.7 set a new championship meet record.

John W. (Bill) Follows of Washingto, D. C., competing for the New York A. C., led his club mate, Paul Rekers, by 20 yards in successfully defending the 5,000 meter run title. Follows opened up with his characteristic spring, two laps from home, and pulled away to win as he pleased in the slow time of 15:18.8. Last in the field of seven was Indiana's Don Lash, national A. A. U. cross country champion.

Milton Sandler of the German American A. C., New York, retained the 600 meter championship by running a front race all the way to beat Jim Elliott of Villa Nova by three yards in 1.21.9, only a half second short of his own record time.

Jack Torrance, giant Louisiana State athlete and holder of the world outdoor shotput record of 57 feet, 1 inch, failed for the second straight week to surpass the indoor standard of 52 meet, 8 3-8 inches, held by Leo Sexton. Torrance won easily from mediocre competition, but his best toss measured only 49 feet, 7 inches.

Joe McCluskey, reinstated after a brief brush with the A. A. U., celebrated by galloping to an easy triumph in defense of the 3,000 meter steeplechase championship for the

OUACHITA GIRLS WIN THIRD PLACE

Monroe Girls Beat Poland; Jena And Dry Prong Win Titles

ALEXANDRIA, La., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Last year's winners in the central Louisiana high school basketball tournament were toppled from their thrones in the final games of the fourteenth annual meet at Louisiana college tonight.

The Poland boys, 1934 champions, lost to Jena Giants, 29 to 27, while the Castor girls bowed to Dry Prong, 33 to 16.

Poland led the boys final until the last five minutes when Jena tied the score and nosed out the Rapides parish team.

LeCompte placed third by beating Bolton (Alexandria) 32 to 12 while the Ouachita (Monroe) girls captured third honors by defeating Poland, 38 to 30.

The sportsmanship award for boys was presented to Lester Chisholm of West Lake. The girls trophy went to Edna Blanche Corbett of Poland. All central squad selections by officials: Nicholson, Frances, Dosher, Jena; Hathorn, Herrin, Tillman, Poland; Welch, Jackson, LeCompte; Williamson, Bolton; Chisholm, West Lake.

BILLIARD EXHIBITION SLATED WEDNESDAY

George Spears, veteran billiard instructor, will devote one hour to teaching the fundamentals of the billiard game, free of charge, to those attending his exhibition which is scheduled at the Buckhorn Billiard parlor, 125 DeSiard street, at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, it was announced yesterday. This invitation is extended to the women as well as the men. The exhibition is being held under the direction of the National Billiard association of America.

Spears needs no introduction to billiard fans throughout the country. He has been playing regularly for 45 years, during which time he has traveled many times throughout the United States with such veterans as Jake Schaefer, Albert Cutler and others.

Spears was born in Shelby, Mich., in 1871. At the age of 16 he won the pocket billiard championship of Michigan but he has never entered a national or world's championship, having specialized on matched games and exhibitions of all styles of billiards.

At an exhibition game of straight rail he ran 5,041 without a miss. This occurred at Jackson, Mich., in 1895. In Sioux City, Iowa, in 1915, he scored a thousand point game in spot. In 1921 in Boston, Mass., playing against Yamada and Sutton, Spears, playing 100 or no count, ran 8 straight games in spot. He has a high run of 198 in 18.1 balkline and 332 in 18.2.

From 1887 to 1888 he was a pitcher in the Tri-State baseball league. He has devoted some of his life to boxing. Spears is of a genial disposition and willing at all times to help those interested in the game.

CHOUDRANT AND ATHENS WIN IN RUSTON FINALS

Coushatta And Collinston Nosed Out In Battles For Cage Titles

RUSTON, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Choudrant and Athens high schools won basketball championships in the boys' and girls' divisions, respectively, in the finals of the annual north Louisiana rally here tonight. Choudrant defeated Coushatta, 32 to 28, in the boys' game and Athens nosed out Collinston, 29 to 28, in the girls' bracket.

Both finals were hard fought throughout and produced plenty of thrills for the big crowd which packed Louisiana Tech's gym to witness the battles. The Choudrant team played impressively to down Coushatta for the title, but the Lincoln parish boys had to put out, for Coushatta also put up a stirring scrap.

The Collinston-Athens scrap also was a thriller. The two teams waged a similar duel at Athens several weeks ago, only Collinston came out ahead by a single point. Today, however, Athens was able to turn the tables on the defending state champions.

In the battles for third place, Harris defeated Manifest, 34 to 17, in the boys' division, and Pleasant Hill trimmed Bastrop, 38 to 22, in the girls' tourney.

Three teams in each division will be allowed to enter the state tournament at Baton Rouge and thus Choudrant, Coushatta and Harris will compete in the boys' division and Athens, Collinston and Pleasant Hill will represent north Louisiana in the girls' tournament. Thus Collinston and Athens may hook up again in one of their spectacular battles.

In the semi-finals played at Tech gym this morning, Choudrant shaded Harris, 36 to 34, and Coushatta won from Manifest, 27 to 19. In the girls' division, Collinston eliminated Pleasant Hill, 24 to 11, and Athens disposed of Bastrop, 31 to 15.

The strongest teams in years competed in the annual two-day tournament here and large crowds were treated to some excellent basketball.

BULLDOGS INVITED TO S. I. A. A. MEET

Millsaps college will meet Stetson university of Deland, Fla., next Friday night while Western Kentucky Teachers meet Charleston in the other first-round game.

Other Saturday games will pit Wofford against Louisiana Tech, Union university against the Millsaps-Stetson winner and Centenary against Murray.

Sheriff Knight and Henry Jackson of Murfreesboro, Tenn., will be the officials.

The ten teams with the best records for each district of the southern states into which the association is divided, including Mississippi college and Millsaps, will be entered in the tournament.

OLE MISS BEATS SEWANEE

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Ole Miss again emerged the victors over Sewanee by the one-sided score of 42 to 13, in the last game of a series here. Williams, speedy ole Miss forward, led the scoring with a total of 15 points, Curtis was next with 9 points. For the Sewanee quintet Pearson was the outstanding performer with a total of 5 points to his credit.

RUTH TAKES TO GYM TO REDUCE FIGURE

Whether it was to get in shape for another season with the Yankees, or merely for the general good of the Ruthian figure, the great man waddled into the gymnasium of Artie McGovern, his trainer and huffed and puffed through an hour of snappy drilling.

He went through all the floor exercises, including muscle bending, and then topped off the work-out with a brisk game of squash.

"He's in good shape," McGovern said afterwards, "and I don't see why he couldn't play another year if he wanted to. His condition is as good as it has been for the last five years."

Ruth weighed 237 today against the 256 he scaled when he began his spring gym drills in 1931.

The Babe will leave tonight or tomorrow for a short hunting trip in up-state New York. He will resume his gymnasium visits on his return next week.

STAPLES VOTED BEST ATHLETE

Truman Staples, Ouachita parish high school's football, basketball and track star, was adjudged Monroe's most valuable high school athlete by popular vote here last week and will be awarded a suit of clothes by Fink the Tailor. Staples received 2,785 votes.

Seven athletes received votes in the annual contest but Staples easily outdistanced the field. He apparently was given the entire support of Ouachita fans, as he was the only Lion to receive a nomination. Six Neville high school athletes received votes.

Staples formerly held down a tackle berth on the Ouachita football team but last year Coach Ben Rush made him a regular in the Lion backfield and he was a sensation. He barely missed out on the first team of the annual all-state selection and local fans believe he is one of the best halfbacks ever produced in high school circles hereabouts. Staples also is a star guard on the Ouachita basketball team. Coach Joe Aillet, of Haynesville, recently declared that the Lion husky is one of the best players in the state. Staples also is a point winner in track. His specialties are the shot and discus in the field events and the quarter mile in the track division.

The balloting opened last Monday and continued until Friday night. The committee composed of Dr. W. L. Bendel, Dr. Joe Brown and George Lofton counted the votes last night. There were 3,790 votes cast.

Tommy Nicholson, Neville, 566.
Isaac Luffey, Neville, 294.
James Summerall, Neville, 68.
Richard Basco, Neville, 41.
Darius Crews, Neville, 21.
Milo Mattinson, Neville, 15.

Hazuda Establishes His Residence At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Mickey Hazuda, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., has established headquarters in Ferriday and in the future the popular 165-pound fighter, who meets "Baby" Childers, 167, of Luarel, Miss., in the main event on the American Legion's program here February 27, will call Ferriday his place of residence.

Mickey has been stationed here for several weeks now and is training for his bout with Childers and for other scraps in Alexandria, Shreveport and other cities. He said he wishes to notify fight managers and promoters interested in him to get in touch with him through Promoter Jimmy Skinner of the local Legion post.

Southwest Stars Rally To Beat Dawson And Odom In Semi-Finals

HOUSTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Staging remarkable comebacks during the afternoon round, Gus Moreland, Walker Cup team member from Dallas, and Zell Eaton, Oklahoma City's western amateur champion, marched into the finals of the 21st annual Houston Country club championship today.

A sensational round of sub par golf that left Moreland five under for 17 holes placed him in the finals of the invitation event for the fifth straight year. Johnny Dawson, defending champion from Chicago, was a victim of Moreland's assault on par and a 3 and 1 loser.

Today's victory gave Moreland the edge over his Chicago rival and avenged the 5 and 3 defeat Moreland suffered last year in the finals. Dawson's win over the Dallas star last February ruined Moreland's chance of establishing a new tournament record for consecutive victories.

Liwe Moreland, Eaton had to turn in below par figures to dust Fred Odom, New Orleans star, 4 up and 3 to play. Two down at the end of the first 18 holes, the western amateur champion chipped a couple into the cup on the outbound nine and then went on to take the match.

Eaton, after winning medal honors with a fine 70-71, slipped through a couple of mediocre rounds but his play today indicates he is ready for a great bid for the title tomorrow when he fights it out with Moreland. The morning 18 holes will get under way at 9:30. The pair will tee off at 2 p. m. for the second trip over the course.

One down at luncheon, the result of a 75, Moreland grabbed five straight birdies and for a time it appeared that he would score a top-heavy victory over the defending champion.

But Dawson came back when Moreland missed par at the 25th and regained another hole with a birdie three at the 26th. Moreland's bogy at the 27th gave Dawson another role and the match was all square.

Moreland was out in 33 for the afternoon, but was able to gain but one hole on Dawson, whose medal totaled 35.

At the 28th Moreland rapped a 30-foot side hill putt for his sixth birdie in 10 holes and stepped back into the lead. But Dawson came right back with a birdie three at the 29th, to square the count.

Moreland made it two up with a par three at the 237-yard 34th hole.

At the 35th Dawson caught the trap with his second and Moreland played safely, using an iron that finished short of the green on the par five. Dawson exploded 15 feet past the pin with Moreland chipping six feet beyond. Dawson missed his try for a four and conceded Moreland's putt for the birdie, making the count 3 and 1.

Odom, who had played some sensational golf through preliminary rounds, continued to push par in the morning when he was around in 72, to gain a two up advantage over Zell Eaton.

With his work cut out for him the western amateur champion slipped into his best form in the afternoon and his outward nine of 34, two under, gave him a two-up lead.

Winning the 20th with a par three, Eaton squared the match when he chipped into the cup from about 50 feet off the green at the 21st. The chip shot gave him a birdie. Eaton went one up with a par five at the 23rd and he chipped in against the 24th for a birdie two.

Eaton was par at the 28th to return three up and another par at the 29th placed the Oklahoma City golfer four up. Odom's bord won the 30th hole and then Eaton picked up the 31st with a par. Eaton was over at the next hole but closed out with a bird at the 33rd.

The western champion's exhibition this afternoon found him hitting the ball in the same manner as when the tournament started. He was having a bit of trouble in early rounds of match play, but with his game back on edge the finals should produce some of the greatest golf in the history of the championship.

Conference Boxing Meet To Be Held At Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Tulane university will sponsor the Southeastern conference championship boxing tournament here on March 8-9, Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, Wave athletic director, announced today.

Eight institutions in the conference that carry on intercollegiate boxing have already assured Tulane that they would compete. The last boxing tournament in the conference was held at Tulane two years ago when the Greenies won the team championship.

University of Mississippi, University of Georgia, University of Florida, Mississippi State, Louisiana State, University of Alabama, University of Tennessee and Tulane are the teams which will compete, with the possibility that one or more intsitutions among the other five conference members may send teams.

Rickey Starts With The Cardinals $175,000 In Debt

By Harry Grayson
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

After five years with the Browns, which saw him ousted as manager in the peace settlement with the Federal league, the spirited Branch Rickey organized a group of St. Louisians that purchased the Cardinals from Mrs. Helene Robinson Britton in 1917.

Replaced as boss of the Browns by Fielder Jones when Philip de Catesby Ball bought the club at the conclusion of the 1915 season, Rickey had held on as vice president and business manager on the strength of an expired contract.

Ban Johnson appreciated Rickey's capabilities. The leader of the American league wanted to keep him in the circuit. Ball didn't relish B. R.'s going over to the opposition. The league took the case to court, but Rickey won the suit and the right to the presidency of the National league club.

Rickey, ably assisted by James C. Jones, a prominent attorney, had civic leaders make a house-to-house canvass, selling stock at $25 a share.

Sam Breadon, an automobile distributor, invested $2,000. He is president of the vast Cardinal system today, and this winter only a last-minute htich prevented him from selling his holding to Lew Wentz, Oklahoma oil multi-millionaire, for more than a million.

• • •

Rickey Leaves New Venture Flat to Fight In France

The Cardinals were a poor club, on the field and off, when Rickey assumed command, however. About the only things the organization had plenty of were debts, hopes, and energy, with the indefatigable Rickey supplying practically all of the latter.

Miller Huggins was manager, and the American League retaliated for the loss of Rickey by snatching Huggins for the affluent New York Yankees after the first year.

Things went from bad to worse, with Rickey himself capping the climax by resigning the presidency in June, 1918, to serve as a major with the A. E. F. in the chemical warfare service.

A third-place club drifted to a tail ender under Jack Hendricks while Rickey was away, and Hendricks was fired.

The Cardinals were $175,000 in debt when Rickey returned from the war. The situation appeared hopeless, but the resourceful Rickey had Rogers Hornsby and an idea. In the interest of economy, he decided to manage the Red Birds himself.

Rickey's legal business at Boise, Idaho, was as poor as his health when physicians advised him to get out into the open air in 1912.

The man destined to introduce mass production ivory farming as head of the Cardinals didn't even have railroad fare when Col. Robert Lee Hedges, owner of the Browns, asked him to meet him at Salt Lake for a conference in regard to a baseball position. Colonel Hedges provided the necessary funds.

• • •

B. R. Succeeds Stovall; Managed Against Will

Colonel Hedges contemplated purchasing the Kansas City Blues from George Tebeau, and sought Rickey as head of the club. The deal fell through, and B. R. wound up as business manager of the Browns. He also acted as a scout.

"I believe it was a letter I wrote for Mr. Hedges to a holdout that impressed my employer," says Rickey.

"Gradually, I assumed responsibilities for Mr. Hedges and one day, in 1913, I learned that George Stovall, because of an incident on the field, was to be released as manager. Mr. Hedges told me he wanted me to take charge of the club. I had no previous experience, had been away from the playing side of the game for four years, and did not want the position.

"It was not by personal choice that I managed either the Browns or the Cardinals. I took these places as a matter of expediency, and, in the case of the Cardinals, economy. Whether I was a success or failure does not make much difference. I did not care to manage, but knowing that it was to fall to my lot, I put a great deal of study into the thing."

NEXT: Putting the Cardinals over.

M'INTYRE AND PLUMMER SIGNED FOR MAIN EVENT

PENN STATE BOY TACKLES TOUGH FOE WEDNESDAY

Bruscato To Line Up Good Semi-Final; Ladies Admitted Free

Although he lost to Nick Elitch in a one-fall affair that was ended when the one-hour time limit caught it, Don McIntyre, clever Pennsylvania youngster, made such a good impression last week that he's being brought back for the main event of the weekly wrestling show at Roosevelt stadium Wednesday night, Promoter Charlie Bruscato announced last night.

McIntyre had a tough customer to handle in Elitch last week but he'll have an even harder task cut out for him Wednesday, as he is being matched against Johnny Plummer, the wily Iowan. Plummer weighs 219 and McIntrye 210.

The Pennsylvanian showed a wide variety of holds in his match with Elitch and after the bout, he told Promoter Charlie Bruscato that he was confident he could have defeated the Greek if the match had gone the three falls. As it was Elitch won the first fall in 37 minutes and then neither was able to gain a fall in the remaining minutes of the match. However, McIntyre had the better of it during most of the first fall and appeared to have the upper hand during the short time they wrestled before the bout was ended.

The Pennsylvanian is only 23 years old but he has been wrestling since he was "just a kid," he says. He prefers the "clean" style of wrestling but he demonstrated that he can hold his own with the rough ones when he mixed it freely with Elitch after taking the Greek's rough tactics for some five minutes.

Plummer has about the best record of any of the heavyweights who have been performing at the stadium in the past year. Johnny knows plenty of tricks, mixing wrestling science with rough stuff to good advantage. The Iowan is a past master at tossing his opponent over the ropes and McIntyre may find himself resting in the aisles during part of his bout with Plummer.

Plummer's latest victory was won here last week when Frenchie LaRue was disqualified for attempting to choke Johnny with a piece of wire in the third and deciding falf of their rough match.

Promoter Bruscato also announced last night that Wednesday will be "ladies' night" and all the fair fans will be admitted free.

Bruscato said he was attempting to line up a good semi-final match to complete the card. Officials for the matches have not been selected, he said.

Bobsled Accident Results In Injuries To Four Men

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 23.—(AP)—An empty sled streaking across the finish line sent stretcher bearers up the Mt. Van Hoevenberg bob run today to Zig Zag curve where Royal Tallman of Keene Valley was seriously injured and three other riders tossed from their seats in an accident. The upset occurred during the four-man races for the North American bobsled title. At the end of today's two heats, Curtis Stevens of Lake Placid, and his crew led the field with total time of three minutes, 35.13 seconds.

Tallman was brake on the four-man sled driven by Aubrey Wells of Keene Valley. Zipping into Zig Zag, near the foot of the mountain, the sled failed to make the turn properly. It hit the boarding at the top of the ice wall, rode the top of the curve several feet and plowed a four-foot gash in the ice. The crew tumbled off and slid a hundred feet down the ice, while the sled went on alone.

Tallman was carried through the woods on a stretcher, with concussion of the brain.

Tiger Boxers Meet Baton Rouge High And Catholics This Week

The Tigers of Neville high school take the road in search of revenge this week-end when they go to Baton Rouge to meet the Baton Rouge high school Bulldogs and the Catholic high Golden Bears in return boxing matches. It will be the Bengals' first battle away from home since early in January when they met the Bolton Bears at Alexandria.

Baton Rouge, in an engagement here defeated the Neville mittmen 7 to 6 on February 1 and the Tigers are anxious to even the score. The local mittmen defeated Catholic high.

The Bulldogs won that first encounter with the locals assisted by two forfeits which makes the Tigers think they are still capable of handing the Baton Rouge scrappers a whipping.

Coach Percy Brown has his charges in excellent condition, and, encouraged by their 7 to 3 victory over Bolton last Friday, Neville is confident they will be able to trounce the down state team.

Coach Brown's scrappers fight Baton Rouge high on Thursday night and remain over to engage Catholic high on Friday night. The Catholic high match completes Neville's schedule. The two-night stand in Baton Rouge will be the first of the season for the Tigers, although those members of the team who get by the preliminaries in the district and state tourneys will be forced to fight twice and maybe three times in two days.

As soon as their schedule is completed Coach Brown will settle down to the task of preparing his district and state champions for the annual north Louisiana boxing tournament which will be held in Monroe about the middle of next month.

L. S. U. QUINTET TRIUMPHS AGAIN

Tigers Wallop Tulane To Finish Season With Perfect Record

BATON ROUGE La., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Louisiana State university finished its conference basketball season undefeated tonight by handing Tulane another walloping. The State Tigers won in a center from the Tulanians, 61 to 23, for a clean sweep of four season games with their New Orleans rivals.

Four of the greatest cage stars in L. S. U. history—Blair, Wade, Harris and Journeay—played in their last conference game with the gold and purple.

As was the case in last night's affray which State won 65 to 20, there was little Tulane could do to stop the offensive of the high scoring quintet.

Louisiana State swept the boards clean in the southern loop by beating Tulane for a total of 12 conference victories.

L. S. U. followers are claiming the unofficial conference title for the Tigers who have one more victory recorded than Kentucky, the only other unbeaten conference team.

Northern Link Stars Aim For Miami Biltmore Title

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Amateur divot-diggers who have been combing cups and trophies out of the Florida fairways since early winter, will congregate here February 28-March 4 for the climatic event of the sunshine loop, the fourth annual Miami Biltmore four-ball championship, which is the premier partnership proposition.

With so many skilled combatants crowding into the field of 16 teams, officials of the Florida Year-Round clubs sponsoring the event have altered the conditions for this year's tourney, setting a qualifying round of 18 holes on February 28. In previous years the teams have been invited and the number of players restricted to 32 or 16 teams.

Although no team has thus far been successful in retaining the title two years, a new pair of champions is guaranteed for the joust this season, inasmuch as Dick Cicui of Feshing, L. I., who shared the victory with Charey Whitehead of South River, N. J., will not be on hand for the defense. Whitehead has been practicing over the Miami Biltmore Country club course, battlefield for the event, for several weeks and will pair with Arthur Lynch of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Senators Take Workout In Advance Of Opening

BILOXI, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The balmy sunny spring weather proved too tempting for Trainer Mike Martin of the Washington American league baseball club and several players had the first workout today instead of waiting for the official opening of the training season on Monday. Among those donning uniforms was Cliff Bolton, who is being groomed to succeed Luke Sewell as first string catcher, and who was the only hold-out last season.

Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox and his wife, the former Mildred Robinson, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Griffith, will stop off here tomorrow morning to spend several days with the Griffith family before continuing on to the Red Sox camp in Florida.

WINNSBORO HOLDS BASEBALL MEETING

Franklin Parish Fans Vote To Place Strong Team In Big Six

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—An enthusiastic meeting of Franklin parish baseball fans here last night voted unanimously to sponsor a team in the Big Six league again this season and plans were made for organizing another strong club. Winnsboro won the Big Six championship in the playoff with Tallulah last fall.

A large crowd attended the meeting, which was held in the Franklin parish courthouse. John M. Baker, last year's president of the club, presided.

W. W. Eckhardt, manager of the pennant winning team last season, told of the Big Six meeting held in Monroe last Tuesday night and expressed confidence that the circuit would be organized again for the coming campaign. Mr. Eckhardt asked the attitude of the crowd toward sponsoring a team at Winnsboro again and after a general discussion, the fans voted to back a club this year.

It was the concensus of opinion that it would be advantageous to join organized baseball if help could be obtained from a professional club. It was thought that assistance could be secured from a Southern league team or one of the majors. Manager Eckhardt was instructed to communicate with a professional club and learn what aid could be obtained.

Several committees were appointed to perfect plans for sponsoring the team. Means of financing the club was one of the chief topics of discussion and a committee was named to work out methods of raising revenue. The committees were instructed to have the team ready to go by the time the season opens.

Officers of the club were all re-elected. They are John H. Baker, president; Julian Greenwald, vice president; Bailey Martin, secretary-treasurer, and W. W. Eckhardt, manager.

Officials of the Winnsboro club urged other towns in the Big Six territory to begin plans for operating teams this season. A representative of the Tallulah club attended the meeting.

FAIRBANKS CLUB BEGINS WORKOUTS

Thirteen Players Report To Ouachita Valley League Squad

FAIRBANKS, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Thirteen players reported for the first workout of the Fairbanks club, champions of the Ouachita valley league last year, as practice for the coming campaign was started yesterday.

The initial workout consisted of setting-up exercises, road work around the park and short "pepper" games. A number of fans turned out to watch the players start their spring work and predictions were that Fairbanks again will be the team to beat for the valley title.

Manager Bill Norman will have the nucleus of last year's team to build his 1935 edition around. If necessary, additional talent will be imported to give local fans the brand of baseball they want. However, if Ward, Malone and Kyle are given the aggressive support they received last year, the local club should be a winner.

The Fairbanks playing field is to be improved and the grandstand will be enlarged. A clubhouse already has been constructed and showers and lockers are now being installed.

Last year's team was built around out-of-town players but a number of home town athletes are counted on to come through for the club this season.

Fairbanks expects the Ouachita Valley league to be composed of six fast clubs this season and a better class of baseball is expected. Last season was a great improvement over the year before and the league hopes to give the fans an even better brand of ball this summer.

VIDALIA HIGH WINS

VIDALIA, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—The Vidalia high school girls' basketball team won a thrilling game from the Vidalia Independents here Friday afternoon by a score of 16 to 6. M. Roberts was high scorer with 12 points and Miss Audrey Martin, captain and star guard was the outstanding player and led the Vidalia girls to victory. Mrs. J. Hudson led in scoring for the losers with 4 points.

FORMER AMATEUR CHAMPION WORKS WITH NEW PUTTER

Bobby Hopes To Make Better Showing In Masters' Tournament

By Kenneth Gregory
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A new "Calamity Jane," fashioned from the faithful old putter that carried Bobby Jones to his grand slam in golf, is working overtime as the former world's champion of the fairways prepares for the masters' tournament in April.

The chunky club swinger, still considered the emperor of golf although he retired from competitive ranks after triumphing in the open and amateur tournaments of America and England in 1930, is taking seriously his plans for the "battle of the stars" April 4 and 7 over the specially-designed course of the Augusta (Ga.) National Golf club.

Mindful that his putting in the inaugural masters' event last spring lacked some of the needed touch, forcing him to be content with a tie for 13th place, Bobby is concentrating on his greens game, hopeful of better results in the approaching tournament, his only competition with the golfing satellites.

Dropping his duties as a lawyer several afternoons a week, Jones repairs to the East Lake Country club for practice. His skill with the clubs still exists, as shown by his long and accurate drives and fancy putting. His practice rounds this week included a 70 and 71 over the par 70 course.

The classy field indicated for the $5,000 fasters' test, won last year by Horton Smith with a card of 284, may find Bobby ready for one of his best off-nts.

"I'm not going to the extreme in preparation," Bobby said, "but I'm getting in more practice than I had before the tournament last year."

"Horton Smith will be back to defend his title," Roberts added. "All of the better known amateurs and professionals were included in the 138 invitations mailed out Thursday.

"The invitation list included the first 24 finishers in the 1934 event, all past and present open and amateur titleholders and others who made creditable showings in competition since the initial tournament.

"Many foreign golfers, including Henry Cotton the British star, have been asked to attend."

Roberts said he expected Olin Dutra, national open champ; W. Lawson Little Jr., leader of the American and British amateur crowns; Gene Sarazen, Craig Wood, Tommy Armour, Paul Runyan, Denny Shute, Leo Diegel, Walter Hagen and other professionals and many amateurs.

Ross Somerville, the amateur Canadian sharpshooter, has advised that he'll be on hand a couple of weeks in advance for practice.

The Augusta course, a par 72 layout, Jones said, is entirely different from any golfing battleground in the United States. It has only 22 sand traps, but is literally dotted with difficult natural hazards. It will test the ability of any star, he added.

This course and the tournament came about as the result of Jones' efforts. He planned the course and the masters' contest shortly after climaxing his career of golf glory by winning the four major tournaments of the world in a single year—a feat not accomplished by any other golfer.

It's a hobby with Bobby.

HORSES DESTROYED AFTER TRACK CRASH

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two race horses received injuries which made it necessary to destroy them and a jockey and stable boy were taken to a hospital today after a triple collision during a morning workout at Oaklawn Park here.

Rally Round and Excavator, both owned by H. H. Temple of Lexington, Ky., were destroyed as a result of leg and head injuries.

Judelle, owned by Abe Pellettiere of New Orleans, which also figured in the accident, was only slightly bruised.

William Carroll, 22-year-old jockey of Lexington, riding Excavator, and Robert Hall, negro stable boy riding Rally Round, were thrown under their horses and injured, but physicians said later their hurts were not serious.

F. Cusimano, Washington, D. C., the third rider, escaped unhurt.

The collision occurred, witnesses said, when Judelle, being ridden by Cusimano, tossed her rider to the ground and proceeded up the track in the wrong direction.

Judelle collided head-on with Rally Round and Excavator who were rounding the turn into the home stretch in a stiff workout.

M'COMB WINS TITLE

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Driving to a furious finish, the McComb high school Tigers scored three points in the last minute of play to defeat the Hattiesburg Bengals, 30 to 27, in a nip-and-tuck contest here tonight for the big 8 annual conference championship.

ARMY FINALLY WINS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Army rallied in the second half today to win its first basketball game from Navy since 1926. The final score was 35 to 28.

TRACK STARS TO COMPETE AGAIN AT KANSAS CITY

Three Mid-Western Runners Headline Winter Carnival Saturday

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Headlining three mid-westerner runners imported from the eastern indoor circuit, the Kansas City Athletic club's winter track and field carnival will be renewed next Saturday night on the boards of convention hall after a lapse since 1932.

The triumvirate of stars who will have the opportunity to show their wares here for the first time since they sped to foot-racing fame are Glenn Cunningham, world's greatest miler; Charles Hornbostel, Indianan who favors the shorter middle distances, and Elton Brown of the Pittsburg (Kans.) State Teachers college, who has won a place among the top-flight half-milers.

Brown, who now is sporting the blue diamond emblem of the K. C. A. C. will run his specialty, the 880-yard event on the 146 2-3-yards-to-the-lap flat board oval, but Cunningham and Hornbostel are matched at a compromise distance in a special 2-man race over the three-quarter mile or 1,320-yard route.

Hornbostel is one of the few men who have beaten Cunningham, although it was not at the native Kansan's favorite distance, and Cunningham has more than evened the score with his Hoosier rival. Cunningham's loss to Hornbostel was by an eye-lash in the national intercollegiate half-mile at Chicago in 1933 shortly after the "Eckhart Express" set up a new American record of 4:09.8 in the mile the same afternoon. In that half-mile race Hornbostel marked up a new record of 1:50.9.

Brown won the national junior 800-meter title last summer and this winter has taken the 880-yard special at the Millrose games in Madison Square Garden and the half-mile special at the annual Seton Hall college games at Newark in track record time of 1:56.8, beating Erik Ny of Sweden among others.

Shannon Douglas, a famous former Missouri track ter, has offered a new cup for the winner of the 2-mile college relay.

The program includes the 50-yard dash and high and low hurdles, the 440, 880 and mile runs, high jump, pole-vault, and special match relays in dual meet rivalry at the mile with the best time to determine the big winner.

Several of the Big Six and Missouri Valley conference schools have given notice they will have specialists and relay teams in competition.

SOUTHERN LOOP OPENS APRIL 16

Schedule For 1935 Campaign Shows Sunday Dates Evenly Divided

MEMPHIS Tenn., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Sunday dates for the 1935 season are evenly divided among the eight cities of the Southern association of baseball clubs.

The schedule, made public tonight by Association President John D. Martin, provides for 11 Sunday "home" engagements for each of the clubs. New Orleans will play eight Sunday double headers, and seven "bargain" attractions are planned for Sundays in Knoxville. Memphis scheduled five Sunday double headers.

The season will open April 16 for the 154-game schedule, with Memphis at Little Rock, Nashville at Chattanooga, New Orleans at Birmingham and Knoxville at Atlanta.

Knoxville opens at home April 17, with the Atlanta Crackers as the visitors. The curtain will go up at Memphis, April 18, when the Chicks tie up with the Little Rock Pebs. Chattanooga will help Nashville open April 19, while the opening at New Orleans will be delayed until April 20 when the Pelicans will entertain Birmingham's Barons.

The schedule makes no reference to night games since that is a matter for agreement between playing clubs. Some night games will be played at Little Rock, Atlanta and Nashville, officials said, and other clubs are expected to put in arc lights in preparing for a try at after sundown attractions.

Handball Champ Learns Of Death Of His Father

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Sam Atcheson, who late today won the National Y. M. C. A. handball singles doubles championships, was notified tonight that his father, J. R. Atcheson, 68, of Houma, La., was killed in an automobile accident near New Orleans.

Ted Bank Appointed Head Football Coach At Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Ted Bank, assistant football coach at Tulane university, will succeed Leo B. Calland as head football coach at the University of Idaho, President M. G. Neale announced today.

Bank played quarterback at Michigan under Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost. On the same team was Harry Kipke, present Michigan coach. Bank was graduated in 1923.

He has been at Tulane since 1929 and is 37 years old.

Calland resigned in December.

New York A. C. McCluskey led his club mate, Frank Nordell, to the tape by 40 yards.

Charles (Chuck) Hornbostel of Indiana, the defending champion and favorite, shared the fate of Equipoise when he failed even to place in the 1,000 meter run. The bespectacled Hoosier, apparently a bit lame, trailed all the way and finished next to last in a race won by Glen Dawson of Tulsa, Okla.

Dawson came from behind on the last lap to whip Wally Parent of the New York A. C. by a scant yard in 2 minutes, 20 seconds, with North Carolina's Harry Williamson about five yards further back.

The Hoosier had not been beaten this winter. He made one hurried attempt to overhaul the leaders after a slow start, but soon faded and then jogged the rest of the race, finishing sixth in a field of seven finalists.

Owens set the sprint record in a semi-final heat in which Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, the defending national champion, was eliminated. Metcalfe, off to a poor start, trailed Owens by two yards and was beaten off for the second qualifying position by Sam Morgan of Columbia. Metcalfe had shared the former world indoor mark of 6.4 seconds with Emmett Toppano of New Orleans.

In capturing the 65 meter high hurdles Jinky Percy Beard the Alabama school teacher competing for the New York A. C., equalled his own world indoor record of 8.6 seconds in the final heat. Beard beat Paul Good of Bowdoin, the intercollegiate champion, by a yard and a half.

Glenn Hardin, Louisiana State's noted foot racer and hurdler, failed to measure up to form in his indoor debut and was eliminated in the trials of the 600 meter run. Hardin trailed throughout and ran fourth in the heat won by Kenneth Gilmore of Columbia, with Elton Brown of the Kansas City A. C. second and Fred Kiger of Pittsburgh third.

INDOOR NET CROWN WON BY JANE SHARP

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Overcoming a three-game deficit in the first set, where she shifted to a forecourt position after vainly trying to match her opponent from the baseline, Eleanor Jane Sharp of Pasadena, Calif., today became women's national indoor tennis champion.

She defeated Helen Pedersen of Stamford, Conn., national girls' grass court titlist, who for the second consecutive year was denied the championship, 11-9, 6-4. A year ago Miss Pedersen was beaten in the final in straight sets by Norma Taubele. A gallery of close to 1,000 watched the contest.

After a 10-minute rest Miss Sharp came back for her third final of the tournament, pairing with Gregory Mangin of Newark, former men's indoor titleholder, to defeat Mme Sylvia Henrotin of France and Gene McCauliff of Yonkers, 9-7, 10-8. In the women's doubles final Thursday Miss Sharp and Miss Taubele lost to Mme Henrotin and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, 7-5, 6-4.

Noted for her retrieving qualities, Miss Pedersen made little effort to spike some of the new champion's returns and only once was she able to halt Miss Sharp's march in the second set. She managed to break through the Pasadena player's delivery in the third game after trailing 15-40.

ALABAMA FIVE WINS FROM MAROON TEAM

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Alabama closed its home season here tonight with a 30-22 victory over Mississippi State in a contest featured by the eight goals of Waters, Mississippi forward, in the final half.

The winner led 18 to 4, at the half, and their lead was never seriously threatened. Jim Walker, Alabama forward, fed seven foul tries through the basket, which, added to his two goals, made him high point man for the winners with 11.

TIGER TRACKMEN READY TO LAUNCH TITLE CAMPAIGN

L. S. U. Team, Already working Out, Starts Grind On March 23

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Though he's in the midst of spring football training now, Bernie H. Moore, the sage of Louisiana State football, has his eye peeled for his first love—the track.

Track will not receive all of the attention of the man who gave L. S. U. and Dixie their first national intercollegiate title for at least a month, since the newly appointed Tiger grid coach has work to do on the football field.

But on March 23, Bernie, a great builder of hurdlers and shot putters, launches the Bengal spikemen on one of the heaviest track and field campaigns that any L. S. U. team has ever attempted.

The Southwestern Relays, at Lafayette, are first on the program, being followed by the Texas Relays, at Austin, Texas, March 30; a dual meet with Rice, April 6; the Penn Relays, at Philadelphia, April 26-27; a dual meet with Tulane, and the Southeastern conference, N. C. A. A. in California, and the Southern and National A. A. U. games.

Of that great team of 1933, with which Bernie brought the intercollegiate championship to the Red Stick, only Glenn "Slats" Hardin and Nathan "Buddy" Blair remain. But Hardin is the greatest quarter-miler and low-hurdler in the nation, and Blair ranks with the best javelin men.

There's a host of fine material present, including several A. A. U. champions and point winners in the conference meet. Besides Hardin and Blair, Ted O'Neil, middle distance star, John Sanders, distance runner, Hugh Saxon, sprinter, Clarence Roberts, high hurdler, and Ed Rotelle, broad jumper, were all members of the 1934 squad which brought L. S. U. its third consecutive Southeastern championship and a third place in the N. C. A. A. games.

Other potential point winners are Ralph Newell, in the sprints; E. C. Black, in the middle distances; Whipple, in the broad jump; Jack Walker, in the high jump, Arnold Bryan and Charlie Sanford, in the pole vault, and Bill Criss and Marvin Stewart in the weights and discus.

Tiger trackmen have been working steadily since the Christmas holidays, when weather permitted, and "Bat" Gourrier, who is Bernie's right-hand man, should have them in fair condition when the genial Tiger head-coach takes over the reins at the end of spring training.

Western Kentucky Quint Wins Conference Crown

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Western Kentucky State Teachers college tonight won its fourth straight basketball championship of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic conference defeating Murray Teachers 23 to 20 before a frenzied crowd of 4,000 fans.

Hero of the game tonight was Western's diminutive guard, Elmo Meacham who supplied the winning spark for the Hilltoppers after Murray had led at half time 11 to 8. Meacham tied with Hardin, Hilltopper forward, for scoring honors of the game with 7 points.

Western missed many of its shots in the first half, but in the second session settled down to a more consistent kind of basketball—the kind that won them the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association basketball title last year.

NIGHT BASEBALL DRAWS INTEREST OF CLUB OWNERS

Experiment May Lead To Illumination Of Major League Parks

By Eddie Brietz
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Whether the major league shall go "Main street" with torch baseball, already a fixture in the provinces, has the upper strata of the baseball world a-twitter and virtually a house divided against itself.

The merry magnates (after all, they pay the freight) look with a sympathetic if doubtful eye upon the experiment to be tried out in Cincinnati this summer, but the players and most of the managers would have no truck with the idea and are lined up solidly against it.

Powel Crosley, Jr., millionaire owner of the hapless Cincinnati Reds, stymied in the cellar for four years now, is the trail-blazing pioneer who dared suggest the staid old National league, daddy of them all, join hands with the Piedmont and other minor loops which are cashing in on the moonlight version of the national past me.

Crosley stirred up a tempest when he tactfully broached the subject at the league's mid-winter meeting. He received enthusiastic support from Sam Breadon of the Cardinals but for the most part the baseball barons were aghast.

Charles A. Stoneham of the Giants and others of the more sedate and conservative easterners, arched eyebrows and looked as if they could scarcely believe their ears. Judge Emil C. Fuchs of Boston was so excited he completely forgot his broad "a's."

But Crosley won out. He wrung a unanimous if grudging permission for his cellar champs to play seven night games at home this season. No visiting team can be forced to perform under the arcs, but with one or two exceptions it is believed they will cooperate with Crosley to the extent of one nocturnal appearance, just to see how the thing works.

If Cincinnati makes a go of it, St. Louis will immediately turn on the lights. So will most of the others. They are passing up no bets which will speed up the turnstiles.

Such men as Bill Terry of the Giants, Joe Cronin of the Red Sox and the venerable Connie Mack of Philadelphia say the fans will never go for synthetic baseball.

"Night baseball is a fad," says the Philadelphia patriarch, "and will be a very tiresome spectacle for the fans, particularly on damp nights late in August and September. Baseball and sunshine should go hand in hand."

Bill Terry thinks chances of injury will increase. It's tough enough for batters to go up against speed ball pitchers in broad daylight. Also, says the Giant boss, the lights make players look faster and better than they are and he is going to be leery about paying much for hushers who have made their minor league reps by moonlight.

Joe Cronin, secure in a five-year contract outside the national league, speaks more freely. "Let the National be a tank league," he contributes. "The American will continue as a major. Fans would go to see baseball if it was played on roller skates for a while. But not for long."

In rebuttal, the magnates will bet that if night ball gets off to a good start in the National, owners of some of the losing American league clubs will start a like movement next year.

M'INTYRE AND PLUMMER SIGNED FOR MAIN EVENT

Although he lost to Nick Elitch in a one-fall affair that was ended when the one-hour time limit caught it, Don McIntyre, clever Pennsylvania youngster, made such a good impression last week that he's being brought back for the main event of the weekly wrestling show at Roosevelt stadium Wednesday night, Promoter Charlie Bruscato announced last night.

McIntyre had a tough customer to handle in Elitch last week but he'll have an even harder task cut out for him Wednesday, as he is being matched against Johnny Plummer, the wily Iowan. Plummer weighs 219 and McIntrye 210.

The Pennsylvanian showed a wide variety of holds in his match with Elitch and after the bout, he told Promoter Charlie Bruscato that he was confident he could have defeated the Greek if the match had gone the three falls. As it was Elitch won the first fall in 37 minutes and then neither was able to gain a fall in the remaining minutes of the match. However, McIntyre had the better of it during most of the first fall and appeared to have the upper hand during the short time they wrestled before the bout was ended.

The Pennsylvanian is only 23 years old but he has been wrestling since he was "just a kid," he says. He prefers the "clean" style of wrestling but he demonstrated that he can hold his own with the rough ones when he mixed it freely with Elitch after taking the Greek's rough tactics for some five minutes.

Plummer has about the best record of any of the heavyweights who have been performing at the stadium in the past year. Johnny knows plenty of tricks, mixing wrestling science with rough stuff to good advantage. The Iowan is a past master at tossing his opponent over the ropes and McIntyre may find himself resting in the aisles during part of his bout with Plummer.

Plummer's latest victory was won here last week when Frenchie LaRue was disqualified for attempting to choke Johnny with a piece of wire in the third and deciding fall of their rough match.

Promoter Bruscato also announced last night that Wednesday will be "ladies' night" and all the fair fans will be admitted free.

Bruscato said he was attempting to line up a good semi-final match to complete the card. Officials for the matches have not been selected, he said.

Bobsled Accident Results In Injuries To Four Men

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 23.—(AP)—An empty sled streaking across the finish line sent stretcher bearers up the Mt. Van Hoevenberg bob run today to Zig Zag curve where Royal Tallman of Keene Valley was seriously injured and three other riders tossed from their seats in an accident. The upset occurred during the four-man races for the North American bobsled title. At the end of today's two heats, Curtis Stevens of Lake Placid, and his crew led the field with total time of three minutes, 35.13 seconds.

Tallman was brake on the four-man sled driven by Aubrey Wells of Keene Valley. Zipping into Zig Zag, near the foot of the mountain, the sled failed to make the turn properly. It hit the boarding at the top of the ice wall, rode the top of the curve several feet and plowed a four-foot gash in the ice. The crew tumbled off and slid a hundred feet down the ice, while the sled went on alone.

Tallman was carried through the woods on a stretcher, with concussion of the brain.

Tiger Boxers Meet Baton Rouge High And Catholics This Week

The Tigers of Neville high school take the road in search of revenge this week-end when they go to Baton Rouge to meet the Baton Rouge high school Bulldogs and the Catholic high Golden Bears in return boxing matches. It will be the Bengals' first battle away from home since early in January when they met the Bolton Bears at Alexandria.

Baton Rouge, in an engagement here defeated the Neville mittmen 7 to 6 on February 1 and the Tigers are anxious to even the score. The local mittmen defeated Catholic high.

The Bulldogs won that first encounter with the locals assisted by two forfeits which makes the Tigers think they are still capable of handing the Baton Rouge scrappers a whipping.

Coach Percy Brown has his charges in excellent condition, and, encouraged by their 7 to 3 victory over Bolton last Friday, Neville is confident they will be able to trounce the down state team.

Coach Brown's scrappers fight Baton Rouge high on Thursday night and remain over to engage Catholic high on Friday night. The Catholic high match completes Neville's schedule. The two-night stand in Baton Rouge will be the first of the season for the Tigers, although those members of the team who get by the preliminaries in the district and state tourneys will be forced to fight twice and maybe three times in two days.

As soon as their schedule is completed Coach Brown will settle down to the task of preparing his district and state champions for the annual north Louisiana boxing tournament which will be held in Monroe about the middle of next month.

L. S. U. QUINTET TRIUMPHS AGAIN

Tigers Wallop Tulane To Finish Season With Perfect Record

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Louisiana State university finished its conference basketball season undefeated tonight by handing Tulane another walloping. The State Tigers won in a canter from the Tulanians, 64 to 23, for a clean sweep of four season games with their New Orleans rivals.

Four of the greatest cage stars in L. S. U. history—Blair, Wade, Harris and Journeay—played in their last conference game with the gold and purple.

As was the case in last night's affray which State won 65 to 20, there was little Tulane could do to stop the offensive of the high scoring quintet.

Louisiana State swept the boards clean in the southern loop by beating Tulane for a total of 12 conference victories.

L. S. U. followers are claiming the unofficial conference title for the Tigers who have one more victory recorded than Kentucky, the only other unbeaten conference team.

Northern Link Stars Aim For Miami Biltmore Title

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Amateur divot-diggers who have been combing cups and trophies out of the Florida fairways since early winter, will congregate here February 28-March 4 for the climatic event of the sunshine loop, the fourth annual Miami Biltmore four-ball championship, which is the premier partnership proposition.

With so many skilled combatants crowding into the field of 16 teams, officials of the Florida Year-Round clubs sponsoring the event have altered the conditions for this year's tourney, setting a qualifying round of 18 holes on February 28. In previous years the teams have been invited and the number of players restricted to 32 or 16 teams.

Although no team has thus far been successful in retaining the title two years, a new pair of champions is guaranteed for the joust this season, inasmuch as Dick Cicui of Feshing, L. I., who shared the victory with Charey Whitehead of South River, N. J., will not be on hand for the defense. Whitehead has been practicing over the Miami Biltmore Country club course, battlefield for the event, for several weeks and will pair with Arthur Lynch of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Senators Take Workout In Advance Of Opening

BILOXI, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The balmy sunny spring weather proved too tempting for Trainer Mike Martin of the Washington American league baseball club and several players had the first workout today instead of waiting for the official opening of the training season on Monday. Among those donning uniforms was Cliff Bolton, who is being groomed to succeed Luke Sewell as first string catcher, and who was the only hold-out last season.

Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox and his wife, the former Mildred Robinson, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Griffith, will stop off here tomorrow morning to spend several days with the Griffith family before continuing on to the Red Sox camp in Florida.

WINNSBORO HOLDS BASEBALL MEETING

Franklin Parish Fans Vote To Place Strong Team In Big Six

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—An enthusiastic meeting of Franklin parish baseball fans here last night voted unanimously to sponsor a team in the Big Six league again this season and plans were made for organizing another strong club. Winnsboro won the Big Six championship in the playoff with Tallulah last fall.

A large crowd attended the meeting, which was held in the Franklin parish courthouse. John M. Baker, last year's president of the club, presided.

W. W. Eckhardt, manager of the pennant winning team last season, told of the Big Six meeting held in Monroe last Tuesday night and expressed confidence that the circuit would be organized again for the coming campaign. Mr. Eckhardt asked the attitude of the crowd toward sponsoring a team at Winnsboro again and after a general discussion, the fans voted to back a club this year.

It was the concensus of opinion that it would be advantageous to join organized baseball if help could be obtained from a professional club. It was thought that assistance could be secured from a Southern league team or one of the majors. Manager Eckhardt was instructed to communicate with a professional club and learn what aid could be obtained.

Several committees were appointed to perfect plans for sponsoring the team. Means of financing the club was one of the chief topics of discussion and a committee was named to work out methods of raising revenue. The committees were instructed to have the team ready to go by the time the season opens.

Officers of the club were all re-elected. They are John H. Baker, president; Julian Greenwald, vice president; Bailey Martin, secretary-treasurer, and W. W. Eckhardt, manager.

Officials of the Winnsboro club urged other towns in the Big Six territory to begin plans for operating teams this season. A representative of the Tallulah club attended the meeting.

FAIRBANKS CLUB BEGINS WORKOUTS

Thirteen Players Report To Ouachita Valley League Squad

FAIRBANKS, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Thirteen players reported for the first workout of the Fairbanks club, champions of the Ouachita valley league last year, as practice for the coming campaign was started yesterday.

The initial workout consisted of setting-up exercises, road work around the park and short "pepper" games A number of fans turned out to watch the players start their spring work and predictions were that Fairbanks again will be the team to beat for the valley title.

Manager Bill Norman will have the nucleus of last year's team to build his 1935 edition around. If necessary, additional talent will be imported to give local fans the brand of baseball they want. However, if Ward, Malone and Kyle are given the aggressive support they received last year, the local club should be a winner.

The Fairbanks playing field is to be improved and the grandstand will be enlarged. A clubhouse already has been constructed and showers and lockers are now being installed.

Last year's team was built around out-of-town players but a number of home town athletes are counted on to come through for the club this season.

Fairbanks expects the Ouachita Valley league to be composed of six fast clubs this season and a better class of baseball is expected. Last season was a great improvement over the year before and the league hopes to give the fans an even better brand of ball this summer.

VIDALIA HIGH WINS

VIDALIA, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—The Vidalia high school girls' basketball team won a thrilling game from the Vidalia Independents here Friday afternoon by a score of 16 to 6. M. Roberts was high scorer with 12 points and Miss Audrey Martin, captain and star guard was the outstanding player and led the Vidalia girls to victory. Mrs. J. Hudson led in scoring for the losers with 4 points.

FORMER AMATEUR CHAMPION WORKS WITH NEW PUTTER

Bobby Hopes To Make Better Showing In Masters' Tournament

By Kenneth Gregory
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A new "Calamity Jane," fashioned from the faithful old putter that carried Bobby Jones to his grand slam in golf, is working overtime as the former world's champion of the fairways prepares for the masters' tournament in April.

The chunky club swinger, still considered the emperor of golf although he retired from competitive ranks after triumphing in the open and amateur tournaments of America and England in 1930, is taking seriously his plans for the "battle of the stars" April 4 and 7 over the specially-designed course of the Augusta (Ga.) National Golf club.

Mindful that his putting in the inaugural masters' event last spring lacked some of the needed touch, forcing him to be content with a tie for 13th place, Bobby is concentrating on his greens game, hopeful of better results in the approaching tournament, his only competition with the golfing satellites.

Dropping his duties as a lawyer several afternoons a week, Jones repairs to the East Lake Country club for practice. His skill with the clubs still exists, as shown by his long and accurate drives and fancy putting. His practice rounds this week included a 70 and 71 over the par 70 course.

The classy field indicated for the $5,000 fasters' test, won last year by Horton Smith with a card of 284, may find Bobby ready for one of his best efforts.

"I'm not going to the extreme in preparation," Bobby said, "but I'm getting in more practice than I had before the tournament last year."

"Horton Smith will be back to defend his title," Roberts added. "All of the better known amateurs and professionals were included in the 138 invitations mailed out Thursday.

"The invitation list included the first 24 finishers in the 1934 event, all past and present open and amateur titleholders and others who made creditable showings in competition since the initial tournament.

"Many foreign golfers, including Henry Cotton, the British star, have been asked to attend."

Roberts said he expected Olin Dutra, national open champ; W. Lawson Little, Jr., holder of the American and British amateur crowns; Gene Sarazen, Craig Wood, Tommy Armour, Paul Runyan, Denny Shute, Leo Diegel, Walter Hagen and other professionals and many amateurs.

Ross Somerville, the amateur Canadian sharpshooter, has advised that he'll be on hand a couple of weeks in advance for practice.

The Augusta course, a par 72 layout, Jones said, is entirely different from any golfing battleground in the United States. It has only 22 sand traps, but is literally dotted with difficult natural hazards. It will test the ability of any star, he added.

This course and the tournament came about as the result of Jones' efforts. He planned the course and the masters' contest shortly after climaxing his career of golf glory by winning the four major tournaments of the world in a single year—a feat not accomplished by any other golfer.

It's a hobby with Bobby.

HORSES DESTROYED AFTER TRACK CRASH

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two race horses received injuries which made it necessary to destroy them and a jockey and stable boy were taken to a hospital today after a triple collision during a morning workout at Oaklawn Park here.

Rally Round and Excavator, both owned by H. H. Temple of Lexington, Ky., were destroyed as a result of leg and head injuries.

Judelle, owned by Abe Pellettiere of New Orleans, which also figured in the accident, was only slightly bruised.

William Carroll, 22-year-old jockey of Lexington, riding Excavator, and Robert Hall, negro stable boy riding Rally Round, were thrown under their horses and injured, but physicians said later their hurts were not serious.

F. Cusimano, Washington, D. C., the third rider, escaped unhurt.

The collision occurred, witnesses said, when Judelle, being ridden by Cusimano, tossed her rider to the ground and proceeded up the track in the wrong direction.

Judelle collided head-on with Rally Round and Excavator who were rounding the turn into the home stretch in a stiff workout.

M'COMB WINS TITLE

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Driving to a furious finish, the McComb high school Tigers scored three points in the last minute of play to defeat the Hattiesburg Bengals, 30 to 27, in a nip-and-tuck contest here tonight for the big 8 annual conference championship.

ARMY FINALLY WINS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Army rallied in the second half today to win its first basketball game from Navy since 1926. The final score was 35 to 28.

TRACK STARS TO COMPETE AGAIN AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Headlining three mid-westerner runners imported from the eastern indoor circuit, the Kansas City Athletic club's winter track and field carnival will be renewed next Saturday night on the boards of convention hall after a lapse since 1932.

The triumvirate of stars who will have the opportunity to show their wares here for the first time since they sped to foot-racing fame are Glenn Cunningham, world's greatest miler; Charles Hornbostel, Indianan who favors the shorter middle distances, and Elton Brown of the Pittsburg (Kans.) State Teachers college, who has won a place among the top-flight half-milers.

Brown, who now is sporting the blue diamond emblem of the K. C. A. C. will run his specialty, the 880-yard event on the 146 2-3-yards-to-the-lap flat board oval, but Cunningham and Hornbostel are matched at a compromise distance in a special 2-man race over the three-quarter mile or 1,320-yard route.

Hornbostel is one of the few men who have beaten Cunningham, although it was not at the native Kansan's favorite distance, and Cunningham has more than evened the score with his Hoosier rival. Cunningham's loss to Hornbostel was by an eye-lash in the national intercollegiate half-mile at Chicago in 1933 shortly after the "Elkhart Express" set up a new American record of 4:09.8 in the mile the same afternoon. In that half-mile race Hornbostel marked up a new record of 1:50.9.

Brown won the national junior 800-meter title last summer and this winter has taken the 880-yard special at the Millrose games in Madison Square Garden and the half-mile special at the annual Seton Hall college games at Newark in track record time of 1:56.8, beating Erik Ny of Sweden, among others.

Shannon Douglas, a famous former Missouri trackster, has offered a new cup for the winner of the 2-mile college relay.

The program includes the 50-yard dash and high and low hurdles, the 440, 880 and mile runs, high jump, pole-vault, and special match relays in dual or triangular rivalry at the mile with the best time to determine the big winner.

Several of the Big Six and Missouri Valley conference schools have given notice they will have specialists and relay teams in competition.

SOUTHERN LOOP OPENS APRIL 16

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Sunday dates for the 1935 season are evenly divided among the eight cities of the Southern association of baseball clubs.

The schedule, made public tonight by Association President John D. Martin, provides for 11 Sunday "home" engagements for each of the clubs. New Orleans will play eight Sunday double headers, and seven "bargain" attractions are planned for Sundays in Knoxville. Memphis scheduled five Sunday double headers.

The season will open April 16 for the 15-game schedule, with Memphis at Little Rock, Nashville at Chattanooga, New Orleans at Birmingham and Knoxville at Atlanta.

Knoxville opens at home April 17, with the Atlanta Crackers as the visitors. The curtain will go up at Memphis, April 18, when the Chicks tie up with the Little Rock Pebs. Chattanooga will help Nashville open April 19, while the opening at New Orleans will be delayed until April 20, when the Pelicans will entertain Birmingham's Barons.

The schedule makes no reference to night games, since that is a matter for agreement between playing clubs. Some night games will be played at Little Rock, Atlanta and Nashville, officials said, and other clubs are expected to put in arc lights in preparing for a try at after sundown attractions.

Handball Champ Learns Of Death Of His Father

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Sam Atcheson, who late today won the National Y. M. C. A. handball singles doubles championships, was notified tonight that his father, J. R. Atcheson, 68, of Houma, La., was killed in an automobile accident near New Orleans.

Ted Bank Appointed Head Football Coach At Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Ted Bank, assistant football coach at Tulane university, will succeed Leo B. Calland as head football coach at the University of Idaho, President M. G. Neale announced today.

Bank played quarterback at Michigan under Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost. On the same team was Harry Kipke, present Michigan coach. Bank was graduated in 1923.

He has been at Tulane since 1929 and is 37 years old.

Calland resigned in December.

New York A. C. McCluskey led his club mate, Frank Nordell, to the tape by 40 yards.

Charles (Chuck) Hornbostel of Indiana, the defending champion and favorite, shared the fate of Equipoise when he failed even to place in the 1,000 meter run. The bespectacled Hoosier, apparently a bit lame, trailed all the way and finished next to last in a race won by Glen Dawson of Tulsa, Okla.

Dawson came from behind on the last lap to whip Waldo Sweet of the New York A. C., by a scant yard in 2 minutes, 30 seconds, with North Carolina's Harry Williamson about five yards further back.

The Hoosier had not been beaten this winter. He made one brief attempt to overhaul the leaders after a slow start, but soon faded and then jogged the rest of the race, finishing sixth in a field of seven finalists.

Owens set the sprint record in a semi-final heat in which Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, the defending national champion, was eliminated. Metcalfe, off to a poor start, trailed Owens by two yards and was beaten off for the second qualifying position by Sam Maniaci, of Columbia. Metcalfe had shared the former world indoor mark of 6.7 seconds with Emmett Toppino of New Orleans.

In capturing the 65 meter high hurdles lanky Percy Beard, the Alabama school teacher competing for the New York A. C., equalled his own world indoor record of 8.6 seconds in the final heat. Beard beat Phil Good of Bowdoin, the inter-collegiate champion, by a yard and a half.

Glenn Hardin, Louisiana State's noted foot racer and hurdler, failed to measure up to form in his indoor debut and was eliminated in the trials of the 600 meter run. Hardin trailed throughout and ran fourth in the heat won by Kenneth Gillmore of Columbia, with Elton Brown of the Kansas City A. C., second and Fred Kiger of Pittsburgh third.

INDOOR NET CROWN WON BY JANE SHARP

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Overcoming a three-game deficit in the first set, where she shifted to a forecourt position after vainly trying to match her opponent from the baseline, Eleanor Jane Sharp of Pasadena, Calif., today became women's national indoor tennis champion.

She defeated Helen Pedersen of Stamford, Conn., national girls' grass court titlist, who for the second consecutive year was denied the championship, 11-9, 6-1. A year ago Miss Pedersen was beaten in the final in straight sets by Norma Taubele. A gallery of close to 1,000 watched the contest.

After a 10-minute rest Miss Sharp came back for her third final of the tournament, pairing with Gregory Mangin of Newark, former men's indoor titleholder, to defeat Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France and Gene McCauliff of Yonkers, 9-7, 10-8. In the women's doubles final Thursday Miss Sharp and Miss Taubele lost to Mme. Henrotin and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, 7-5, 6-4.

Noted for her retrieving qualities, Miss Pedersen made little effort to spike some of the new champion's returns and only once was she able to halt Miss Sharp's march in the second set. She managed to break through the Pasadena player's delivery in the third game after trailing 15-40.

ALABAMA FIVE WINS FROM MAROON TEAM

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Alabama closed its home season here tonight with a 30-22 victory over Mississippi State in a contest featured by the eight goals of Waters, Mississippi forward, in the final half.

The winner led, 18 to 4, at the half, and their lead was never seriously threatened. Jim Walker, Alabama forward, fed seven foul tries through the basket, which, added to his two goals, made him high point man for the winners with 11.

TIGER TRACKMEN READY TO LAUNCH TITLE CAMPAIGN

L. S. U. Team, Already working Out, Starts Grind On March 23

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Though he's in the midst of spring football training now, Bernie H. Moore, the sage of Louisiana State football, has his eye peeled for his first love—the track.

Track will not receive all of the attention of the man who gave L. S. U. and Dixie their first national intercollegiate title for at least a month, since the newly appointed Tiger grid coach has work to do on the football field.

But on March 23, Bernie, a great builder of hurdlers and shot putters, launches the Bengal spikemen on one of the heaviest track and field campaigns that any L. S. U. team has ever attempted.

The Southwestern Relays, at Lafayette, are first on the program, being followed by the Texas Relays, at Austin, Texas, March 30; a dual meet with Rice, April 6; the Penn Relays, at Philadelphia, April 26-27; a dual meet with Tulane, and the Southeastern conference, N. C. A. A. in California, and the Southern and National A. A. U. games.

Of that great team of 1933, with which Bernie brought the intercollegiate championship to the Red Stick, only Glenn "Slats" Hardin and Nathan "Buddy" Blair remain. But Hardin is the greatest quarter-miler and low-hurdler in the nation, and Blair ranks with the best javelin men.

There's a host of fine material present, including several A. A. U. champions and point winners in the conference meet. Besides Hardin and Blair, Ted O'Neil, middle distance star; John Sanders, distance runner; Hugh Saxon, sprinter; Clarence Roberts, high hurdler, and Ed Ratelle, broad jumper, were all members of the 1934 squad which brought L. S. U. its third consecutive Southeastern championship and a third place in the N. C. A. A. games.

Other potential point winners are Ralph Newell, in the sprints; E. C. Black, in the middle distances; Whipple, in the broad jump; Jack Walker, in the high jump; Arnold Bryan and Charlie Sanford, in the pole vault, and Bill Crass and Marvin Stewart in the weights and discus.

Tiger trackmen have been working steadily since the Christmas holidays, when weather permitted, and "Bat" Gourrier, who is Bernie's right-hand man, should have them in fair condition when the genial Tiger head-coach takes over the reins at the end of spring training.

Western Kentucky Quint Wins Conference Crown

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Western Kentucky State Teachers college tonight won its fourth straight basketball championship of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic conference, defeating Murray Teachers 23 to 20 before a frenzied crowd of 4,000 fans.

Hero of the game tonight was Western's diminutive guard, Elmo Meacham, who supplied the winning spark for the Hilltoppers after Murray had led at half time, 11 to 8. Meacham tied with Hardin, Hilltopper forward, for scoring honors of the game with 7 points.

Western missed many of its shots in the first half, but in the second section settled down to a more consistent kind of basketball—the kind that won them the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association basketball title last year.

NIGHT BASEBALL DRAWS INTEREST OF CLUB OWNERS

Experiment May Lead To Illumination Of Major League Parks

By Eddie Brietz
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Whether the major league shall go "Main street" with torch baseball, already a fixture in the provinces, has the upper strata of the baseball world a-twitter and virtually a house divided against itself.

The merry magnates (after all, they pay the freight) look with a sympathetic if doubtful eye upon the experiment to be tried out in Cincinnati this summer, but the players and most of the managers would have no "truck" with the idea and are lined up solidly against it.

Powel Crosley, Jr., millionaire owner of the hapless Cincinnati Reds, stymied in the cellar for four years now, is the trail-blazing pioneer who dared suggest the staid old National league, daddy of them all, join hands with the Piedmont and other minor loops which are cashing in on the moonlight version of the national past me.

Crosley stirred up a tempest when he tactfully broached the subject at the league's mid-winter meeting. He received enthusiastic support from Sam Breadon of the Cardinals but for the most part the baseball barons were aghast.

Charles A. Stoneham of the Giants and others of the more sedate and conservative easterners, arched eyebrows and looked as if they could scarcely believe their ears. Judge Emil C. Fuchs of Boston was so excited he completely forgot his broad "a's."

But Crosley won out. He wrung a unanimous if grudging permission for his cellar champs to play seven night games at home this season. No visiting team can be forced to perform under the arcs, but with one or two exceptions it is believed they will cooperate with Crosley to the extent of one nocturnal appearance, just to see how the thing works.

If Cincinnati makes a go of it, St. Louis will immediately turn on the lights. So will most of the others. They are passing up no bets which will speed up the turnstiles.

Such men as Bill Terry of the Giants; Joe Cronin of the Red Sox and the venerable Connie Mack of Philadelphia say the fans will never go for synthetic baseball.

"Night baseball is a fad," says the Philadelphia patriarch, "and will be a very tiresome spectacle for the fans, particularly on damp nights late in August and September. Baseball and sunshine should go hand in hand."

Bill Terry thinks chances of injury will increase. It's tough enough for batters to go up against speed ball pitchers in broad daylight. Also, says the Giant boss, the lights make players look faster and better than they are and he is going to be leery about paying much for bushers who have made their minor league reps by moonlight.

Joe Cronin, secure in a five-year contract outside the national league, speaks more freely. "Let the National be a tank league," he contributes. "The American will continue as a major. Fans would go to see baseball if it was played on roller skates for a while. But not for long."

In rebuttal, the magnates will bet that if night ball gets off to a good start in the National, owners of some of the losing American league clubs will start a like movement next year.

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The cotton marget was quite active in today's short session. The trading was largely in March liquidation which was accomplished mostly by transferring to later months.

Today was first notice day for March deliveries and notices were issued for only 3400 bales. The small notices were reported to have been stopped promptly.

After opening 2 to 3 points down because of lower Liverpool cables than due and liquidation of March, prices continued to ease off gradually throughout the session, making the day's lows right at the end 7 to 9 points from the best of the morning.

There was some trade buying and price fixing, but the main interest was in liquidation of March contracts.

Exports for the day were 2,268 bales.

New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Cotton was lower today under continued March liquidation and in sympathy with the easier ruling of the stock market. Trade interests were buyers on the scale down and there was a good deal of switching from March to later deliveries. March declined to 12.29 while May and October declined to 12.40 and closing quotations were the lowest of the day and with the market off 9 to 12 points.

Cotton futures closed barely steady 9 to 12 lower.

New York Stocks

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The stock market skies were overcast today despite improved tendencies exhibited by the recently battered utilities. The rails, steels and scattered industrials pointed downward. A few specialties advanced on small transfers. The close was a bit heavy. The turnover approximated 670,000 shares.

While Wall Street's prophets were inclined to expect some sort of a temporary rally because of the better technical position of the equities list, few traders backed up this opinion with long commitments. In addition to the indefinite character of most of the news, the usual week-end selling helped to depress leading stock favorites.

Commodities, bonds and foreign exchanges were mixed. United States government securities were in demand at higher levels, but secondary corporation loans were in supply. Leading gold currencies turned up and the British pound sagged.

Shares off around 2 points each included United States Steel common and preferred, Bethlehem, Johns-Manville, Dominion Stores, Baldwin Locomotive preferred, United States Smelting, American Locomotive and Santa Fe. Among others, down a point or so were National Biscuit, American Rolling Mill, Deere, Du Pont, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, Goodyear, Union Pacific, New York Central, American Smelting and Western Union. A gain of 5 points was registered by American Crystal Sugar on a few transfers and Consolidated Gas, Northern American and American Water Works were up fractionally.

The slightly better tone in evidence among power and light company issues was attributed partly to the ruling of a federal district court in Alabama holding that competitions of the Tennessee valley authorities with private utilities was illegal.

The drop in the steel group was not entirey accounted for by fears that mill operations will decline appreciably over the next few months and that higher costs of production will prevent most of the larger corporations from showing the desired net profits.

Followers of the rails apparently found little cheer in the statement of Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. That only deserving roads could expect to be bailed out by his organization.

The retreat of National Biscuit and Dominion Stores stocks was coincident with the rather disappointing earnings statements of these companies. The biscuit concern disclosed, $1.56 profit per common share for 1934 compared with $2.11 in the preceding year. Dominion Stores earned 6 cents last year against $1.20 in 1933.

Most financial authorities, at the same time, advanced the thought that business, generally, was better than sentiment. They pointed to the report of the governor of the farm credit administration which showed an increase during 1934 of some 45 per cent in operations over 1933.

Sugar

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Raw sugar was unchanged today at 2.95 for spot but there was nothing available below 3.00.

In a quiet market sugar futures were a little reactionary, with the closing net unchanged to 2 points lower in both contracts.

Sales in the old delivery were 2,550 tons and in the new 4,950 tons. In both contracts May sold at 2.06 while July reacted from 2.12 to 2.11 or unchanged to a point below the previous close. March old closed at 2.00, May at 2.05, July 2.11 and Sept. 2.16.

In refined, prices were unchanged locally at 4.30 to 4.50 for granulated although as previously announced, several out of town refiners were listing at 4.70.

INDUSTRIAL--REVIEW OF THE TWIN CITIES

MANY SEE NEW CHEVROLET CARS

Big Crowd Visits Lee-Rogers Showroom To View DeLuxe Models

More than 5,000 people visited the showrooms of the Lee-Rogers Chevrolet company since the announcement of the new car here, it was stated by Jack Rogers, president of the company, yesterday.

"The announcement and first presentation of the new Chevrolet cars for 1935 were most enthusiastically received by the people of Monroe," Mr. Rogers said. "Never before since I have been in the automobile business have showroom visitors so closely examined new car offerings as those who inspected the new Chevrolet this past few days."

"The beautiful appearance and new styling of the Master DeLuxe models met with the admiration of showroom visitors who were no less enthusiastic about the sensational performance and remarkable economy of the Standard Six models."

Local motorists, Mr. Rogers reported, were particularly interested in the improved knee-action as well as the new turret top of the Master DeLuxe models. Those who stepped from the showroom to take a demonstration in the new 1935 Standard cars were quick to recognize the wonderfully improved performance and the smooth riding qualities in a car of such low price.

Approximately ninety per cent of the orders from Chevrolet dealers for the new 1935 Master De Luxe line of cars specify knee-action, which is offered this year as optional equipment on this series at $20 additional cost, according to information released in Detroit by William E. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor company.

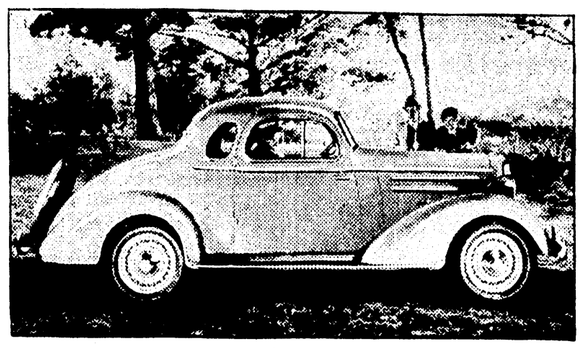

"Not only are the advance orders from dealers for delivery from the factory showing this high percentage of knee-action cars specified," said Mr. Holler, "but orders for retail delivery to customers are showing approximately the same ratio.

"These advance orders and projections from our dealers bear out the statement, made when we announced knee-action as optional equipment on the Master De Luxe series earlier in January, that knee-action had proved so popular on our cars during 1934, and was considered such an important feature by the public, that nearly all Master De Luxe sales in 1935 would be cars with knee-action.

"Public acceptance of both lines of Chevrolets is more enthusiastic than ever before, according to telegraphic reports from hundreds of our larger dealers.

"This fact was quite apparent to visitors in the Chevrolet exhibit at the New York and Detroit automobile shows. Three things registered themselves with auto show guests—first, the new beauty of exterior and interior appearance, together with the wealth of comfort and convenience features of the new Master De Luxe cars; second, the spirited performance of the new Standard Six; and third, that despite the host of new features and obvious high quality of both new Chevrolets, 1935 prices are at the same level as 1934 on the Master De Luxe and lower on the Standard line."

Oldsmobile Sold Ten Times As Many Cars As One Year Ago

Breaking all records for the month, Oldsmobile in January sold 10 times as many cars at retail as in January a year ago, according to a statement by D. E. Ralston, vice president and general sales manager, it was announced yesterday by the Twin City Motor company, local Oldsmobile dealer.

"Production for this time of year is at the highest point in history," Mr. Ralston said, "and more cars are coming off the line daily than at any other time in Oldsmobile history.

"The popularity which was enjoyed by Oldsmobile in 1934, when sales were doubled, has been augmented by public approval of the new models," said Mr. Ralston, "and the result is the biggest January in the 39-year history of the company.

"With the flying start we received in January, with production scheduled this month which will exceed any month since Oldsmobile built its first car, and with the demand for our new cars steadily growing, our 1935 goal appears a certainty.

"Much of the enthusiasm for Oldsmobile has developed as a direct result of our policy to give the motorist every proven feature which adds to the safety, economy, or comfort of motoring."

Oldsmobile also has found popular favor in Monroe, according to the Twin City Motor company, whose sales have helped the factory compile its record breaking mark.

U. S. TIRES GIVE GREATER MILEAGE

Cooling Treatment Makes Tire Safer And Freer From Trouble

Keeping constantly before them the thought that heat is the greatest enemy of tire life, tire engineers of the U. S. Rubber company succeeded in cooling the 1935 U. S. Royal by 30 per cent, with the result that it gives more miles, is safer, and is freer from ordinary tire troubles.

"By improving the method of making tempered rubber, the engineers obtained a compound that generates less heat, Harvey Benoit, of Benoit-Nash Motor company, local U. S. Tire dealer, said. We conservatively estimate this reduction of heat to be approximately 30 per cent. This improvement results in a substantial increase in mileage.

"This cooler running tire also lessens the destroying heat action against the carcass and the tread itself, and does not increase the burden on the bead with the result that the 1935 Royal is a much safer tire. The cooler tire, at the same time, is tougher and has a far greater resistance to punctures, cuts and bruises.

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester, S.A.E. Supervisor of Motor Vehicle Equipment, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana

"THIS car used to run like a clock, but lately it seems to have lost its pep!"

This loss of power can usually be traced to one or more of four causes. First, loss of compression; second, deranged valve action; third, faulty ignition; and last, improper carburetion mixture.

Worn, scored or cracked cylinders, worn, broken or gummed piston rings, pitted or warped valves or weak valve springs may cause faulty compression.

Ignition troubles come from such factors as worn wires, pitted distributor points, a weak battery or a faulty coil or condenser, incorrect timing or bad battery connections.

Faulty carburetion is more often than not due to a poor mixture, resulting from an unsatisfactory carburetor adjustment. The use of so-called "gyp" gasolines also causes carburetor troubles.

Dragging brakes, clogged mufflers, excessive deposits of carbon in the cylinders and failure of the oiling system to supply the needed amount of oil are also responsible for loss of power.

When the loss of power becomes noticeable to the average driver it is time for him to take under consideration the question of an overhaul and to consult a competent mechanic before it is too late.

EXPERT WORK AT LOCAL DUCO SHOP

The Duco Shop, located at 1111 DeSiard street, takes pardonable pride in the class of refinishing work turned out at their shop. Being the oldest authorized Duco refinishing shop in Monroe, a high quality standard was set years ago and this same high quality is maintained today.

The Duco Shop turns of a true factory-like paint job. Regardless of the condition of the car when it enters this shop, it comes out looking like a brand new automobile when the Duco Shop experts have finished with it. Your car may have been in a wreck, with its fenders battered and the paint stripped from its sides, yet Duco Shop craftsmen can give it the same finish it had when it left the factory. You will be amazed at the transformation.

This shop makes a specialty of this kind of job. Their top and upholstery department turns out excellent work, the dents are taken out of a car so that the surface regains its smoothness and then the painters refinish the body with painstaking care.

You will be surprised at the reasonable cost of such a job. The Duco Shop can handle the largest or smallest refinishing job with the same excellent results and their charge is always within reason.

Why not drive by the Duco Shop at 1111 DeSiard street and learn how you can have your car refinished at low cost? Their many customers will testify to the satisfaction of their work.

Monroe Hardware Co. Displaying Popular New Line Of Sets

A new line of "Bring 'Em in Alive" triple-filtered Zenith long-distance radio receiving sets is now on display and being demonstrated by Monroe Hardware company, 105 St. John street, who have recently been appointed dealer in Monroe and this territory for this nationally known firm, one of the pioneers in this country in the manufacture of high-quality radios.

Since putting the new 1935 Zenith line of triple-filtered sets in stock they have had many users of old Zenith sets express great enthusiasm over the 18 different models they are showing.

One morning recently they tuned in with England, France and Germany at 8 o'clock. In this reception there was no faltering, weak, sputtering mumblings. The reception was remarkable, positive and clear-cut. The Zenith represents, with its triple-filtering, the difference between mere short-wave reception and thrilling short-wave entertainment brought in from the world's distant radio frontiers. The Monroe Hardware company will be pleased to demonstrate this new radio.

This new 1935 Zenith line marks the entry of the manufacturers into the popular-priced field. Throughout the years, Zenith has enjoyed that reputation which usually goes with a high-priced product. And now, that same reputation, same quality and performance is back of this new line in a full range of prices which are competitive.

By all means see the new 1935 Zenith radio sets which "Bring 'Em in Alive." You will immediately recognize the unusual tone the great selectivity of the set and you will appreciate its unusual reception of stations throughout the world.

DODGE SHOWS BIG GAIN WITH TRUCKS

Commercial Car Deliveries Reach Biggest Volume In History

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—(Special)—January 1935 deliveries of Dodge commercial cars and trucks, so far reported by dealers are substantially higher than deliveries recorded for January 1934, according to J. D. Burk, director of truck sales of Dodge Brothers corporation. The total of truck deliveries during the first month of this year was 2,929 units, as against 2,065 units delivered in the corresponding period of 1934—a gain of 41.8 per cent.

Previous to 1934, the high-water mark for Dodge truck shipments was 66,830 units forwarded in 1926, the year which also holds the record for shipments of Dodge passenger cars.

The 1934 truck shipment record tops that of 1926 by 1,639 units, the total of commercial cars and trucks shipped by Dodge Brothers corporation in 1934 being 68,469.

BILLY ORCHARD IS LOCATED IN CADDO

Billy Orchard, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Orchard, living on DeSiard road, who was reported missing from his home about 24 hours, was located in Shreveport Saturday afternoon and returned to his home here.

The lad was said to have left home because of a reprimand he had received at school Thursday.

Saturday afternoon a Shreveport employe of the Louisiana Paper company, by which Mr. Orchard is employed in Monroe, went to the station at Shreveport to see another employe off on a train. There he found the missing youngster. He had heard that Billy had left home, but was surprised to find him at the depot in Shreveport.

Loss of engine power is often due to loss of compression, and the motor should be checked for worn cylinders and rings, faulty ignition, improper carburetion, or deranged valve action.

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The cotton marget was quite active in today's short session. The trading was largely in March liquidation which was accomplished mostly by transferring to later months.

Today was first notice day for March deliveries and notices were issued for only 3400 bales. The small notices were reported to have been stopped promptly.

After opening 2 to 3 points down because of lower Liverpool cables than due and liquidation of March, prices continued to ease off gradually throughout the session, making the day's lows right at the end 7 to 9 points from the best of the morning.

There was some trade buying and price fixing, but the main interest was in liquidation of March contracts.

Exports for the day were 2,268 bales.

New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Cotton was lower today under continued March liquidation and in sympathy with the easier ruling of the stock market. Trade interests were buyers on the scale down and there was a good deal of switching from March to later deliveries. March declined to 12.29 while May and October declined to 12.40 and closing quotations were the lowest of the day and with the market off 9 to 12 points.

Cotton futures closed barely steady 9 to 12 lower.

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The stock market skies were overcast today despite improved tendencies exhibited by the recently battered utilities. The rails, steels and scattered industrials pointed downward. A few specialties advanced on small transfers. The close was a bit heavy. The turnover approximated 670,000 shares.

While Wall Street's prophets were inclined to expect some sort of a temporary rally because of the better technical position of the equities list, few traders backed up this opinion with long commitments. In addition to the indefinite character of most of the news, the usual week-end selling helped to depress leading stock favorites.

Commodities, bonds and foreign exchanges were mixed. United States government securities were in demand at higher levels, but secondary corporation loans were in supply. Leading gold currencies turned up and the British pound sagged.

Shares off around 2 points each included United States Steel common and preferred, Bethlehem, Johns-Manville, Dominion Stores, Baldwin Locomotive preferred, United States Smelting, American Locomotive and Santa Fe. Among others, down a point or so were National Biscuit, American Rolling Mill, Deere, Du Pont, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, Goodyear, Union Pacific, New York Central, American Smelting and Western Union. A gain of 5 points was registered by American Crystal Sugar on a few transfers and Consolidated Gas, Northern American and American Water Works were up fractionally.

The slightly better tone in evidence among power and light company issues was attributed partly to the ruling of a federal district court in Alabama holding that competitions of the Tennessee valley authorities with private utilities was illegal.

The drop in the steel group was not entirey accounted for by fears that mill operations will decline appreciably over the next few months and that higher costs of production will prevent most of the larger corporations from showing the desired net profits.

Followers of the rails apparently found little cheer in the statement of Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. That only deserving roads could expect to be bailed out by his organization.

The retreat of National Biscuit and Dominion Stores stocks was coincident with the rather disappointing earnings statements of these companies. The biscuit concern disclosed, $1.56 profit per common share for 1934 compared with $2.11 in the preceding year. Dominion Stores earned 6 cents last year against $1.20 in 1933.

Most financial authorities, at the same time, advanced the thought that business, generally, was better than sentiment. They pointed to the report of the governor of the farm credit administration which showed an increase during 1934 of some 45 per cent in operations over 1933.

INDUSTRIAL--REVIEW OF THE TWIN CITIES

MANY SEE NEW CHEVROLET CARS

More than 5,000 people visited the showrooms of the Lee-Rogers Chevrolet company since the announcement of the new car here, it was stated by Jack Rogers, president of the company, yesterday.

"The announcement and first presentation of the new Chevrolet cars for 1935 were most enthusiastically received by the people of Monroe," Mr. Rogers said. "Never before since I have been in the automobile business have showroom visitors so closely examined new car offerings as those who inspected the new Chevrolet this past few days."

"The beautiful appearance and new styling of the Master DeLuxe models met with the admiration of showroom visitors who were no less enthusiastic about the sensational performance and remarkable economy of the Standard Six models."

Local motorists, Mr. Rogers reported, were particularly interested in the improved knee-action as well as the new turret top of the Master DeLuxe models. Those who stepped from the showroom to take a demonstration in the new 1935 Standard cars were quick to recognize the wonderfully improved performance and the smooth riding qualities in a car of such low price.

Additional models of the new 1935 cars are expected any day for immediate delivery to the public, Mr. Rogers stated.

Approximately ninety per cent of the orders from Chevrolet dealers for the new 1935 Master De Luxe line of cars specify knee-action, which is offered this year as optional equipment on this series at $20 additional cost, according to information released in Detroit by William E. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor company.

"Not only are the advance orders from dealers for delivery from the factory showing this high percentage of knee-action cars specified," said Mr. Holler, "but orders for retail delivery to customers are showing approximately the same ratio.

"These advance orders and projections from our dealers bear out the statement, made when we announced knee-action as optional equipment on the Master De Luxe series earlier in January, that knee-action had proved so popular on our cars during 1934, and was considered such an important feature by the public, that nearly all Master De Luxe sales in 1935 would be cars with knee-action.

"Public acceptance of both lines of Chevrolets is more enthusiastic than ever before, according to telegraphic reports from hundreds of our larger dealers.

"This fact was quite apparent to visitors in the Chevrolet exhibit at the New York and Detroit automobile shows. Three things registered themselves with auto show guests—first, the new beauty of exterior and interior appearance, together with the wealth of comfort and convenience features of the new Master De Luxe cars; second, the spirited performance of the new Standard Six; and third, that despite the host of new features and obvious high quality of both new Chevrolets, 1935 prices are at the same level as 1934 on the Master De Luxe and lower on the Standard line."

HERE'S A POPULAR NEW MODEL

Oldsmobile Sold Ten Times As Many Cars As One Year Ago

Breaking all records for the month, Oldsmobile in January sold 10 times as many cars at retail as in January a year ago, according to a statement by D. E. Ralston, vice president and general sales manager, it was announced yesterday by the Twin City Motor company, local Oldsmobile dealer.

"Production for this time of year is at the highest point in history," Mr. Ralston said, "and more cars are coming off the line daily than at any other time in Oldsmobile history.

"The popularity which was enjoyed by Oldsmobile in 1934, when sales were doubled, has been augmented by public approval of the new models," said Mr. Ralston, "and the result is the biggest January in the 39-year history of the company.

"With the flying start we received in January, with production scheduled this month which will exceed any month since Oldsmobile built its first car, and with the demand for our new cars steadily growing, our 1935 goal appears a certainty.

"Much of the enthusiasm for Oldsmobile has developed as a direct result of our policy to give the motorist every proven feature which adds to the safety, economy, or comfort of motoring."

Oldsmobile also has found popular favor in Monroe, according to the Twin City Motor company, whose sales have helped the factory compile its record breaking mark.

U. S. TIRES GIVE GREATER MILEAGE

Keeping constantly before them the thought that heat is the greatest enemy of tire life, tire engineers of the U. S. Rubber company succeeded in cooling the 1935 U. S. Royal by 30 per cent, with the result that it gives more miles, is safer, and is freer from ordinary tire troubles.

"By improving the method of making tempered rubber, the engineers obtained a compound that generates less heat, Harvey Benoit, of Benoit-Nash Motor company, local U. S. Tire dealer, said. We conservatively estimate this reduction of heat to be approximately 30 per cent. This improvement results in a substantial increase in mileage.

"This cooler running tire also lessens the destroying heat action against the carcass and the tread itself, and does not increase the burden on the bead with the result that the 1935 Royal is a much safer tire. The cooler tire, at the same time, is tougher and has a far greater resistance to punctures, cuts and bruises.

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester, S.A.E.
Supervisor of Motor Vehicle Equipment, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana

"THIS car used to run like a clock, but lately it seems to have lost its pep!"

This is a familiar complaint. Many motorists can't understand why their cars fail to develop the power they did when they were new.

This loss of power can usually be traced to one or more of four causes. First, loss of compression; second, deranged valve action; third, faulty ignition; and last, improper carburetion mixture.

Worn, scored or cracked cylinders, worn, broken or gummed piston rings, pitted or warped valves or weak valve springs may cause faulty compression.

Faulty valve action can usually be traced to an improper adjustment of the valve tappets.

Ignition troubles come from such factors as worn wires, pitted distributor points, a weak battery or a faulty coil or condenser, incorrect timing or bad battery connections.

Faulty carburetion is more often than not due to a poor mixture, resulting from an unsatisfactory carburetor adjustment. The use of so-called "gyp" gasolines also causes carburetor troubles.

Dragging brakes, clogged mufflers, excessive deposits of carbon in the cylinders and failure of the oiling system to supply the needed amount of oil are also responsible for loss of power.

When the loss of power becomes noticeable to the average driver it is time for him to take under consideration the question of an overhaul and to consult a competent mechanic before it is too late.

EXPERT WORK AT LOCAL DUCO SHOP

The Duco Shop, located at 1111 DeSiard street, takes pardonable pride in the class of refinishing work turned out at their shop. Being the oldest authorized Duco refinishing shop in Monroe, a high quality standard was set years ago and this same high quality is maintained today.

The Duco Shop turns of a true factory-like paint job. Regardless of the condition of the car when it enters this shop, it comes out looking like a brand new automobile when the Duco Shop experts have finished with it. Your car may have been in a wreck, with its fenders battered and the paint stripped from its sides, yet Duco Shop craftsmen can give it the same finish it had when it left the factory. You will be amazed at the transformation.

This shop makes a specialty of this kind of job. Their top and upholstery department turns out excellent work, the dents are taken out of a car so that the surface regains its smoothness and then the painters refinish the body with painstaking care.

You will be surprised at the reasonable cost of such a job. The Duco Shop can handle the largest or smallest refinishing job with the same excellent results and their charge is always within reason.

A variety of colors may be had at the Duco Shop. Whatever color you may desire your car refinished in, you will find it here.

Why not drive by the Duco Shop at 1111 DeSiard street and learn how you can have your car refinished at low cost? Their many customers will testify to the satisfaction of their work.

A new line of "Bring 'Em in Alive" triple-filtered Zenith long-distance radio receiving sets is now on display and being demonstrated by Monroe Hardware company, 105 St. John street, who have recently been appointed dealer in Monroe and this territory for this nationally known firm, one of the pioneers in this country in the manufacture of high-quality radios.

Since putting the new 1935 Zenith line of triple-filtered sets in stock they have had many users of old Zenith sets express great enthusiasm over the 18 different models they are showing.

One morning recently they tuned in with England, France and Germany at 8 o'clock. In this reception there was no faltering, weak, sputtering mumblings. The reception was remarkable, positive and clear-cut. The Zenith represents, with its triple-filtering, the difference between mere short-wave reception and thrilling short-wave entertainment brought in from the world's distant radio frontiers. The Monroe Hardware company will be pleased to demonstrate this new radio.

This new 1935 Zenith line marks the entry of the manufacturers into the popular-priced field. Throughout the years, Zenith has enjoyed that reputation which usually goes with a high-priced product. And now, that same reputation, same quality and performance is back of this new line in a full range of prices which are competitive.

Remember, the Monroe Hardware company is prepared to sell radio receiving sets on the weekly or monthly payment basis.

By all means see the new 1935 Zenith radio sets which "Bring 'Em in Alive." You will immediately recognize the unusual tone the great selectivity of the set and you will appreciate its unusual reception of stations throughout the world.

DODGE SHOWS BIG GAIN WITH TRUCKS

Commercial Car Deliveries Reach Biggest Volume In History

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—(Special)—January 1935 deliveries of Dodge commercial cars and trucks, so far reported by dealers are substantially higher than deliveries recorded for January 1934, according to J. D. Burk, director of truck sales of Dodge Brothers corporation. The total of truck deliveries during the first month of this year was 2,929 units, as against 2,065 units delivered in the corresponding period of 1934—a gain of 41.8 per cent.

Previous to 1934, the high-water mark for Dodge truck shipments was 66,830 units forwarded in 1926, the year which also holds the record for shipments of Dodge passenger cars.

The 1934 truck shipment record tops that of 1926 by 1,639 units, the total of commercial cars and trucks shipped by Dodge Brothers corporation in 1934 being 68,469.

BILLY ORCHARD IS LOCATED IN CADDO

Billy Orchard, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Orchard, living on DeSiard road, who was reported missing from his home about 24 hours, was located in Shreveport Saturday afternoon and returned to his home here.

The lad was said to have left home because of a reprimand he had received at school Thursday.

Saturday afternoon a Shreveport employe of the Louisiana Paper company, by which Mr. Orchard is employed in Monroe, went to the station at Shreveport to see another employe off on a train. There he found the missing youngster. He had heard that Billy had left home, but was surprised to find him at the depot in Shreveport.

Loss of engine power is often due to loss of compression, and the motor should be checked for worn cylinders and rings, faulty ignition, improper carburetion, or deranged valve action.

LASALLE SCHOOLS ARE OUT OF DEBT

All Board Employes Paid And Current Bills Taken Care Of

JENA, La., Feb. 22.—(Special)—For the first time in the past ten years the LaSalle parish school board is clear of all debts due by its general fund. Superintendent J. D. Russell, Jr., states that all of the board employes have been paid up to date and that all current bills, as well as bills that have accrued for the past two years, have been taken care of. The board owes no bank notes and its only indebtedness is about $70,000 in certificates of indebtedness voted about four years ago and outstanding bond issues for building purposes.

Up to the present date only 2,350 persons have signed the poll books in LaSalle parish, according to Sheriff L. N. Davis. In the last general election in 1932 the parish had approximately 4,000 qualified voters and the sheriff does not believe that even with free poll tax the list will equal that number in the election to be held next January.

The first arrest since the passing of the prohibition law, which went into effect in LaSalle parish on January 1, was registered this week when Deputy Sheriff W. M. Enterkin and H. H. Smith, Olla town marshal, arrested Richard Bass and "Dutch" Duke, near Olla and lodged them in jail on a charge of manufacturing liquor. The officers claim they found 400 gallons of mash and a 50 gallon capacity still on the property owned by these men near Standard.

Miss Alice Lee Grosjean, supervisor of public accounts, and Gaston L. Porterie, attorney general, have filed suit in the eighth judicial district court in Jena seeking to collect a total of $1,968.75 from H. L. Hunt, Inc., pioneer operators in the Tullos oil fields. They allege that the Hunt company is indebted to the state in this amount for using motors of a capacity of 1,050 horsepower from July 1, 1932 to July 31, 1934, under an act of the 1932 legislature which assesses a tax of $1.00 per horsepower on all motors producing over 10 horsepower.

Your Income Tax

NO. 10

Exemption Allowed Head of a Family

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may claim the exemption. If, the common home being maintained, the parent is away on business, or a child away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowed. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another, they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

Feasibility of night air mail was demonstrated by a night and day relay of flights from coast to coast begun February 22, 1921, the trip being completed in 33 hours and 21 minutes of elapsed time.

PWA BOTTLED UP

President Roosevelt now has a permanent memento of PWA work—the rum bottle held by Secretary of Interior Ickes. It was found by PWA workers in the Yorktown river, Va., and is believed to have come from the British frigate Charon, sunk there in 1781.

Bastrop

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Thompson entertained Tuesday afternoon in honor of their lovely little daughter, Beth Thompson, who observed her ninth birthday on that day and to commemorate the happy event was privileged to invite her playmates to her home to share the pleasures of the day with her.

The afternoon was devoted to playing games, and an outstanding feature was the distribution of the favors to each little guest. The refreshment hour attracted the children to the dining room where delicious fruit punch, heart-shaped cakes embossed in red and dainty confections were served.

The guest list included Pauline Rae Khourt, Bettye Jane Robinson, George Emma Tisdale, Peggy Ann Smith, Dot McDowell, Margaret Woodall, Bobbie Jeanette Thompson, Imagone Graham, Margie House, Katherine Harp, Joan Willis, Dixie Griffin, Marjorie Sims, Baby Sister Kern, Phyllis Rose Seligman, Lois Ann Oliver, Betty Beasley, Alyce Balyard, Joyce Nell Robinson, Marcille Barnett, Yron Rawls, Mary Ann Walton, Leo Kern, Billy and Wally Gladney, Jerry Solly, Robert Barr Todd, John Coats, Jr., Martin Rodgers, Billie Crowe, Thomas Davis, Donald Alexander, George Daniels, Sammy Allgood, C. L. Givens, Billy Handy, Billie Frank Rawls, Martha Jane Hall, Tootsie Givens, Mac Daniels, Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Bennett.

An interesting wedding is that of Miss Erla Easley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Easley of Goldonna, La., to Mr. J. B. Spier of this city which took place Saturday afternoon. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a modish ensemble of burgundy ostrich cloth, trimmed in mole, with accessories to harmonize. An exquisite shoulder corsage of Talisman roses added a distinctive touch.

Miss Easley receiver her degree in music from the Louisiana State normal and for the past five years has been actively engaged in conducting a studio of music in this city during which time she has acquired a large circle of friends.

Mr. Spier is a member of a prominent family of this city and is now associated with a local motor company. The young couple are receiving the felicitations of their friends at the home of the groom on South Washington street.

The Pot Pourri Book club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. E. Fullenwider as gracious hostess. President Estelle B. Harris welcomed into the club two new members, Mesdames F. K. Pettis and W. H. Giles, interesting current events were given in response to the roll call.

This is to inform the public that the difference between my books as treasurer of Saint James No. 2 Society North, and the secretary's books have been settled satisfactorily. The secretary, Carter Richardson, claimed that I owed the society $26.33 and after all warrants, vouchers, etc., were traced it was showed that the society is indebted to me, Richard Goines, as treasurer, $8.67. Now, I have been treasurer, many, many years and I don't see why my secretary brother, Carter Richardson, can't understand his books any better. It was either he did not know what he was doing, or he wanted to get me out of office.

LASALLE SCHOOLS ARE OUT OF DEBT

JENA, La., Feb. 22.—(Special)—For the first time in the past ten years the LaSalle parish school board is clear of all debts due by its general fund. Superintendent J. D. Russell, Jr., states that all of the board employes have been paid up to date and that all current bills, as well as bills that have accrued for the past two years, have been taken care of. The board owes no bank notes and its only indebtedness is about $70,000 in certificates of indebtedness voted about four years ago and outstanding bond issues for building purposes.

Up to the present date only 2,350 persons have signed the poll books in LaSalle parish, according to Sheriff L. N. Davis. In the last general election in 1932 the parish had approximately 4,000 qualified voters and the sheriff does not believe that even with free poll tax the list will equal that number in the election to be held next January.

The first arrest since the passing of the prohibition law, which went into effect in LaSalle parish on January 1, was registered this week when Deputy Sheriff W. M. Enterkin and H. H. Smith, Olla town marshal, arrested Richard Bass and "Dutch" Duke, near Olla and lodged them in jail on a charge of manufacturing liquor. The officers claim they found 400 gallons of mash and a 50 gallon capacity still on the property owned by these men near Standard.

Miss Alice Lee Grosjean, supervisor of public accounts, and Gaston L. Porterie, attorney general, have filed suit in the eighth judicial district court in Jena seeking to collect a total of $1,968.75 from H. L. Hunt, Inc., pioneer operators in the Tullos oil fields. They allege that the Hunt company is indebted to the state in this amount for using motors of a capacity of 1,050 horsepower from July 1, 1932 to July 31, 1934, under an act of the 1932 legislature which assesses a tax of $1.00 per horsepower on all motors producing over 10 horsepower.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles on the subject of the federal income tax, prepared by the Internal Revenue Department. The last day for filing federal income tax returns for the year 1934 is March 15, 1935.

NO. 10

Exemption Allowed Head of a Family

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may claim the exemption. If, the common home being maintained, the parent is away on business, or a child away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowed. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another, they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

Feasibility of night air mail was demonstrated by a night and day relay of flights from coast to coast begun February 22, 1921, the trip being completed in 33 hours and 21 minutes of elapsed time.

PWA BOTTLED UP

President Roosevelt now has a permanent memento of PWA work—the rum bottle held by Secretary of Interior Ickes. It was found by PWA workers in the Yorktown river, Va., and is believed to have come from the British frigate Charon, sunk there in 1781.

Bastrop

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Thompson entertained Tuesday afternoon in honor of their lovely little daughter, Beth Thompson, who observed her ninth birthday on that day and to commemorate the happy event was privileged to invite her playmates to her home to share the pleasures of the day with her.

The afternoon was devoted to playing games, and an outstanding feature was the distribution of the favors to each little guest. The refreshment hour attracted the children to the dining room where delicious fruit punch, heart-shaped cakes embossed in red and dainty confections were served.

The guest list included Pauline Rae Khourt, Bettye Jane Robinson, George Emma Tisdale, Peggy Ann Smith, Dot McDowell, Margaret Woodall, Bobbie Jeanette Thompson, Imagone Graham, Margie House, Katherine Harp, Joan Willis, Dixie Griffin, Marjorie Sims, Baby Sister Kern, Phyllis Rose Seligman, Lois Ann Oliver, Betty Beasley, Alyce Balyard, Joyce Nell Robinson, Marcille Barnett, Yron Rawls, Mary Ann Walton, Leo Kern, Billy and Wally Gladney, Jerry Solly, Robert Barr Todd, John Coats, Jr., Martin Rodgers, Billie Crowe, Thomas Davis, Donald Alexander, George Daniels, Sammy Allgood, C. L. Givens, Billy Handy, Billie Frank Rawls, Martha Jane Hall, Tootsie Givens, Mac Daniels, Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Bennett.

An interesting wedding is that of Miss Erla Easley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Easley of Goldonna, La., to Mr. J. B. Spier of this city which took place Saturday afternoon. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a modish ensemble of burgundy ostrich cloth, trimmed in mole, with accessories to harmonize. An exquisite shoulder corsage of Talisman roses added a distinctive touch.

Miss Easley receiver her degree in music from the Louisiana State normal and for the past five years has been actively engaged in conducting a studio of music in this city during which time she has acquired a large circle of friends.

Mr. Spier is a member of a prominent family of this city and is now associated with a local motor company. The young couple are receiving the felicitations of their friends at the home of the groom on South Washington street.

The Pot Pourri Book club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. E. Fullenwider as gracious hostess. President Estelle B. Harris welcomed into the club two new members, Mesdames F. K. Pettis and W. H. Giles, interesting current events were given in response to the roll call.

Mangham

Mrs. W. S. Sayre, Sr., Mrs. M. C. Vickers, Mrs. Ed Ellington, and Mrs Traylor Jones motored to Baton Rouge where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Oscar Jones, Mrs. Mary Reeves, and Mrs. Herman Welch have returned from Beaumont, Texas, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Bell Tucker.

Mrs. G. L. Lutiker and Mrs. Herman Bunn spent Thursday visiting in Jonesville.

Mrs. F. C. Sheppard was hostess to the Wednesday afternoon bridge club. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Alex Watson, Mrs. T. B. Gregory, Mrs. Monroe Hixon, Mrs. B. N. Hixon, Mrs. W. E. Hixon, Mrs. Carl Underwood, Mrs. L. L. McConnell.

Mrs. R. E. Baker and Miss Susan Pardue were hostesses to the Faculty bridge club Thursday night. Those present were Mrs. Mable Nash, Mrs. E. T. Lee, Mrs. M. K. McConnell, Mrs. R. V. Jones, Mrs. Dow Case, Misses Sara Clifton, Dorothy Stark, Ruchelle Powell, Olla Cooper, Kate Talbert, Vergie Evans, George Huff. Monroe, La., Feb. 21, 1935.

This is to inform the public that the difference between my books as treasurer of Saint James No. 2 Society North, and the secretary's books have been settled satisfactorily. The secretary, Carter Richardson, claimed that I owed the society $26.33 and after all warrants, vouchers, etc., were traced it was showed that the society is indebted to me, Richard Goines, as treasurer, $8.67. Now, I have been treasurer, many, many years and I don't see why my secretary brother, Carter Richardson, can't understand his books any better. It was either he did not know what he was doing, or he wanted to get me out of office.

LOCAL SCHOOLS TO JOIN CELEBRATION

300th Anniversary Of Founding Of Higher Unit To Be Observed

Plans for a joint celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the high school in the United States are being made by officials of the parish and city schools here. These plans include the broadcasting of a radio program and special programs in each of the high schools.

Charles F. Trudeau, state high school supervisor, was made state chairman of the 300th anniversary celebration by the state board of education and parish superintendents of education were named assistant chairmen, with each superintendent to have charge of the celebration in his own parish. T. O. Brown, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools, has been asked to give the celebration as much impetus as possible.

The radio program, to be prepared jointly by city and parish high schools, will be broadcast on the night of March 14. It will include a number of musical selections, a talk by an out-of-town speaker and the broadcasting of information on the first high school to be established in this country and facts pertaining to the present high school status.

On the following day individual programs will be conducted in the different high schools.

One of the most important steps to be taken in connection with the celebration will be the compilation of a history of each of the present high schools. High schools of the parish system in Ouachita parish are the parish high school of Monroe and the high schools at Okaloosa and Calhoun. Neville high school is in the city system. The history of these schools will begin with a history of the community and will continue with the origin and development of the schools up to the present.

When the histories have been completed one copy will be kept at the school, another will be kept in the office of the parish superintendent and two copies will be sent to the state department of education.

The first high school in the United States was known as the Boston Public Latin school. It was established in Boston in 1635.

Real Estate Transfers

GAS FIRM LEASES W. O. W. BUILDING

Natural Gas Company To Move Offices To Another Location

A real estate deal involving rental of $36,000 was consumated here Saturday when the Natural Gas company leased from the Woodmen of the World the Woodmen building on Jackson and Harrison streets for a period of ten years. A contract calling for an expenditure of about $10,000 for improvements to the building is expected to be awarded this week.

It is expected that the gas company will have the building ready and will transfer its offices from South Grand street to the new location by April 1. The lease on the building at the present location expires on April 1 and an effort will be made to get into the new building by that time.

Plans for improvements to the Woodmen building have been drawn by J. W. Smith and Associates, architects, and it is expected that a contract will be awarded this week through that concern.

All of the lower floor of the building and about half of the upper floor will be used by the gas company, while the remaining half of the upper floor will be retained by the Woodmen. The gas company also will have the use of a vacant lot, about 60 by 60 feet, in the rear of the building, which is expected to be used as parking place for automobiles owned by the company and its employes.

The contract will call for remodeling the entire first floor. Included in the work will be the installing of a composition floor, new walls and a celo-tile ceiling. Part of the outside of the building is expected to be stuccoed. A new show window will be placed in the Harrison street side and show windows fronting on Jackson street will be remodeled.

WORKERS IN PARISH HEALTH UNIT

This group pictures the staff of the Ouachita Parish Health Clinic, which has served during the six years since the organization was established by Dr. John W. 2 STRANGE CASES OPEN THIS WEEK

Trials To Involve 'Legs Murder' And Alleged Suicide Of Girl

LAUREL, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two of the strangest cases in the history of this section are scheduled for court action during the coming week—the "legs" murder case in Jones county circuit court in which Ouida Keeton, 33, is charged in an indictment with murder in connection with the death of her own mother, Mrs. Daisy Keeton, and the Jackson case in Jasper county, where the father and mother and two brothers are charged with murder for the death of Hester Jackson, 15, reported a suicide last November.

Ouida Keeton goes on trial here before Judge W. Joe Pack on Wednesday for the murder in connection with the slaying of her 52-year-old widowed mother, to which officers say she confessed, naming W. M. Carter, 67-year-old business leader and her former employer, as the slayer. Carter, in jail at Jackson, has denied any knowledge of the slaying. It is expected he will be brought to trial at the conclusion of Miss Keeton's case.

Judge E. M. Lane will convene circuit court for Jasper county in Bay Springs Monday. The grand jury to be empannelled will investigate the Jackson case. George Jackson and Mrs. Alice Jackson, parents of the dead girl, Lois Jackson, 21, and Kermie Jackson, 13, her brother, have all been at liberty since last Thanksgiving day, each under $1,000 bond, pending action of the grand jury on charges of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Hester Jackson, whose death was at first reported as suicide.

Jurors Are Selected For Caldwell Court

COLUMBIA, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—The following persons were selected for service as grand jurors for Caldwell parish for the regular grand jury term of court commencing on March 11: J. W. Lee, Guy Lively, Joe W. Banks, George Kinnison, J. L. Clark, D. J. Wilson, Tom McArthur, G. E. Stamper, Moses Biggs, L. A. Moore, M. M. Iles, B. B. Coates, Cecil Butler, M. Parham, Clyde Horn, W. T. Morgan, L. Tullos, W. L. Estes, and E. E. Taylor.

For petit jury service during the term of court commencing April 8, those selected to serve are as follows: E. M. Cottingham, Henry Childress, G. W. Ruddle, J. M. Duplissey, W. S. Howell, Howard Harris, Robert B. Barnes, R. F. McEnery, A. L. Kidd, Eddie Eglin, R. C. Baygent, E. A. Allen, Clyde Greer, C. M. Richardson, Russell Cummings, W. O. Case, J. J. Downs, C. P. Owens, Grady Patterson, J. W. Calton, T. J. Kemp, J. A. Hargrove, D. G. Jones, W. G. Bird, R. F. Childress, C. C. James, Walter O'Steen, B. S. Fluitt, C. R. Elliott, and J. P. Volentine.

Work Of Health Unit Here In Six Years Is Outlined

Dr. Williams Praises Members Of Staff As He Leaves

After six years in charge of the Ouachita parish health unit, Dr. John W. Williams resigned his post a week ago to take a position as director of public health in Asheville, N. C. The record of the health unit is statistically given in the following information, made public by Dr. Williams on the eve of his departure.

"The health unit here has given 260,000 'shots' against typhoid fever. It has vaccinated 10,800 children against smallpox and has given 23,000 doses of toxoid and toxin-antitoxin to ninety-eight persons. The organization has examined 24,000 school children and made 7,000 calls to their homes, written their parents 42,000 letters, excluded 1,500 from school for communicable diseases and corrected defects in 2,100 children.

"Five thousand babies have been examined, 700 mothers have called at the health unit office to talk about these examinations and 600 homes have been visited in making check-ups. Nineteen hundred lectures have been made to midwives and 200 pregnant women have come to the office for advice.

"Seven hundred newspaper articles have been written and 38,000 bulletins have been distributed. Thirty-four hundred persons have been visited because of contact with a communicable disease and 1,200 of them were quarantined.

"Seventy-five persons have been sent by the unit to a sanatorium and 1,000 visits have been made to tubercular homes.

"Twenty-seven hundred food handlers' certificates have been issued and 185 private premises have been inspected and records made.

"Inspections of dairies have been made in 2,700 instances and all records are in the office.

"We have treated 450 children for hookworm on doctors' request and superintended the testing of 6,300 cows. Forty-three thousand examinations have been made in our laboratory. We have built 1,900 fly-proof outdoor toilets and restored 2,000 to sanitary conditions. We have built 350 septic tanks, have forced 1,500 new sewer connections and have screened 500 homes. We have seen every type of communicable disease, ranging from mumps to leprosy.

"We have never had a death resulting from the administration of anything to our patients. We have never had a fight. We have never been made to run, either. Everyone, with the exception of the director, who is writing this article is well trained, well posted, thoroughly experienced in the general work and especially trained in some one specialty in the work. They know their work and do it. There has not been a month lost through sickness by the whole force in the past six years and I have not caught one of them late for work a half dozen times. The ladies don't smoke cigarettes, drink liquor or spend their time in drug stores and it is my wish that the group will stay together contented and not bothered but allowed to do their work in the prevention of disease as they have been trained. They know this parish."

The North Carolina Episcopalian diocese has given 750 volumes of biographies, church histories and other religious literature to the University of North Carolina library.

STATE PROJECTS LISTED BY PWA

Louisiana Program Submitted For Action Under Pending Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(Special)—Plans for more than 200 Louisiana public works projects which would cost $147,011,950 have been submitted to the PWA as a Louisiana program which might be included in the huge works program to be financed by the pending $4,000,000 works bill, a survey of PWA records revealed today.

The proposed program for the Pelican state was submitted at the request of Public Works Administrator Ickes, who asked all states to outline projects which might be undertaken during the coming year.

The Louisiana program would include 217 projects, such as waterworks, sewers, streets and highways, heavy engineering structures, school building, power development, airports and landing fields, grade crossing elimination, and drainage, flood control and irrigation.

Details of what specific Louisiana projects have been proposed were not revealed today by the PWA, but it is expected that a complete outline of the program may be made public next week. Submission of the proposed programs is not looked upon by PWA as formal application for funds.

LEGION TONSIL CLINIC IS HELD

153 Franklin Parish Children Undergo Free Operations

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 23.—(Special)—In what is thought to be a record for this section, 153 children were operated on here Thursday morning and their tonsils removed.

The clinic was held by the Diamond-Hawthorne post of the American Legion with the assistance of the Franklin parish health unit, the local P.-T. A. and the local Legion auxiliary.

Not one single development marred the perfect record of the attending surgeons and nurses. The children were sent home several hours after their operations without a single case requiring special attention.

The community center was converted into a temporary hospital with hundreds of anxious parents and kinsmen present with their children. The surgeons present were Dr. R. E. King of Shreveport Charity hospital, Dr. G. E. Barham of Crowville, Dr. H. T. Rogers and Dr. H. B. Goodman of Winnsboro. The assisting physicians were Dr. L. F. Robinson and Dr. R. E. Applewhite, Franklin parish health unit director, and Dr. R. C. Green, director of the Richland parish health unit.

The nurses who volunteered their services were: Misses Warena Litton and Beulah Fasler of Shreveport Charity hospital, Miss Amelia Greenwald of Touro of New Orleans, Mrs. Emily Breidhaup of Natchez, Miss Belle McDaniel of Columbia, Mrs. J. L. Payne of the Vicksburg sanitarium, Miss Richard of Rayville and Misses Mildred Strange and Louise Ward and Mesdames Rogers, Goodman and Lowry of Winnsboro.

WOMAN SLAYER FREED ON BOND

Mrs. Guice Charged With Shooting Her Husband To Death

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Mattie Patrick Guice, confessed slayer of her husband, John W. Guice, lumber company foreman, who was shot to death two weeks ago, was admitted to bail at Brandon today at the conclusion of a hearing in a habeas corpus proceeding before Judge D. M. Anderson of Rankin county circuit court.

Her bail was fixed at $7,000 after her counsel had declined the state's offer of a bond of $5,000.

She made bond a few minutes after the hearing was over.

From the testimony presented to him at the hearing, Judge Anderson said there was to be found evidence of all three degrees of homicide, but, he added, the weight of the testimony appeared to support the theory that Mrs. Guice killed her husband in the heat of passion provoked by his abuse of her immediately prior to the killing. Such a slaying, the judge explained, is manslaughter under the laws of Mississippi.

Mrs. Guice was held to the action of the Rankin county grand jury on a charge of first degree murder at her preliminary hearing last week.

She testified at the hearing that she shot her husband as they rode homeward in their car after he had threatened her and had slapped her twice.

QUICK ACTION TAKEN ON OIL REGULATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — (AP) — Armed with a new and presumably supreme court-proof grant of authority, the oil administration today rushed plans to revive the federal tender board with which it once almost dried up production and shipment of Texas contraband petroleum.

Before the new Connally law was 24 hours old, however, Secretary Ickes said once more that it did not "go far enough." He announced he would press for legislation authorizing federal regulation of production. President Roosevelt signed the measure last night a few hours after final congressional action.

Section 9-C of the recovery act, declared illegal by the supreme court, left it to the president to regulate interstate shipments in excess of state quotas. Designed to meet the court's objections, the Connally law declares all such shipments contraband.

Because of the president's absence from the capital, officials said it might be several days before the federal tender board in Texas will be set into operation although the necessary executive order already has been prepared.

LEAGUE TO MEET

A meeting of the Converts' league will be held in the auditorium of the St. Matthew's parochial school next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. An illustrated lecture on the mass will be given by Rev. M. L. Walsh, and a reading will be given by Miss Mildred Breard. Miss Nellie Breard will render a solo, accompanied by Miss Mildred Breard.

RCA VICTOR

"MAGIC BRAIN" RADIO

Read the excerpts on what the Radio Editor for the New York Sun says about RCA Victor Radios.

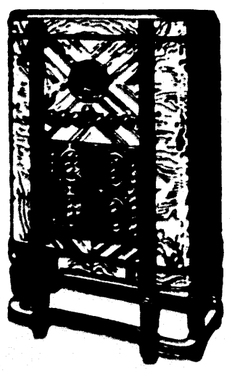

A leading New York newspaper, especially famous for its radio pages and radio writers, has recently acclaimed the Magic Brain in a two column article by columnist Captain Horace L. Hall, for the New York Sun.

The Magic Brain article says in part:

"Last week we tried out a new all-wave receiver . . . R C A Victor, ten tube superheterodyne with its 'Magic Brain' . . . Over a two weeks' period which included a spell of bad weather we were successful in logging the stations listed (see top portion of this ad for stations). It may interest fanners to know that this receiver (R C A Victor) was the one on which we pulled in 2RO, ROME, Italy, on 30.67 meters when it was testing on October 28, at 5 P. M. OUR OTHER RECEIVERS FAILED US . . ."

A master mind—an uncanny human will—to choose the station you want, to weed out other sounds, to step up tone fidelity to reception that's miraculously life like! That's what the "Magic Brain" means in R C A Victor! It means more foreign and domestic stations at your finger tips, too—and tuning the most quick and accurate you're ever known.

LOCAL SCHOOLS TO JOIN CELEBRATION

300th Anniversary Of Founding Of Higher Unit To Be Observed

Plans for a joint celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the high school in the United States are being made by officials of the parish and city schools here. These plans include the broadcasting of a radio program and special programs in each of the high schools.

Charles F. Trudeau, state high school supervisor, was made state chairman of the 300th anniversary celebration by the state board of education and parish superintendents of education were named assistant chairmen, with each superintendent to have charge of the celebration in his own parish. T. O. Brown, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools, has been asked to give the celebration as much impetus as possible.

The radio program, to be prepared jointly by city and parish high schools, will be broadcast on the night of March 14. It will include a number of musical selections, a talk by an out-of-town speaker and the broadcasting of information on the first high school to be established in this country and facts pertaining to the present high school status.

On the following day individual programs will be conducted in the different high schools.

One of the most important steps to be taken in connection with the celebration will be the compilation of a history of each of the present high schools. High schools of the parish system in Ouachita parish are the parish high school of Monroe and the high schools at Okaloosa and Calhoun. Neville high school is in the city system. The history of these schools will begin with a history of the community and will continue with the origin and development of the schools up to the present.

When the histories have been completed one copy will be kept at the school, another will be kept in the office of the parish superintendent and two copies will be sent to the state department of education.

The first high school in the United States was known as the Boston Public Latin school. It was established in Boston in 1635.

Natural Gas Company To Move Offices To Another Location

A real estate deal involving rental of $36,000 was consumated here Saturday when the Natural Gas company leased from the Woodmen of the World the Woodmen building on Jackson and Harrison streets for a period of ten years. A contract calling for an expenditure of about $10,000 for improvements to the building is expected to be awarded this week.

It is expected that the gas company will have the building ready and will transfer its offices from South Grand street to the new location by April 1. The lease on the building at the present location expires on April 1 and an effort will be made to get into the new building by that time.

Plans for improvements to the Woodmen building have been drawn by J. W. Smith and Associates, architects, and it is expected that a contract will be awarded this week through that concern.

All of the lower floor of the building and about half of the upper floor will be used by the gas company, while the remaining half of the upper floor will be retained by the Woodmen. The gas company also will have the use of a vacant lot, about 60 by 60 feet, in the rear of the building, which is expected to be used as parking place for automobiles owned by the company and its employes.

The contract will call for remodeling the entire first floor. Included in the work will be the installing of a composition floor, new walls and a celo-tile ceiling. Part of the outside of the building is expected to be stuccoed. A new show window will be placed in the Harrison street side and show windows fronting on Jackson street will be remodeled.

2 STRANGE CASES OPEN THIS WEEK

Trials To Involve 'Legs Murder' And Alleged Suicide Of Girl

LAUREL, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two of the strangest cases in the history of this section are scheduled for court action during the coming week—the "legs" murder case in Jones county circuit court in which Ouida Keeton, 33, is charged in an indictment with murder in connection with the death of her own mother, Mrs. Daisy Keeton, and the Jackson case in Jasper county, where the father and mother and two brothers are charged with murder for the death of Hester Jackson, 15, reported a suicide last November.

Ouida Keeton goes on trial here before Judge W. Joe Pack on Wednesday for the murder in connection with the slaying of her 52-year-old widowed mother, to which officers say she confessed, naming W. M. Carter, 67-year-old business leader and her former employer, as the slayer. Carter, in jail at Jackson, has denied any knowledge of the slaying. It is expected he will be brought to trial at the conclusion of Miss Keeton's case.

Judge E. M. Lane will convene circuit court for Jasper county in Bay Springs Monday. The grand jury to be empannelled will investigate the Jackson case. George Jackson and Mrs. Alice Jackson, parents of the dead girl, Lois Jackson, 21, and Kermie Jackson, 13, her brother, have all been at liberty since last Thanksgiving day, each under $1,000 bond, pending action of the grand jury on charges of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Hester Jackson, whose death was at first reported as suicide.

After six years in charge of the Ouachita parish health unit, Dr. John W. Williams resigned his post a week ago to take a position as director of public health in Asheville, N. C. The record of the health unit is statistically given in the following information, made public by Dr. Williams on the eve of his departure.

"The health unit here has given 260,000 'shots' against typhoid fever. It has vaccinated 10,800 children against smallpox and has given 23,000 doses of toxoid and toxin-antitoxin to ninety-eight persons. The organization has examined 24,000 school children and made 7,000 calls to their homes, written their parents 42,000 letters, excluded 1,500 from school for communicable diseases and corrected defects in 2,100 children.

"Five thousand babies have been examined, 700 mothers have called at the health unit office to talk about these examinations and 600 homes have been visited in making check-ups. Nineteen hundred lectures have been made to midwives and 200 pregnant women have come to the office for advice.

"Seven hundred newspaper articles have been written and 38,000 bulletins have been distributed. Thirty-four hundred persons have been visited because of contact with a communicable disease and 1,200 of them were quarantined.

"Seventy-five persons have been sent by the unit to a sanatorium and 1,000 visits have been made to tubercular homes.

"Twenty-seven hundred food handlers' certificates have been issued and 185 private premises have been inspected and records made.

"Inspections of dairies have been made in 2,700 instances and all records are in the office.

"We have treated 450 children for hookworm on doctors' request and superintended the testing of 6,300 cows. Forty-three thousand examinations have been made in our laboratory. We have built 1,900 fly-proof outdoor toilets and restored 2,000 to sanitary conditions. We have built 350 septic tanks, have forced 1,500 new sewer connections and have screened 500 homes. We have seen every type of communicable disease, ranging from mumps to leprosy.

"We have never had a death resulting from the administration of anything to our patients. We have never had a fight. We have never been made to run, either. Everyone, with the exception of the director, who is writing this article is well trained, well posted, thoroughly experienced in the general work and especially trained in some one specialty in the work. They know their work and do it. There has not been a month lost through sickness by the whole force in the past six years and I have not caught one of them late for work a half dozen times. The ladies don't smoke cigarettes, drink liquor or spend their time in drug stores and it is my wish that the group will stay together contented and not bothered but allowed to do their work in the prevention of disease as they have been trained. They know this parish."

The North Carolina Episcopalian diocese has given 750 volumes of biographies, church histories and other religious literature to the University of North Carolina library.

FISHER'S HISTORY OF BOXING

DEMPSEY VIOLATED THE RULE AND STOOD OVER FIRPO. AS THE ARGENTINE GOT TO HIS FEET THE CHAMP WAS RIGHT ON HIM. AGAIN HE DROPPED FIRPO. THE WILD BULL, WITH BLAZING EYES, CLAMBERED TO HIS FEET....

HE RUSHED THE CHAMPION ACROSS THE RING, AND SUDDENLY BROUGHT ONE FROM THE FLOOR THAT SENT DEMPSEY FLYING THROUGH THE ROPES.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY -:- The Young Alexander -:- By J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

EDUCATED WITH THE IDEA OF BECOMING MASTER OF THE WORLD, ALEXANDER THE GREAT GREW UP TO BE A HANDSOME, ENERGETIC YOUTH OF MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS. OF AN AMIABLE AND GENEROUS NATURE, HE WAS AT THE SAME TIME SPOILED AND QUICK-TEMPERED.

THE TEACHINGS OF ARISTOTLE HAD BRED IN THE BOY A PROFOUND LOVE OF THE GREEK ARTS, AND HE RESOLVED TO SPREAD GREEK CULTURE THROUGH ALL THE LANDS HE WOULD SOME DAY CONQUER ....

AT AN AGE WHEN MOST BOYS ARE STILL PLAYING MARBLES ALEXANDER WAS BEING TAUGHT HOW TO MANEUVER AN ARMY BY THE VETERAN GENERALS OF HIS CONQUEROR-FATHER, PHILIP OF MACEDON.

"AYE, YOUR HIGHNESS, THAT MOVE WOULD SURELY WIN THE DAY-!"

AT CHAERONEA, (338, B.C.) THE BATTLE IN WHICH THE MACEDONIANS COMPLETED THEIR MASTERY OVER THE GREEKS, ALEXANDER, THEN ONLY EIGHTEEN, COMMANDED A BODY OF CAVALRY.

"- AND YOU, MY SON, SHALL BE SECOND IN COMMAND."

THE MACEDONIAN'S LOVED ALEXANDER, BUT HATED HIS MOTHER, OLYMPIAS OF EPIRUS, BECAUSE SHE PRACTISED BLACK MAGIC AND WAS A FOREIGNER.

OLYMPIAS EXERTED AN EVIL INFLUENCE OVER HER SON. DETESTING HER HUSBAND, SHE POISONED ALEXANDER'S MIND AGAINST PHILIP BY GOADING THE YOUTH'S JEALOUSY OF HIS FATHER'S SUCCESSES.

IN THE YEAR 337 B.C., PHILIP SENT OLYMPIAS BACK TO EPIRUS AND TOOK A SECOND WIFE, A MACEDONIAN PRINCESS NAMED CLEOPATRA. ALEXANDER WAS VERY ANGRY.

AT THE WEDDING FEAST THE YOUNG PRINCE, ENRAGED BY THE TOASTS TO CLEOPATRA, HURLED A GOBLET OF WINE AT THE BRIDE'S FATHER!

THERE WAS A TERRIBLE SCENE --- PHILIP, WHO HAD BEEN DRINKING HEAVILY, ROSE FROM HIS SEAT TO STRIKE HIS SON, BUT STAGGERED AND FELL TO THE FLOOR.

WITH A PARTING TAUNT, THE HOT-HEADED YOUTH RUSHED FROM THE PALACE AND WENT AWAY TO THE COUNTRY OF ILLYRIA.

"BEHOLD! HERE IS A KING WHO PLANS TO CROSS FROM EUROPE TO ASIA, YET CANNOT WALK FROM ONE TABLE TO ANOTHER!"

When It's Bedtime in Animal-Land

The Sandman Visits Them, Just as He Does Humans—Maybe They Have Cradle Songs and Sleepytime Stories Too!

Oh, the Daring Young Mouse on the Flying Trapeze. He Flies Through the Air With the Greatest of Ease—Yes, Sir, This Is Nothing Else but an English Bulldog Giving a Wee Mouse a Merry Ride. And Is That Mousie Hanging On for Dear Life, or Is He? And Lower Right, the Pony and the Dog Certainly Are Palsy-Walsy.

How They Ever Really Are Rested, No One Knows; But, Anyway, Here Are Three Little Brown Bats Taking an Afternoon Nap. They Hang With Their Full Weight on Their Claws, but That's the Way It's Meant to Be—They Know No Other Way of Sleeping.

Rock-a-Bye Baby—Actually, This Prize Chimpanzee Has Adopted This Six Weeks Old Baby Dog, and Mrs. Chimp Is Bringing Him Up as Carefully as She Would if It Were Her Own. And the Funny Part of It Is, the Puppy Likes It Too.

HERE is a remarkable collection of animal photographs. Some were taken in the zoo, some on busy streets, some in private homes and some out in the woods—about the time of day when the Sandman comes around to human folk.

You can plainly see that bedtime in animal land is just about the same as it is everywhere else. The animals rock their young, probably they tell them cradle stories and as for sleepy yawns well—just look.

Up in the left corner Bill, the English bulldog, is rocking his little mouse friend to sleep. Bill's owner actually says that in the evening the dog swings the mouse for a time on the trapeze, and then the mouse goes soundly to sleep, right away.

And the big photo in the center of the page shows a chimpanzee trying to lull a puppy into slumberland. They say that the chimp actually murmurs and chants, as though she were trying to sing a lullaby. And who knows, perhaps it is a lullaby, to the puppy's ears!

The pony and the dog, just to the right, are really very good friends and "Fido," the dog, lives in the stable the year around. They are unhappy when they're separated, so their young master keeps them together. They got into this touching pose quite by accident one day, their owner says, and so he had them do it again in front of the camera.

And arent those yawns contagious? Look at them for as long as it takes you to count ten, and then try not to yawn yourself! One yawn and they all yawn, even among animals.

DICK TRACY

by CHESTER GOULD

WHEN DICK TRACY RECEIVED NO ANSWER TO HIS PHONE CALL PUT THROUGH TO THE ROOM OF JUNIOR AND JUNIOR'S MOTHER, THE DETECTIVE REALIZED SOMETHING WAS WRONG-AND SPED WITH MAD HASTE TO THEIR HOTEL...

AFTER WOUNDING THE INTRUDER IN THE ARM, JUNIOR ATTEMPTED TO HOLD "HIM", BUT WAS UNSUCCESSFUL. ZORA ARSON, CLAD IN MAN'S ATTIRE, FLED FROM THE APARTMENT JUST AS TRACY APPEARED ON THE SCENE...THEN DOWN, DOWN, FROM ONE FLOOR TO THE OTHER THE CHASE CONTINUED, UNTIL....

WE'RE IN THE SUB-BASEMENT OF THE HOTEL.

WHERE DOES THAT DOOR LEAD TO, HOTEL MANAGER?

THAT DOOR LEADS TO THE CITY'S UNDERGROUND FREIGHT RAILROAD USED TO TRANSPORT MERCHANDISE TO AND FROM THE DIFFERENT BUILDINGS DOWNTOWN.

HE MUST HAVE GONE THERE! COME ON!

THERE HE IS, TRACY!

HE'S JUMPED ON ONE OF THE ELECTRIC TRUCKS- HE'S.....

SAY!..THAT LOOKS LIKE A WOMAN- HEY YOU- HALT!

PURPOSELY FIRING HIGH

SHE'S GIVING US THE SLIP. IS THERE ANOTHER TRUCK WE CAN USE TO GO AFTER HER?

COME ON!

THAT SWITCH WILL BE OPEN TILL THE MEN COME ON DUTY TOMORROW MORNING!

SCREECH

HEY YOU- STICK 'EM UP!

STICK 'EM UP, EH? HAH! IF THIS MOTOR HAS A FORWARD SPEED- IT ALSO HAS A REVERSE.

HEY! LOOK! LOOK!

THE CAR'S COMING FULL SPEED IN REVERSE!

IT'S A BLOCK AND A HALF BACK TO THE WIDE PLACE IN THE TUNNEL- WE'RE SUNK!

THAT DOOR LEADS TO THE CITY'S UNDERGROUND FREIGHT RAILROAD USED TO TRANSPORT MERCHANDISE TO AND FROM THE DIFFERENT BUILDINGS DOWNTOWN.

HE MUST HAVE GONE THERE! COME ON!

THERE HE IS, TRACY!

HE'S JUMPED ON ONE OF THE ELECTRIC TRUCKS-HE'S.....

SAY!..THAT LOOKS LIKE A WOMAN-HEY YOU-HALT!

SHE'S GIVING US THE SLIP. IS THERE ANOTHER TRUCK WE CAN USE TO GO AFTER HER?

BUT SHE CAN'T GO FAR.. THERE'S AN OPEN SWITCH DOWN THERE ABOUT TWO BLOCKS!

COME ON!

THAT SWITCH WILL BE OPEN TILL THE MEN COME ON DUTY TOMORROW MORNING!

AN OPEN SWITCH, EH?

AND THEY'RE RIGHT BEHIND ME!

SCREECH

HEY YOU-STICK 'EM UP!

STICK 'EM UP, EH? HAH! IF THIS MOTOR HAS A FORWARD SPEED-IT ALSO HAS A REVERSE.

HEY! LOOK! LOOK!

THE CAR'S COMING FULL SPEED IN REVERSE!
